SINCE the time when the Proposals for the publication of the Regulations and Laws were first made to the Publick, to the present day, a very considerable portion of time has indeed elapsed. The causes which occasioned such a lapse of time, as they cannot be interesting to the Publick, so the Editor deems the statement of them quite superfluous; but it may be satisfactory to them to be so far informed, as it is to the Editor to state, that the delay did not arise from any neglect on his part, nor had it any relation whatever to the preparation of the work for the Press, but to causes which were not in his power to prevent. Great care and attention have been bestowed, by the Editor himself, in revising the proof sheets, or correcting the errors of the Press: the Publick, therefore, may with confidence depend upon this volume being perfectly correct, and an exact copy of the original published by the Government. With respect to the numerous notes interspersed throughout the volume, the Editor leaves them to the judgment of the Publick, accompanied with the assurance, that he has performed that task to the best of his ability. They specify the alterations, modifications, and rescissions, which are comprehended in all the Regulations printed and published until the 8th November, 1816, inclusive.

The proposals for the publication of the Regulations and Laws, stated that the several volumes would respectively contain about eight hundred pages. And, although the pages of this volume do not amount to half of that number, they notwithstanding do not contain less than what was originally intended they should contain. When those proposals were made, it was intended to print the work in a type which in size is twice as large as the type in which this volume is printed; and, moreover, the matter contained in each of the following pages, is twice as much, if not more, than what was intended to be comprized in one page, when the proposals were made. These alterations have caused the difference between the number of the pages of this volume from that intended by the original proposals; but as they have operated only to lessen the size, instead of the contents of the volume, they will, it is hoped, rather be approved than disapproved of.

The causes which delayed the commencement of the printing of this work, as they will not recur, the Publick may rest satisfied that the remaining part of this work will be printed and delivered without any loss of time whatever.

As this work can only include the Regulations which were published before it was put to the Press, that is, before the 8th November 1816, or up to Regulation XXI. of 1816, inclusive, subscribers who may wish to have the subsequent Regulations immediately, will be supplied with them on their intimating their wishes to the Editor.

A REGULATION for enacting into a regulation, certain articles of a proclamation bearing date the 22d March, 1793.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May, 1793, corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1250 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higeree.

THE following articles of the proclamation relative to the limitation of the public demand upon the lands, addressed by the Governor General in Council to the zemindars, independent talookdars, and other actual proprietors of land paying revenue to government, in the provinces of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, are hereby enacted into a regulation, which is to have force and effect from the 22d March 1793, the date of the proclamation.

II. PROCLAMATION. ART. I. In the original regulations for the decennial settlement of the public revenues of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, passed for those provinces respectively, on the 18th September 1789, the 25th November 1789, and the 10th February 1790, it was notified to the proprietors of land with or on behalf of whom a settlement might be concluded, that the jumma assessed upon their lands under those regulations, would be continued after the expiration of the ten years, and remain unalterable for ever, provided such continuance should meet with the approbation of the Honourable Court of Directors for the affairs of the East India Company, and not otherwise.

Decennial settlement declared conditionally permanent by the original regulations.

III. ART. II. The Marquis CORNWALLIS, Knight of the most noble order of the Garter, Governor General in Council, now notifies to all zemindars, independent talookdars, and other actual proprietors of land paying revenue to government, in the provinces of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, that he has been empowered by the Honourable Court of Directors for the affairs of the East India Company, to declare the jumma which has been, or may be, assessed upon their lands under the regulations abovementioned, fixed for ever.

Governor General in Council empowered to declare the jumma assessed upon the lands under those regulations, fixed for ever.

IV. ART. III. The Governor General in Council accordingly declares to the zemindars, independent talookdars, and other actual proprietors of land, with or on behalf of whom a settlement has been concluded under the regulations abovementioned, that at the expiration of the term of the settlement, no alteration will be made in the assessment which they have respectively engaged to pay, but that they, and their heirs, and lawful successors, will be allowed to hold their estates at such assessment for ever.

Jumma assessed upon the lands of proprietors with or on behalf of whom a settlement has been concluded, declared fixed for ever.

V. ART. IV. The lands of some zemindars, independent talookdars, and other actual proprietors of land, having been held khas, or let in farm, in consequence of their refusing to pay the assessment required of them under the regulations abovementioned, the Governor General in Council now notifies to the zemindars, independent talookdars, and other actual proprietors of land, whose lands are held khas, that they shall be restored to the management of their lands, upon their agreeing to the payment of the assessment which has been, or may be required of them, in conformity to the regulations abovementioned, and that no alteration shall afterwards be made in that assessment, but that they, and their heirs, and Jumma which was hereafter agreed to by the proprietors whose lands are held khas, or let in farm, declared fixed for ever.

and lawful successors, shall be permitted to hold their respective estates at such assessment for ever: and he declares to the zemindars, independent talookdars, and other actual proprietors of land, whose lands have been let in farm, that they shall not regain possession of their lands, before the expiration of the period for which they have been farmed (unless the farmers shall voluntarily consent to make over to them the remaining term of their lease and the Governor General in Council shall approve of the transfer) but that at the expiration of that period, upon their agreeing to the payment of the assessment which may be required of them, they shall be reinstated, and that no alteration shall afterwards be made in that assessment, but that they, and their heirs, and lawful successors, shall be allowed to hold their respective estates at such assessment for ever.

Jamra at which lands belonging to government may be transferred to individuals, declared fixed for ever.

VI. ART. V. In the event of the proprietary right in lands that are, or may become, the property of government, being transferred to individuals, such individuals, and their heirs, and lawful successors, shall be permitted to hold the lands at the assessment at which they may be transferred for ever.

Assessment in former times liable to variation at the discretion of government.

VII. ART. VI. It is well known to the zemindars, independent talookdars, and other actual proprietors of land, as well as to the inhabitants of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, in general, that from the earliest times, until the present period, the public assessment upon the lands has never been fixed, but that according to established usage and custom, the Rulers of these provinces, have from time to time, demanded an increase of assessment from the proprietors of land, and that for the purpose of obtaining this increase, not only frequent investigations have been made to ascertain the actual produce of their estates, but that it has been the practice to deprive them of the management of their lands, and either to let them in farm, or to appoint officers on the part of government to collect the assessment immediately from the ryots. The Honourable Court of Directors, considering these usages and measures to be detrimental to the prosperity of the country, have, with a view to promote the future ease and happiness of the people, authorized the foregoing declarations; and the zemindars, independent talookdars, and other actual proprietors of land, with or on behalf of whom a settlement has been, or may be, concluded, are to consider these orders fixing the amount of the assessment, as irrevocable, and not liable to alteration by any persons whom the Court of Directors may hereafter appoint to the administration of their affairs in this country.

Motives of the Court of Directors for abolishing this usage, and fixing the assessment, which is declared unalterable by any future government.

Proprietors expected to improve their estates, in consequence of the profits being secured to them.

The Governor General in Council trusts that the proprietors of land, sensible of the benefits conferred upon them by the public assessment being fixed for ever, will exert themselves in the cultivation of their lands, under the certainty that they will enjoy exclusively the fruits of their own good management and industry, and that no demand will ever be made upon them, or their heirs, or successors, by the present, or any future government, for an augmentation of the public assessment, in consequence of the improvement of their respective estates.

Conduct to be observed by the proprietors of land towards their dependent talookdars, and ryots.

To discharge the revenues at the stipulated periods without delay or evasion, and to conduct themselves with good faith and moderation towards their dependent talookdars and ryots, are duties at all times indispensably required from the proprietors of land, and a strict observance of those duties is now more than ever incumbent upon them, in return for the benefits which they will themselves derive from the orders now issued. The Governor General in Council therefore expects, that the proprietors of land will not only act in this manner themselves towards their dependent talookdars and ryots, but also enjoin the strictest adherence to the same principles, in the persons whom they may appoint to collect the rents from them. He further expects, that without deviating from this line of conduct, they will regularly discharge the revenue in all seasons, and he accordingly notifies to them, that in future, no claims or applications for suspensions, or remissions, on account of drought, inundation, or other calamity of season, will be attended to, but that in the event of any zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, with or on behalf of whom a settlement has been, or may be, concluded, or his or her heirs, or successors, failing in the punctual discharge of the public revenue which has been, or may be, assessed upon their lands under the above mentioned regulations, a sale of the whole of the lands of the defaulter, or such portion of them as may be sufficient to make good the arrear, will positively, and invariably take place.

be admitted on any account.

Lands of proprietors to be invariably sold for arrears.

VIII. ART. VII. To prevent any misconstruction of the foregoing articles, the Governor General in Council thinks it necessary to make the following declarations to the zemindars, independent talookdars, and other actual proprietors of land.

First. It being the duty of the ruling power to protect all classes of people, and more particularly those who from their situation are most helpless, the Governor General in Council, will, whenever he may deem it proper, enact such regulations as he may think necessary for the protection and welfare of the dependent talookdars, ryots, and other cultivators of the soil, and no zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, shall be entitled on this account to make any objection to the discharge of the fixed assessment, which they have respectively agreed to pay.

Government to enact such regulations as they may think necessary for the welfare of the dependent talookdars, and cultivators, and proprietors not to withhold the revenue on that account.

Second. The Governor General in Council having on the 28th July 1790, directed the sayer collections to be abolished, a full compensation was granted to the proprietors of land, for the loss of revenue sustained by them in consequence of this abolition; and he now declares, that if he should hereafter think it proper to re-establish the sayer collections, or any other internal duties and to appoint officers on the part of government to collect them, no proprietor of land will be admitted to any participation thereof, or be entitled to make any claims for remissions of assessment on that account.

All internal duties that may be hereafter established to belong exclusively to government.

Third. The Governor General in Council will impose such assessment as he may deem equitable, on all lands at present alienated and paying no public revenue, which have been, or may be, proved to be held under illegal, or invalid titles. The assessment so imposed will belong to government, and no proprietor of land will be entitled to any part of it. (a)

Jumma that may be assessed on alienated lands to belong exclusively to government.

Fourth. The jumma of those zemindars, independent talookdars, and other actual proprietors of land, which is declared fixed in the foregoing articles, is to be considered entirely unconnected with, and exclusive of, any allowances which have been made to them in the adjustment of their jumma, for keeping up tannahs, or police establishments, and also of the produce of any lands, which they may have been permitted to appropriate for the same purpose; and the Governor General in Council reserves to himself the option of resuming the whole or part of such allowances, or produce of such lands, according as he may think proper, in consequence of his having exonerated the proprietors of land from the charge of keeping the peace, and appointed officers on the part of government to superintend the police of the country. The Governor General in Council however declares, that the allowances, or produce of lands, which may be resumed, will be appropriated to no other purpose but that of defraying the expense of the police, and that instructions will be sent to the collectors, not to add such allowances, or the produce of such lands, to the jumma of the proprietors of land, but to collect the amount from them separately.

Police allowances in land or money received by proprietors whose jumma is declared fixed, to be payable by government.

Allowances that may be so resumed not to be added to the jumma, but to be collected separately and applied solely to the police.

Fifth. Nothing contained in this proclamation, shall be construed to render the lands of the several descriptions of disqualified proprietors, specified in the first article of the regulations regarding disqualified landholders passed on the 15th July

Estates of disqualified proprietors not liable to sale for arrears of assessment accruing whilst they are deprived

(a) See an exception to this rule in R. 19. of 1799. S. 6.

ment of them.

1791, liable to sale for any arrears which have accrued, or may accrue, on the fixed jumma that has been, or may be, assessed upon their lands under the above mentioned regulations for the decennial settlement, provided that such arrears have accrued, or may accrue, during the time that they have been, or may be, dispossessed of the management of their lands, under the said regulations of the 15th July 1791. It is to be understood however, that whenever all or any of the descriptions of disqualified landholders specified in the first article of the last mentioned regulations, shall be permitted to assume, or retain, the management of their lands in consequence of the ground of their disqualification no longer existing, or of the Governor General in Council dispensing with, altering, or abolishing those regulations, the lands of such proprietors will be held responsible for the payment of the fixed jumma, that has been, or may be, assessed thereon, from the time that the management may devolve upon them, in the same manner as the lands of all actual proprietors of land who are declared qualified for the management of their estates, and also of all actual proprietors who are unqualified for such management, by natural or other disabilities, but do not come within the descriptions of disqualified landholders specified in the first article of the regulations of the 15th July 1791, are, and will be held answerable for any arrears that are, or may become, due from them, on the fixed jumma which they or any persons on their behalf, have engaged, or may engage, to pay under the above mentioned regulations for the decennial settlement.

privileged to transfer their lands without the
ment.

IX. ART. VIII. That no doubt may be entertained, whether proprietors of land are entitled under the existing regulations, to dispose of their estates without the previous sanction of government, the Governor General in Council notifies to the zemindars, independent talookdars, and other actual proprietors of land, that they are privileged to transfer to whomsoever they may think proper, by sale, gift, or otherwise, their proprietary rights, in the whole, or any portion, of their respective estates, without applying to government for its sanction to the transfer, and that all such transfers will be held valid, provided that they be conformable to the Mahomedan or the Hindoo laws, (according as the religious persuasions of the parties to each transaction, may render the validity of it determinable by the former or the latter code,) and that they be not repugnant to any regulations now in force, which have been passed by the British administrations, or to any regulations that they may hereafter enact.

Provided the transfer
and not contrary to any existing regulation.

ing the fixed jumma

tors, and on shares of estates divided amongst the joint proprietors upon the

being notified to the

ed, declared fixed for

X. ART. IX. From the limitation of the public demand upon the lands, the neat income, and consequently the value (independent of increase of rent obtainable by improvements,) of any landed property for the assessment on which a distinct engagement has been or may be entered into between government and the proprietor, or that may be separately assessed although included in one engagement with other estates belonging to the same proprietor, and which may be offered for public or private sale entire, will always be ascertainable by a comparison of the amount of the fixed jumma assessed upon it (which, agreeably to the foregoing declarations, is to remain unalterable for ever, to whomsoever the property may be transferred), with the whole of its produce, allowing for the charges of management. But it is also essential, that a notification should be made of the principles upon which the fixed assessment charged upon any such estate, will be apportioned on the several divisions of it, in the event of the whole of it being transferred by public or private sale, or otherwise, in two or more lots, or of a portion of it being transferred in one, or in two, or more lots, or of its being joint property, and a division of it being made amongst the proprietors; otherwise, from the want of a declared rule for estimating the proportion of the fixed jumma with which the several shares would be chargeable in such cases, the real value of each share would be uncertain, and consequently the benefits expected to result from fixing the public assessment upon the lands, would be but partially obtained. The Governor General in Council has accordingly prescribed the following rules for apportioning the fixed assessment in the several cases abovementioned; but as government might sustain a considerable loss of revenue by disproportionate allotments of the assessment, were the apportioning of it in any of the cases above specified to be left to the proprietors, he requires that all such transfers or divisions as may be made by the private act of the parties themselves, be notified to the collector of the revenue of the zillah in which the lands may be situated, or such other officer as government may in future prescribe, in order that the fixed jumma assessed upon the whole estate, may be apportioned on the several shares in the manner hereafter directed, and that the names of the proprietors of each share, and the jumma charged thereon, may be entered upon the public registers, and that separate engagements for the payment of the jumma assessed upon each share, may be executed by the proprietors, who will thenceforward be considered as actual proprietors of land. And the Governor General in Council declares, that if the parties to such transfers or divisions, shall omit to notify them to the collector of the revenue of the zillah, or such other officer as may be hereafter prescribed for the purposes beforementioned, the whole of such estate will be held responsible to government for the discharge of the fixed jumma assessed upon it, in the same manner as if no such transfer or division had ever taken place. The Governor General in Council thinks it necessary further to notify in elucidation of the declarations contained in this article, (which are conformable to the principles of the existing regulations,) that if any zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, shall dispose of a portion of his or her lands as a dependent talook, the jumma which may be stipulated to be paid by the dependent talookdar, will not be entered upon the records of government, nor will the transfer exempt such lands from being answerable, in common with the remainder of the estate, for the payment of the public revenue assessed upon the whole of it, in the event of the proprietor or his or her heirs or successors falling in arrear from any cause whatever, nor will it be allowed in any case to affect the rights or claims of government, any more than if it had never taken place.

But the transfer of dependent talooks, not to affect the rights or claims of government in any respect.

First. In the event of the whole of the lands of a zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, with or on behalf of whom a settlement has been or may be concluded, under the regulations above mentioned, being exposed to public sale by the order of the Governor General in Council, for the discharge of arrears of assessment, or in consequence of the decision of a court of justice, in two or more lots, the assessment upon each lot, shall be fixed at an amount which shall bear the same proportion to its actual produce, as the fixed assessment upon the whole of the lands sold, may bear to the whole of their actual produce. (b) This produce shall be ascertained in the mode that is or may be prescribed by the existing regulations, or such other regulations as the Governor General in Council may hereafter adopt, and the purchaser or purchasers of such lands, and his, or her, or their heirs and lawful successors, shall hold them at the jumma at which they may be so purchased for ever.

Second. When a portion of the lands of a zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, with or on behalf of whom a settlement has been, or may be concluded, under the regulations beforementioned, shall be exposed to public sale by order of the Governor General in Council, for the liquidation of arrears of assessment, or pursuant to the decision of a court of justice, the assessment upon such lands, if disposed of in one lot, shall be fixed at an amount which shall bear the same proportion to their actual produce, as the fixed assessment upon the whole of the lands of such proprietor, including those disposed of, may bear to the whole of their actual produce. If the lands sold shall be disposed of in two or more lots, the assessment upon each lot shall be fixed at an amount which shall bear the same proportion to its actual produce, as the fixed assessment upon the whole of the lands of such proprietor, including those sold, may bear to the whole of their actual produce. The actual produce of the whole of the lands of such proprietor, whether the portion of them which may be sold be disposed of in one or in two or more lot, shall be ascertained in the mode that is or may be prescribed by the existing regulations, or such other regulations as the Governor General in Council may hereafter enact, and the purchaser or purchasers of such lands, and his, or her, or their heirs or successors, will be allowed to hold them at the jumma at which they may be so purchased for ever: and the remainder of the public jumma, which will consequently be payable by the former proprietor of the whole estate on account of the portion of it that may be left in his or her possession, will continue unalterable for ever.

Third. When a zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, with or on behalf of whom a settlement has been or may be concluded, shall transfer the whole of his or her estate, in two or more distinct portions, to two or more persons, or a portion thereof to one person, or to two or more persons in joint property, by private sale, gift, or otherwise, the assessment upon each distinct portion of such estate so transferred, shall be fixed at an amount which shall bear the same proportion to its actual produce, as the assessment upon the whole of the estate of the transferring proprietor, of which the whole or a portion may be so transferred, may bear to the whole of its actual produce. This produce shall be ascertained in the mode that is or may be prescribed in the existing regulations, or such other regulations as government may hereafter adopt, and the person or persons to whom such lands may be transferred, and his, or her, or their heirs and lawful successors, shall hold them at the jumma at which they may be so transferred for ever: and, where only a portion of such estates shall be transferred, the remainder of the public jumma which will consequently be payable by the former proprietor of the whole estates on account of the lands that may remain in his or her possession, shall be continued unalterable for ever.

Fourth. Whenever a division shall be made of lands, the settlement of which has been or may be concluded with, or on behalf of the proprietor or proprietors, and that are or may become the joint property of two or more persons, the assessment upon each share, shall be fixed at an amount which shall bear the same proportion to its actual produce, as the fixed jumma assessed upon the whole of the estate divided, may bear to the whole of its actual produce. This produce shall be ascertained in the mode that is or may be prescribed by the existing regulations, or such other regulations as the Governor General in Council may hereafter adopt, and the sharers, and their heirs and lawful successors, shall hold their respective shares at the jumma which may be so assessed upon them for ever.

XI. ART. X. The following rules are prescribed respecting the adjustment of the assessment on the lands of zemindars, independent talookdars, and other actual proprietors of land, whose lands are or may be held khas or let in farm, in the event of their being disposed of by public sale, or transferred by any private act of the proprietor, or of their being joint property, and a division of them taking place amongst the proprietors.

First. If the whole, or a portion, of the lands of a zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, who may not have agreed to the payment of the the assessment proposed to him or her under the regulations above mentioned, and whose lands are or may be held khas, or let in farm, shall be exposed to public sale, in one or in two or more lots, pursuant to the decree of a court of justice, such lands, if khas, shall be disposed of at whatever assessment the Governor General in Council may deem equitable, and the purchaser or purchasers of such lands, and his or her or their heirs and lawful successors, shall hold the lands at the assessment at which they may be so purchased for ever. If the lands, at the time of their being exposed to sale, shall be held in farm, and shall be put up in one or in two or more lots, they shall be disposed of under the following conditions. The purchaser or purchasers, shall receive during the unexpired part of the term of the lease of the farmer, whatever such proprietor shall have been entitled to receive in virtue of his or her proprietary rights, on account of the lands so purchased, and such purchaser or purchasers, shall engage to pay at the expiration of the lease of the farmer, such assessment on account of the lands as government may deem equitable. The sum to be received by the purchaser or purchasers during the unexpired part of the term of the lease of the farmer, and the jumma to be paid by such purchaser or purchasers after the expiration of the lease, shall be specified at the time of the sale, and such purchaser or purchasers, and his or her or their heirs and lawful successors, shall be allowed to hold the lands at the assessment at which they may be so purchased for ever.

Second. If a zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, whose lands are or may be held khas, or let in farm, shall transfer by private sale, gift, or otherwise, the whole or a portion of his or her lands in one, or in two or more lots, the person or persons to whom the lands may be so transferred, shall be entitled to receive from government, (if the lands are held khas) or from the farmer, (if the lands are let in farm) the maliconnah to which the former proprietor was entitled on account of the lands so transferred. Persons to whom such lands may be so transferred, will stand in the same predicament as the zemindars, independent talookdars, or other actual proprietors of land, mentioned in the fourth article, whose lands are held khas, or have been let in farm, in consequence of their refusing to pay the assessment required of them under the beforementioned regulations for the decennial settlement; and the declarations contained in that article, are to be held applicable to them.

Third. In the event of a division being made of lands that are or may become the joint property of two or more persons, and which are or may be held khas or let in farm, the proprietors of the several shares will stand in the same predicament with regard to their respective shares, as the zemindars, independent talookdars, and other actual proprietors of land specified in the fourth article, whose lands have been let in farm, or are held khas, in consequence of their having refused to pay the assessment required of them under the beforementioned regulations for the decennial settlement, and the declarations contained in that article, are to be considered applicable to them.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION II.

A REGULATION for abolishing the courts of maal adawlut or revenue courts, and transferring the trial of the suits which were cognizable in those courts, to the courts of dewanny adawlut; and prescribing rules for the conduct of the board of revenue, and the collectors. PASSED by the Governor General in Council on the 1st May 1793, corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higeree.

IN the British territories in Bengal, the greater part of the materials required for the numerous and valuable manufactures, and most of the other principal articles of export, are the produce of the lands. It follows, that the commerce, and consequently the wealth of the country, must increase in proportion to the extension of its agriculture. But it is not for commercial purposes alone, that the encouragement of agriculture is essential to the welfare of these provinces. The Hindoos, who form the body of the people, are compelled by the dictates of religion, to depend solely upon the produce of the lands for subsistence; and the generality of such of the lower orders of the natives as are not of that persuasion, are from habit or necessity in a similar predicament. The extensive failure or destruction of the crops, that occasionally arises from drought or inundation, is in consequence invariably followed by famine, the ravages of which are felt chiefly by the cultivators of the soil and the manufacturers, from whose labours the country derives both its subsistence and wealth. Experience having evinced that adequate supplies of grain are not obtainable from abroad in seasons of scarcity, the country must necessarily continue subject to these calamities, until the proprietors and cultivators of the lands shall have the means of increasing the number of the reservoirs, embankments, and other artificial works, by which, to a great degree, the untimely cessation of the periodical rains may be provided against, and the lands protected from inundation; and as a necessary consequence, the stock of grain in the country at large, shall always be sufficient to supply those occasional but less extensive deficiencies in the annual produce, which may be expected to occur notwithstanding the adoption of the above precautions to obviate them. To effect these improvements in agriculture, which must necessarily be followed by the increase of every article of produce, has accordingly been one of the primary objects to which the attention of the British administration has been directed in its arrangements for the internal government of these provinces. As being the two fundamental measures essential to the attainment of it, the property in the soil has been declared to be vested in the landholders, and the revenue payable to government from each estate, has been fixed for ever. These measures, have at once rendered it the interest of the proprietors to improve their estates, and given them the means of raising the funds necessary for that purpose. The property in the soil was never before formally declared to be vested in the landholders, nor were they allowed to transfer such rights as they did possess, or raise money upon the credit of their tenures, without the previous sanction of government. With respect to the public demand upon each estate, it was liable to annual or frequent variation at the discretion of government. The amount of it was fixed upon upon an estimate formed by the public officers of the aggregate of the rents payable by the ryots or tenants for each begah of land in cultivation, of which, after deducting the expenses of collection, ten elevenths were usually considered as the right of the publick, and the remainder, the share of the landholder. Refusal to pay the sum required of him, was followed by his removal from the management of his lands, and the public dues were either let in farm or collected by an officer of government, and the abovementioned share of the landholder, or such sum as special custom, or the orders of government might have fixed, was paid to him by the farmer, or from the public treasury. When the extension of cultivation was productive only of a heavier assessment, and even the possession of the property was uncertain, the hereditary landholder had little inducement to improve his estate; and monied men, had no encouragement to embark their capital in the purchase or improvement of land, whilst not only the profit, but the security for the capital itself was so precarious. The same causes therefore which prevented the improvement of land, depreciated its value. Further measures however are essential to the attainment of the important object above stated. All questions between government and the landholders respecting the assessment and collection of the public revenue, and disputed claims between the latter and their ryots, or other persons concerned in the collection of their rents, have hitherto been cognizable in the courts of maal adawlut, or revenue courts. The collectors of the revenue preside in these courts as judges, and an appeal lies from their decisions to the Board of Revenue, and from the decrees of that Board, to the Governor General in Council in the department of revenue. The proprietors can never consider the privileges which have been conferred upon them as secure, whilst the revenue officers are vested with these judicial powers. Exclusive of the objections arising to these courts from their irregular, summary, and often ex parte proceedings, and from the collectors being obliged to suspend the exercise of their judicial functions, whenever they interfere with their financial duties, it is obvious that if the regulations for assessing and collecting the public revenue are infringed, the revenue officers themselves must be the aggressors, and that individuals who have been wronged by them in one capacity, can never hope to obtain redress from them in another. Their financial occupations equally disqualify them for administering the laws between the proprietors of land and their tenants. Other security therefore must be given to landed property, and to the rights attached to it, before the desired improvements in agriculture can be expected to be effected. Government must divest itself of the power of infringing in its executive capacity, the rights and privileges, which, as exercising the legislative authority, it has conferred on the landholders. The revenue officers must be deprived of their judicial powers. All financial claims of the public, when disputed under the regulations, must be subjected to the cognizance of courts of judicature, superintended by judges, who, from their official situations, and the nature of their trusts, shall not only be wholly uninterested in the result of their decisions, but bound to decide impartially between the publick and the proprietors of land, and also between the latter and their tenants. The collectors of the revenue must not only be divested of the power of deciding upon their own acts, but rendered amenable for them to the courts of judicature, and collect the public dues subject to a personal prosecution for every exaction exceeding the amount which they are authorized to demand on behalf of the publick, and for every deviation from the regulations prescribed for the collection of it. No power will then exist in the country by which the rights vested in the landholders by the regulations can be infringed, or the value of landed property affected. Land must in consequence become the most desirable of all property, and the industry of the people will be directed to those improvements in agriculture, which are as essential to their own welfare, as to the prosperity of the State. The following rules, being the rules passed for the guidance of the collectors and the Board of Revenue on the 8th June 1787, and the 25th April 1788, with alterations adapted to the principles above stated, have been accordingly enacted. (a)

Courts of maal adawlut abolished from the 1st May 1793, and the cognizance of causes tried therein transferred to the courts of dewanny adawlut.

II. From the 1st May 1793, the courts of maal adawlut, or revenue courts, shall be abolished, and the trial of the suits which were cognizable in those courts, as well as all judicial powers whatsoever heretofore vested in the collectors of the revenue, or in the Board of Revenue collectively, as a court of appeal, or in any member of that Board individually, shall be transferred to the courts of dewanny adawlut. (b)

Collection of the land revenue to be committed to civil covenant servants of the Company.

III. The collection of the revenue payable to government from the estates in each zillah, is to be committed as heretofore, to a civil covenanted servant of the Company, who is to be styled, collector of the revenue of the zillah to which he may be appointed. Previous to entering upon the execution of the duties of his office, he is to take the oath prescribed by act of parliament for servants of the Company employed in the management or collection of the revenue, before one of the judges of the Supreme Court of judicature. (d)

Seals of the collectors.

Duties to be performed by the collectors under the superintendence of the Board of Revenue. To collect the public dues from proprietors, Form to be observed in issuing public money.

Appointment and removal of all native servants vested in the collector.

Exceptions.

To notify all appointments and removals to the Board of Revenue.

In the absence of the collector, the senior assistant to officiate in his room.

Collectors and their officers prohibited being concerned extra officially in the revenues.

or dewans, or their inferior public servants, in the cases, and in the manner, in which they are authorized to make use of their agency. (k)

XI. The khezanchee, or native cash-keeper, in each zillah, is to be nominated by the collector, who is to take good and sufficient security from him for the faithful discharge of his trust, and for making good all deficiencies in the public money that may be committed to his charge. The collector is to transmit the names of the person whom he may nominate to the office of khezanchee, and of his surety, with a copy of the engagements executed by the latter, to the Board of Revenue; but the person so nominated, shall not be considered as appointed until the Board of Revenue shall have signified their approbation both of him and his surety. XIII. The appointment and dismissal of all native public servants on the establishments of the collectorships (the keepers of the native records and the khezanchee excepted) are vested in the collectors. (m) But they are to transmit to the Board of Revenue regular notice of all appointments and removals, and are to employ none but such public and registered officers in matters in any respect relating to their official duty, and are not under any plea or pretext, to confer on their public officers any private trust relating to their personal concerns.

XIV. In the event of the death, or removal, of a collector, or of his absence from his station, the senior assistant on the spot is to perform the duties of collector, and the dewan and the public officers of the collectorship are accordingly to obey his orders.

XV. No collector, assistant, or dewan to a collector, or any native in the employ of a collector, or of an assistant, shall hold directly or indirectly any farm, or be concerned on their private account, in the collection or payment of the revenue of any lands in the zillah, either as farmer, surety, or otherwise; and native officers and private servants and dependents of collectors and assistants, are prohibited from purchasing directly or indirectly, any land that the collector may dispose of at public sale, under the penalty of forfeiting the property to government, upon proof being made to the satisfaction of the Governor General in Council of the property having been so purchased. (n)

XVI. The rules in the preceding section however, are not to be considered to prohibit a dewan or other native officer of a collector, or any private servant of a

A. D. 1793. REGULATION III.

A REGULATION for extending and defining the jurisdiction of the courts of dewan-y adawlut, or courts of judicature for the trial of civil suits in the first instance, established in the several zillahs, and in the cities of Patna, Dacca, and Moorshedabad.—
PASSED by the Governor General in Council on the 1st May, 1793, corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1250 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higeree.

THE many valuable privileges and immunities which have been conferred upon the natives of these provinces, evince the solicitude of the British Government to promote their welfare, and must satisfy them that the regulations which may be adopted for the internal government of the country, will be calculated to preserve to them the laws of the shaster and the koran in matters to which they have been invariably applied: to protect them in the free exercise of their religion; and to afford security to their persons and property. The benefit however which they would derive solely from regulations enacted for the above purposes, would be but partial, unless the judicial establishments for dispensing those regulations, are framed upon principles which will render them the means of protecting private rights and property, under the changes and temporary derangements to which all forms of government must occasionally be liable. To ensure therefore to the people of this country, as far as is practicable, the uninterrupted enjoyment of the inestimable benefit of good laws duly administered, Government has determined to divest itself of the power of interfering in the administration of the laws and regulations in the first instance, reserving only, as a court of appeal or review, the decision of certain cases in the last resort; and to lodge its judicial authority in courts of justice, the judges of which shall not only be bound by the most solemn oaths to dispense the laws and regulations impartially, but be so circumstanced as to have no plea for not discharging their high and important trusts with diligence and uprightness. They have resolved that the authority of the laws and regulations so lodged in the courts, shall extend not only to all suits between native individuals, but that the officers of Government employed in the collection of the revenue, the provision of the Company's investment, and all other financial or commercial concerns of the public, shall be amenable to the courts for acts done in their official capacity in opposition to the regulations; and, that Government itself, in superintending these various branches of the resources of the State, may be precluded from injuring private property, they have determined to submit submit the claims and interests of the publick in such matters, to be decided by the courts of justice according to the regulations, in the same manner as suits between individuals. To deprive the judges of the courts of the power of delaying or denying justice, the Governor General in Council has determined to frame the constitution of the courts upon such principles, as will enable every individual by the mere observance of certain forms, to command at all times the exercise of the judicial power of the State thus lodged in the courts, for the redress of any injury which he may have sustained in his person or property. A system for the administration of the laws and regulations so constituted, will contain an active principle, which, allowing for the various characters and dispositions of those who may be employed in the immediate conduct of it, must continually operate to the important ends of compelling men to be just in their dealings; bringing into action that spirit of industry which is implanted in mankind, and which exerts itself in proportion as individuals are certain of enjoying the fruits of it; dispensing prosperity and happiness to the great body of the people; and increasing the power of the State, which must be proportionate to the collective wealth that by good government it may enable its subjects to acquire. As the basis of this system for the administration of justice, the Governor General in Council has lodged the powers specified in this regulation in the courts of dewanny adawlut established in the several zillahs, and in the cities of Patna, Dacca, and Moorsshedabad, for the trial of civil suits in the first instance. (a)

Courts of dewanny adawlut to be denominated after the zillah or city in which they are respectively established.

II. (c) With parts of these three zillahs, an additional zillah has been formed, called the Jungle Mohals. On its incorporation, it had only a distinct criminal court, but it now has, like other zillahs, both a court of civil and criminal judicature. See R. 18, of 1805. The zillah of Burdwan, besides the above dismemberment, and before it took place, was divided into two zillahs, one retained the name of the zillah of Burdwan, and the other is called the zillah of Hooghly. See R. 36, of 1795, S. 7.

(d) This zillah has also been divided into two parts, one is called the Suburbs of Calcutta, and the other the Twenty-four Purgunnahs beyond the Suburbs of Calcutta. See R. 14, of 1814.

(e) This zillah has been entirely abolished, and the country which composed it, has been partly annexed to the city of Moorsshedabad, and partly to the zillah of Beerbhoom. See R. 1, of 1806.

(f) This zillah has also been divided into two parts, one is called the zillah of Dacca Jelalpoore, the other the zillah of Backergunge. See R. 7, of 1797.

In such cases, Government is to be considered as the defendant, and the person deeming himself aggrieved, is to present a petition to the judge of the dewanny adawlut of the zillah or city to which the officer by whom the act complained of may have been done, shall be amenable in his public capacity, stating wherein he considers himself injured under the Regulations, and praying that the Governor General in Council will order the court of dewanny adawlut in which the cause may be cognizable, to try the points or matters contested agreeably to the Regulations. The judge to whom the petition may be presented, is to forward it immediately to the Governor General in Council, who, provided he shall not think it proper to afford the redress that may be solicited by the petitioner, and the courts of justice shall be competent to try the cause, will direct the court in which it may be cognizable, to proceed to the trial of it. If the Governor General in Council shall order the cause to be tried, the court is immediately to send a written notification of the order to the complainant, and the cause is to be considered as filed in the court from the date of the notification. The court is then to proceed to try the suit, under the same rules and regulations as are prescribed for the trial of suits between individuals. The officer by whom the act complained against may have been done, is to carry on the suit under the directions of the Governor General in Council, or the Board of Revenue or of Trade, according to the immediate authority under which he may have acted, and is to issue the necessary instructions to the vakeel of Government in the court in which the suit may be instituted, or subsequently carried in appeal. In the event of Government being cast in any of the courts, the officer entrusted with the management of the suit, is to send a copy of the decree and proceedings of the court to the Governor General in Council, or to the Board of Revenue or of Trade, according to the immediate authority under which he may have acted, with a letter stating any objections that he may have to offer to the decision. The Boards abovementioned, are to submit all such decrees and proceedings to the Governor General in Council, with their opinion respecting them. The Governor General in Council will order an appeal from the decisions that may be transmitted to him under this section, to be preferred or not as may appear to him advisable. The costs and damages that may be awarded against Government in suits instituted under this section, are to be defrayed from the public treasury. All special rules respecting cases of the nature of those described in this section, are to be duly attended to by the plaintiff, and the Boards and officers concerned in them. (n)

XII. And if any person shall have commenced a suit in the dewanny adawlut of any zillah or city, and whilst that suit is depending, or after a decree may be passed in it, shall commence another suit in any other zillah or city court of dewanny adawlut for the same cause; or if any person shall commence a suit in any zillah or city court of dewanny adawlut, which shall appear to the judge to be frivolous, vexatious, or groundless, he is not only to dismiss the suit, with such costs as he may deem it equitable to award against the plaintiff, but is to fine him in such amount as he may think proper, upon a consideration of the nature of the case, and the situation and circumstances in life of the offender, and commit him to close custody until he pays the fine.

XIII. The zillah and city courts, are not to pass a decree in any suit concerning the succession or right of inheritance to a zemindarry, talook, land, house, or other real property, to which there are more claimants than one, who by the Hindoo or Mahomedan law (respect being had to the religion of the claimants) would be entitled to a portion of the property, excepting the property be by the decree adjudged to all the claimants in the proportions to which they may be respectively entitled.

XV. The zillah and city courts, are prohibited decreeing the payment or satisfaction of any sum due on a tumasook or bond, which may have been entered into after the 28th March 1780, unless the bond shall be proved to have been executed in the presence of two credible witnesses, or the payment of the sum demanded on the bond, or some other valuable consideration for it having been received, shall be proved to the satisfaction of the court. But the restriction contained in this section, is not to extend to any bills of exchange, receipts, or notes of hand, in the determination on which the custom of the country is to be abided by.

XVI. The zillah and city courts are prohibited entertaining any cause, which, from the production of a former decree, or the records of the court, shall appear to have been heard and determined by any former judge, or any superintendent of a court having competent jurisdiction. If any doubt should arise respecting the competency of the former jurisdiction, the judges are to report the circumstances to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, and wait the instructions of that court.

But the prohibitions contained in this section, are not to be construed to extend to preclude the court of dewanny adawlut of the zillah of the Twenty-four Pargunnahs, entertaining any suit concerning marriage or case, in which no money or other valuable thing may be demanded or decreed, although the cause of action shall have arisen, or the defendant may reside, or shall have resided at the time the suit commenced, within the limits of the town of Calcutta.

The court is to pass whatever order upon the representation may appear to it proper, consistently with the Regulations, and to direct a copy of the order, to be delivered to the person making the representation, or to his vakeel, under the seal of the court, and attested by the register. The judges of the zillah and city courts, are also prohibited corresponding by letter with the provincial courts of appeal respecting any cause or matter before those courts, or upon any matters whatever on which they may not be specially empowered so to correspond. When a judge shall have occasion to communicate to the provincial court any information that may be required from him by the court, or which he may deem it necessary to submit to the court, respecting any matter or cause that may be before it, he is to certify it to the court by a writing under his official seal and signature.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION IV.

A REGULATION for receiving, trying, and deciding, suits or complaints declared cognizable in the courts of dewanny adawlut established in the several zillahs, and in the cities of Patna, Dacca, and Moorshedabad.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council on the 1st May, 1793, corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengali; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzuan 1207 Higerree.

THE following rules are enacted for receiving, trying, and deciding, suits or complaints declared cognizable in the courts of dewanny adawlut established in the several zillahs, and in the cities of Patna, Dacca, and Moorshedabad. (a)

Only plaintiffs or defendants, or their vakeels duly empowered, to be allowed to prefer or defend a suit. No other persons, excepting the witnesses of the parties, to be heard vivâ voce in a cause.

What a complaint preferred to a zillah or city court is to contain. If it is for malguzarry or lakheraje land, the annual produce is to be specified.

What is meant by the annual produce.

If for any other property or money, or damages, the amount or value, or the sum in which the party may be endamaged, is to be specified.

Complaint to specify the name of the defendant and when it arose, and to be signed by the party, or his vakeel. Judge to sign, number, and date, the complaint.

Complaint to be entered in a book by a native officer.

In what language the complaint, answer, reply, and rejoinder are to be written.

II. No complaint is to be received but from the plaintiff, nor any answer to a complaint, but from the defendant, or their respective vakeels duly empowered. Nor is any person to be permitted to do any act, or to be heard vivâ voce in any stage of a cause, excepting the plaintiff or defendant, or their vakeels or witnesses. (b)

III. Every complaint that may be presented to the court of dewanny adawlut of any zillah, or of either of the cities of Patna, Dacca, or Moorshedabad, is to state precisely the matter of complaint. (c) If it be concerning a zemindarry, or an independent or a dependent talook, or any landed property being lakheraje (exempt from the payment of revenue to Government) or malguzarry (subject to the payment of revenue to Government) it is to state the amount of the annual produce of the land according to the most accurate estimate which the claimant may be able to procure. To obviate all doubt respecting what is meant by the annual produce of lakheraje and malguzarry lands, it is declared to be the aggregate of the sums that may have been paid under the Regulations by the dependent talookdars, under farmers and ryots, on account of the year in which the claim may be preferred, and that would be payable by them were the claimant to be put into possession of the lands during that year. If the complaint is for a house, garden, tank, or any real property not being malguzarry or lakheraje land, or any valuable thing, or relating to marriage or cast, or for damages for any injury, it is to state according to the nearest estimate the exact sum of money, or the amount in which the plaintiff may be endamaged. The complaint is also to specify the name of the person complained against, the time when the cause of action arose, and is to be signed by the complainant, or his vakeel duly authorized. The complaint is to be signed and numbered, and dated in the order in which it may be received, by the judge of the court, and is to be registered in a book by a native officer of the court, whose particular duty it is to be made, to copy and register complaints. Every complaint, answer, reply, and rejoinder, is to be written in the Persian or the Bengal language and character, or in the Hindostanee language and Nagree character, and no other, and the parties are to be permitted to deliver their pleadings in which ever of those languages and characters they may think proper.

(a) This Regulation has been extended to the province of Benares, subject to certain local alterations and modifications, by R. 8, of 1795, and to the zillah of Cuttack, and the pergunnahs of Puttaspore, Kummardichour, and Bograe, by R. 14, of 1805, S. 11; excepting such parts which direct the use of the Bengal language and character in the province of Bengal, the Oryah language and character being required to be used in the zillah of Cuttack, and in the abovementioned pergunnahs by the last mentioned Regulation.

(b) Modified by R. 15, of 1816, S. 2, in favour of native officers or soldiers attached to regular corps on the military establishment of the Honourable Company under the presidency of Fort William.

(c) See R. 15, of 1816, S. 4, for such additional matter which a complaint is required to state, wherein a native officer or soldier attached to a regular corps on the military establishment of the Honourable Company, under the presidency of Fort William, may be a defendant.

IV. That no doubt may be entertained respecting what suits decided in the provincial courts of appeal are appealable to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut. it is directed that if a suit shall be instituted in any zillah or city court, and the cause of action shall be stated by the plaintiff to be such as would make it appealable to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, or such as would not entitle either party to an appeal to that court, in the event of the suit being appealed to the provincial court of appeal, and either party being dissatisfied with the decision of that court; the defendant, in the first case, if he shall be of opinion that the cause is not appealable, and in the second, if he shall think it appealable, is to insert his objections to the plaintiff's statement in his answer, and the judge is to make such enquiries as he may deem necessary, to ascertain whether the cause of action is such as would or would not render it appealable to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, and to insert his decision on the objections of the defendant in the record of the trial, which the court of appeal, in the event of the cause being brought before them, are to confirm or set aside, as may appear to them proper. If the defendant shall not offer any objections in either of the cases abovementioned to the plaintiff's statement of the cause of action, it is to be held correct, so far as to determine eventually whether it is or is not appealable to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut; and any objections which either party may afterwards offer to the statement are not to be attended to, but if agreeably to the statement, the cause of action shall be appealable, an appeal is to be allowed (all rules regarding appeals being duly observed) and if it be not appealable, an appeal is not to be admitted. (d)

Defendant to insert in his answer, his objections to the plaintiff's statement of the cause of action, otherwise the statement is to be held correct, so far as to determine whether the cause is or is not appealable to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut.

V. Upon any person, either by himself or his vakeel duly appointed, preferring a written complaint on account of any matter declared cognizable by the zillah or city courts of dewanny adawlut, to the proper zillah or city court, the court is to issue a summons to the defendant, which is to contain a short account of the nature of the demand, and to require the defendant either to accompany the officer who may be deputed to serve the summons, to appear in person before the court, or to deliver to him good and sufficient security to appear and answer to the complaint on the day appointed either in person or by vakeel. (e) The person who may become security for the appearance of the defendant, is further to bind himself to be responsible for the personal attendance of the defendant whenever it may be required by the court, and in the event of his not being able to produce him either whilst the suit is depending, or at any time before the final decree in the cause is executed, to be answerable for such sum as may be adjudged against the defendant. (f) The summons is to be served on the defendant by the nazir or his inferior officer if he can be found, and in the event of his not giving the required security, the nazir or officer is to take his person into custody, and bring him before the court. (g) The nazir is to return the summons on the day appointed, with an endorsement specifying in what manner he has executed it. If the defendant shall appear either in person or by vakeel, the court is to fix a day

Court how to proceed upon a complaint cognizable by it being preferred to it. To issue a summons.

Contents of the summons.

Nazir to return the summons on the fixed day, with an endorsement how it has been executed.

(d) This section is rendered quite superfluous by the provisions of R. 13, of 1808, and R. 26, of 1814, regarding special and summary appeal. The judgments of the provincial courts of appeal, in regular civil suits, passed in the first instance, are all appealable to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut. See also R. 23, of 1814, S. 5, C. 2.

(e) The first process now issuable against a defendant is a notice, instead of the summons and requisition of security for appearance. But a summons and security for appearance, are nevertheless authorized in particular cases. See R. 2, of 1803.

(f) The extent of the security, or responsibility of the surety, whenever security may be deemed necessary, is always to be determined by the courts. See the further rules on this subject in R. 9, of 1802, S. 2. The form of the security bond is given in R. 11, of 1797, S. 3. Guardians appointed under R. 10, of 1793, are altogether exempted from giving the securities required by the Regulations from parties in civil suits. See R. 55, of 1795.

(g) See the manner of serving the notice prescribed by R. 2, of 1806, in the second and third sections of that Regulation. See also R. 15, of 1810, S. 4, C. 2, for the manner of serving the notice on a native officer or soldier attached to a regular corps on the military establishment of the Honourable Company, under the presidency of Fort William, whenever he may be a defendant in a civil suit.

Upon the defendant appearing, court to fix a day for his answering.

What the rejoinder is, and what it is not, to contain.

Cases in which the plaintiff is to be permitted to prefer a supplemental complaint.

Defendant to be allowed to deliver an answer to the supplemental complaint.

Plaintiff and defendant to be permitted to reply and rejoin.

Cases in which the defendant is to be allowed to deliver a supplemental answer.

Plaintiff and defendant to reply and rejoin. Only one supplemental complaint or answer to be admitted. Register to rejoin, if the defendant does not rejoin by the appointed day.

according to its discretion for him to answer to the complaint, and, if it shall deem it reasonable so to do, may at any time allow the defendant a further period for delivering his answer; and if the defendant shall appear in person, and shall not have given the security abovementioned for his appearance and attendance, the court is to require him to give it, and in the event of his refusing or omitting to comply with the requisition, he is to be committed to close custody until he shall have given the security, or performed the decree of the court. When the defendant has delivered in his answer to the complaint, the plaintiff is to reply to it on the next court day, but he is not to be permitted to introduce in his reply any matter whatever which may not be contained in his complaint, but is either to acknowledge the answer of the defendant to be true, or simply and shortly deny the truth of such of the facts in the answer as he intends to dispute, or simply deny the truth of all the facts contained in it, or the competency of the answer. The defendant is to rejoin to the reply on the same day, but is not to be permitted to introduce in his rejoinder any matter not contained in his answer, but is simply to deny the truth of the reply of the plaintiff, or the parts of it which he means to dispute, and aver the truth or competency of his own answer; and no further pleadings whatever are to be admitted in the cause. (h) But if from mistake, inadvertence, or other cause, the plaintiff shall have omitted to insert in his complaint any thing material to the suit, the court, on the omission being represented either by the plaintiff or his vakeel, is to allow the plaintiff to prefer a supplemental complaint, in which he is to state the matter omitted. (i) The defendant is to be allowed to deliver an answer to the supplemental complaint on a day to be fixed for that purpose; and the plaintiff and defendant are to reply and rejoin in the same manner as on the original complaint, but no other. In like manner, if the defendant from mistake, inadvertence, or other cause, shall have omitted to insert in his answer any thing material to his defence, the court, upon his representing the omission either in person or by his vakeel, is to permit the defendant to deliver in a supplemental answer. The plaintiff and defendant are to reply and rejoin in the same manner as on the original answer. But no more than one supplemental complaint, or one supplemental answer is to be received by the court. Whenever a defendant shall refuse or neglect to rejoin at the time appointed for that purpose, the register is to enter a rejoinder for him, and the court is to proceed in the trial in the same manner as if the defendant himself had rejoined. (j)

VI. When the rejoinder has been filed, the court, either immediately, or on a fixed day (eight days notice of which is to be given to the parties) (k) as soon after the pleadings are closed as the business of the court will permit, is to examine the truth of the complaint or claim by the oaths of the parties, if they mutually consent to that mode of examination, and of the witnesses who may be produced by them, if they have any witnesses to produce. (l) To procure the attendance of witnesses, the zillah and city courts, on the requisition of the plaintiff or defendant, or their respective vakeels, are to issue a summons to the witnesses whom the parties may name (provided they be not Hindoo or Mahomedan women of a rank or quality, which, according to the manners and customs of the country, would render it improper to compel them to appear in a court of justice,) specifying at whose request the summons may have been issued, and requiring them to appear in the court on a day to be named in the summons, and there to depose concerning the matter in dispute between the parties. If a witness so summoned shall not attend on the day appointed, or attending, shall refuse to give evidence, or to subscribe his deposition as hereafter required, the judge, in the first case, if it shall be proved to his satisfaction on oath that the witness was material to the cause, is to issue an order to the nazir to seize and bring the witness before the court, and is to impose on such witness not having attended, or refusing to give evidence, a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, and to commit him to close custody, until he shall consent to give his evidence and sign his deposition. (m) If a witness who may attend pursuant to a summons, shall have incurred any expense in consequence of his being required to appear, the court is to award to him such sum for his charges as may appear to it reasonable, whether he be examined or not. If the sum so awarded shall not be paid immediately, or secured to the witness to the satisfaction of the court, the party at whose requisition the witness may be summoned is not only to lose the benefit of his testimony, but the court, after the decree in the cause shall be passed, is to confine such party until he shall discharge the sum awarded to the witness. The zillah and city courts are to administer to parties consenting to be examined on oath, and to witnesses, such oaths as may be considered most binding on their consciences, according to their respective religious persuasions. But if a witness shall be of a rank or cast, which according to the prejudices of the country would render it improper to compel him to take an oath, the judge of the court may dispense with his being sworn, provided he shall subscribe one of the undermentioned declarations, according as he may be of the Mahomedan or Hindoo persuasion. (n)

(i) By R. 26, of 1814, S. 6, C. 3, the admission of supplemental complaints or other supplemental pleadings are at the discretion of the courts.

(j) This last rule respecting rejoinders has been modified by R. 26, of 1814, S. 5, C. 2.

Declaration to be subscribed by a Hindoo witness exempted from taking an oath

"I will faithfully answer according to the truth, such questions as may be put to me by the court in the cause now before the court; I will not declare any thing not warranted by the truth; if I declare any thing not warranted by the truth, I shall be deserving of punishment from Ishwur."

Declaration to be signed by a Mahomedan witness exempted from taking an oath.

"I sincerely promise and swear in the presence of Almighty God, that I will, faithfully and without partiality, answer according to the truth, any questions that may be put to me by the court respecting the cause now before the court." After the witness has given his deposition, he is to subscribe the following declaration. "I swear in the presence of Almighty God, that I have faithfully and without partiality answered according to the truth the questions put to me by the court respecting the cause now before the court." The depositions of the witnesses who may subscribe the above declarations are to be received as good evidence in the cause, in the same manner as if they had been sworn. The deposition of every witness who may appear in court, is to be taken vivâ voce in open court, and (if he be a native) in the Persian, Bengal, or Hindostanee language, and is to be reduced into writing in the Bengal, Persian or Nageree character, according as the witness may desire. The deposition is to be subscribed by the witness with his name or mark. Every exhibit or written evidence (excepting exhibits that may be proved by such absent witnesses as are hereafter mentioned,) is to be produced in open court at the trial, and if disputed, is to be duly proved by the examination of witnesses sworn as above directed, whose depositions are in the same manner to be reduced into writing and signed. Every exhibit is to be marked with some letter or number to identify it, and the letter or number is to be referred to in the deposition proving it. All exhibits proved by witnesses not present in court are in the same manner to be marked and referred to in the depositions proving them, and are to be endorsed and minuted as having been read at the time they may have been read in the court. In the event of any witness being a Hindoo or a Mahomedan woman of a rank or quality, which, according to the customs and manners of the country, would render it improper to compel her to appear in a court of justice, the zillah and city courts of dewanny adawlut are authorized to commission three creditable women, who are to be sworn to execute the commission truly and faithfully, to administer either an oath, or the prescribed declaration to persons of the rank, cast or quality beforementioned, (according to the discretion of the judge and the religion of the witnesses,) and to examine them on written interrogatories to be delivered to them by both parties or their vakeels, if both parties shall desire to examine the witnesses. In like manner, if any witness whose deposition may be necessary to the determination of a cause, shall reside out of the jurisdiction of the zillah or city court in which the suit may be instituted, and at a greater distance from the court than fifty coss, the judge of the zillah or city court is authorized by a letter signed by himself, and sealed with the seal of the court, to request the judge of the zillah or city court in whose jurisdiction the witness may reside, either to administer to him an oath, or cause him to sign the above-mentioned declaration, should he be of the description of persons whom the courts are empowered to exempt from taking an oath, (according to the discretion of the judge who shall grant the commission, and the religion of the witness,) and to examine such witness on written interrogatories to be transmitted to the judge by both parties or their vakeels, if both parties shall desire to examine the witness. The judge to whom the letter may be directed, is to examine the witness, or witnesses, named in the letter, according to the requisition of it, and to return the deposition of each witness duly subscribed by him, to the judge of the court in which the cause may be depending by the time required in the commission; and every deposition so taken, is to be read as good evidence in the cause. But if the personal attendance of a party in a suit, or a witness (provided the party, or witness, be not a woman of a rank or quality, which, according to the customs and manners of the country, would render it improper to compel her to appear before a court of justice,) who may be resident at any distance whatever beyond the limits of the jurisdiction of the court, shall be deemed by the judge trying the cause to be indispensably necessary, he is to address the judge of the court in the jurisdiction of which the person whose attendance is required may reside, requesting him to order him to attend; and the judge so addressed, is directed to comply with the requisition, without further delay than may be necessary in the event of the attendance of such person before the court of the judge to whom the application may be made being indispensable, in consequence of his being either a party or a witness in a suit depending before the court. If any exhibit or written evidence is offered to a zillah or city court in a cause depending before it, and the judge of the court shall think it just and proper to reject it, he is to endorse upon it the word "rejected," together with the names of the parties in the cause, and the name of the party who produced the document, the date on which it may be rejected, and his reasons for not admitting it, (which may be written either upon the document rejected, or on a paper to be annexed to it,) and to subscribe his name to the endorsement, and return the document with his reasons so written to the person who produced it.

See R. 50, of 1803, S. 2, C. 2.

(n) The courts are not restricted to administer any particular form of oath. A Hindoo objecting to the usual form of swearing by water of the ganges, copper and toolay, may be sworn under any other form of oath which may be legal and binding, and which may be practicable and convenient to administer. See R. 50, of 1803, S. 5. By S. 2, of the same Regulation, the rules in this section, which relate to procuring the attendance and testimony of witnesses, and administering and dispensing with oaths, have been extended to the criminal courts.

VII. When the parties have been heard, and the witnesses on both sides examined, and the exhibits received and considered, the judge is to give judgment according to justice and right, and is to order costs to be paid to the party in whose favor the decree may be made. The court is then to cause the decree to be executed, (o) if it be for a zemindarry, independent or dependent talook, or other estate or real property, by causing possession of the property to be delivered to the person to whom it may be decreed; if it be for personal property or a sum of money, by causing the specific thing to be delivered, or the value of it, or the sum of money decreed, to be levied by public sale by auction of a sufficient portion, or, if requisite for the satisfaction of the decree, the whole of the lands, houses, and all other effects, either real or personal, belonging to the party against whom the judgment may have been given, or by the attachment of his person, or, where it may be necessary, both by the sale of his property and effects, and the attachment of his person. (p)

VIII. If the defendant in a suit in a zillah or city court shall be committed to close custody at the instance of the plaintiff, either whilst the suit is depending, or after the decree shall have been passed, the judge at the time of the commitment of the defendant, is to make an order on the plaintiff for the payment of whatever monthly allowance he may think reasonable for the subsistence of the defendant, upon a consideration of his rank and situation in life, and the circumstances of the plaintiff. The allowance is not to exceed four annas, nor to be less than one anna per day; and is to be made payable to the nazir, who is to give monthly receipts for it to the plaintiff dated on the day on which the money may be paid. The first payment is to be made immediately upon the confinement of the defendant, and every subsequent payment at the expiration of the next and following months, calculating from the day on which the defendant may be confined. If the plaintiff shall neglect or refuse to pay the prescribed allowance for the space of one month after any payment may become due, the nazir is to report the omission or refusal in writing under his signature to the judge. Upon receipt of the report, the judge is to cause it to be notified to the plaintiff by a writing (in the Persian and Bengal languages, if the court be situated in Bengal or Orissa, or, in the Persian language and the Hindostanee language and the Nagaree character, if it be in Behar) to be fixed up in some conspicuous place in the court room, that if he shall not within one month after the date of the notice, pay the sums in arrear, together with the allowance for one month in advance, the court will release the defendant. If the plaintiff shall not make the payments required by the notice, the court is accordingly to discharge the defendant from custody. Plaintiffs are not to be required to pay any allowance to defendants who may be committed to custody for disobedience to an order of the court. (q)

IX. That the quinquennial register of landed property paying revenue to Government directed to be prepared by Regulation XLVIII, 1793, may be kept complete, the zillah and city courts are strictly enjoined to transmit to the collector of the zillah and the Board of Revenue, a copy of every decree that they may pass, or which may be sent to them to be enforced by the provincial courts of appeal or the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, regarding any zemindarry, independent talook, or other land, paying revenue immediately to Government, or in any wise concerning the possession of such land. The judge is to transmit the copy of the decree within ten days after he may pass or receive it. The decree is to be attested with the signature of the judge and the seal of the court, and is to be accompanied with a short abstract of it specifying the date of the decree, the names of the purgunnah or purgunnahs, the talook or talooks, the turf or turfs, the village or villages, or the portions of each, which may be decreed, the name or names of the person or persons last in possession, the person or persons to whom the lands may be decreed, and, if the land be decreed to two or more persons, the shares awarded to each person. (r)

(q) Money paid by plaintiffs for the subsistence of defendants in confinement under judgments of the civil courts, is to be recovered with other costs of suit, when any property may be forthcoming from which the same can be levied. See R. 2, of 1806, S. 12.

X. If a plaintiff shall at any time neglect to proceed in his suit for six weeks, the suit is to be dismissed, unless he can show good and sufficient cause to the court for not having proceeded in it; and the court is to award to the defendant the whole or such part of the costs as he may have incurred in the suit, according as it may deem equitable. The judge is to record upon the proceedings his reasons at large for dismissing the suit of a plaintiff, or allowing him to prosecute it, after he shall have neglected to proceed in it for six weeks.

XI. If a defendant against whom a summons may issue shall abscond, or is not after diligent search to be found, or shall shut himself up in his own or in any house or building, or retire to any place so that the process cannot be served upon him, and the nazir shall return that on such account he has not been able to serve or execute the process, the judge is to cause a writing (in the Persian and Bengal languages, if it be in Bengal or Orissa, or in the Persian language, and the Hindostanee language and Nageree character, if it be in Behar) to be stuck up in some conspicuous part of the room, in which the court may be held. The writing is to contain a copy of the summons, and a notice, that if the party shall not appear on a day to be fixed (which shall not be less than fifteen days from the time that the summons may be fixed up) the court will proceed without further notice to try and determine the cause without the appearance or answer of the defendant. The court is likewise to order a copy of the summons and notice to be fixed up with all practicable dispatch on the outer door of the house in which the defendant may have usually dwelt, or in some conspicuous place in the village, or other place, in which he may have generally resided. The nazir is to return the order with an endorsement stating at what time, and places the summons and notice may have been fixed up. The return of the nazir is to be filed in court, and to form a part of the record of the trial. If the defendant shall not appear at the time limited in the notice, or if a defendant who may have been served with a summons shall not appear, or, having appeared, shall refuse to give answer, or make other default, or shall admit the truth of the plaintiff's bill of complaint, the court, on examining the allegations of the plaintiff only, and the depositions of his witnesses, is to decree and give judgment, in the same manner as if the defendant had appeared, answered, and entered into proof.

XII. If a defendant, for whose appearance security may have been taken, shall not appear, or having appeared, shall refuse to give answer, the plaintiff is permitted to institute a suit against the sureties on their engagement, and is to be entitled to recover from them whatever he may prove to be due to him from the defendant; or he may proceed against the defendant in the same manner as defendants are directed to be proceeded against who have been served with a summons, and have not appeared, or have refused to give answer.

XIII. Every process, rule, order, or decree, of the zillah and city courts (with the exception contained in this section) is to be immediately served or executed, without application to any person, or the interference of any individual whomsoever, according to the requisition of it, within the limits of the special jurisdiction of each court. (c). But in every case in which the defendant shall be a Hindoo or Mahomedan woman of a rank or quality, which, according to the customs and usages of the country, would render it improper to compel her to appear in an open court of justice, the judges of the zillah and city courts are not to issue any compulsory process against her, to compel her to appear and make answer, but are to issue a summons requiring her to appear in person or by vakeel, at a certain time to be named in the summons, in the zillah or city court, and answer to the complaint, and abide by the orders which the court may think proper to pass in the cause. The summons is to be directed to the nazir of the court, and is to contain a short account of the nature of the demand or complaint, with a notice, that if the defendant shall not appear, as required by the summons at the time specified in it, or having so appeared, shall not answer to the complaint at the time which may be fixed by the court, or make any other default, the court will proceed to try and determine the cause in the same manner as if the defendant had appeared, answered, and done, what she is authorized or required to do in defence of the suit. The summons is further to command the nazir to deliver a copy of it to the dewan, or some principal servant of the defendant. The nazir is not to have recourse to compulsion to enforce the summons, but is to serve it in the manner herein directed and no other. The nazir is to return the summons on the day appointed for the appearance of the defendant, with an endorsement specifying in what manner he has executed it, and if he has not executed it, the reason why it has not been executed. If the defendant should appear in person or by vakeel, the court is to fix a certain day according to its discretion, for her to answer to the complaint, and to appoint a day for the parties to deliver in their pleadings, and the court is to try and determine the cause, in the same manner as suits instituted against persons not being women of the abovementioned description. Upon the summons being issued, if the dewan or other principal servant of the defendant shall abscond, or otherwise act so that the summons cannot be served upon him, or shall not after diligent search and enquiry be found, the judge, upon the return of the summons and proof being made before him on oath of the fact, is to proceed against the defendant in the same manner as he is directed to proceed against a defendant, who after diligent search, cannot be found, or shall have absconded or otherwise acted so that he could not be served with a summons. If a female defendant on whom no summons can be served, after the prescribed notice has been issued, shall not appear as required, or appearing shall neglect or refuse to answer, or make other default, or admit the truth of the complaint, the court, on examining the allegations of the plaintiff only, and receiving the depositions of his witnesses, are to decree and give judgment in the same manner as if the defendant had appeared, answered, and entered into proof.

(r) R. 58, of 1795, S. 4, explains what decrees the courts are to transmit to the collectors and the Board of Revenue, for to the Commissioner in Behar and Benares, under this section; and S. 3, of the same Regulation, prescribes a similar rule, as that contained in the above section, to the courts, on passing decrees affecting the right to, or possession of lands held exempt from the payment of the public revenue.

Exception to the rule made in favor of defendants who may be women of the description herein specified.

How such women are to be summoned when defendants.

Summons to be directed to the nazir. What it is to contain.

The nazir to serve the summons in the manner herein mentioned, and no other. Nazir to return how he has served the summons.

Court how to proceed if the defendant should appear in conformity to the summons.

Court how to proceed in case the principal servant of the defendant cannot be served with the summons, and the defendant shall not appear in person or vakeel.

Witnesses or persons, guilty of wilful or corrupt perjury to be committed to take their trial before the court of circuit.

The decisions of the courts to be conformable to the Mahomedan law with regard to Mahomedans, and the Hindoo law with regard to Hindoos, in the cases herein specified.

XIV. If a witness, or any person, shall be guilty of wilful and corrupt perjury in any cause or matter depending in court, the judge is immediately to commit the offender to close custody, to take his trial before the court of circuit of the division in which the offence may be committed. (1)

XV. In suits regarding succession, inheritance, marriage, and cast, and all religious usages and institutions, the Mahomedan laws with respect to Mahomedans, and the Hindoo laws with regard to Hindoos, are to be considered as the general rules by which the judges are to form their decisions. In the respective cases, the Mahomedan and Hindoo law officers of the court are to attend to expound the law. (v)

XVI. The judges of the zillah and city courts, are strictly enjoined not to order or allow of a report of any matters of facts relating to any cause depending before them, with a view to the passing a decree, to be made to them by any officer of the court, or any other person, excepting in cases in which special authority for that purpose may be given to the courts by any Regulation. This rule however is not to be construed to prevent a judge referring any question arising on the Mahomedan or Hindoo law, to the cauzy or pundit of the court, respect being had to the law in which each is conversant. When a reference of this nature is deemed necessary, a statement of the facts on which the question of law may arise, is to be made out in writing, and signed by the judge of the court, and delivered to the cauzy or pundit for his opinion upon it. A blank is to be left for the answer of the law officer on the same paper on which the question is stated, or on a paper firmly annexed to it. The answer is to be attested with the signature of the law officer, and the dates on which the questions may be stated to him, and the answer may be given, are to be specified.

XVII. In cases of disputed property regarding lands, houses, or their limits or boundaries, in which the court may deem a local investigation proper, the court is to appoint an aumeen, who is to be sworn to make a true and faithful report to the court of the several matters which he may be directed to investigate, and not to take or receive, directly or indirectly, from either party, any gratuity, reward, or consideration, besides the sum which may be allowed to him by the court. The aumeen is to be ordered to make his report in writing, subscribed with his name, and to deliver it into court on a certain day, which is to be specified in his commission. The report is to be received by the court, as evidence in the cause with regard to the matters which the aumeen may be commissioned to investigate, and no other. The court may order such sum to be paid to the aumeen as may be thought reasonable for his trouble, and the amount is to be added to the costs, and paid by the person against whom the decree may be passed. But the court is to be careful that expenses are not unnecessarily incurred by the aumeen by delay or other means.

XVIII. The plaintiff is to pay the charges of summoning the defendant, and his own witnesses, and of all process attended with expense which may be issued in his behalf previous to the decision of the suit.

XIX. The judges of the zillah and city courts, are to order the causes depending in their respective courts, to be brought on for trial according to the order in which they may be filed, except in cases in which it may be otherwise directed by any Regulation, (u) or in which the judge may think it proper for special reasons, which he is to state at large upon the record of the trial, to bring on the cause before its turn. The register is to enter in a book the causes for the trial of which a day may be appointed by the judge, and on the day fixed, call on the causes for trial in the order in which they may have been entered. A paper containing a list of the causes, and the day appointed for the trial of them, is to be fixed up in some conspicuous part of the court room seven days previous to the day of trial.

XX. All orders and process of the court which may be directed to be served or executed on any person, are to be written or printed in the Persian and Bengal languages, in Bengál and Orissa, and in the Persian language, and the Hindostanee language and Nagere character, in Behar, and are to be sealed with the seal of the court, and signed by the judge. When a summons, or any process, is issued against a defendant, or a witness in a cause, or any other person who may not reside or be present at the place at which the court may sit, and for the serving or executing of which a peon or peons may be necessary, each peon is to be paid by the party in whose behalf the summons or process may issue, four annas per day for his subsistence, excepting in districts where custom may have fixed the subsistence money of peons at a lower rate, in which case the lower rate, and no more, is to be paid. The name of each peon deputed to serve the process, the amount of his subsistence money, and the number of days for which he is to receive it, is to be endorsed on the writing. No greater number of peons than two are to be deputed to serve or execute any process of the courts, and one peon only is to be sent, excepting in cases in which the judges may think two peons necessary. XXI. If any person shall be guilty of contempt of court in open court, or of undue arrogations of the authority of the court, or of illegal exertions of judicial authority in his own cause, the court is immediately to punish the offender by fining him in a sum not exceeding two hundred rupees, and keeping him in custody until the fine shall be paid. The courts are to regulate the amount of the fines which they may impose under this section according to the situation and circumstances in life of the offenders.

XXII. If a zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, or a dependent talookdar, shall resist, or cause to be resisted, any process, rule, order, or decree, of a zillah court, the court, on proof of the resistance being made by oath to its satisfaction, is to cause the offender to be summoned to answer to the charge. If the offender shall abscond, or shut himself up in his own or any house, or in any building, or retire to any place, so that he cannot be served with the summons, the court is to proceed against him in the manner directed with regard to other persons absconding or acting as above specified, so that they cannot be served with the process of the court. If the offender shall not appear within the prescribed time, or, if he shall appear, and after receiving his answer to the charge, and hearing the evidence which he may produce in his defence, it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the court, that he is guilty of the charge, the court is to decree that the offender shall from the date of the decree, forfeit his zemindarry, talook, or other estate, in which the resistance may have been made; or, if the resistance shall have been made out of the limits of the estate of the offender, the zimindarry, talook, or other landed property that he may possess within the jurisdiction of the court, the process of which may have been resisted. (x) If the cause shall not be appealed to the provincial court of appeal within the time limited for preferring appeals to that court in Section XII, Regulation V, 1793, the court is immediately to forward a copy of its decree and proceedings respecting the charge to the Governor General in Council. If the offender shall appeal to the provincial court of appeal within the prescribed period, and the court should confirm the decision of the zillah court, and the cause shall not be appealable to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, or if it shall be appealable, and the offender shall not lodge an appeal within the time limited for preferring appeals to that court in Section X, Regulation VI, 1793, the provincial court is immediately to forward a copy of their decree and proceedings in the appeal, and of the decree and proceedings of the zillah court to the Governor General in Council. If an appeal shall be received from the decision of the provincial court, and the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut should confirm the decree of that court, they are immediately to transmit a copy of their decree and proceedings, and of the decrees and proceedings received from the provincial court of appeal, to the Governor General in Council. That no doubt may be entertained from what decrees passed by the provincial courts of appeal under this section, an appeal is to be allowed to the Sudder Dewanny passed under this section, an appeal is to lie to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut.

Adawlut, it is declared that an appeal shall not lie to the last mentioned court, unless the annual produce of the lands of the offender which may be adjudged forfeited (calculating according to the amount paid and payable to the offender by the dependent talookdars, under farmers, and ryots, on account of the year in which the decree may be passed) shall exceed one thousand sicca rupees. (y) In the event of an appeal from the decree of the provincial court being presented to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, and the admission or rejection of the appeal depending upon the produce of the lands for the year beforementioned exceeding or falling short of one thousand sicca rupees, the court of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut is to order the provincial court to obtain the necessary information regarding the produce, and after receiving their report, admit or reject the appeal, according as they may deem equitable. It shall be at the option of the Governor General in Council, within four weeks after the receipt of a decree adjudging the estate of any person forfeited under this section, either to order it to be executed, or to commute the forfeiture for such fine as upon a consideration of the situation and circumstances in life of the offender, he may think adequate to the offence for which the decree may be passed. In the event of the Governor General in Council commuting the forfeiture for a fine, the court which shall have transmitted the decree and proceedings to him, upon receiving notice of the fine that he may impose, is to levy the amount of it by the same process as is prescribed for enforcing decrees of the court. But if the Governor General in Council shall not within four weeks after the decree shall have been received by him, either order it to be executed, or commute the forfeiture for a fine, the decree is to stand good against the offender. (z) In such case, or in the event of the Governor General in Council ordering the decree to be executed, the court is to issue a precept, under the seal of the court and the signature of the register, requiring the collector of the revenue of the zillah to depute an aumeen with a proper establishment of officers (whose allowances are to be specified in the precept) to sequester the lands, and collect the rents and revenues. If the lands of the offender shall be deemed by the court too inconsiderable to admit of their being charged with the expense of an aumeen, they are to direct a precept to be issued to the collector of the zillah to order the nearest tehsildar, or any other officer who may be employed under him in the business of the collections, to take charge of the lands. The officer is to perform the duties prescribed to aumeens in such cases, and under the same restrictions and penalties. (a)

XXIII. If the decree adjudging the lands of the offender forfeited, shall be confirmed or stand good under Section XXII, it shall be at the option of the Governor General in Council, either to confer the rights which the offender possessed in the lands on his heirs, upon their agreeing to make good all sums whatever that may be due from him to Government on account of the lands forfeited, and to pay the fixed public revenue assessed upon them, or, if the property forfeited be a dependent talook, the revenue payable from it to the proprietor within whose estate it may be situated; or, to order the lands to be disposed of at public sale, under the rules prescribed for the sale of lands so forfeited in Regulation XLV, 1793.

XXIV. If a farmer of land holding a farm immediately of Government, shall resist, or cause to be resisted, any process, rule, order, or decree, which may at any time issue from any zillah court, on proof of the resistance being made by oath

(y) Modified by R. 5, of 1798, S. 2. The decrees of the provincial courts of appeal not exceeding in amount or value the sum of sicca rupees 5000, are held final.

(z) Modified by R. 9, of 1799, S. 3. Decrees of forfeiture passed under this section, are not to be deemed final nor carried into execution, until notice of their confirmation shall have been received from the Governor General in Council.

to its satisfaction, the court is to cause the offender to be summoned to answer to the charge. If the offender shall abscond, or shut himself up in his own or any house or building, or retire to any place so that he cannot be served with the summons, the court is to proceed against him in the manner directed with regard to other persons absconding or otherwise acting as above specified, so that they cannot be served with the process of the court. If the offender shall not appear within the prescribed period, or, if he shall appear within the limited time, and after receiving his answer to the charge, and hearing the evidence which he may have to produce in his defence, it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the court, that he is guilty of the charge, the court is to decree the lease cancelled from the expiration of the Bengal, Fussily, or Willaity year (according as the farm may be situated in Bengal, Behar, or Orissa) in which the decree may be passed. (b) If the offender shall not appeal to the provincial court of appeal within the time limited for preferring appeals to that court in Section XII, Regulation V, 1793, the court is immediately to transmit to the Governor General in Council a copy of the decree and of all the proceedings respecting the charge. If the offender shall appeal to the provincial court of appeal within the prescribed period, and the court should confirm the decision of the zillah court, and the cause shall not be appealable to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, or if it shall be appealable, and the offender shall not lodge an appeal within the time limited for preferring appeals to that court in Section X, Regulation VI, 1793, the provincial court is immediately to forward a copy of their decree and proceedings in the appeal, and of the decree and proceedings of the zillah court, to the Governor General in Council. If an appeal from the decision of the provincial court shall be admitted, and the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut should confirm the decree of the provincial court, they are immediately to transmit a copy of their decree and proceeding, and of the decrees and proceedings received from the provincial court of appeal, to the Governor General in Council. That no doubt may be entertained from what decrees passed by the provincial courts of appeal under this section, an appeal is to be allowed to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, it is declared that an appeal shall not lie to the last mentioned court, unless the revenue payable to Government by the offender for the year in which the decree may be passed on account of the lands the lease for which may be adjudged annulled, shall exceed one thousand sicca rupees. (c) It shall be at the option of the Governor General in Council, within four weeks after the receipt of a decree adjudging the lease of a farmer annulled under this section, either to order the decree to be executed, or to commute the forfeiture of the lease for such fine as upon a consideration of the situation and circumstances in life of the offender, he may think adequate to the offence for which the decree may be passed; or, if the offender shall not be desirous of being continued in his farm, to fine him as above prescribed, and compel him to retain the farm during the remainder of the lease, and to hold him and his surety responsible for the discharge of their engagements until the term of them shall expire. If a fine shall be imposed upon the offender, the court which shall have transmitted the final decree and proceedings to the Governor General in Council, upon receiving notice of the fine, is to levy the amount of it by the same process as is prescribed for enforcing decrees of the court. But if the Governor General in Council shall not within four weeks after the decree shall have been received by him, either order it to be executed, or commute the forfeiture of the lease for a fine, the decree is to stand good against the offender, and the court is without delay to cause a

The offender is permitted to prosecute in the dewanny adawlut of the zillah in which the farm may be situated, the dependent talookdars, under farmers, and ryots, in the lands included in the farm, for any arrears of rent or revenue that may be due from them to him on account of the period during which his lease remained in force.

If the offender shall not prefer an appeal to the provincial court of appeal within the time prescribed for lodging appeals, the court is to proceed to levy the amount by the same process by which it is empowered to carry its decrees for sums of money into execution. If the offender should appeal to the provincial court of appeal within the prescribed time, and the court should confirm the decision of the zillah or city court, the rules regarding appeals to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut from the decisions of the provincial courts of appeal for sums of money, are to be held applicable to decisions which may be passed by the provincial courts under this section. If the provincial courts should confirm the decision of the zillah or city court, and the fine should not exceed one thousand sicca rupees, or if it should be above that sum, and the offender shall not prefer an appeal to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut within the time prescribed for lodging appeals, the court is to proceed to levy the amount by the same process by which it is empowered to carry its decrees for sums of money into execution. ## A. D. 1793. REGULATION V.

A REGULATION for establishing four provincial courts of appeal for hearing appeals from decisions passed in the several zillah and the three city courts, and defining their powers and duties, and prescribing rules for receiving and deciding upon appeals, and other causes of which they are declared to have cognizance.—PASSED by the Governor or General in Council, on the 1st May, 1793, corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higeree.

PARTIES in suits instituted in the late courts of mofussil dewanny a'awlut, who considered themselves aggrieved by decisions of those courts, had no tribunal to which they could apply for redress but the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, or court of appeal established at Calcutta. Individuals residing in the interior parts of the country, whose circumstances would not admit of their entertaining a vakeel at a heavy and an unlimited expense for the special purpose of prosecuting an appeal, in addition to the authorized charges and other expenses which necessarily attended the carrying on a law process in a court situated at so great a distance, and whose occupations prevented their repairing to Calcutta in person, were consequently often under the necessity of submitting to decisions by which they deemed themselves injured, even in suits that were appealable. In addition to this evil arising from the local situation of the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, the court being composed of the Governor General and the members of the Supreme Council, it became necessary, notwithstanding the then limited jurisdiction of the mofussil dewanny courts, to restrict appeals to decisions respecting property exceeding a certain and very considerable amount or value, to prevent a greater number of appeals being preferred than the general administration of the public affairs would allow of their hearing. The decisions of the courts of mofussil dewanny adawlut, were accordingly made final in suits for money, or for personal property, in which the sum, or the value of the thing decreed, did not amount to more than one thousand sicca rupees, and for landed estates paying an annual revenue to Government not exceeding one thousand sicca rupees, and for lands exempted from the payment of public revenue, the annual produce of which was not above one hundred sicca rupees. The principal part of the suits which were instituted in the courts, not being appealable under the above limitations, the greater proportion of the suitors, consisting of claimants to landed property, traders, manufacturers, and other persons chiefly of the lower and most industrious orders of the people, had consequently no remedy against unjust or erroneous decisions. In suits regarding arrears of rent or revenue, between the various descriptions of proprietors and farmers of land, and their dependent talookdars, under farmers, and ryots, and others concerned in the collection of the rents and revenues arising from land, and in matters between Government and proprietors and farmers of land respecting the public revenue, (which were excluded from the jurisdiction of the courts of dewanny adawlut, and cognizable by the collectors in the late courts of maal adawlut or revenue courts,) obstacles equally great existed to the prosecution of the appeal which lay in such cases to the Board of Revenue, and the Governor General in Council, in addition to the further impediments occasioned by the irregularity in the process, and the defects in the constitution of the revenue courts. The jurisdiction of the courts of dewanny adawlut established in the several zillahs, and the cities of Patna, Dacca and Moorshedabad, being now extended not only to the causes which were cognizable in the courts of maal adawlut, but to civil suits of all descriptions between individuals, and, under certain restrictions, between Government and its subjects; and it being essential to the prosperity of the country, that all persons, especially the cultivators of the soil, the traders, and manufacturers, and the other classes of the lower and most industrious orders of the community in the different parts of the provinces, who may be dissatisfied with the decisions of those courts, should have an appeal to a higher court to which they can have ready access; and that this court should be so constituted, that they may look up to it with confidence for speedy redress against unjust or erroneous decisions; the Governor General in Council has enacted as follows.

Four provincial courts of appeal established. Places at which the four courts are to be established, and their respective denominations. Three judges to be appointed to each court. Their official appellations.

II. Four courts of appeal shall be established, one in the vicinity of Calcutta, one at the city of Patna, one at the city of Dacca, and one at the city of Moorshedabad, to be denominated respectively, the provincial court of appeal for the division of Calcutta, Patna, Dacca and Moorshedabad. (a) Each court is to be superintended by three judges, (b) who are to be styled, the first, second and third judge of the court to which they may be appointed. Every judge previous to entering upon the execution of the duties of his office, is to take and subscribe the following oath before the Governor General in Council, or any person whom he may commission to administer it. "I, A. B. appointed judge of the provincial court of appeal for the division of ——— solemnly swear, that I will administer justice conformably to the Regulations that have been, or may be, passed by the Governor General in Council, according to the best of my ability, knowledge, and judgment, without fear, favor, promise, or hope of reward; that I will not receive, directly or indirectly, any present or nuzzer, either in money or effects of any kind, from any party or person whomsoever, on account of any suit to be instituted, or which may be depending, or have been decided in the court of appeal of which I am appointed a judge; that I will not knowingly permit any person or persons under my authority, or in my immediate service, to receive, directly or indirectly, any present or nuzzer, in money, or effects of any kind, from any party or person whomsoever, on account of any suit, to be instituted, or which may be depending, or have been decided in the court; that I will render a true and faithful account of all sums of money that may be paid into the court, or disbursed from it; that I will not be concerned, directly or indirectly, Oath to be taken by the judges.

(a) There are now six provincial courts of appeal. Four of them are above described, and the remaining two are stationed in the city of Benares and in the town of Barrelly, and are severally denominated—the provincial court of appeal for the division of Benares or Barrelly. See R. 9, of 1795, and R. 4, of 1803.

(b) Rescinded by R. 5, of 1814, S. 2. Each of the provincial courts of appeal is superintended by four judges, who are severally styled the first, second, third and fourth judge of the court to which they are appointed.

(w) And in every case where a petition of appeal shall be preferred in the first instance immediately to the provincial court of appeal, and no security shall have been taken by the zillah or city court, the provincial court is not to proceed in the appeal, until the party appealing shall have entered into such security as he would have been required to have given, had he preferred his petition of appeal to the zillah or city court. The register in such case, is to examine the witnesses in the presence of both parties or their vakeels, who are to be at liberty to put any questions to the witnesses that they may think proper, and the questions, with the answers to them, are in the same manner to be reduced into writing, signed, and authenticated. But if due notice be given to the parties or their vakeels, of the examination of any witness or witnesses before the register, and he or they shall not attend at the time of the examination, the register is to proceed in the examination as before directed, and the depositions are to be received as good and authentic evidence. (e) The zillah and city courts of dewanny adawlut are invested with a discretionary power, by R. 9, of 1799, S. 3, either to adjudge a forfeiture of estate or a fine for an offence of the same nature as that treated of in this section; but there appears to be no express enactment by which the like discretion, in the like cases, may be exercised by the provincial courts of appeal.

In the event of an appeal from the decree of the provincial court being presented to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, and the admission or rejection of the appeal should depend upon the produce of the lands for the year before mentioned, exceeding or falling short of one thousand sicca rupees, the court of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut is to order the provincial court to obtain the necessary information regarding the produce, and after receiving their report, admit or reject the appeal, according as they may deem equitable. (g) In such case, or in the event of the Governor General in Council ordering the decree to be executed, the court is to issue a precept, under the seal of the court and the signature of the register, requiring the collector of the revenue of the zillah to depute an aumeen with a proper establishment of officers (whose allowances are to be specified in the precept) to sequester the lands, and collect the rents and revenues. If the lands of the defaulter shall be deemed by the court too inconsiderable to admit of their being charged with the expense of an aumeen, they are to direct a precept to be issued to the collector of the zillah, to order the nearest tehseeldar, or other officer employed under him in the business of the collections, to take charge of the lands. The officer is to perform the duties prescribed to aumeens in such cases, and under the same restrictions and penalties.

(f) This rule, for determining what decrees of the provincial courts of appeal are appealable to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, is modified by R. 5, of 1798, S. 2; according to which, the decrees of the provincial courts of appeal will be appealable or not, as the amount or value of what may be decreed, shall exceed or fall below the sum of sicca rupees five thousand. See also the conclusion of S. 23, R. 5, of 1800, rectifying the original standard for appeals to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut.

(g) R. 9, of 1799, S. 3, modifies an exactly similar clause as the one here alluded to in R. 4, of 1793, S. 22, which last mentioned section prescribed rules for the conduct of the zillah and city courts against persons guilty of resistance of process. But the modification in R. 9, of 1799, S. 3, is not expressly applicable to the clause in the above section, either by its own, or the provision of any subsequent Regulation.

(i) It shall be at the option of the Governor General in Council, within four weeks after the receipt of a decree adjudging the lease of a farmer annulled under this section, either to order the decree to be executed, or to commute the forfeiture of the lease for such fine, as, upon a consideration of the situation and circumstances in life of the defaulter, he may think adequate to the offence for which the decree may be passed; or, if the offender shall not be desirous of being continued in his farm, to fine him as above prescribed, and compel him to retain the farm during the remainder of the lease, and to hold him and his surety responsible for the discharge of their engagements, until the term of them shall expire. If a fine shall be imposed upon the offender, the court which shall have transmitted the final decree and proceedings to the Governor General in Council, upon receiving notice of the fine, is to levy the amount of it by the same process as is prescribed for enforcing decrees of the court. But if the Governor General in Council shall not within four weeks after the decree shall have been received by him, either order it to be executed, or commute the forfeiture of the lease for a fine, the decree is to stand good against the offender, and the court is without delay to cause a copy of the decree to be sent to the collector. Unless the complainant shall take the oath, or subscribe the abovementioned declaration, and give the required security, the court are not to receive the charge. If the court shall receive any such charge, or upon a charge of corruption against the judge of any zillah or city court, being transmitted to them by any provincial court of appeal under Section X, Regulation V, 1793, the court, (according as they may deem proper upon a consideration of the circumstances of the case,) may direct the parties to proceed to Calcutta, that the charge may be tried before the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut; or, if the party accused shall be a judge of a zillah or a city court, the court may order the charge to be tried by the provincial court of appeal of the division; or, if the party accused shall be a judge of a provincial court, the court may grant a special commission to three or more of the judges of the other provincial courts, to assemble and try the charge; or, in any of the cases mentioned in this section, they may recommend to the Governor General in Council, to order the party accused to be prosecuted in the Supreme Court of judicature by the law officers of Government, under the provisions made by Act of Parliament for such cases. If the charge shall be established, the Governor General in Council, will either remove such judge from his office, or suspend him from the Honorable Company's service, or pass such other order as may appear to him proper. If the charge shall not be proved, the judge so accused is to be at liberty to sue the accuser for damages in any court of judicature to which he may be amenable. IX. First. The Sudder Dewanny Adawlut are empowered to hear and determine appeals in the following cases. Second. The Sudder Dewanny Adawlut is empowered to admit and determine any appeal that may be preferred to them after the periods limited in Clause First, provided the person presenting it can show just and reasonable cause to the satisfaction of the court for not having preferred the appeal within the limited periods. But the court is to exercise with caution the power vested in it by this clause, and Clause First, of trying or admitting appeals from decisions after the elapse of the time limited for trying or admitting them, lest all property held under such decisions should be deemed insecure from being considered liable to be again contested; and in every case in which they may judge it proper to agree, or to refuse, to try or admit such appeals, they are to record their reasons at large for so doing on their proceedings.

Cases in which the court may receive appeals from such decisions, although not presented within the periods specified in Clause First.

Period limited for preferring appeals.

Court to record their reasons for admitting or rejecting an appeal after the limited time, and to attend to the caution in Clause Second, Section IX.

Execution of decrees for real property in possession of the party cast, to be suspended upon his giving the security herein specified.

Such decrees to be executed on the party cast.

sicca rupees, (i) such person shall be at liberty to appeal from the decision to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, by petition of appeal. The petition is to state (respect being had to the matter decreed) the annual produce of the land whether lakheraja or malguzarry, the sum of money, or the value of the property which may be decreed, the name of the person in whose favor the decree may be given, the court in which it may have been passed, when it was made, what was decreed by it, and whether the decree has been executed; and is to assign some cause, special or general, for appealing from the decision. (j) The petition is to be accompanied with an attested copy of the decree of the provincial court of appeal, or by a written declaration signed by the party desirous to appeal, or his vakeel, that ten days after the decision was passed, he applied to the court for a copy of the decree, and was denied it. (k) The petition is to be presented to the court in which the decree appealed against may have been passed, or to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, within three calendar months after the day on which the decree may be given. (l) But it shall nevertheless be permitted to such person, to prefer his petition of appeal to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, after the expiration of the three months, and the court are authorized to admit the appeal, provided the petitioner can show just and reasonable cause to their satisfaction for not having preferred it within the limited period. But whenever the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut may admit or reject an appeal, which may be preferred to them after the limited time, they are to enter upon their proceedings their reasons at large for so doing, and in admitting such appeals, they are to observe the caution prescribed in Clause Second, Section IX, with regard to the trial or admission of the appeals therein alluded to, after the limited period. If the petition of appeal shall be against a decree whereby the right of possession of any zemindari, independent, or dependent talook, or any land or house, or other real property, shall be decreed, and the party cast shall be in possession of the property at the time the decree may be made, all proceedings are to be immediately suspended, and no execution is to be had, or possession given under the decree, until the appeal shall have been finally determined in the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, provided such party shall enter into good and sufficient security, in a sum equal to one year's amount of the annual produce of the zemindari, talook, or other land or house, or real property, which shall have been decreed, to abide by and perform whatever order may be passed by that court. But if such party shall neglect or refuse to enter into the prescribed security, on or before the court day next after the day on which the appeal may be preferred, the court by which the decision may have been passed, is to order the decree to be executed. In all other cases, the provincial court

(i) Rescinded by R. 12, of 1797, S. 2, and R. 5, of 1798, S. 2, agreeably to which, the decrees of the provincial courts of appeal, not exceeding in amount or value the sum of sicca rupees 5000, were held final. See also the conclusion of S. 25, R. 5, of 1800, rectifying the original standard, for appeals to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut. But by the rules now in force, no decree of the provincial courts of appeal, passed on a regular appeal, can be appealed to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, but by way of a special or summary appeal; and all decrees of the provincial courts of appeal, passed in the first instance, whatever be their amount or value, are appealable to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, either as a regular or summary appeal. See R. 13, of 1808; R. 25, of 1814, S. 5; and R. 26, of 1814, S. 2 and 3.

(j) See R. 26, of 1814, S. 8, in what case a petition of appeal may not contain the specific grounds or reasons for the appeal, and other rules regarding appeals; and R. 15, of 1816, S. 4, what a petition of appeal should state, in addition to the particulars above enumerated, whenever a native officer or soldier attached to a regular corps on the military establishment of the Honourable Company, under the presidency of Fort William, may be a respondent or defendant.

(k) An authenticated copy of the decree appealed from is not uniformly required to accompany a petition of appeal. See R. 26, of 1814, S. 8, in what case a petition of appeal must be accompanied by an authenticated copy of the decree appealed from.

of appeal, may order the decree appealed against, to be carried into execution, or direct that sufficient security be given by the party against whom the decree may have been passed, in an amount equal to the sum of money or value of the thing decreed, for the performance of the decree. (m) If the provincial court shall order the decree to be executed, security is to be taken from the party in whose favor the decree may be passed in a sum of money equal to the amount or value of the thing decreed, for the due performance of such order or decree as may be made in the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut. (n) In all cases however, the party appealing is to give good and sufficient security in such sum as to the provincial court may seem proper, upon a consideration of the amount or value of the property or thing decreed, (provided that the security so to be taken be not in any case for a greater sum than five hundred siced rupees,) for the payment of the costs that the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut may award, and for the performance of the decree which it may pass. (o) When the securities hereby required shall have been entered into, (p) the senior judge of the court is immediately to endorse on the petition in his own hand writing, the day of the month and the year in which it may be presented, and sign it with his name, and cause to be written in the margin of the record immediately opposite to the decree of the court, the word "appealed," and the court are to transmit the petition to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut. The court is at the same time to direct not to be given to the appellant in writing, that within fifteen days, the proceedings held in the cause appealed will be certified to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, and that if he shall not proceed in the appeal within six weeks after it may be filed in that court, the appeal will be dismissed, unless he shall shew reasonable cause to the satisfaction of the court for not having proceeded in it. (q)

21. The court, within fifteen days after the receipt of the appeal, are to certify under their hands and the seal of the court, to the register of the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, the record duly made up and authenticated, including the original petition of appeal, and answer of the parties, the original papers and documents received from the zillah or city court, the original depositions, (where any may have been taken before the provincial court) exhibits, and every original paper read in the cause. Previous to transmitting the abovementioned papers to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, the provincial court are to cause true and faithful copies of all the originals, authenticated by the sheristadar, or head native officer of the court, to be made out and deposited in the court in lieu of the originals. The copies are to be deemed records of the court, and are to be received in evidence in any other court. In cases where any original depositions, or other original proceedings or matter whatsoever, shall have been previously entered in any provincial court, in any book which may likewise contain other proceedings in other distinct causes, or any other matter, so that such original papers cannot be transmitted to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut without the other proceedings or matters, the court within the time and in the manner before directed, is to certify a true and authentic copy of such original papers, and that the original of each copy transmitted, is so entered in such book. But they are nevertheless to transmit the original petition of appeal, the original answer, or other separate pleadings of the parties, and the original exhibits which shall have been delivered in, or produced by the parties and read in the course of the cause before the

In all other cases, the court may either execute the decree appealed against, or take security from the party cast for the performance of it.

If the court shall order the decree to be executed, security is to be taken from the party in whose favor it may be made for the performance of the decree of the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut.

In all cases however, the appellant is to give the security herein required.

When the appellant has entered into the securities required, the senior judge of the court is to make the endorsement herein directed on the petition, and the court is to transmit it to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut.

Notification to be made to the appellant upon the receipt of the petition of appeal.

Record, including original papers in the cause appealed, to be transmitted to the register of the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut in fifteen days after the receipt of the appeal.

Copies of all the original papers transmitted, attested by the sheristadar to be deposited amongst the records of the court.

Copies to be deemed records, and to be received in evidence.

Copies of original papers to be sent to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, where the originals cannot be sent for the reasons herein specified.

(m) This part, of the above section, relative to the suspension and execution of decrees appealed from, is modified by R. 13, of 1808, S. 11 and 12.

court, if they be forthcoming, in the manner before required. In cases where any original paper shall have been mislaid or lost, and a copy of it shall have been entered in any book or proceedings, the copy is to be deemed the original, and the court is to transmit a copy of it to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, and in like manner to certify it, and that after due search, the original cannot be found.

XII. If a petition of appeal shall be presented in the first instance to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut against any decree of a provincial court of appeal, whereby the right of possession of any zemindarry, independent, or dependent talook, or any land or house, or other real property, shall have been decreed, and the party cast shall have been in possession of the property at the time the decree was passed, and no execution shall have taken place, or possession been given under the decree of the provincial court, and provided such party shall have given good and sufficient security to the provincial court, in a sum equal to one year's amount of the annual produce of the zemindarry, talook, land, or house, or other real property, which may have been so decreed, to abide by and perform whatever order may be passed in the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, the court is to issue an order to the provincial court the decree of which shall be appealed against, to suspend the execution of it until the appeal shall have been finally determined. (r) And in every case where a petition of appeal shall be preferred in the first instance immediately to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, and no security shall have been taken by the provincial court, the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut is not to proceed in the appeal until the party appealing shall have entered into such security as he would have been required to have given had he preferred his petition of appeal to the provincial court. All process, both to parties and witnesses, and every rule or order for the execution of a decree or final order, and every other order whatever, which may issue from the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, is to be written or printed in the Persian and Bengal languages, in Bengal and Orissa: (t) and in the Persian language, and the Hindostannee language and Nageree character, in Behar, and sealed with the seal of the court, and signed by the register. All such process, rules, and orders, which are to be served or executed on any parties, witnesses, or persons, (exclusive of the parties, vakeels, or persons, in a usual attendance on the court,) are to be directed to the provincial court of the division in which the cause of action shall originally have arisen, or in which the lands may be situated, or the parties may be or reside. Every such process, rule, and order, is to limit a certain time in which it is to be served, executed, and returned to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut. If any provincial court, to whom any process, rule, or order whatever may be directed, shall wilfully disobey, or neglect to perform the commands contained in it, or make a false return, the judges of the court who may commit such offence, shall be liable to be suspended from their office by the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut. If the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut shall suspend any judge or judges of a provincial court under this section, they are to notify the suspension to the Governor General in Council within ten days after it may take place, together with the cause of it; and certify under the seal of the court, the proceedings, depositions, and exhibits, and all other matters which may be necessary to enable the Governor General in Council to pass a determination upon the suspension, and to transmit to him on his requisition, any further papers and proceedings respecting the cause which he may deem necessary for his information. But the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut is empowered, in cases in which for the sake of expedition, or other purpose, it may judge it expedient so to do, to issue any process to parties or witnesses immediately through the proper zillah or city court, instead of directing it in the first instance to the provincial court of appeal. In such cases, the process is to be executed and returned directly to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut; and the judge to whom it may be directed, is to be subject to the like penalties for making a false return, or other default in the execution of the orders contained in the process, as he would have been liable to, had the process been issued from the provincial court. XIV. In all cases in which process, either to a party or witness, and all process whatever, and every rule or order, for the execution of any decree or final order, or any order relating to a cause depending in the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, which may be directed by such court to any provincial court of appeal, the court to which the process may be directed, is to execute the order contained in the process, rule, or order, and return it so executed within the time limited, or return to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut good and sufficient reason why it has not been served or executed. When any process, rule, decree, or order, for the execution of any decree or final order, or any order whatever, shall be transmitted by the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut to a provincial court of appeal to be served or executed, the return to such process, rule, order, or decree, is to be made by the court, either by endorsement on the process, rule, order, or decree, or to be written on a paper firmly annexed to it; and, if the return be made in the last mentioned manner, there is to be an endorsement on the process, rule, order, or decree, referring the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut to the return contained in such annexed paper, and the court is to cause a copy of the process, rule, order, or decree, together with the return to it, to be deposited amongst the records of the court. And in all cases in which the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut may transmit any order or process to be served or executed by a provincial court, against a party in a cause, and the party on whom it is to be served or executed is not after diligent search to be found, or shall have absconded, or shut himself up in his own or any house or building, or retired to any place so that the process cannot be served upon him, the court to which the process may be directed is to cause to be fixed up in some conspicuous part of the room in which the court may be held; a writing (in the Persian and Bengal languages, if it be in Bengal or Orissa, (u) and in the Persian language, and the Hindostanee language and Nageree character, if it be in Behar) containing a copy of the order or process, and a notice that if the party shall not obey the exigence of it within the time limited, the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut will without further notice, process, or order, proceed ex parte to hear, try and determine the cause to which such process or order may relate; and the court is likewise to cause a copy of such writing to be fixed up with all practicable despatch on the outer door of the house in which the party may have commonly dwelt, or in some conspicuous place in the village in which he may have usually resided, and to return to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut in the manner before directed how he has executed the process.

(s) By R. 2, of 1798, S. 10, a petition of appeal, unaccompanied by the requisite security, is not to be admitted; and the mere presenting a petition of appeal, without such security, within the time limited for appealing, will not preserve to an appellant the right of appeal, should the period limited for preferring an appeal have expired.

XV. If a provincial court of appeal to which any process, rule, or order of the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, may be transmitted for the purpose of being served or executed on any party, shall return that the party has absconded, or shut himself up in his own or any house or building, or retired to any place so that the process could not be served upon him; or that he was not after diligent search to be found, and that they had caused the writing to be fixed up, in the places and manner directed; and the party shall not appear and obey the exigence of the process, rule, or order; the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut is to proceed ex parte to try and determine the cause in which the process, rule, or order, shall have issued, in the same manner as if the party had appeared, and obeyed the exigence of the process.

Cases in which the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut is empowered to take new evidence in appeals, or to refer them back for further evidence to the provincial courts.

XVI. The Sudder Dewanny Adawlut is empowered in cases of appeal, in which it shall appear to them that the original suit has not been sufficiently investigated in the provincial court of appeal, or for any other cause that may be deemed reasonable by the court, either to receive such further evidence as they may think necessary for the just determination of the suit, and to give judgment upon it; or, to refer the suit back to the provincial court in which it originated, accompanied by such special directions to the provincial court with regard to the new evidence they are to receive respecting it, as may be deemed by the court most conducive to justice, and the convenience of the parties and witnesses. But in every case in which the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut may exercise the power above vested in them by this section, they are to enter upon the record of the trial their reasons for having exercised it. In cases in which the court may judge it proper to receive such further evidence themselves, they are empowered, according as they may deem most conducive to justice (respect being had to the nature of the cause and the evidence) either to examine the witnesses to be produced, vivâ voce, in open court, first causing the witnesses to be sworn, and their depositions to be reduced into writing, and signed by the deponents respectively; or, to authorize their register to swear the witnesses and take their depositions, and to cause the deponents to sign them, and to authenticate them with their signatures. The register in such case is to examine the witnesses in the presence of both parties, or their vakeels, who are to be at liberty to put any questions to the witnesses that they may think proper, and the questions, with the answers to them, are in the same manner to be reduced into writing, signed, and authenticated. But if due notice be given to the parties or their vakeels, of the examination of any witness or witnesses before the register, and he or they shall not attend at the time of the examination, the register is to proceed in the examination as before directed, and the depositions are to be received as good and authentic evidence.

Sudder Dewanny Adawlut to state their reasons on the record of the trial, whenever they may exercise the powers above vested in them.

Courts empowered to hear the evidence in the cases above specified vivâ voce, or to order their register to take it.

Cases in which the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut may dispense with the oaths of witnesses, or direct their evidence to be taken by commission.

XVII. The Sudder Dewanny Adawlut may dispense with the oaths of the descriptions of witnesses which the zillah and city courts are authorized to exempt from taking oaths, on their signing in open court the declarations that are required to be subscribed by such witnesses in the zillah and city courts. Where witnesses may be women of the description specified in Section VI, Regulation IV, 1793, or shall reside out of the jurisdiction of the court, and at a distance from it exceeding fifty coss, the court may grant such commissions as the zillah and city courts are authorized to grant for the examination of such witnesses upon similar occasions. And the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut may issue such commissions to creditable women, and send such letters to the provincial courts for the examination of witnesses, in the cases in which the judges of the zillah and city courts are authorized to send such commissions and letters. (w)

Sudder Dewanny Adawlut how to proceed where witnesses do not attend, or refuse to be sworn or to give evidence, or sign their depositions, or any persons are guilty of contempt of court, or perjury.

XVIII. If a witness duly summoned shall not attend, or attending shall refuse to be sworn or give evidence, or to subscribe his deposition, or if such witness, or any person shall be guilty of wilful or corrupt perjury in a cause depending in the court, or any contempt of court in open court, the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut are to proceed with such witness or person in the same manner as the provincial courts are authorized to deal with witnesses or persons in like manner offending.

No persons to be heard viva voce in any stage of a cause, excepting principals, their witnesses, or vakeels duly empowered.

XXI. The Sudder Dewanny Adawlut is empowered in every case in which a sum of money is decreed to be paid by a zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, to issue an order to the proper provincial court, to execute the decree, in the same manner as the provincial courts are authorized to execute decrees by which a sum of money may be decreed to be paid by any of the descriptions of persons abovementioned.

Sudder Dewanny Adawlut empowered to order the provincial courts to enforce decrees for sums of money against proprietors of land by the same process as those courts may enforce such decrees passed by themselves.

XXII. If a petition of appeal shall be preferred against the decision of any provincial court of appeal founded on an award of arbitration, it is to be dismissed with costs, unless it be fully proved to the satisfaction of the court by the oaths of two creditable witnesses, that the arbitrators have been guilty of gross corruption or partiality in the cause in which they have made the award.

Petitions of appeal from decisions founded on awards of arbitration to be dismissed with costs. Exception to the rule.

XXIII. The Sudder Dewanny Adawlut is empowered to permit the judges of the provincial courts of appeal, and the zillah and city courts, to adjourn their respective courts occasionally for any period not exceeding one month, so that such adjournments collectively do not exceed two months in each year. (z)

XXIV. If a zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, independent talookdar, shall resist or cause to be resisted, any process, rule, order, or decree, which may at any time issue from the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, the court, on proof of the resistance being made by oath to their satisfaction, are to cause the offender to be summoned to answer to the charge. If the offender shall abscond, or shut himself up in his own or any house, or in any building, or retire to any place, so that he cannot be served with the summons, the court is to proceed against him in the manner directed with regard to other persons absconding, or otherwise acting as above specified, so that they cannot be served with the process of the court. If the offender shall not appear within the prescribed time, or, if he shall appear, and, after receiving his answer to the charge, and hearing the evidence which he may produce in his defence, it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the court, that he is guilty of the charge, the court are to decree that the offender shall from the date of their decree, forfeit his zemindarry, talook, or other estate, in which such resistance shall have been made, or, if the resistance shall have been made out of the limits of the estate of the offender, the zemindarry, talook, or other landed property, which he may possess within the jurisdiction of the zillah court to which the execution of the process resisted may have been committed. (a) The court is immediately to forward a copy of their decree and proceedings to the Governor General in Council. It shall be at the option of the Governor General in Council, within four weeks after the receipt of a decree adjudging the lands of any person forfeited under this section, either to order it to be executed, or, to commute the forfeiture for such fine, as, upon a consideration of the situation and circumstances in life of the offender, he may think adequate to the offence for which the decree may be passed. In the event of the Governor General in Council commuting the forfeiture for a fine, the court, upon receiving notice of the fine that he may impose, are to levy the amount of it by the same process by which they are directed to enforce their decrees. But if the Governor General in Council shall not within four weeks after the decree shall have been received by him, either order it to be executed, or commute the forfeiture for a fine, the decree is to stand good against the offender. (b) In such case, or in the event of the Governor General in Council, ordering the decree to be executed, the court is to issue a precept, under the seal of the court and the signature of the register, requiring the collector of the revenue of the zillah to depute an aumeen with a proper establishment of officers (whose allowances are to be specified in the precept) to sequester the lands, and collect the rents and revenues. If the lands of the defaulter shall be deemed by the court too inconsiderable to admit of their being charged with the expense of an aumeen, they are to direct a precept to be issued to the collector of the zillah, to order the nearest tehseeldar, or other officer employed under him in the business of the collections, to take charge of the lands. The officer is to perform the duties prescribed to aumeens in such cases, and under the same restrictions and penalties.

(y) Modified by R. 15, of 1816, S. 2. See the particular cases to which the modifications of that Regulation are applicable.

(z) The sittings of the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, of the provincial courts of appeal, and of the zillah and city courts, are permitted to be adjourned during the Mahomedan and Hindoo festivals, called the Mohurrum and Dussarah. So may the circuits be postponed when the fixed periods for their commencement fall within the periods of those vacations. See R. 3, of 1798, S. 2, 3, and 4. But the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut is empowered by R. 1, of 1803, S. 10, to direct an occasional dispensation with the foregoing rules, whenever such a measure may appear necessary.

XXV. If the decree adjudging the lands of the offender forfeited, shall be confirmed, or stand good under Section XXIV, it shall be at the option of the Governor General in Council either to confer the rights which the offender possessed in the lands on his heirs, upon their agreeing to make good all sums whatever that may be due to Government from the offender on account of the lands forfeited, and to pay the fixed public revenue assessed upon them, or, if it be a dependent talook, the revenue payable from it to the proprietor within whose estate it may be situated; or, to order the lands to be disposed of at public sale under the rules prescribed for the sale of lands so forfeited in Regulation XLV, 1793.

XXVI. If a farmer of land holding a farm immediately of Government, shall resist, or cause to be resisted, any process, rule, order, or decree, which may at any time issue from the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, the court on proof of the resistance being made by oath to their satisfaction, are to cause the offender to be summoned to answer to the charge. If the offender shall abscond, or shut himself up in his own or any house, or building, or retire to any place so that he cannot be served with the summons, the court is to proceed against him in the manner directed with regard to other persons absconding, or otherwise acting as above specified, so that they cannot be served with the process of the court. (a) The zillah and city courts of dewanny adawlut are invested with a discretionary power, by R. 9, of 1799, S. 3, either to adjudge a forfeiture of estate, or a fine, for an offence of the same nature as that treated of in this section; but there appears to be no express enactment by which the like discretion, in the like cases, may be exercised by the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut.

(b) R. 9, of 1799, S. 3, contains the modification of an exactly similar clause as the one here alluded to, in R. 9, of 1793, S. 22, which prescribes rules for the conduct of the zillah and city courts against persons guilty of resistance of process. But the modification in R. 9, of 1799, S. 3, is not expressly applicable to the clause in the above section, either by that or any other provision.

(c) The Sulder Dewanny Adawlut is immediately to forward a copy of the decree and proceedings to the Governor General in Council. It shall be at the option of the Governor General in Council within four weeks after the receipt of a decree adjudging the lease of a farmer annulled under this section, either to order the decree to be executed, or, to commute the forfeiture of the lease for such fine, as, upon a consideration of the situation and circumstances in life of the defaulter, he may think adequate to the offence for which the decree may be passed; or, if the offender shall not be desirous of being continued in his farm, to fine him as above prescribed, and compel him to retain the farm during the remainder of the lease, and to hold him and his surety responsible for the discharge of their engagements until the term of them shall expire. If a fine shall be imposed upon the offender, the court, upon receiving notice of the fine, is to levy the amount of it by the same process as is prescribed for enforcing decrees of the court. But if the Governor General in Council shall not within four weeks after the decree shall have been received by him, either order it to be executed, or commute the forfeiture of the lease for a fine, the decree is to stand good against the offender, and the court is without delay to cause a copy of the decree to be sent to the collector. (d) If the lease of the offender shall be annulled, and a balance should be due from him to Government at the close of the year in which the lease may be cancelled, both he and his surety are to be held responsible for the payment of it, and the collector of the revenue of the zillah, is empowered to proceed against them for the recovery of it, in the manner prescribed in Section XX, Regulation XIV, 1799, for the recovery of balances due from farmers whose leases may be declared annulled under that Regulation. The offender is permitted to prosecute in the dewanny adawlut of the zillah in which the farm may be situated, the dependent talookdars, under farmers, and ryots in the lands included in the farm, for any arrears of rent or revenue that may be due from them to him, on account of the period during which his lease remained in force.

XXVII. If any person, not being a zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, or a dependent talookdar, or a farmer of land, holding a farm immediately of Government, shall resist, or cause to be resisted, any process, rule, order, or decree, which may at any time issue from the Sulder Dewanny Adawlut, the court, on proof of the resistance being made by oath to its satisfaction, is to cause the offender to be summoned to answer to the charge. If the person for whom the summons may be issued shall abscond, or shut himself up in his own, or any house or building, or retire to any place so that he cannot be served with the summons, the court is to proceed against him in the manner directed with regard to other persons absconding, or otherwise acting as above specified, so that they cannot be served with the process of the court. If the offender shall not appear within the prescribed period, or, if he shall appear within the limited time, and after receiving his answer, and hearing the evidence which he may have to produce in his defence, it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the court, that he is guilty of the charge, the court is to adjudge the offender to pay such fine to Government as may appear to it proper upon a consideration of his situation and circumstances in life, and the offence for which the decree may be passed. The court is to proceed to levy the amount by the same process by which it is empowered to carry its decrees for sums of money into execution.

(c) See the note to S. 24 of this Regulation, respecting the discretion vested in the zillah and city courts to adjudge a fine instead of a forfeiture of estate for resistance of process.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION VII.

A REGULATION for the appointment of vakeels or native pleaders, in the courts of civil judicature in the provinces of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higerce. (a)

IN the courts of civil judicature in the British territories in Bengal, the parties in suits have hitherto had the option of pleading their causes in person, or appointing such vakeels or agents for that purpose as they have thought proper. The generality of these vakeels, have been either private servants or dependents of the parties deputed to plead the particular cause in which their employers were engaged; or men who followed the business of a vakcel to obtain a livelihood, and appeared in the courts of justice, or wherever the concerns of their constituents required their attendance. The vakeels of the first description, were for the most part necessarily unacquainted with the constitution and forms of the courts. They were consequently exposed to the intrigues of the ministerial officers, who not only harassed and extorted money from them, by an abuse of authority in the execution of the common process of the courts, but often impressed them with an idea that it was in their power to influence the decision of the judges, and converted the deception to their private advantage. These vakeels being unaccustomed to judicial proceedings, protracted the trials by producing unnecessary exhibits, stating irrelevant questions to the witnesses, and summoning persons to give evidence whose testimony was unessential to the development of the merits of the case. The very slight knowledge which they in general possessed of the Mahomedan or Hindoo law, and their still more limited acquaint-

(e) Modified by R. 25, of 1814, S. 3 and 16. The signatures of all the judges present at the passing of a decree is not necessary to its competency.

(f) An appeal lies to the King's Most Excellent Majesty in his Most Honourable Privy Council, from all decrees passed by the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut in civil suits, amounting to, or exceeding (exclusive of costs of suit) £50, or Sa. Rs. 43,103, or Ct. Rs. 50,000, the exchange being computed at 10 Ct. Rs. the pound sterling. See R. 18, of 1797.

(g) Repealed by R. 2, of 1801, S. 18, which requires the provincial courts of appeal to furnish the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut with translations of such papers only, as may be expressly required by that court or by any order or Regulation.

(a) The whole of this Regulation is rescinded by R. 27, of 1814, S. 2, which contains all the rules regarding the office of vakcel or native pleader in the courts of civil judicature.

tance with the Regulations passed by the British Government (upon which the security of the persons and property of the inhabitants of these provinces chiefly depends) rendered them incapable of urging the best arguments in support of the claims of their constituents, or of judging whether the decisions and proceedings of the courts were conformable to the Laws and Regulations, or otherwise. The vakeels of the second description, although better acquainted with the practice of the courts than the first, were equally unfit for their situations. They assumed and relinquished the occupation, without apprizing the courts in which they acted. When they appeared in the capacity of vakeels, no enquiries were made to ascertain whether they were qualified for the employment; nor were there any rules prescribed as a security to their constituents for the diligent and faithful performance of their trusts. Equally with the first description of vakeels, they were little versed in the Laws and Regulations of the country, and not having the protection of a public character, and their situations in the court not being defined by any Regulations of Government, they were subject in the same degree to the intrigues and assumed influence of the ministerial officers of the courts, and unable to protect their employers from oppression and exaction. On the other hand, the allowances of these vakeels not being fixed by any public Regulations, and as they were generally entertained upon a fixed salary, their demands were frequently exorbitant, and when engaged, it became their interest to protract, instead of expediting the decision of the suit, as their salary ceased with the termination of it. Pleaders of the above descriptions not only rendered a speedy and impartial administration of the law impracticable, but were at all times liable to be made the cloaks to intrigue and injustice. To establish security of property, and protect individuals in the enjoyment of the privileges and immunities which have been granted to them, many Regulations must necessarily be enacted. The great body of the people, although they will feel the benefit of their operation, must necessarily be precluded by their pursuits and occupations in life from attending the courts of justice, or acquiring a sufficient knowledge of the Laws and Regulations, to qualify them for pleading their own causes. It is therefore indispensably necessary for enabling the courts duly to administer, and the suitors to obtain justice, that the pleading of causes should be made a distinct profession; and that no persons should be admitted to plead in the courts but men of character and education versed in the Mahomedan or Hindoo law, and in the Regulations passed by the British Government; and that they should be subjected to rules and restrictions calculated to secure to their clients a diligent and faithful discharge of their trusts. Pleaders of this description will urge the best arguments for and against every claim; and it is essential to the due administration of justice, that such arguments should be offered to the judges. Their judgment cannot then often err, and when it does, the error will be invariably pointed out to the higher courts. The pleaders therefore, on either side whilst they will bring the merits of every case to light, and collect into one point of view the information necessary to enable the courts to form their opinion upon it, will be a check upon them by exposing every deviation from the law in their judgments. As individuals will in general commit the management of their suits to the pleaders who may be best qualified to plead them, the parties in suits should have the option of employing such of the pleaders as they may think proper; and as an additional security for the zeal and fidelity of the pleaders, the parties ought to have the power of withdrawing the management of their causes from the pleaders whom they may entertain, whenever they may be dissatisfied with their conduct. The advantages of the pleaders will then be proportionate to their zeal, abilities and integrity, at the same time that their exertions to acquire reputation and emolument, will necessarily conduce to the improvement of the judicial system. That the pleaders may not be deterred from pleading the causes of their clients with becoming freedom, and that men of education and respectable character may be solicitous to be admitted as pleaders in the courts, their appointments ought to be secured to them as long as they conform to the Regulations under which they act; and they should not be removable until they have been proved guilty of a breach of those Regulations to the satisfaction of the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut. By the erection of tribunals constituted upon the principles of the courts of justice established under the Regulations passed on this date, and confining the pleading of suits to persons possessing the qualifications and acting under the rules and restrictions hereafter enacted, individuals will be satisfied that personal solicitation and intrigue (the necessary result of a want of courts constituted upon such principles as to enable persons of every description to procure a speedy and impartial administration of the law) is not requisite either to obtain their own rights, or to defend themselves from oppression, or the unjust claims of others. They will feel that they have an impartial and all powerful protector in the laws, and that through the means of the public pleaders, they can at all times command the exercise of the judicial powers of Government lodged in the courts, for the redress of any injuries which they may sustain either in their persons or property.

Sudder Dewanny Adawlut empowered to appoint a sufficient number of pleaders to plead the causes in the civil courts of judicature.

Sumud to be granted to pleaders.

Oath to be taken by pleaders upon their first admission.

Half yearly oath to be taken by the Mahomedan pleaders.

A copy of all Regulations with the translates to be for public inspection in the courts.

II. The Sudder Dewanny Adawlut is empowered to appoint from time to time, such a number of pleaders of the Mahomedan or Hindoo persuasion, as may appear to them necessary to plead the causes of the parties in suits in the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, the provincial courts of appeal, and the courts of dewanny adawlut in the several zillahs, and the cities of Patna, Dacca, and Moorshedabad.

III. The Sudder Dewanny Adawlut is to cause a writing under the seal of the court, and attested by the register, to be delivered to each of the persons whom they may admit as pleaders in the several courts, specifying the name of the pleader, the date of his appointment, and the court in which he may be admitted, and empowering him to plead in it under the rules contained in this Regulation, or such other Regulations as the Governor General in Council may hereafter enact.

IV. Every pleader previous to his being allowed to practice, is to take and subscribe the following oath before the court in which he may be admitted. "I A. B. solemnly swear, that I will truly and faithfully execute the duties of pleader of the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut (or the provincial court of appeal for the division of——, or the dewanny adawlut of the zillah or city of——,) to the best of my knowledge and judgment." And every six months, that is, on the 1st of January and the 1st of July in each year, the Mahomedan pleaders of the several courts are to take and subscribe the following oath, before the court in which they may respectively practice. "I A. B. solemnly swear, that from the 1st January to the 30th June last, (or from the 1st July to the 31st December last) I have truly and faithfully executed the duties of pleader in the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut (or the provincial court of appeal for the division of——, or the dewanny adawlut of the zillah or city of——,) to the best of my knowledge and judgment."

V. The pleaders are to be selected from amongst the students in the Mahomedan college at Calcutta, and the Hindoo college at Benares, who may be qualified, and be desirous of being admitted to plead in any of the courts. If the colleges shall not furnish a sufficient number of pleaders, the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut is to admit any other persons, provided they be Mahomedans or Hindoos, previously however ascertaining that they are men of good character and liberal education, and giving a preference in all cases to persons of this description who have been bred to the study of the Hindoo or Mahomedan law.

VI. That the pleaders in the several courts, as well as all other persons, may have it in their power to render themselves acquainted with the Regulations enacted by the British Government, there shall be kept for public inspection in the several courts of judicature in Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, printed copies of all such Regulations, with translates in the Persian and Bengal languages, bound up with an index as directed in Section XI, Regulation XLI, 1793. Until the Regulations that may be passed in each year are so bound up, the separate copies of each Regulation, with the translates, as they may be printed and circulated to the courts, are to be exposed as above directed. The Regulations are to be deposited upon a table, to be expressly allotted for that purpose in some part of the the court room, and to lie for public inspection every day, Sunday excepted, from the hour of nine in the morning until three in the afternoon; and during that time, the pleaders of the courts, and all other persons, are to be at liberty to refer to the Regulations, or take copies or extracts from them in the court room.

VII. Upon a pleader agreeing to undertake the prosecution or defence of a suit, the party entertaining him, is to present him with four annas as a retainer, which is to preclude him from being employed in the same cause against the person so retaining him. The pleader, immediately upon receiving the retainer, is to give a written acknowledgment for it, specifying the date on which it may be delivered to him. If any pleader shall receive such retaining fee, and afterwards refuse or omit to carry on the suit of his client, he shall be dismissed from his office. The retainer is to be exclusive of the fees specified in Section IX.

Four annas to be presented to a pleader, as a retainer.

Pleaders receiving a retainer, and not carrying on the suit to be dismissed.

VIII. When a party in a cause shall have retained a pleader, and taken his receipt for the retainer, he is to execute to him a vakalutnamah constituting him pleader in the cause, and authorizing him to prosecute or defend the plaint or appeal (according as the party may be plaintiff or appellant, defendant or respondent,) and binding himself to abide by and confirm all acts which such pleader may do or undertake in his behalf in the cause, in the same manner as if he had been personally present and consenting. The party is to sign the instrument with his name, or put his mark to it, (if he shall be unable to write his name,) and (if he shall have a seal) affix his seal to it, in the presence of two credible witnesses, who are likewise to attest it in the same manner.

Parties to execute vakalutnamah to their pleaders, vesting them with the powers herein mentioned.

How to be signed, sealed and attested.

IX. The pleaders of plaintiffs and defendants in the zillah or city courts, and of appellants and respondents in the provincial courts of appeal, and the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, are to be allowed as fees for pleading the causes of their clients, the following per centage on the sum of money, or the value of any personal property, which may constitute the subject of the suit.

The pleaders are to receive the above fees on the amount of the annual jumma payable to Government, if the suit be for land subject to the payment of public revenue; and if it be for land held exempt from the payment of public revenue, on the amount of the annual produce. If the suit shall be for a house, tank, garden, or other real property, not being land of the two descriptions abovementioned, the pleaders are to receive as fees, the above per centage on the estimated value of it. If the decree shall be given against the defendant, or respondent, and the whole of the money or property which may be demanded by the plaintiff or appellant, shall be decreed to him, a sum equal to the whole of the fees of his pleader, shall be adjudged to the plaintiff or appellant, in addition to the costs which may be awarded to him. But if only a part of the money or property claimed, is decreed to the plaintiff or appellant, a sum bearing the same proportion to the annual produce, if that part be land held exempt from the payment of public revenue, or to the annual public revenue, if that part be land subject to the payment of revenue to Government, or if that part be money or some specific thing, to the money or value of the thing decreed, as the fee did to the demand laid in the complaint or appeal, is to be decreed and added to the costs which may be awarded to the plaintiff or appellant; and the sum so added, is to be recovered from the defendant or respondent, together with the fees of his own pleader, in the same manner as all other

If the suit of the plaintiff or appellant shall be dismissed, whether upon an investigation of the merits of it, or otherwise, and a decree shall be accordingly given against him, he is to pay his own costs, and the fees of his pleader, and the fees of the pleader of the defendant or respondent, and such costs as the court may think proper to award to him; and the court is to levy the sum which may be so adjudged to be paid by the plaintiff or appellant, in the same manner as all other sums decreed by the court are ordered to be recovered. The judges of the zillah courts, the provincial courts of appeal, and the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, are enjoined to make it an invariable rule to insert in their decrees, all sums paid or payable by the parties on account of the costs or expenses of the suit, whether for fees to pleaders, compensations to witnesses, subsistence money to persons deputed to serve summonses, or other account; and the parties are not to be liable to the payment of any costs or expenses, excepting such as may be inserted in the decree. But no suit whatever shall be received in any zillah or city court, nor in any provincial court of appeal, nor in the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, until the complainant or appellant shall have given good security for the payment of the fees of the pleaders whom he may employ. Upon his giving such security, the suit is to be received, and process is to be issued against the defendant, or respondent, who is likewise to be required to give security for the payment of the fees of the pleader whom he may entertain, in addition to any other security which may be required from him for the performance of the decrees or orders of the court.

Courts enjoined to insert in their decrees all costs and expenses paid or payable by the parties.

But the opposite party in the cause, supposing him to be cast, shall only pay the fees of one pleader, or such part of them as the court may adjudge. The fees of the other pleader are to be considered as a separate expense, defrayable by the party entertaining him, for which he is not to be reimbursed in any case whatever.

If either party shall have employed two pleaders under the option given them in Section XI, each pleader is to receive one half of what he would have received, had the suit been brought to trial. If a pleader shall wilfully delay the suit of his principal for his own advantage, he is to be liable to be prosecuted by him for damages; and, if he shall be convicted, the judge is to suspend him, and report the circumstances to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, which court, provided the charge be proved to their satisfaction, is to dismiss the offender from his office.

Pleaders are not to demand or accept from their clients, any fee or sum of money, or any goods, or effects, or valuable consideration, for pleading their causes, besides the fees that they are or may be expressly authorized to demand and receive by this Regulation, or such Regulations as may be hereafter enacted. If a pleader shall be convicted before the court to which he may be attached, of acting contrary to the prohibition contained in this section, the court is to suspend him from the exercise of his functions, and report the circumstances to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, which court, if there shall appear to it sufficient cause for so doing, is to dismiss the offender from his office.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION VIII.

A REGULATION for re-enacting with modifications and amendments, the rules for the decennial settlement of the public revenue payable from the lands of the zemindars, independent talookdars, and other actual proprietors of land, in Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, passed for those provinces respectively on the 18th September 1789, the 25th November 1789, and the 10th February 1790, and subsequent dates.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramsaan 1207 Higeree.

THE original rules for forming a decennial settlement of the revenue to be paid from the lands in Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, passed for those provinces respectively on the 18th September 1789, 25th November 1789, and 10th February 1790, having undergone considerable alterations during the progress of the arrangement; an amended code of rules, including the original rules and the subsequent alterations, was passed on the 23d November 1791. That code is now re-enacted with modifications, and amendments, adapted to the principles of Regulations II and III, 1793, by which the judicial powers heretofore vested in the collectors of the revenue as superintendents of the late courts of maal adawlut or revenue courts, are transferred to the courts of dewanny adawlut, or courts of civil judicature, established in the several zillahs and cities for the trial of all civil suits in the first instance. (a) Term of settlement to be for ten years commencing with the Fussily, Willaity and Bengal years, 1197.

II. A new settlement of the land revenue shall be concluded for a period of ten years, to commence with the Fussily, Willaity, and Bengal year 1197, for Behar, Orissa, and Bengal respectively.

Proprietors to be informed, it will be perpetual with the approbation of the Court of Directors, but not otherwise.

III. It shall be at the same time notified to the proprietors of land with whom the settlement may be concluded, that the assessment fixed by the decennial settlement, will be continued after the expiration of the ten years, and remain unalterable for ever, provided such continuance shall meet with the approbation of the Honorable Court of Directors, but not otherwise.

Settlement under certain restrictions, to be concluded with the actual proprietors of the soil.

IV. The settlement, under certain restrictions and exceptions hereafter specified, shall be concluded with the actual proprietors of the soil, of whatever denomination, whether zemindars, talookdars, or chowdries.

What descriptions of talookdars are to be considered the actual proprietors of the lands composing their talooks.

V. First. The talookdars to be considered the actual proprietors of the lands composing their talooks, are the following: (b)

Proprietors of talooks obtained by purchase, or gift;

Second. Talookdars who purchased their lands by private, or at public sale, or obtained them by gift from the zemindar, or other actual proprietor of land to whom they now pay the revenue assessed upon their talooks, or from his ancestors, subject to the payment of the established dues of Government, and who received deeds of sale, or gift of such land, from the zemindar, or sunnuds from the Khalsa, making over to them his proprietary rights therein.

(a) Such parts of this Regulation as are not contrary to the rules in R. 12, of 1805, are to be considered applicable to the zillah of Cuttack, and to the pargannahs of Puttaspore, Kummardichou, and Bogtae. See S. 3d of that Regulation.

(b) The period of one year, from the 15th January, 1801, was given to talookdars who were at that time entitled to a separation of their talooks from the zemindaries to which they were attached, to apply for a separation of them. After the expiration of that period, the operation of this section ceased; or, such talooks for which no claim to separation was preferred within the given time, are to be considered as dependent talooks, and to have forfeited all rights to a separation from the zemindaries to which they may be attached. The rules in this Regulation, regarding separate talooks, were not intended to be applicable to any new talook which may be constituted since the period of the decennial settlement. See R. 1, of 1801, S. 14, for these additional rules.

Third. Talookdars whose talooks were formed before the zemindar, or other actual proprietor of land to whom they now pay their revenue, or his ancestors, succeeded to the zemindarry.

or which existed before the succession of the family of the zemindar to whom the revenue is paid; or which never formed a part of the zemindarry;

Fourth. Talookdars, the lands comprised in whose talooks, were never the property of the zemindar or other actual proprietor of the soil to whom they now pay their revenue, or his ancestors.

Fifth. Talookdars who have succeeded to talooks of the nature of those described in the preceding clauses, by right of purchase, gift, or inheritance, from the former proprietors of such talooks.

and persons who have succeeded to any of the above mentioned descriptions of talooks.

VI. The proprietors of talooks however, who now pay the public revenue assessed upon their lands through a zemindar, or other actual proprietor of land, and whose title deeds contain a clause stipulating that their revenue is to be paid through him, shall continue to pay their revenue through such zemindar, or other actual proprietor of land, as heretofore.

Description of proprietors of talooks who are to continue to pay their revenue through an actual proprietor as heretofore.

VII. Talookdars, whose talooks are held under writings, or sunnuds from zemindars, or other actual proprietors of lands, which do not expressly transfer the property in the soil, but only entitle the talookdar to possession, so long as he continues to discharge the rent, or perform the conditions stipulated therein, are considered as leaseholders only, not actual proprietors of the soil, and consequently are not entitled to be rendered independent of the zemindar, or other actual proprietor of land, from whom they derive their tenures, provided they now pay the rent assessed upon their talooks to him.

What talookdars are to be considered as leaseholders only, and not entitled to be rendered independent.

VIII. Talookdars also whose tenure is denominated jungleboory, and is of the following description, are not considered entitled to separation from the proprietors of whom they hold. The pottahs granted to these talookdars, in consideration of the grantee clearing away the jungle and bringing the land into a productive state, give it to him and his heirs in perpetuity, with the right of disposing of it, either by sale, or gift, exempting him from payment of revenue for a certain term, and at the expiration of it, subjecting him to a specific assul jumma, with all increases. abwabs, and malguzarys imposed on the purgunnah generally; but this for such part of the land only as the grantee brings into a state of cultivation: and the grantee is further subject to the payment of a certain specified portion of all complimentary presents and fees, which he may receive from his under tenants, exclusive of the fixed revenue. The pottah specifies the boundaries of the land granted, but not the quantity of it, until it is brought into cultivation.

Jungleboory talookdars herein described, not entitled to separation from the proprietors.

IX. The rules in Section V, respecting talooks, have also been extended to ayma lands liable to the payment of a fixed quit revenue, denominated malguzarry aymas: and agreeably to the distinctions laid down in that section, it has been ordered, that such malguzarry ayma tenures as are held under grants of the Mahomedan Government, previous to the Company's accession to the dewanny, or which have been since granted by proprietors of estates for a consideration received by them, are to be separated from the proprietors to whom their revenue is now paid, as coming within the spirit of the rules for the separation of talookdars, who are proprietors of the lands composing their talooks. But malguzarry ayma tenures which may appear to have been bona fide granted for the purpose of bringing waste lands into cultivation, shall continue included in the estates to which they are now annexed, as coming within the rules in Section VIII, respecting jungleboory talooks.

Proprietors of malguzarry ayma lands herein described entitled to separation, in the same manner as the proprietors of independent talooks.

What malguzarry ayma lands shall not be separated.

X. The rules contained in the following section have been prescribed for the guidance of the collectors, in carrying into execution the rules relative to the separation of talookdars, who are the actual proprietors of the lands composing their talooks, and are declared entitled to separation.

Rules pointed out for the guidance of collectors in carrying into execution the orders relative to the separation of talookdars.

XI. Every talookdar being considered as the rightful possessor of his talook, until a better title is established against him by due course of law, the point to be ascertained by the collectors in carrying the abovementioned orders into effect, is not whether the holders of the several talooks under their authority are the lawful possessors of the talooks held by them, but whether the nature of their tenure is such as to entitle them to separation under the rules contained in Sections V, and IX; to ascertain which, they are to call upon the talookdars to produce their title deeds, and, after having examined them, are to separate from the jurisdiction of the zemindars, or other actual proprietors of estates, those who may appear to them to be actual proprietors of the lands composing their talooks, as described in those sections, continuing the remainder under the zemindars, or other actual proprietors, as heretofore. If a talookdar should have no title deeds to produce, the collector is to make a summary enquiry into his right to separation, and, after attending to such proofs and documents as may be produced by the talookdar in support of his title to separation, and by the zemindar, or other actual proprietor, in objection thereto, is to decide, according to the best of his judgment, whether such talookdar be entitled to separation or not, and conclude the settlement accordingly.

To examine the title deeds of talookdars, and separate from the jurisdiction of the zemindars, &c. such as may appear to be the actual proprietors of their talooks.

How to proceed in the event of a talookdar having no title deeds to produce.

Talookdars adjudged not to be proprietors of the soil, are at liberty, if dissatisfied to sue the zemindars, &c. in the court of dewanny adawlut, for the right of property in their talooks.

Zemindars, &c. dissatisfied with the separation of talooks from their estates, are at liberty to sue the holders of such talooks in the court of dewanny adawlut, for the right of property in them.

Either party dissatisfied with the decision of the judge, will have an appeal to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, agreeably to the Judicial Regulations.

Order for the separation of independent talooks, to be considered as positive.

Separated talookdars to pay their revenue immediately into the collector's treasury, except in particular cases in which tehseeldars are to be appointed to receive it.

Proprietors from whose estates talooks may be separated, shall not be appointed tehseeldars.

XII. The collectors are to acquaint the talookdars whom they may adjudge not to be actual proprietors of the lands composing their talooks, and consequently continue under the zemindars, or other actual proprietors, as heretofore, that, if dissatisfied with their decision, they are at liberty to sue such zemindars or actual proprietors of land, in the court of dewanny adawlut of the zillah, for the right of property in their talooks; and that in the event of their establishing such right, they will be separated from such zemindars, or other actual proprietors, and allowed to pay the revenue assessed upon their talooks, to the public treasury. They are also to acquaint the zemindars, or other actual proprietors, from whose estates talooks may be separated, and who may be dissatisfied with such separation, on the grounds of the holders of such talooks not being the actual proprietors of them, and consequently not entitled to separation under Sections V, and IX, that they are at liberty to sue such talookdars in the court of dewanny adawlut, for the right of property in their talooks, and that in the event of their establishing such right, the talooks will be replaced under them as heretofore. The right of property in every talook, in cases where it may be disputed, will thus be tried and decided upon according to law in the court of dewanny adawlut of the zillah, and either party dissatisfied with the decision of the judge, will have an appeal therefrom to the provincial court of appeal, and from the decision of that court to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, in cases that may be appealable to the last mentioned court.

XIII. Talookdars, whose talooks have been ordered to be separated, are not to be permitted to pay the revenue assessed upon their lands, through the zemindars, or other actual proprietors of estates, as heretofore. (c)

XIV. Talookdars, who in consequence of the rules in Sections V and IX, may be separated from the zemindars, or other actual proprietors of estates through whom they heretofore paid their revenues, are to pay their revenue in future immediately into the collector's treasury, except in districts, where from the number of talooks, or other cause, this mode would be attended with considerable inconvenience, in which case, tehseeldars or native collectors, are to be appointed to receive the revenue of the talooks in such districts.

XV. Zemindars, or other actual proprietors of land, from whose zemindaries, or estates, talooks may be separated, shall not be appointed tehseeldars to receive the revenue of the talooks so separated, but the office of tehseeldar shall in every

XVI. Mocurrery leases to persons not the actual proprietors of the lands included in such leases, if granted or confirmed by the Supreme Government, or obtained previous to the Company's accession to the dewanny, are to be continued in force during the lives of the lessors, subject to an abatement of the fixed jumma for the authorized sayar resumed or abolished; but on their death, the settlement is to be made with the actual proprietors of the soil, agreeably to this Regulation.

XVII. Mocurrery grants to the actual proprietors of the soil, made or confirmed by the Supreme Government, are also to be continued in force, subject in like manner to an abatement of the fixed jumma on a count of the resumption or abolition of the authorized sayar. The rules contained in this section, and Section XVI, are to be considered subject to the future confirmation, or revocation, of the Honorable Court of Directors.

XVIII. Mocurrerydars holding lands of which they are not the actual proprietors, and whose mocurrery grants have been obtained since the Company's accession to the dewanny, and never received the sanction of the Supreme Government, are to be dispossessed, and the settlement is to be made with the actual proprietors of the soil, under this Regulation. In cases however, where such Mocurrerydars have been in possession of their mocurreries for a term exceeding twelve years, they are to receive during their lives, (subject to the pleasure of the Honorable Court of Directors,) the difference between the jumma at which they held the lands, and that which may be now agreed to by the actual proprietors, added to the neat produce of the authorized sayar, resumed or abolished.

XIX. Istemrardars, however, who have not got possession of their lands to the exclusion, or without the consent, of the actual proprietors, as the mocurrerydars mentioned in Section XVIII, are supposed to have done, but hold them of the proprietors on pottah, or lease, are to be considered as a species of pottah talookdars, and the settlement is to be made with them as hereafter specified.

XX. The exceptions to the general order for the conclusion of the decennial settlement with the actual proprietors of the soil, contained in Section IV, include the following descriptions of persons: females, (excepting those whom the Governor General in Council may judge competent to the management of their own estates,) minors, idiots, lunatics, or others rendered incapable of managing their lands by natural defects or infirmities of whatever nature; and persons, whom the Governor General in Council may deem disqualified on account of their contumacy or notorious profligacy of character; (d) provided however, with regard to the whole of these descriptions, that they are not partners in the zemindarries, independent talooks, or other estates held by them, with others of a different description, in which case, themselves or guardians are allowed, with their partners, to engage for the settlement of their lands, and elect a joint manager, under the restrictions hereafter mentioned.

XXI. The lands of disqualified proprietors coming within the above descriptions, are to be managed for the benefit of the proprietors, by persons appointed to the trust by Government in the mode prescribed in Regulation X, 1793, which also contains rules for the selection and conduct of such managers, as well as regarding the provision to be made for the support of the proprietors.

Rules respecting mocurrery grants to proprietors of the soil made or confirmed by the Government Rules in this and preceding sections to be considered subject to the confirmation or revocation of Court of Directors.

Rule respecting mocurrerydars holding lands of which they are not proprietors granted since the Company's accession to the dewanny and not sanctioned by Government. Qualification of the preceding part of this rule, but subject to the pleasure of Court of Directors.

Description of Istemrardars to be considered as pottah talookdars.

Exceptions to the general order for the conclusion of the decennial settlement with the actual proprietors of the soil.

Qualifications of these exceptions.

Lands of proprietors included in the above exceptions to be managed by persons appointed by Government.

Further exception with respect to proprietors of land in balance to Government.

(d) The exception taken to the general order for the conclusion of the decennial settlement with actual proprietors of land, on the ground of contumacy or notorious profligacy of character, is rescinded by R. 7, of 1796, S. 2 verment, and unable to pay the arrears due from them.

Settlement of undivided estates possessed by two or more proprietors, none of whom are within the description of disqualified landholders, to be made with them jointly, but their lands to be entrusted to a manager.

Manner in which managers are to be appointed.

Cases in which guardians of proprietors are to vote for them in the choice of a manager.

Collectors to nominate managers for undivided estates when proprietors neglect to do so, to be confirmed by the Board of Revenue Authority vested in the manager so appointed. Expense to be defrayed by proprietors, who are also to be responsible for the public revenue.

Determination of the majority of proprietors to be binding on remainder, in agreeing to the jumma of undivided estates. But sharers if dissatisfied, may obtain a division of their lands.

Rules respecting settlement of land standing in the joint names of several proprietors, or of one for many, each proprietor having his separate share in his own possession.

Settlement of disputed estates to be made

ment is to be concluded with the defaulting proprietors, but their lands are to be let in farm, or held khaus, for a period of three years at the discretion of the collector.

XXIII. Where more proprietors than one possess an undivided estate, and the whole of them be not within the description of disqualified landholders specified in Section XX, the settlement is to be made with them jointly, and they are to be required to elect a scriberakar or manager, who shall have the exclusive management of their lands during the continuance of his appointment. The determination of the majority of the proprietors, or of the majority of those present, in the event of the absence of any, is to be binding on the remainder in the choice of a manager, and when the votes of the proprietors are equal, the election of the manager is to be determined by the greater interest of the proprietors in the property. If in any case the interest also be equal, the manager is to be appointed by the Board of Revenue. (c)

XXIV. In instances, where part of the proprietors described in Section XXIII, may be minors, lunatics, idiots, or others having guardians, such guardians are to vote for them.

XXV. If the joint proprietors of undivided estates, should neglect to elect a scriberakar on the requisition of the collector of the revenue of the zillah in which such estates may be situated, the latter is authorized to nominate a manager for the approbation of the Board of Revenue, which manager, when confirmed by them, shall have the exclusive management, as long as it may be thought advisable to continue him. The expense of the manager, as well as the responsibility for the public revenue, resting nevertheless with the proprietors.

XXVI. The determination of the majority of the proprietors present, under the restrictions specified in Section XXIII, is also to be binding on the remainder, in agreeing, or disagreeing to the jumma proposed for undivided estates: the sharers however, if dissatisfied, may obtain a division of their lands, and a proportionate allotment of the revenue assessed thereon, but at their own expense.

XXVII. When a portion of land stands in the joint names of several proprietors, or of one for many, but each proprietor has his separate share in his own possession, and management, or in that of an agent for him, the settlement is to be made for each share with the person in possession, and his land is to be held exclusively responsible for the revenue assessed upon it.

XXVIII. In case of mortgage, if the mortgagee has obtained possession of the land, the settlement is to be made with him, and the proprietor is to be declared entitled to succeed to his engagements on recovering possession, either by the discharge of his obligations, or by the decision of a court of justice. If the mortgagee has not possession, the settlement is to be made with the proprietor in possession, and the mortgagee is in like manner to succeed to the lease, in case of possession being subsequently adjudged to him.

XXIX. If after due enquiries and reference to the mofussil records, the proprietors of any land cannot be ascertained, the lands are to be held khaus pro-tempore, and the same mode is to be adopted with regard to absentees. In both cases, an advertisement is to be issued requiring the proprietors, or absentees, to attend within a period of six months, and if they should not be forthcoming at the expiration of that period, a settlement is to be made with a farmer for ten years, allowing a preference to the zemindar nearest in situation, on his agreeing to the jumma and the terms that may be prescribed by the collector.

XXX. Where the property in lands is disputed, the settlement is to be made with the proprietor in possession, under an express declaration, that he is nevertheless with the proprietor in possession.

XXXI. If a case should occur, in which none of the claimants shall have been previously in possession, they are to be allowed to appoint a manager until their claims shall have been determined in the dewanny adawlut of the zillah: but if they should not agree to a manager, the lands are to be held khaus, and the surplus produce after discharging the revenue, is to be kept in deposit until the right of property shall be adjudged.

Made to be observed in cases where none of the claimants shall have been previously in possession.

XXXII. Where disputes exist concerning the boundaries of land, they are to be left to be adjusted in the dewanny adawlut, and the settlement is to be made in the mean time for the lands in possession of the disputing parties respectively.

Rules for settlement, when disputes exist concerning boundaries of lands.

XXXIII. The special rules for fixing the assessment of the three provinces respectively, adapted to the local circumstances of each, commence with Section LXVIII, and the following general rules have been prescribed in addition thereto.

Rules for fixing the assessment pointed out.

XXXIV. The allowances of the cauzies, and canoongoes, heretofore paid by the landholders, as well as any public pensions, hitherto paid through the landholders, are to be added to the amount of the jumma, and in future paid by the collectors of the revenue of the several zillahs, on the part of Government, under the rules and restrictions laid down for their guidance with regard to such payments, in the resolutions passed by the Governor General in Council on the 10th June 1791, and re-enacted with modifications by Regulation XXIV, 1793.

Allowances of cauzies and canoongoes, and public pensions, paid by landholders, to be added to the jumma, and in future paid by the collectors under certain restrictions.

XXXV. The assessment is to be fixed exclusive and independent of all duties, taxes, and other collections, known under the general denomination of sayer; the collections made in the gunges, hauts, and bazars, situated within the limits of the town of Calcutta excepted, and excepting also the collections confirmed to the proprietors and holders of gunges, bazars, and hauts, by the resolutions passed by the Governor General in Council on the 11th of June, 1790. Those resolutions, with the subsequent rules enacted for the regulation of the abkarry, or tax on intoxicating liquors and drugs, the abolition of the other sayer collections resumed, and the compensations to be made to the proprietors and farmers of estates in consequence of this resumption and abolition, are re-enacted with modifications, by Regulations XXVII and XXXIV, 1793. (f)

The assessment to be fixed exclusive of sayer, with an exception to the collections, in the gunges, &c. in Calcutta, and to certain other articles of collection confirmed.

XXXVI. The assessment is also to be fixed exclusive and independent of all existing lakheraje lands, whether exempted from the kheraje (or public revenue) with or without due authority.

Assessment also to be fixed exclusive of all existing lakheraje lands.

XXXVII. The above exception however is not meant to include the malikanah lands in Behar, or the nankar, khomar, neej-joot, and other private lands of the zemindars and independent talookdars, or other actual proprietors of land in Bengal and Midnapore, regarding which the following rules have been prescribed.

The above rule not meant to include malikanah lands in Behar, or private lands of zemindars and talookdars, in Bengal and Midnapore.

XXXVIII. Where the zemindars, or other actual proprietors of land, in Behar, have resigned, or have been deprived of the management of their lands, retaining possession of a title, as malikanah, the latter is to be re-annexed, and the zemindars or other actual proprietors, are to be required to engage for the whole of their estates including the malikanah lands; unless such lands be held as malikanah under grants made or confirmed by the Governor General in Council, or the supreme authority of the country for the time being, and have been sold, or mortgaged, and given in possession to the mortgagee, in which case they are to be exempted from this rule. Grants for malikanah lands not made or confirmed by the supreme authority of the country, are declared invalid by the Regulations, passed on the 8th August 1788. If the collectors however, should be of opinion, that any material injury will be done to any individual by the execution of these orders, they are to report the circumstances to the Board of Revenue. (g)

Malikanah lands in Behar to be re-annexed, and the proprietors required to engage for the whole of their estates including these lands.

(f) R. 34, of 1793, is rescinded by R. 10, of 1813, S. 2. Claims to compensation on account of the resumption or abolition of the sayer, in the provinces of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, (Cuttack excepted,) which were not preferred previous to the promulgation of R. 6, of 1811, are not to be admitted. See R. 6, of 1811.

Nankar, khomar, neej-joot, and other private lands of the proprietors, in Bengal and Orissa, to be annexed to the malguzarry lands, and the jumma fixed upon the whole.

Modification of the rule.

Consolidation of malguzarry and private lands to be made also in talooks.

Motive of this consolidation.

Chakeran lands to be annexed to the malguzarry lands, and declared responsible for the public revenue.

All engagements for the jumma to be for sicca rupees, subject for the present to a provisional clause.

Collectors to insert in their treasury accounts the rates of batta at which they may receive all rupees not siccas.

Process to be observed when the landholders decline engaging for the jumma proposed to them.

XXXIX. The nankar, khomar, neej-joot, and other private lands, appropriated by the zemindars, independent talookdars, and other actual proprietors of land, in Bengal and Orissa, to the subsistence of themselves and families, shall be also annexed to the malguzarry lands, and the ten years jumma fixed upon the whole under the following modification: that such proprietors as may decline to engage for their lands, be allowed the option of retaining possession of their private lands above specified, upon the terms on which they have hitherto possessed them, provided they shall prove to the satisfaction of the Board of Revenue, that they held them under a similar tenure, previous to the 12th August 1765, the date of the grant of the dewanny to the Company, and have hitherto been permitted to keep possession of them, whenever their zemindarries or estates have been held khaus or let in farm, but not otherwise. In the event of such proof, and of their availing themselves of the option above given to retain possession of their private lands, a deduction adequate to the neat produce of such lands, is to be made from the amount of the allowance fixed for excluded proprietors by Section XLIV.

XL. The above consolidation of the malguzarry and private lands, is also to be made in the talooks continued under the proprietors on whom they have hitherto been dependent; not however with a view of increasing the rents of the talookdars, but in order to make the whole of the lands composing their talooks, answerable for their proportion of the public assessment allotted thereon.

XLI. The chakeran lands, or lands held by public officers, and private servants, in lieu of wages, are also not meant to be included in the exception contained in Section XXXVI. The whole of these lands in each province, are to be annexed to the malguzarry lands, and declared responsible for the public revenue assessed on the zemindarries, independent talooks, or other estates, in which they are included, in common with all other malguzarry lands therein.

XLII. All engagements for the jumma, whether executed by proprietors or farmers, are to be for sicca rupees, and a clause is to be inserted, obliging them to pay to Government siccas, or the same species of rupees as they may receive from their under farmers or ryots, at the bazar rates of batta, until a sufficient number of sicca rupees can be circulated to make these the only legal tender. The collectors are to insert in their treasury accounts the rates of batta at which all rupees, not siccas, may be received by them. (h)

XLIII. In the event of any proprietor declining to engage for the settlement of his lands at the jumma proposed to him, the collector is to communicate the objections offered, with his opinion respecting them, to the Board of Revenue. That Board is to determine the proper assessment, after making such further enquiries as they may think necessary; and the objecting proprietor is to be required to engage for such assessment without further delay; and, in the event of his refusal, which is to be given in writing, his lands are to be let in farm, or held khaus, as the Board of Revenue may in each instance think most expedient.

(g) The collectors in the zillahs of Behar, Shahabad, Sarun, and Tirhoot, are under the control of the Commissioner appointed under R. 1, of 1816; who therefore is to be understood wherever the Board of Revenue is named, if the rule or matter under consideration relate to any of those places.

(h) The currency of rupees of sorts, in the provinces of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, (Cutjack included,) was allowed until the promulgation of R. 13, of 1807, which was passed on the 25th June, of that year. After that time, the sicca rupee and gold mohur of the nineteenth sun became the only legal currency in those provinces. See R. 13, of 1807, S. 7. The intrinsic value of rupees of sorts of former currency, and their comparative value with sicca rupees of the nineteenth sun, will be seen in a table in R. 35, of 1793, S. 14.

XLIV.

XLIV. Proprietors who may finally decline engaging for the jumma proposed to them, and whose lands may consequently be let in farm, or held khaus, are to receive malikanah, (an allowance in consideration of their proprietary rights) at the rate of ten per cent on the sudder jumma of their lands, if let in farm, or, at the same rate on the neat collections from their lands, if held khaus, viz. on the neat amount realized by Government after defraying the malikanah, as well as all other charges. Out of this allowance however, a provision is to be made for such persons belonging to the families of the proprietors as may be entitled thereto.

Proprietors who may finally refuse to engage for the jumma required from them are to receive malikanah, and in what proportion.

XLV. When the lands are let in farm, the farmer is to engage to pay the ten per cent malikanah to the proprietor of the lands farmed by him, in addition to the jumma payable by him to Government, and to pay this malikanah monthly, according to the ki-taundy fixed for the sudder jumma, with an exception to any cases in which it may have been otherwise stipulated with the farmers.

Rule respecting the payment of the malikanah when the lands are let in farm.

XLVI. The collectors are to enforce payment of the malikanah specified in Section XLV, from the farmers, by the same process as is prescribed for enforcing payment of arrears of the public revenue, if they shall at any time neglect to pay the instalment due from them; and Government are to be considered as guarantees for the full payment of the fixed allowance to the several excluded proprietors.

How the collectors are to enforce payment of the malikanah.

Government guarantee for full payment of the malikanah of proprietors.

XLVII. In the event of the lands being held khaus, on the refusal of the proprietor to engage for the settlement of them, the malikanah, calculated as above specified, is to be paid monthly from the treasuries of the collectors, and it shall be paid entirely in money, instead of half in cash, and half in paper, as formerly.

How to be paid when the lands are held khaus.

XLVIII. The settlement having been concluded with the zemindars, independent talookdars, and other actual proprietors of land, they are to enter into engagements with the several dependent talookdars, continued under them respectively, and consequently paying revenue through them, for the same period as the term of their own engagements with Government, provided the talookdars will agree to such revenue, progressive or otherwise, as the zemindar or other actual proprietor of land, may be entitled to demand from them; (i) and the several zemindars, or actual proprietors of land to whom this rule may be applicable, are required to deliver to the collector, within three months after the conclusion of the settlement with them, a record of the engagements entered into between them and the talookdars dependent on them, specifying their names and talooks, and the jumma payable by each. (j)

Settlement to be made by proprietors with the talookdars continued under them, and in what manner.

XLIX. It is to be understood however, that istemrardars (~~mocurrerydars~~) of the nature of those described in Section XVIII, who have held their land at a fixed rent for more than twelve years, are not liable to be assessed with any increase, either by the officers of Government, or by the zemindar or other actual proprietor of land, should he engage for his own lands. With regard to such istemrardars also, as have not held their lands at a fixed rent for so long a period, if the zemindar or other actual proprietor of land, has bound himself by the deed which he may have executed, not to lay any increase upon them, he shall not be allowed to infringe the conditions of the deed for his own benefit, but must confine his demands to the rent he may have voluntarily agreed to receive.

Restrictions regarding the assessment of a certain description of istemrardars who are to be considered as leaseholders.

L. This last restriction imposed on the zemindar, or other actual proprietor of land, in Section XLIX, is not to be considered to preclude the officer of Govern-

(i) The proprietors of land, in the provinces of Bengal, Behar, Orissa, (Cuttack excluded,) and Benares, are now at liberty to grant leases for any period and for any rent which they may deem most convenient to themselves and tenants, and most conducive to the improvement of their estates. See R. 5, S. 2, and R. 18, S. 2, of 1812.

(j) A similar record as the one prescribed here, including some additional information, the proprietors of land are further required to deliver annually to the collectors, or whenever demanded by them. Further rules to prevent undue exactions from the talookdars.

Proprietors not to demand an increase from such talookdars, excepting in the cases herein specified.

Penalty for proprietors making exactions from talookdars.

Actual proprietors to let their remaining lands under the prescribed restrictions in whatever manner they may think proper.

Restrictions alluded to in Section LII.

Process to be observed to prevent imposition on the ryots under the denomination of abwaub, mhatoot, &c.

Proprietors, and farmers of land, prohibited imposing any new abwaub or mhatoot on the ryots, and penalty in case of disobedience.

ment or farmer, in the event of the zemindarry being held khaus, or let in farm, from assessing such istemrardars, according to the general rate of the district.

LI. The following rules are prescribed to prevent undue exactions from the dependent talookdars.

First. No zemindar or other actual proprietor of land, shall demand an increase from the talookdars dependent on him, although he should himself be subject to the payment of an increase of jumma to Government, except upon proof that he is entitled so to do, either by the special custom of the district, or by the conditions under which the talookdar holds his tenure; or that the talookdar, by receiving abatements from his jumma, has subjected himself to the payment of the increase demanded, and that the lands are capable of affording it.

Second. If in any instance it be proved, that a zemindar or other actual proprietor of land, exacts more from a talookdar than he has a right to, the court shall adjudge him to pay a penalty of double the amount of such exaction, with all costs of suit to the party injured.

LII. The zemindar or other actual proprietor of land, is to let the remaining lands of his zemindarry or estate, under the prescribed restrictions, in whatever manner he may think proper; but every engagement contracted with under farmers, shall be specific as to the amount and conditions of it; and all sums received by any actual proprietor of land, or any farmer of land, of whatever description, over and above what is specified in the engagements of the persons paying the same, shall be considered as extorted, and be repaid with a penalty of double the amount. The restrictions prescribed and referred to in this section, are the following:

LIII. No person contracting with a zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor, or employed by him in the management of the collections, shall be authorized to take charge of the lands or collections, without an amilnamah, or written commission, signed by such zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor.

LIV. The impositions upon the ryots, under the denomination of abwaub, mhatoot, and other appellations, from their number and uncertainty, having become intricate to adjust, and a source of oppression to the ryots; all proprietors of land and dependent talookdars, shall revise the same, in concert with the ryots, and consolidate the whole with the assul, into one specific sum. In large zemindaries, or estates, the proprietors are to commence this simplification of the rents of their ryots, in the purgunnahs where the impositions are most numerous, and to proceed in it gradually, till completed, but so, that it be effected for the whole of their lands by the end of the Bengal year 1198, in the Bengal districts, and of the Fussily and Willait year 1198, in the Behar and Orissa districts, these being the periods fixed for the delivery of pottahs as hereafter specified. (k)

LV. No actual proprietor of land, or dependent talookdar, or farmer of land, of whatever description, shall impose any new abwaub or mhatoot upon the ryots, under any pretence whatever. Every exaction of this nature shall be punished by a penalty equal to three times the amount imposed; and if, at any future period, it be discovered, that new abwaub or mhatoot have been imposed, the person imposing the same, shall be liable to this penalty, for the entire period of such impositions.

LVI. It is expected, that in time, the proprietors of land, dependent talookdars, and farmers of land, and the ryots, will find it for their mutual advantage to enter into agreements in every instance for a specific sum, for a certain quantity of land, leaving it to the option of the latter to cultivate whatever species of produce may appear to them likely to yield the largest profit; where however it is the established custom to vary the pottah for lands according to the articles produced thereon, and while the actual proprietors of land, dependent talookdars, or farmers of land, and ryots in such places, shall prefer an adherence to this custom, the engagements entered into between them, are to specify the quantity of land, species of produce, rate of rent, and amount thereof, with the term of the lease, and a stipulation, that in the event of the species of produce being changed, a new engagement shall be executed for the remaining term of the first lease, or for a longer period, if agreed on; and in the event of any new species being cultivated, a new engagement, with the like specification and clause, is to be executed accordingly. (l)

(k) This section, and sections 56, 57, 59, and 61 following, are not to be considered applicable to that part of the sillah of Ranghur, which is included in the Subah of Behar. See R. 4, of 1794, S. 2. The period fixed for the delivery of pottahs was extended, in the sillah of Purneah, from the Bengal, Fussily, and Willait year 1198, until the expiration of the Bengal year 1200; in the zemindarry of Nudda, until the Bengal year 1201; and in the sillah of Boglepore, until the month of Kautick, 1201, Bengal era. See R. 2, of 1794, and R. 4, of 1794, S. 4.

Variations of pottah according to articles of produce admitted under certain restrictions.

LVII. First. The rents to be paid by the ryots, by whatever rule or custom they may be regulated, shall be specifically stated in the pottah; which, in every possible case, shall contain the exact sum to be paid by them.

What the pottahs to be delivered to the ryots are to contain.

Second. In cases, where the rate only can be specified, such as where the rents are adjusted upon a measurement of the lands after cultivation, or on a survey of the crop; or where they are made payable in kind, the rate and terms of payment, and proportion of the crop to be delivered, with every condition, shall be clearly specified.

Rule where the rate only can be specified, and for payments in kind.

LVIII. Every zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, and every dependent talookdar, shall prepare the form of a pottah or pottahs, conformably to the rules above prescribed, and adapted to the circumstances of his estate or talook; and, after obtaining the collector's approbation of it, (which approbation shall be signified by such officer superscribing the form with his name and official appellation) he is to register a copy of the form or forms, in the dewanny adawlut of the zillah, and to deposit a copy in each of the principal cutcherries in his estate or talook. Every ryot shall be entitled to receive corresponding pottahs on application; and no pottahs of any other form shall be hereafter held valid. (m)

Forms of pottahs to be registered in the zillah court, and copies to be deposited in each of the principal cutcherries.

LIX. A ryot, when his rent has been ascertained and settled, may demand a pottah from the actual proprietor of land, dependent talookdar, or farmer, of whom he holds his lands, or from the person acting for him; and any refusal to deliver the pottahs, upon being proved in the court of dewanny adawlut of the zillah, shall be punished by the court, by a fine proportioned to the expense and trouble of the ryot in consequence of such refusal. Actual proprietors of land, dependent talookdars, and farmers, are also required to cause a pottah for the adjusted rent to be prepared and tendered to the ryot; either granting the same themselves, or intrusting their agents to grant the same. No farmer however, without special permission from the proprietor of the lands, or (if the lands form part of a dependent talook) the dependent talookdar, shall grant a pottah extending beyond the period of his own lease; nor shall any agent grant a pottah without authority from the proprietor, or dependent talookdar, or the manager of disqualified proprietors. (n)

Ryots may demand pottahs of proprietors of land, and farmers, who are also required to grant them.

Penalty in case of refusal.

Restrictions on farmers and agents in granting pottahs.

LX. First. All leases to under farmers and ryots made previous to the conclusion of the settlement, and not contrary to any Regulation, are to remain in force until the period of their expiration, unless proved to have been obtained by collusion, or from persons not authorized to grant them.

All existing leases to under farmers and ryots to remain in force until the period of their expiration. Exception to the

(l) See R. 5, of 1812, S. 3, by which the proprietors of land are declared at liberty to grant leases to their tenants, and to receive from them corresponding engagements, according to such form as the contracting parties may deem most convenient and conducive to their respective interests.

(m) Rescinded by R. 5, of 1812, S. 3. See the preceding note.

(n) See R. 4, of 1794, S. 5, how proprietors of land and others are to proceed, when their ryots refuse to receive pottahs which may be tendered to them in conformity to this section.

No proprietor of land, or dependent talookdar, or farmer of land, shall cancel the pottahs of khod kasht ryots except in certain specified cases.

Time allowed to proprietors of land and dependent talookdars and farmers of land to prepare and deliver pottahs to the ryots.

Claims on engagements contrary to those ordered how to be considered and decided on.

Rules regarding putwarries.

Proprietors to appoint a putwarry to keep

Second. No actual proprietor of land or farmer, or persons acting under their authority, shall cancel the pottahs of the khod kasht ryots, except upon proof that they have been obtained by collusion; or that the rents paid by them within the last three years, have been reduced below the rate of the nirkbundy of the purgunnah; or that they have obtained collusive deductions; or upon a general measurement of the purgunnah for the purpose of equalizing and correcting the assessment. The rule contained in this clause is not to be considered applicable to Behar.

LXI. The proprietors of estates, and the dependent talookdars, and farmers of land in Bengal, are allowed until the end of the Bengal year 1198, and those in Behar and Orissa until the end of the Fussily and Willaity year 1198, to prepare and deliver pottahs to the ryots, in conformity to the preceding rules, (o) but after the expiration of the year 1198, no engagements for rent, contrary to those ordered, are to be held valid; (p) and in the event of any claims being preferred by proprietors of estates, or dependent talookdars, farmers, or ryots, on engagements, wherein the consolidation of the assul, abwaub, &c. shall appear not to have been made, they are to be non-suited with costs.

LXII. First. The annual revenue to be paid to Government, from the estates of the proprietors of land with whom a settlement has been or may be concluded, having been declared fixed for ever; and courts of justice having been established, with powers to protect them against all demands exceeding that fixed revenue, whether made by the officers of Government or other persons, or by the authority of Government itself; and on the other hand, the grounds on which deductions and abatements were heretofore occasionally obtained by proprietors of estates when their jumma was liable to frequent variation, no longer existing; neither their rights, nor the value of their property, can be affected in future by the real produce of their estates being known. The rules therefore hereafter prescribed regarding putwarries, which are framed solely to facilitate the decision of suits in the courts of judicature, between proprietors and farmers of lands and persons paying rent or revenue to them, and to guard against any diminution of the fixed revenue of Government, or injustice to individuals, by enabling the collectors to procure the necessary information and accounts for allotting the public jumma upon estates that may be divided, agreeably to the principles prescribed in Regulation I, 1793, can be objected to by those proprietors only, who may have it in contemplation, in the event of the division or transfer of a portion of their estates, to deprive Government of a part of the fixed revenue, or defraud some of the partners in their estates, by obtaining a disproportionate allotment of the public assessment on the several shares; or to oppress the persons paying rent or revenue to them with impunity, by withholding from the courts of justice, the documents necessary to enable them to afford redress to the complainants. It being essential to the security of the public revenue, as well as of private rights and property, and at the same time consistent with the ancient usages of the country, and the declarations in the proclamation announcing the public assessment on the lands fixed for ever, that Government should have the means of counteracting such unjustifiable views, the following rules have been adopted: (q)

Second. Every proprietor of land, who may not have established a putwarry in each village in his or her estate, to keep the accounts of the ryots, as required by the original rules for the decennial settlement of the three provinces, shall immediately appoint a putwarry in each village for that purpose. All proprietors of estates are to deposit in the dewanny adawlut of the zillah, the collector's cutcherry, and the principal cutcherry in each mohaul or purgunnah, a list of the putwarries in their respective estates, and the names of the villages, the accounts of which they may be severally appointed to keep. The proprietors are to notify every three months to the court and the collector, all vacancies that may occur, and the names of the persons whom they may appoint to fill them. The Board of Revenue are empowered to authorize any proprietor to reduce the number of putwarries in such proportion as they may think proper, in cases in which it may appear to them unnecessary to entertain a separate putwarry for each village. the accounts of each village.

So was the operation of the remainder of this section suspended, in the zillah of Purneah and in the zemindarry of Nuddea until the expiration of the extended periods for the delivery of pottahs in those places, and in the zillah of Boglepore, until the 1st of Aughun, 1201, Bengal era. See R. 2, of 1791, and R. 4, of 1794, S. 4.

Board of Revenue may authorize proprietors to reduce the number of putwarries.

Third. The putwarries in every estate, are to produce all accounts relating to the lands, produce, collections, and charges, of the village or villages, the accounts of which may be kept by them respectively, and to furnish every information and explanation that may be required regarding them, whenever they may be required by any court of justice, to adjust any suit that may be depending before the court between the proprietor or farmer of the estate, and the ryots, or any persons paying rent or revenue to them, or any other suit. (s)

Putwarries to produce all accounts required by the courts of judicature,

Fourth. The putwarries in each estate, shall also produce the accounts specified in the preceding clause, and furnish every explanation and information that may be required respecting them, for the allotment of the public revenue agreeably to the principles laid down in Regulation I, 1793, in the event of the whole or any portion of the estates being directed to be disposed of at public sale, or being transferred by any private act of the proprietor or proprietors, or of the estate being ordered to be divided pursuant to a decree of a court of judicature, or, where it may be a joint estate, in consequence of the request of one or more of the proprietors. But no collector is to require a putwarry to attend him, and produce his accounts, but for the purposes above mentioned, or in any other cases in which they may be expressly empowered to require them, by any Regulation printed and published in the manner directed in Regulation XLI, 1793. If any collector shall require the putwarry of any village or villages to attend him, and produce the village accounts, for purposes, or in cases in which he may not be authorized to inspect them, the court of dewanny adawlut upon the circumstances being represented to it by the proprietor of the estate, is empowered to make an order to prohibit the collector requiring the accounts, and in the event of his repeating the requisition, to adjudge him to pay a fine to the proprietor of the estate of such sum as to the court may appear proper, and to levy the fine in the mode in which the courts are empowered to levy fines from the collectors in the suits described in Section XXXIII, Regulation XIV, 1793.

and also for the allotment of the public revenue in the cases herein specified when required by the collector.

Cases in which the collectors are prohibited requiring accounts from putwarries, and, penalty for breach of the prohibition.

Fifth. When a collector shall require the attendance of a putwarry for the examination of his accounts, either before him, or any officer whom he may depute for the purpose, he is to serve such putwarry with a written notice under his official signature, and the seal of the zillah, to attend with the accounts required, which are to be particularized in the notice. If he shall omit to attend with the accounts by the limited time, and shall not show good cause to the collector for the omission, the collector is authorized to represent the circumstances through the vakeel of Government to the court of dewanny adawlut of the zillah, the judge of which, provided there

See R. 4, of 1794, S. 3.

(s) This clause, and clauses 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th following, are equally applicable to all other description of native agents employed by landholders in the management of their estates, or in keeping any accounts of their lands, rents, receipts, disbursements, &c. as to putwarries. The courts are to observe the same process with putwarries who may omit to attend with their accounts when required, for the adjustment of any matter or dispute depending before the courts.

Putwarries may be required to swear to the truth of their accounts.

Sixth. Putwarries shall be required to swear to the truth of the accounts they may produce when deemed necessary, and in the event of the collector having occasion to proceed in person, or to depute an officer to examine any village accounts on the spot, the judge upon application being made to him for that purpose by the collector through the vakeel of Government, may grant to him, or to such officer, a commission to swear the several putwarries whose accounts are to be inspected, inserting in the commission the name of each putwarry to be sworn. If the collector shall have occasion to examine the accounts of a putwarry at the station at which the court may be established, he is to cause him to be sworn before the court, if he shall judge it necessary to require him to make oath to the truth of his accounts.

Putwarries liable to be prosecuted criminally for swearing to false accounts in a court of judicature.

Seventh. If a putwarry shall have sworn to the truth of any account that he may have been required to produce before a court of justice, for the purpose of deciding any matter before the court, and the accounts shall afterwards be found to have been fabricated, or altered, or not to be the true accounts, the judge of the court is empowered to commit him to be tried for perjury before the court of circuit.

Eighth. If a putwarry shall have been sworn before a judge, or before a collector, or the officer of a collector, to any accounts that he may have been required to produce before the collector, or his officer, in a case in which the collector may have been empowered to require him to produce such accounts, and the accounts shall afterwards appear to have been fabricated or altered, or not to be the true accounts, the collector is empowered to employ the vakeel of Government to prosecute such putwarry for perjury. In the cases specified in this and the preceding clause, if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the court that the accounts were fabricated, altered, or changed, by the orders, or with the knowledge or connivance of the proprietor or farmer of the estate, the court shall impose such fine upon the proprietor or farmer so offending, as may appear to it proper, upon a consideration of the case, and the situation and circumstances of the offender. Punishment for proprietors or farmers concerned in falsifying the account.

How proprietors omitting to appoint putwarries are to be proceeded against.

Ninth. Upon the accounts of any village being ordered to be produced, if it shall be found that no putwarry has been appointed to keep the accounts of the ryots, in conformity to the rules prescribed in clause second, the court, provided it be a case in which the requisition of the accounts may be authorized, shall fine the proprietor for the first offence, in such sum as it may judge proper upon a consideration of his or her situation and circumstances, and the nature of the case; and for the second offence, twice the amount of the fine for the first; and for the third and every subsequent offence, double the amount of the fine for the preceding one. If the accounts shall have been required by the collector, he is to order the vakeel of Government to sue the proprietor on the part of Government under this section, for a breach of the rule in clause second.

Above rules regarding putwarries applicable also to dependent talooks.

Tenth. The rules contained in this section, are hereby declared equally applicable to dependent talooks, as to estates paying revenue immediately to Government.

Proprietors of land, dependent talookdars, farmers, and their agents, to give receipts for all sums received as rent or revenue.

LXIII. First. Every proprietor of land, dependent talookdar, or farmer of land, of whatever description, and their agents of every gradation, receiving rents or revenues from dependent talookdars, under farmers, ryots, or others, are to give receipts for all sums received by them; and a receipt in full on the complete discharge of every obligation. Any person to whom a receipt may be refused, on his establishing under the penalty herein specified.

✓ Second. In case any village, or lands, should be affected by inundation, or other calamity, causing the ryots to desert, it shall not be lawful for any proprietor of land, dependent talookdar, or farmer of land of whatever description, or their agents, to demand the rents of the absconded ryots from those who may remain.

Rents of absconded ryots not to be demanded from those who remain.

LXIV. The proprietors of land, dependent talookdars, and farmers of land, of every description, are to adjust the instalments of the rents receivable by them from their under-renters and ryots, according to the time of reaping and selling the produce, and they shall be liable to be sued for damages for not conforming to this rule.

LXV. No proprietor of land, or dependent talookdar, shall contract any engagement, with any under farmer, or authorize any act, contrary to the letter and meaning of this Regulation. (v)

Engagement contrary to this Regulation prohibited.

LXVI. Zemindars, independent talookdars, and other actual proprietors of land, dependent talookdars, farmers of land holding farms immediately of Government, and all persons farming lands of the above-mentioned descriptions of landholders and farmers of land, and their respective officers, agents, servants, dependents, and ryots, are prohibited from taking cognizance of, or interfering in matters or causes coming within the jurisdiction of the courts of civil judicature, or the courts of circuit, or the magistrates, under pain of being liable to the payment of such fine to Government, and damages to the party injured, as the court of judicature in which they may be prosecuted for the act, may deem it proper to impose and award.

Landholders and farmers of land of every description, and their dependents, prohibited interfering in any matters coming within the cognizance of the civil or criminal court of judicature, or the magistrates.

LXVII. First. Such of the restrictions on actual proprietors of land, and farmers who hold their farms immediately of Government, as are set forth in their respective cabbuleats, and are not repealed by any Regulation printed and published in the manner directed in Regulation XLI, 1793, are to be considered in full force.

Restrictions in the cabbuleats not repealed by any Regulation, to be considered in force.

Second. Actual proprietors of land, are to be considered to have been entitled between the period of the conclusion of the settlement with them, and the 22d March 1793, the date of the proclamation declaring the decennial settlement perpetual inserted in Regulation I, 1793, to borrow money on the credit of their lands, and to sell or otherwise dispose of them, subject to the rules and restrictions existing when the transaction took place; and all bonâ fide transfers of zemindaries, or other estates, or talooks, made by any actual proprietor of land, or dependent talookdar, subsequent to the 8th June, 1787, are to be deemed valid, although they shall have taken place without the sanction of the Board of Revenue required to be obtained by the Regulations passed on that date; and all actual proprietors of land and dependent talookdars are to be held to have been at liberty from the 29th October, 1790, to borrow money without the sanction of the Board of Revenue.

Proprietors of land entitled to borrow money, or sell their estates of their own authority, from the date of the settlement being concluded with them.

Bonâ fide transfers of estates or talooks made subsequent to the 8th June 1787, to be held valid.

Third. In the amended code of the rules for the decennial settlement passed on the 23d November 1791, it was declared that in all instances in which ryots should give security for the performance of their engagements, and such security should be accepted by the landholders or farmers, it should not be lawful for the two latter to attach the crop of the former, unless the security should have absconded, and other good security not have been tendered in consequence. This rule was annulled by the Regulations passed by the Governor General in Council, on the 20th July, 1792, which have been re-enacted with alterations and amendments by Regulation XVII, 1793.

Rules regarding the recovery of arrears of rent or revenue from ryots, or under-farmers, contained in Regulation XVII, 1793.

Fourth. In the original rules for the decennial settlement, the landholders were declared responsible for the peace of their districts, and bound to act agreeably to such Regulations on that head, as might afterwards be enacted. This rule was superseded by the Regulations passed by the Governor General in Council, on the 7th December, 1792, which have been re-enacted with alterations and amendments by Regulation XXII, 1793.

Collector to attend to the spirit of the rules in this Regulation where they may not be applicable to particular districts.

Restrictions under which this rule is to be applied.

In what cases the settlement was to be concluded under the Regulations which existed prior to the original rules for the decennial settlement.

What is to be considered as the standard in fixing the assessment.

Cases wherein the Board of Revenue may postpone the decennial settlement.

No abatement from the jumma of the preceding year is to be allowed without special sanction.

Settlements to be made as far as possible in one neat sum, free from all charges of the nature herein specified.

Separate allowances to families of proprietors to be abolished and provided for by the proprietors.

Established zemindarry charges to be paid by the collectors, except in certain cases.

Fifth. In the original rules abovementioned, it was also directed, that if in any instance the Regulations should appear inapplicable to the circumstances of any particular district, the collector should attend to the spirit of them, and carry them into execution in such mode as circumstances might allow, reporting any alterations or modifications which he might deem necessary. This rule is to be considered still in force in forming any settlements which remain to be concluded, but it is not to be construed to empower the collector to exercise any judicial authority.

Sixth. It was further ordered in the original rules before mentioned, that if from want of sufficient materials or information, or on account of other impediments, the collectors should be unable to complete the settlement of all the pargunnahs under their charge, agreeably to the prescribed plan, within the year 1197 of the eras current in the three provinces respectively, the settlement was to be made for one year only, according to the principles laid down in the Regulations of the 25th April, 1788, for the settlement of 1196, the year preceding the first year of the decennial settlement.

BENGAL SPECIAL ORDERS.

LXVIII. In fixing the amount of the assessment, the jumma of the preceding year, compared with the accounts and information supplied by the collectors, and the recommendation of the Board of Revenue founded thereon, is to be the standard, under the following considerations.

LXIX. If the Board of Revenue shall have reason to believe, that the accounts furnished of any particular district or districts are materially defective; that more accurate information of their actual produce is necessary; and that it can be procured without having recourse to hustaboods and measurements, which have been prohibited, the decennial settlement of such districts is to be postponed.

LXX. No abatement from the jumma of the preceding year is to be allowed, without the special sanction of the Governor General in Council.

LXXI. Any occasional diminution of the jumma which it may be necessary to allow on account of casualties of season, is to be restored by a russud, or progressive increase; but no russud shall be established to extend beyond the third year of the settlement, except in the separated talooks, and other petty mehals, in which the Board of Revenue may allow a further extension of the russud, if it shall appear to them expedient.

LXXII. The settlement is to be made, as far as possible, in one neat sum, free from any charges of moshaira, zemindarry amlah, poolbundy, cutcherry charges, or others of a similar nature; it being intended, that all charges incidental to the receipt of the rents of the lands, and independent of the allowances of the officers of Government, and expenses attending the collection of the public revenue, shall be defrayed by the proprietors from the produce of their lands.

LXXIII. In every possible case, all separate allowances to the families and connections of the proprietors of land, are to be abolished, and the provision for their maintenance is to devolve upon the proprietors.

LXXIV. With respect to any of the existing established zemindarry charges, such as pensions, charitable or other allowances, which it may be thought proper to continue, they shall be paid by the collectors, and the proprietors and farmers of land are to have no concern in them, unless for special reasons of convenience, it should be deemed more expedient in any instance, to entrust the proprietors or farmers of land with the disbursement of them.

LXXV.

LXXV. The standard for fixing the future assessment mentioned in Section LXVIII, viz. The jumma of the preceding year, compared with the accounts and information supplied by the collectors, and the recommendation of the Board of Revenue thereon, cannot be applied however to the separated talooks, which have not heretofore paid any jumma immediately to Government; nor is it to be understood to be applicable to any instances where the actual produce of the lands may have been ascertained. In all such instances, and in all separated talooks, the jumma of which shall clearly appear to have been fixed below the general rate of assessment of the pargunnah wherein they are situated, the assessment is to be regulated so as to leave to the proprietors a provision for themselves and families, equal to about ten per cent on the amount of their contributions to Government, including the produce of their nankar, or other private lands, to be annexed to the malguzarry lands, as directed in Section XXXIX; and the talookdars whose jumma may be raised by virtue of this rule, are to be informed, that they may sue in the dewanny adawlut, the proprietor who fixed their jumma, if they shall think themselves aggrieved by their payments being enhanced, contrary to the terms of a grant which the zemindars had no authority to bestow on them.

Exceptions to the application of the standard of assessment mentioned in Section LXVIII.

Separated talookdars whose jumma may be raised under this section at liberty to sue the zemindars who fixed their jumma.

LXXVI. From this rule however are to be excepted, all separated talooks, as well as all lands heretofore paying revenue immediately to Government, which may have been held at a fixed jumma during the last twelve years, and the decennial settlement is to be concluded with the proprietors of such talooks and lands, at the jumma hitherto paid by them, subject to such deduction as may be found equitable on account of the sayer, resumed or abolished.

Exceptions to the preceding rule in favor of separated talookdars and others who have paid a fixed jumma for the last twelve years.

LXXVII. The estimated provision for the landholders and their families, where the assessment may be fixed on the ascertained produce of their lands, is stated generally at ten per cent, on the jumma payable by them. But if owing to any peculiar circumstances, a larger provision should be deemed necessary, particularly in zemindarries, or independent talooks yielding a small revenue, the Governor General in Council will take the same into consideration.

Circumstances which may render a larger provision than ten per cent. necessary, will be taken into consideration.

LXXVIII. In carrying into execution the principles contained in Section LXVIII, it will be necessary to consider, whether the several charges noticed, have been heretofore defrayed by the actual proprietors of land, independent of their assessment, or by Government, with a view to determine whether a deduction is to be allowed from their future jumma to provide for them, or otherwise.

Points to be considered in carrying into execution the principles contained in Section LXVIII.

LXXIX. In cases where the charges alluded to in the preceding section have been defrayed by the actual proprietors of land, independently of their jumma to Government, they will not of course be entitled to any deduction on account of them; but where they have been heretofore paid by Government, the jumma must suffer a proportionate diminution, unless there be sufficient funds for the discharge of them in addition to the former jumma. With respect to the moshaira in particular, it is to be observed, that where the lands have been let in farm, but are now left with the proprietor, the latter may be presumed to receive an equivalent for his former allowance in the profits of the farmer, which will revert to him.

Cases in which a deduction is or is not to be allowed for the charges hereinalluded to.

Rule respecting moshaira.

LXXX. Where the jumma may be fixed on the ascertained gross assets, the mofussil charges of every denomination, whether debatee, pargunnatee, or others, must further be considered in calculating the proper assessment, and the collectors are to transmit a statement of the estimated gross assets, with an adjustment of the revenue thereto, conformably to the above rules.

Mofussil charges to be considered in calculating the assessment when the gross assets shall have been ascertained. Statement required from the collectors.

LXXXI. Every circumstance, influencing the regulation of the jumma, is to be minutely recorded, to prevent any claims hereafter on the part of the proprietors or farmers for lowering the amount.

Every circumstance influencing the regulation of the jumma to be recorded.

Principles to be observed in fixing the jumma to be paid by the proprietors.

LXXXII. The jumma which each actual proprietor of land is to pay, is to be fixed by the collector on fair and equitable principles, with the reserve of the approbation of the Board of Revenue, (u) to whom he is to report the grounds of his decision on the jumma. If he should deem it eligible, he may call upon the actual proprietors of land to deliver in proposals for the settlement of their lands; but his judgment, is, in the first instance, to determine the amount of the assessment.

Modes to be attended to in ascertaining the assets for the purpose of fixing the jumma.

General rule to be adopted in all practicable instances.

LXXXIII. The collectors, in fixing the jumma, are to attend to the modes which have hitherto prevailed in ascertaining the assets, and fixing the jumma between the proprietors of small estates, and the principal proprietor or farmer, adopting in all practicable instances, the following general rule: That the average product of the land in common years (assuming three or four for the calculation) be taken as the basis of the settlement, and from this, deductions be made equal to the malikanah and khurcha, leaving the remainder the jumma of Government. The Governor General in Council relies on the accuracy of the collectors in the application of this rule; and they are authorized, in the event of great uncertainty, to measure the lands. This uncertainty however, is to be reported to the Board of Revenue; and the measurement is not to be undertaken, but on the clearest grounds of the necessity of it.

Exception to the above rule.

LXXXIV. From the above rules are to be excepted all lands heretofore paying revenue immediately to Government, which may have been held at a fixed jumma, during the last twelve years; and the decennial settlement is to be concluded with the actual proprietors of such lands, at the jumma hitherto paid by them, subject to such deduction, as may be found equitable, on account of the sayer, resumed or abolished.

No abatement from sudder jumma of 1196 to be confirmed without sanction.

LXXXV. No abatement from the sudder jumma of 1196, is to be confirmed, without the special sanction of the Governor General in Council.

Principle to be observed in regulating the sudder kistbundy.

LXXXVI. The sudder kistbundy is to be so regulated, as to afford the proprietors of land all possible convenience in the discharge of their revenue, with due regard to the security of Government.

Collectors to proceed with caution in the execution of these rules, and are expected to be able to furnish clear explanations of their proceedings.

LXXXVII. The collectors are to proceed with due caution and information in the execution of these fundamental resolutions; and it is expected they will be able, when called upon, to furnish clear and satisfactory explanations of their proceedings, particularly on the amount of the assessment.

MIDNAPORE SPECIAL ORDERS.

In what cases the collector is authorized to make alterations in the jumma of the past year.

LXXXVIII. The collector is authorized to make alterations in the jumma of 1196, when from good information, and his own experience, it may appear necessary to render the jumma of the respective zemindars, independent talookdars, and other actual proprietors of land, more equal and proportioned to the resources of their lands.

Mode to be adopted to ascertain the necessity of granting remissions upon the last year's jumma.

LXXXIX. In order to ascertain the necessity of granting any remissions upon the jumma of 1196, the collector is to examine the wassilaut and akrajaut, or the gross receipts and expenditures, comparing the one with the other, and checking the latter when exorbitant; and he is particularly to ascertain, to his full satisfaction, those instances in which the zemindars, independent talookdars, or other actual proprietors of land, have been under the necessity of selling their lands and effects to make good the amount of their stipulations.

Fine may be imposed on proprietors guilty of delays in giving the accounts, which are to be reported to the Board of Revenue.

XCI. In cases of great doubt and uncertainty, the collector is authorized to measure the lands, or make such mofussil investigations into the produce of them, as he may deem necessary for ascertaining the truth.

Measures authorized in cases of great doubt or uncertainty.

XCII. The collector is authorized, upon the grounds of the information obtained in the mode above pointed out, to grant remissions upon the jumma of 1156, the Governor General in Council expecting that no remission will be allowed but upon satisfactory explanations of the necessity of it; but the settlement is to be made, under an express reserve and limitation, that it be approved and confirmed by the Governor General in Council, and a declaration to this effect is to be made to the proprietors.

Collector may grant remissions upon the jumma of the last year, but the remission is to be made subject to the confirmation of the Governor General in Council.

XCIII. The estimated allowance for casual deficiency upon the gross jumma is to be reduced from rupees 10477, to the sum of rupees 50546, which is three per cent upon the gross jumma of 1684868, 5, 1, after deducting from it the article of batta.

Estimated allowance for casual deficiency to be reduced, and in what proportion.

XCIV. The allowance for religious expenditures, being enormous, shall also be reduced. The Governor General in Council does not mean to prescribe the exact amount of the reduction, but conceives that the sum now allowed, will admit of a diminution of at least 25000 rupees. The collector, in fixing the assessment, is to regulate the estimate of the amount of it by this consideration. These charges being highest in the pargannahs of Cossejurah, Shahpore, Midnapore, and Mynachoura, the reduction ought to be greatest in them.

Allowance for religious expenditures to be reduced, and rules for this reduction.

XCV. The charges of purchasing provisions for the battalion when in the town of Midnapore, and of firewood and grass, when travelling, if such have been actually incurred by the proprietors of land, are to be discontinued, and no such charge shall be incurred by them in future.

Charges for purchasing provisions, &c. for the battalion, to be discontinued.

XCVI. The settlement is to be made, as far as possible, in one neat sum, free from any charges of moshaina, zemindary amlah, peolbundy, cutcherry, or other charges of a similar nature: it being intended that all charges incidental to the receipt of the rents of the lands, independent of the allowances of the officers of Government, and expenses attending the collection of the public revenue, shall be defrayed by the proprietors from the produce of their lands.

Settlement to be made, as far as possible, in one neat sum, free of all charges of the nature herein specified.

XCVII. With respect to any of the existing established zemindary charges, such as pensions, charitable allowances, or others, which it may be thought proper to continue, they are to be paid by the collectors, and the proprietors are to have no concern in them, unless for special reasons of convenience, it should be deemed more expedient, in any instance, to intrust the landholders with the disbursement of them.

Established zemindary charges are to be paid by collectors except in certain cases.

XCVIII. Any occasional diminution of the jumma, which it may be necessary to allow on account of casualties of season, is to be restored by a russud, or progressive increase; but no russud shall be established to extend beyond the third year of the settlement, except in the separated talooks and other petty mehals, in which the Board of Revenue may allow a further extension of the russud, if it shall appear to them expedient.

Cases in which a russud may be allowed and for what period.

XCIX. Every circumstance, influencing the regulation of the jumma, must be minutely recorded, to prevent any claims hereafter on the part of the proprietors for lowering the amount of it.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION IX.

A REGULATION for re-enacting with alterations and modifications, the Regulations passed by the Governor General in Council on the 2d December 1790, and subsequent dates, for the apprehension and trial of persons charged with crimes or misdemeanors.— Passed by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fossil; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Wilhiuty; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Sumbat; and the 12th Reza 1201 Higerce.

— URSUANT to the Regulations passed by the President and Council on the 21st August 1773, criminal courts, denominated foudjarry adawlut, were established in the interior parts of the provinces for the trial of persons charged with crimes or misdemeanors; and the collectors of the revenue, who were concentrated servants of the Company, were directed to superintend the proceedings of the officers of those courts, and on trials, to see that the necessary witnesses were summoned and examined; that due weight was allowed to their testimony; and that the decisions passed were fair and impartial. By the same Regulations, a separate and superior criminal court was established at Moorshedabad under the denomination of the Nizamut Adawlut, for revising the proceedings of the provincial criminal courts in capital cases, and the Committee of Revenue at Moorshedabad, was vested with a control over this court, similar to that which the collectors of the revenue were empowered to exercise over the provincial courts. Upon the abolition of the Committee of Revenue at Moorshedabad, the Nizamut Adawlut was removed to Calcutta, and placed under the charge of a darogah or superintendent, subject to the control of the President of the Council, who revised the sentences of the criminal courts in capital cases. The above arrangements continued in force, without any considerable alteration, until the 18th October 1775, when the entire control over the department of criminal justice was committed to the Naib Nazim. The Nizamut Adawlut was in consequence re-established at Moorshedabad, and the Naib Nazim appointed native officers, denominated foudjars, assisted by persons versed in the Mahomedan law, to superintend the criminal courts in the several districts, and to apprehend and bring to trial offenders against the public peace. This system was adhered to, without any material variation, until the 6th April 1781, when the institution of foudjars not having answered the intended purposes, the general establishments both of foudjars, and the tannahdars or police officers acting under them, were abolished. Foudjarry courts however were continued in the several divisions, subject as before to the control of the Naib Nazim as superintendent of the Nizamut Adawlut, and the English judges of the courts of dewanny adawlut were appointed magistrates, with a power to apprehend decoits, and persons charged with crimes or misdemeanors within their respective jurisdictions, and commit them to the nearest foudjarry court for trial. With a view to enable Government to superintend in some degree the administration of justice justice in criminal cases, a separate department was at the same time established at the presidency, under the control of the Governor General, to receive monthly returns of the sentences passed in the foudarry courts, and for the assistance of the Governor General in this duty, a covenanted civil servant of the Company was appointed, with the official appellation of remembrancer to the criminal courts. From the inefficiency however of the authority of the English magistrates over the zemindars and other landholders, the administration of justice in criminal cases was much impeded, whilst the Regulation which vested the magistrates with the power of apprehending offenders, but without permitting them to interfere in any respect in the trials, gave rise to a new evil. The magistrates being obliged to deliver over to the darogahs or superintendents of the foudarry courts, all persons charged with a breach of the peace, however trivial, and a considerable time often elapsing before they were brought to trial, many of the lowest and most indigent classes of the people were frequently detained for a long period in prison, where their sufferings often exceeded the degree of their criminality. The magistrates therefore, on the 27th June 1787, were vested with authority to hear and decide on complaints of petty affrays, abusive names, and other slight offences, and, under certain restrictions, to inflict corporal punishment, and impose fines on the offenders. But the numerous robberies, murders, and other enormities, which continued to be daily committed throughout the country, evincing that the administration of criminal justice was still in a very defective state, and as these evils appeared to result principally from the great delay which occurred in bringing offenders to punishment, and to the law not being duly enforced, as well as to other material defects in the constitution of the criminal courts; and as it was essential for the prevention of crimes, not only that offenders should be deprived of the means of eluding the pursuit of the officers of justice, but that they should be speedily and impartially tried when apprehended, the Governor General in Council passed certain Regulations on the 3d December, 1790, establishing courts of circuit under the superintendence of English judges, assisted by natives versed in the Mahomedan law, for trying in the first instance, persons charged with crimes or misdemeanors, and enabling the Governor General, and the members of the Supreme Council, to sit in the Nizamut Adawlut, (which was for that purpose again removed to Calcutta,) and superintend the administration of criminal justice throughout the provinces. Those Regulations, with the subsequent amendments, are now re-enacted, with further alterations and modifications. (a)

II. The judges of the dewanny adawlut of the several zillahs, and of the cities of Patna, Dacca, and Moonsiedabad, shall hold the office of magistrate of the zillah or city under their respective jurisdictions. This Regulation also contains rules for the appointment of joint and assistant magistrates. See also R. 17, of 1816, S. 12, whereby the Superintendents of police are empowered to assume exclusive charge of any part of the jurisdiction of a magistrate, within their respective jurisdictions, without the express orders of Government.

SO HELP ME GOD.

Special jurisdiction of the magistrates of the several zillahs and cities.

III. The special jurisdiction of the magistrates of the cities of Patna, Dacca, and Moorshedabad, is to extend throughout those cities respectively, and the places adjacent, that now are, or may be subjected, to their immediate authority. The special jurisdiction of the magistrates of the several zillahs, is to extend throughout the districts included in the zillahs in which they are respectively stationed. (c) Provided however, that the special jurisdiction of the magistrates of the zillahs of Behar proper, Dacca Jelalpoore, (d) and Moorshedabad, (e) be not held to extend to the cities of Patna, Dacca, or Moorshedabad, nor to any places adjacent thereto, which now are, or may be included, in the special jurisdiction of the magistrates of those cities; and that the magistrate of the Twenty-four Pargunnahs, (f) be not considered to have any jurisdiction or authority whatever in the town of Calcutta, or any places adjacent within the limits of the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court of judicature.

(h) Upon the prisoner being brought before the magistrate, he shall enquire into the circumstances of the charge, and examine the prisoner, and the complainant, and also such other persons as are stated to have any knowledge of the crime or misdemeanor alleged against the prisoner, and commit their respective depositions to writing. (i) The complainant, and the witnesses, shall be examined upon oath, but the prisoner shall not be required to swear to the truth of his deposition. After this inquiry, if it shall appear to the magistrate that the crime or misdemeanor charged against the prisoner, was never committed, or that there is no ground to suspect him to have been concerned in the committing of it, the magistrate shall cause him to be forthwith discharged, recording his reasons for releasing him and submitting them to the court of circuit, with the calendar ordered to be prepared in Section XVII. On the contrary, if it shall appear to the magistrate that the crime or misdemeanor was actually committed, and that there are grounds for suspecting the prisoner to have been concerned in the perpetration of it, the magistrate shall cause him to be committed to prison, or held to bail, (according as the offence may be bailable or not,) to take his trial at the next session of the court of circuit, and shall bind over the complainant to appear and carry on the prosecution, and the witnesses to attend and

(d) This zillah has been divided into two since the passing of this Regulation, the special jurisdictions of the magistrates of both which, do not, of course, extend to the city of Dacca, unless under the late rules of R. 16, of 1810, S. 3, by which the magistrate of any zillah or city may be invested with a concurrent authority in any contiguous jurisdiction.

(e) This zillah has been extinct since the year 1806. See the note to R. 3, of 1793, S. 2.

give their evidence. (j) All bail bonds for prisoners released upon bail, and the recognizances required to be taken from prosecutors, and witnesses, shall be for a specific sum, the amount of which shall be determined by the magistrate, upon a due consideration of the case, and the circumstances and situation in life of the parties, and shall contain a clause declaring the amount forfeited to Government, in the event of the condition of it not being performed. (k)

VI. The magistrates upon receiving any charge, are to be careful to ascertain from the complainant, and to record upon their proceedings, on what day of the month, in what year, and at what time of the day or night, the act complained of was committed. And when a prisoner confesses before them, the crime or misdemeanor with which he may have been accused, or confirms any former confession that he may have made of his having committed such crime or misdemeanor, the magistrates are to be careful to have such confession, or confirmation of a former confession, witnessed by as many of their officers, or other creditable persons who may be present at the time it may be made, as the Mahomedan law requires to give it validity, and to cause such witnesses to be in attendance at the next sessions of the court of circuit. But the magistrates are strictly enjoined to satisfy themselves that all confessions made by prisoners are free and voluntary, and notwithstanding such confessions, they are invariably to summon, and bind over to attend at the next sessions, the witnesses to the commission of the crime or misdemeanor alleged against the prisoner, that they may be examined before the court of circuit, in the same manner as if the prisoner had denied the charge. The magistrates are further required to take special care that persons upon being apprehended, are not made to suffer corporal punishment, or otherwise ill treated, under the pretence of compelling them to answer truly to questions that may be put to them, or under any other pretext whatever.

VII. Persons accused of murder, robbery, house-breaking, theft, or counterfeiting of the coin, provided there shall appear sufficient grounds for committing them for trial, shall not be admitted to bail. (l)

VIII. The magistrates are empowered to hear and determine, without any reference to the courts of circuit, all complaints or prosecutions brought before them, for petty offences, such as abusive language, calumny, inconsiderable assaults, or affrays, and to punish the offender, when convicted, by committing him to prison for a term not exceeding fifteen days, or by imposing a fine upon him; but the fine is in no case to exceed the sum of fifty sicca rupees, unless the offender be a zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, paying an annual revenue to Government of more than ten thousand sicca rupees, or a proprietor of ayra land, paying a quit revenue to Government exceeding five hundred sicca rupees per annum, or of lakheraje land, the annual produce of which may be above one thousand sicca rupees, in which cases, such offender shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred sicca rupees. See the rules in R. 3, of 1812, S. 2, passed with the view of restraining the institution of prosecutions for offences of a petty nature, and for providing for the subsistence of witnesses who may be summoned in such cases.

XII. The magistrates, previous to the arrival of the courts of circuit at their respective stations, shall ascertain from the persons committed or held to bail to take their trial, the names and places of abode, of any witness or witnesses, they may wish to have examined in their defence, and shall issue the customary process to cause such witnesses to attend at the time fixed for the trial of the persons in whose behalf they may be summoned. What papers and proceedings are to accompany these calendars.

XVII. The magistrates are to lay before the courts of circuit, upon their arrival at their respective places of residence, two separate calendars. The first, containing a list of all persons whom they may have apprehended and discharged for want of sufficient evidence to warrant the committing them to prison, or holding them to bail, to take their trial for the crime or misdemeanor charged against them, and accompanied with their reasons for having released them as prescribed in Section V. The second, comprizing a list of the persons whom they may have apprehended for crimes or misdemeanors cognizable by them, the crime or misdemeanor with which the prisoners may have been charged, and the sentence passed upon them. Similar calendars are to be submitted to the courts of circuit by the magistrates of the cities of Patna, Dacca, and Moorshedabad, and the zillahs of the Twenty-four Purgunnahs, Moorshedabad, and Dacca Jelalpore, at every jail delivery that may take place at their respective stations. Magistrates to notify the commitment of proprietors of land to the collector of the zillah.

XIX. In the event of any act being committed by a European British subject, which may render him an object of a criminal prosecution in the Supreme Court of judicature, to which court alone European British subjects are amenable in such cases; the magistrate, upon information of the act being lodged before him upon oath, is to apprehend such British subject, and to make inquiry into the circumstances of the charge without delay. After such inquiry, if he shall be satisfied in his own mind that there are sufficient grounds for committing such British subject for trial, he is immediately to convey him under safe custody to one of the judges of the Supreme Court of judicature, and to report the circumstances of the case for the information of the Nizamut Adawlut. He is likewise to bind over the complainant to repair to Calcutta before the session next ensuing to prosecute, and to take security from the witnesses for their appearance at the trial. In case of the inability of the prosecutor, or the witnesses, to defray the charge of the journey, the magistrate is to state to the Nizamut Adawlut what pecuniary assistance he would recommend being granted to them. All Europeans not British subjects are amenable, equally with the natives, to the authority of the magistrate, and to the courts of circuit for trial before which they may be committed. (v)

All Europeans not British subjects amenable to the criminal courts equally with the natives.

XX. The magistrate is to visit the jail at least once in every month, and redress all well founded complaints of ill treatment which may be preferred to him by the prisoners against the jailer, or any officers having charge of them. He is to be particularly attentive to the health and cleanliness of the prisoners, and to see that the surgeon of the station attends and administers to the sick. (u)

And as the crimes proved or alleged against the second or third descriptions of prisoners, must be of different degrees of atrocity, the magistrates are required to separate those who have been found guilty or accused of heinous crimes, from such as have been convicted of or charged with crimes of less magnitude. They are likewise to separate the male from the female prisoners, so as to prevent them having any communication with each other, and the rules prescribed in this section for keeping apart the several descriptions of the former, are to be considered applicable also to the latter. The magistrates are further enjoined to endeavour to prevent drunkenness, gaming, and other immoralities, being practised in the jails.

Further descriptions of prisoners to be confined in separate apartments.

Oath to be taken and subscribed by the cauzies and mufities upon their first appointment.

XXXVIII. At the expiration of every six months, that is, on the 1st of January and the 1st of July in each year, the cauzies and mufities of the courts of circuit, shall take and subscribe the following oath.

Half yearly oath to be taken and subscribed by the cauzies and mufities.

“ I A. B. cauzy (or mufy) of the court of circuit for the division of ———, solemnly swear, that from the 1st of January to the 30th June last, (or, from the 1st July to the 31st December last,) I have truly and faithfully executed the duties of cauzy (or mufy) of this court, according to the best of my knowledge and ability, and that I have not received, directly or indirectly, any present or nuzzer, either in money or in effects of any kind, from any party in any suit or prosecution, which has been, or is to be instituted, or is depending, or has been decided, in the court of circuit of which I am cauzy (or mufy), nor have I, directly or indirectly, derived any advantage or emolument from my office, excepting such as the orders of Government have authorized me to receive.”

XXXIX. The serishtadars, and the other native officers of the provincial courts of appeal, shall be serishtadars and officers of the courts of circuit of the divisions to which they are respectively attached.

Serishtadars, and other native officers of the provincial courts of appeal, to be serishtadars and officers of the courts of circuit.

XL. There shall be two general goal deliveries annually in each zillah, (excepting the zillahs of the Twenty-four Purgunnahs, Moorshedabad, and Dacca Jelalpore), for which purpose, the judges (h) shall make two circuits in each year, setting out on the first circuit on the 1st of April, and on the second, on the 1st of November. (i) The judges shall proceed to the places of residence of the magistrates of the several zillahs in their respective divisions, with the exception of the three zillahs above-mentioned, (j) and, unless it be found indispensably necessary from the non-attendance

Two general jail deliveries to be made annually in each zillah. Judges to make two circuits for that purpose, setting out on the first circuit on the 1st April, and on the second, on the 1st of November.

(g) Modified by R. 8, of 1809, S. 2. The appointment, removal, and resignation of the law officers of the courts of circuit, are vested in the hands of the Nizamut Adawlut. See S. 4, of the same Regulation.

(h) The senior judges of the courts of circuit are exempted, except on particular occasions, from the duties of the circuit, including the goal deliveries at the principal stations. See R. 5, of 1814, S. 3.

(i) The periods here fixed for the commencement of the half yearly general goal deliveries were altered by R. 3, of 1797, S. 3, C. 1, which clause itself has been rescinded by R. 2, of 1804, S. 2; and at present the half yearly general goal deliveries in the divisions of Calcutta, Moorshedabad and Patna, take place in conformity to the periods fixed by S. 3, of the last mentioned Regulation. The half yearly general goal deliveries for the division of Dacca, commence at the periods fixed by R. 3, of 1797, S. 3, C. 2, and those for the Suburbs of Calcutta, and the Twenty-four Purgunnahs beyond the Suburbs of Calcutta, are holden monthly agreeably to R. 11, of 1814, S. 4. The zillah of Moorshedabad has long been abolished. The general goal deliveries for the zillah of Dacca Jelalpore, appear to be holden half yearly, as those of other zillahs, instead of quarterly, as directed by R. 2, of 1804, S. 2, which contains the latest rules on the subject. But this deviation may probably have been authorized by the Nizamut Adawlut, under the discretion vested in it by R. 1, of 1806, S. 6.

(j) The zillahs of the Suburbs of Calcutta and the Twenty-four Purgunnahs beyond the Suburbs of Calcutta now only excepted, in consequence of the alterations above noticed.

Judges to remain at the stations of such magistrates until all the prisoners whose trials can be completed, are tried, and sentence upon them is passed, or their cases, are referred to the Nizamut Adawlut.

Three judges to form themselves into two courts in making the circuit of the zillahs, one to be superintended by the first judge, and the other by the second and third judge. Register and musty to accompany the first judge; and the head assistant and cauzy the second and third judge.

Stations in each division to which the two courts respectively are to proceed.

Two courts to proceed alternately to the prescribed stations.

One judge sufficient to form a court. Two courts in each division by whom to be superintended in the event of either of the judges not being able to go the zillah circuit.

Judges of circuit for the divisions of Patna, Dacca, and Moorshedabad respectively, to repair immediately to the cities, after finishing the circuits of the zillahs, and to make the jail deliveries in the cities, and in the zillahs of Moorshedabad, and Dacca Jelalpoore.

Monthly jail deliveries to take place in the cities of Patna, Dacca, of any material evidence, or other sufficient cause, to postpone any trial until a future session, shall remain at each station, until all persons committed or held to bail for trial by the magistrate shall have been tried, and (in matters on which sentence is directed to be passed by the judges) sentence shall have been passed upon them, or (in cases in which the judges are not authorized to pass sentence) the trial shall have been referred to the Nizamut Adawlut.

XLII. To expedite the half yearly goal deliveries in the zillahs, the judges of circuit in each division, shall form themselves into two courts, one to be superintended by the first judge, and the other by the second and third judge. The register and the musty, shall accompany the first judge, and the senior assistant to the register and the cauzy, shall attend the second and third judge. The courts so formed shall proceed to the undermentioned stations: (k)

DIVISION OF PATNA.

One court. Tirhoot, Sarun, and Shahabad.

DIVISION OF DACCA.

One court. Syhhet, and Momensing.

DIVISION OF MOORSHEDABAD.

One court. Dinagepore, Rungpore, and the districts under the commissioner at Cooch Behar, exclusive of the independent territories of the rajah of Cooch Behar.

One court. Purneah, Boglepore, and Rajshahy.

DIVISION OF CALCUTTA.

One court. Nuddou and Jessore.

One court. Midnapore, including the salt districts, Burdwan, and Beerbhoom.

XLII. The two courts in each division so formed, shall proceed alternately to the stations specified in the preceding section. that they may never make two circuits successively to the same stations.

XLIII. One judge shall be sufficient to form a court. If the first judge shall be absent from his division, or shall be unable to proceed on the circuit from indisposition or other cause, the second judge shall make the circuit in the room of the first judge, and the third judge shall perform the circuit with the other court. If the third judge shall be absent from his station, or shall be unable to proceed upon the circuit, the second judge shall make the circuit alone. But no judge shall absent himself from his station without obtaining the previous sanction of the Nizamut Adawlut for that purpose, nor in the event of his being present at his station, omit going the circuit, unless he should be unable to proceed upon it from indisposition or other unavoidable impediment, the earliest notice of which is to be transmitted to the above mentioned court.

XLIV. When the judges in the divisions of Patna, Dacca, and Moorshedabad, have completed the circuit in the several zillahs, in which half yearly jail deliveries are directed to take place, they shall respectively repair without delay to Patna, Dacca, and Moorshedabad. The judges for the division of Patna, immediately upon their return, shall proceed to try all persons committed or held to bail to take their trial in the city of Patna. The judges of the division of Moorshedabad, shall in like manner proceed to try all persons committed or held to bail to take their trial in the city and the zillah of Moorsheadabad; and the judges of the division of Dacca, all persons committed or held to bail to take their trial in the city of Dacca, and the zillah of Dacca Jelalpoore. On the first of the month, next but one after the month in which the judges may return to the cities at which they are respectively stationed, and on the first of every succeeding mo. th, until they proceed again upon the half yearly circuits, they shall hold a court of general jail delivery for the said cities, and the judges of the divisions of Moorshedabad and Dacca, for the zillahs of Moorshedabad and Dacca Jelalpore, and continue to sit, until they have completed the business of the monthly session. Agreeably to the above rule, if the judges of the several divisions shall return from the circuit to the cities, by the fifteenth of January, they are to proceed respectively to try all the prisoners committed or held to bail for trial, in the cities, and the zillahs of Moorshedabad and Dacca Jelalpore, and to hold another court of jail delivery on the 1st March, and on the first of every succeeding month, for the cities and zillahs above-mentioned, until they proceed again upon the circuit. Provided however, that where the first of the month shall fall on Sunday, the courts of monthly jail deliveries above directed to be held in the three cities, and the two zillahs before specified, shall not be opened until the Monday following, nor shall any of the courts of circuit sit on Sunday upon any occasion whatever.

and Moorshedabad, and the zillahs of Moorshedabad and Dacca Jelalpore, excepting when the judges are making the half yearly circuits.

XLV. The judges of circuit for the division of Calcutta, after having completed the half yearly jail deliveries at the stations mentioned in Section XLII, shall return to their station in the vicinity of Calcutta, and hold jail deliveries for the zillah of the Twenty-four Pargannahs in the same manner as the courts of circuit in the other divisions are directed in Section XLIV to hold jail deliveries for the cities at which they are respectively stationed.

Court for the division of Calcutta, to hold jail deliveries in the zillah of the Twenty-four Pargannahs, in the same manner as jail deliveries are directed to be held in the three cities by Section XLIV.

XLVI. To prevent any delay in the jail deliveries at the cities of Patna, Dacca, and Moorshedabad, and in the zillahs of the Twenty-four Pargannahs, Moorshedabad, and Dacca Jelalpore, the judge or judges of the division in which those stations are respectively situated, who shall first return from the half yearly circuit, shall commence the trials, and proceed therein without intermission, (Sundays excepted) until the return of the other judge or judges, when they shall all take their seats in the court.

Judges who first return from the circuits of the zillahs to commence the trials.

XLVII. The proceedings on the trial of prisoners are to be conducted in the following manner. The charge against the prisoner, his confession, (which is always to be received with circumspection and tenderness,) if he plead guilty, or, if he plead not guilty, the evidence on the part of the prosecutor, the prisoners defence, and any evidence which he may have to adduce, being all heard before him, the cauzy and mistry, (who are to be present during the whole of the trial,) (1) are to write at the end of the record of the proceedings, the futwah or law as applicable to the circumstances of the case, and to attest it with their seals and signatures. The court shall attentively consider such futwah, and if it shall appear to them consonant to natural justice, and also conformable to the Mahomedan law, they are to pass sentence in the terms of the futwah, (except in cases in which they are expressly directed not to pass sentence,) and to issue their warrant to the magistrate for the execution of it, without further reference or delay. Provided however that in all cases where a prisoner may be condemned by such sentence to suffer death, or imprisonment for life, the court shall transmit a copy of the sentence, and of all the papers and proceedings read or recorded during the trial, with translates in English, (m) to the Nizamut Adawlut, and shall not execute such sentence, but shall wait the final sentence of that court. (n)

Manner in which the trial of the prisoners is to be conducted.

XLVIII. The prosecutor is to be allowed the option of carrying on the prosecution in person, or by a vakeel duly appointed, excepting in cases in which the Ma-

Persons allowed to prosecute by vakeel

(1) See the provisions of R. 1, of 1810, for occasionally dispensing with the attendance and futwah of the law officers of the courts of circuit.

(m) Modified by R. 10, of 1799. The courts of circuit are not to furnish translates of the proceedings of a trial referrible to the Nizamut Adawlut.

(n) In any case where a prisoner may be subject to a sentence of death, and where the judge of circuit may disapprove of the futwah of his law officer, he is not empowered to pass sentence, but to make a reference to the Nizamut Adawlut for the sentence of that court. See R. 53, of 1803, S. 6, and R. 1, of 1811, S. 5. The remainder of this Regulation, including this section, is extended to the province of Benares, by R. 16, of 1795, S. 22, subject to certain local alterations and modifications contained therein.

In cases authorized by the Mahomedan law. This rule not to prevent the court requiring, if necessary, the personal attendance of prosecutors, not being women of such a rank and situation in life as would render it improper to compel them to appear in a court of justice. How the evidence of prosecutors or witnesses of the above description is to be taken.

How the courts are to proceed in case the depositions of any witnesses cannot be obtained.

In cases of murder, the law officers to deliver their futwah according to Yusuf and Mahomed.

No criminal to suffer mutilation. Punishment to be inflicted in lieu of it.

In cases of murder, reference directed by the Mahomedan law to be made to the heir of the slain. Court to pass sentence of death, if the heir demands retaliation, but to transmit the proceedings to the Nizamut Adawlut, and wait the final sentence of that court. How the courts are to proceed if the heir requires the price of blood or pardons.

How the courts are to proceed if they disapprove of any part of the proceedings or the futwah of the law officers.

Judges to refer all questions of law to the law officers, except on points specifically provided for by the Regulations, and to homedan law requires the prosecutor to appear in person at the trial of the prisoner. This rule however, is not meant to prohibit the judges causing prosecutors to attend in person, in every case in which their viva voce evidence shall be deemed necessary, provided they be not Mahomedan or Hindoo women of a rank and situation in life, which, according to the customs and prejudices of the country, would render it improper to compel them to appear in a court of justice. If prosecutors or witnesses on a trial shall be women of this description, and their evidence shall be deemed necessary, and the case shall be of such a nature as to admit of its being taken by commission, the judges shall not require the attendance of such women, but shall depute persons to take their evidence in the manner prescribed by the Mahomedan law.

XIX. If the attendance of any witness on the part of the prosecutor or the prisoner, whose evidence the law may not allow to be taken by commission, cannot be procured, or if any witness cannot be found, the judges may postpone the trial until the next circuit, provided there shall appear to them sufficient cause for so doing. If the attendance of such witness cannot then be procured, or if he shall not have been found, the judges may in like manner postpone the trial a second time. But if the judges and their law officers, shall be of opinion that the evidence of any witness or witnesses who may be absent, is not necessary, they shall complete the trial without the evidence of such witness or witnesses.

L. On trials for murder, the law officers shall deliver their futwah or law opinions upon the case according to the doctrines of Yusuf and Mahomed.

LI. No criminal shall suffer the punishment of mutilation. If a prisoner shall be sentenced in conformity to the futwah of the law officers, to lose two limbs, instead of being made to undergo such punishment, he shall be imprisoned and kept to hard labor for fourteen years; and if any prisoner shall be so sentenced, to lose one limb, he shall in lieu of such punishment, be imprisoned and kept to hard labor for seven years. The judges are accordingly directed, whenever any criminal shall be sentenced to suffer mutilation, to commute such punishment for imprisonment and hard labor for the term above prescribed, and to issue their warrant to the magistrate for that purpose.

LII. When a prisoner is convicted of murder, the judges shall cause the reference prescribed in such cases by the Mahomedan law, to be made to the heir of the slain. If the heir shall require the murderer to be punished with death, according to the law of kissas or retaliation, the judges shall pass sentence of death accordingly, transmitting all the proceedings held on the trial with the futwah of the law officers to the Nizamut Adawlut, and suspending the execution of the sentence until they receive the final sentence of that court, as directed in Section XLVII. But if the heir of the slain shall require dawat or the price of blood, or shall pardon the murderer, the judges shall not pass sentence, but shall forward the record of the trial, including the futwah of the law officers and the requisition of the heir, to the Nizamut Adawlut, and wait the sentence of that court. (o)

LIII. Whenever the judges shall disapprove of any part of the proceedings held on a trial, or of the futwah delivered by the law officers, they are not to pass sentence on such cases, but shall complete the trial and transmit to the Nizamut Adawlut a copy of all the proceedings and the futwah of the law officers, with a separate letter stating the grounds of their disapproval, and wait the sentence of that court.

LIV. The judges of the courts of circuit are to refer to the cauzy and mufty of their respective courts all questions on points of law that may arise during the course of any trial, and respecting which no specific rules shall have been enacted by the Governor General in Council, and shall regulate their proceedings by the opinions

(o) Rescinded by R. 4, of 1797, S. 2, and the rules in S. 3, of that Regulation are required to be observed in its stead. See the further modifications of the Mahomedan law regarding the different species of homicide, in R. 8, of 1799, and R. 8, of 1801.

which may be delivered by those officers. If such opinions shall appear to the judges contrary to the principles of natural justice, or to the Mahomedan law, they are nevertheless to be guided by them, and after completing the trial, and obtaining the futwah of the law officers upon the case, they shall, without passing sentence upon it, transmit the proceedings and futwah to the Nizamut Adawlut, with a separate letter stating their objections to such opinions or futwah, and wait the sentence of that court.

regulate their proceedings by the opinion of those officers. Courts to be guided by such opinions although they disapprove of them. How to proceed in such cases.

LV. In cases of murder, the following circumstances shall not be considered as a bar to the trial or condemnation of prisoners. First, The refusal of the heir to prosecute. Second, Where it is known that the slain has an heir who is legally entitled to claim kissaas or retaliation, but who shall neither appear after a reasonable time has been allowed to clasp for him to hear of the murder, and repair to the station at which the prisoner is to be tried, or communicate his intention by wakeel or otherwise, of pardoning the offender. Third, If the heir of the slain shall not have attained the age required by the Mahomedan law to render him competent to claim kissaas. In all such cases, the courts of circuit are to proceed on the trial in the same manner as if the slain had no heir, and, when the trial is completed, are to require the law officers to declare what futwah they would have delivered, supposing the heir had been of sufficient age to demand kissaas, and had been present at the trial, and prosecuted. But the courts of circuit are not to pass sentence on such trials, but shall forward the record, with the futwah directed to be required from the law officers, to the Nizamut Adawlut, the judges of which court, provided they approve of the proceedings held on the trial, shall pass such sentence as they would have passed, had the heir attained the proper age to entitle him to demand kissaas, and had been present at the trial, and prosecuted. (p)

In case of murder the following circumstances not to bar the trial or condemnation of the prisoner.

1st. Refusal of the heir to prosecute.

2d. Where an heir exists, but does not appear after a reasonable time, or signify his will with regard to the criminal.

3d. If the heir shall not be of a competent age to claim retaliation.

How the courts of circuit are to proceed in the three cases above specified.

LVI. The religious persuasions of witnesses shall not be considered as a bar to the conviction or condemnation of a prisoner; but in cases in which the evidence given on a trial, would be deemed incompetent by the Mahomedan law, solely on the ground of the persons giving such evidence not professing the Mahomedan religion, the law officers of the courts of circuit, are to be required to declare what would have been their futwah, supposing such witnesses had been Mahomedans. The courts of circuit are not to pass sentence on such cases, but shall transmit the record of the trial, with the futwah directed to be required from the law officers, to the Nizamut Adawlut, which court, provided they approve of the proceedings held on the trial, shall pass such sentence as they would have passed, had the witnesses, whose testimony may be so deemed incompetent, been of the Mahomedan persuasion.

Religious persuasions of witnesses, not to invalidate their testimony.

How the courts are to proceed where the law declares witnesses incompetent, because they are not Mahomedans.

LVII. In all cases in which the courts of circuit are directed not to pass sentence, the judges are to accompany the record of the trial ordered to be transmitted to the Nizamut Adawlut, with a letter containing their opinion on the merits of the case.

Courts of circuit to state their opinion on cases on which they are directed not to pass sentence.

LVIII. The courts of circuit are to transmit to the Nizamut Adawlut, copies and translates in English, of the proceedings on the trial of all prisoners whom they may sentence to suffer death, or who may in their opinion be deserving of capital punishment, within ten days after the trial is completed, or as much earlier as from the state of business may be practicable. (q)

Courts to transmit all trials in capital cases, with translates to the Nizamut Adawlut, as early as possible, but always within ten days.

Punishment to be inflicted on persons guilty of contempt of court in open court.

(p) Rescinded by R. 4, of 1797, S. 2. See the preceding note.

(q) In the transmission of trials to the Nizamut Adawlut, the courts of circuit are directed to give a preference, as far as practicable, to those trials in which the prisoners may be sentenced or liable to capital punishment. Translates in English of trials referrible to the Nizamut Adawlut, by the courts of circuit, are now dispensed with, and those courts are not now empowered to pass sentence of death. See the several provisions of R. 4, of 1797, S. 19; R. 10, of 1799; R. 55, of 1803, S. 6; and R. 1, of 1811, S. 5.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION X.

A REGULATION for re-enacting with modifications, the rules passed by the Governor General in Council on the 15th July 1791, and subsequent dates, for the establishment and guidance of the Court of Wards, relative to disqualified landholders and their estates. — PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higeeree.

BY the rules prescribed in Regulation VIII, 1793, for the decennial settlement of Bengal, Behar, and the Company's districts in Orissa, females, (with the exception of those whom the Governor General in Council may deem competent to the management of their own estates,) minors, idiots, lunatics, contumacious persons, and persons of notorious profligacy of character, who, not being partners with others of a different description, are or may be proprietors of entire estates paying revenue immediately to Government, are declared incapable of having any concern in the management of their lands; and it is to be understood, as the evident meaning and intention of part of these exceptions, that they include all proprietors of entire estates paying revenue immediately to Government, who are or may be rendered incapable of managing their lands, by natural defects or infirmities of whatever nature. The lands of persons coming within the above descriptions, are to be managed for the benefit of the proprietors, by persons appointed to the trust by Government, in the manner hereafter specified. The Governor General in Council, adverting also to the many instances which have occurred, of minors, females, and other proprietors of land of the descriptions above-mentioned, being reduced to ruin by the misconduct of the agents to whom the management of their concerns has been committed, as well as to the frequent instances of minors being brought up in ignorance and dissipation, by the persons entrusted with the care and education of them, with a view to engross the management of their affairs when they might come of age, determined on the 20th August 1790, to constitute the Board of Revenue a Court of Wards, with powers to superintend the conduct, and inspect the accounts, of the managers of estates of persons disqualified for the management of their own lands, by the rules prescribed for the decennial settlement, and with instructions to see that minors received an education suitable to their rank and circumstances in life, and such as might qualify them for the future management of their own concerns. For the guidance of the Board of Revenue in their capacity of a Court of Wards, as well as of the officers acting under them in this capacity, certain rules were enacted on the 15th July 1791. Those rules, with the subsequent amendments, and further modifications, are now re-enacted. (a)

(a) Resolved by R. 14, of 1810, S. 2, by virtue of which Regulation, the Nizamut Adawlut is empowered to read the sentence, except sentences passed against persons guilty of crimes against the State, without the sanction of the Governor General in Council.

II. The superintendence of the Court of Wards, extends to the persons and estates of all proprietors disqualified under the rules prescribed for the decennial settlement, for the management of their own lands, viz. all proprietors of entire estates, paying revenue immediately to Government, who are, or may be, females not deemed by the Governor General in Council competent to the management of their own estates: minors, idiots, lunatics, or others, rendered incapable of managing their estates by natural defects or infirmities of whatever nature; as well as all proprietors of such estates, who are, or may be, deemed disqualified on account of contumacy, or notorious profligacy of character. (b) To prevent misconstruction, it is declared, that by the terms all proprietors of entire estates paying revenue immediately to Government, are meant, every such disqualified person who may be the sole proprietor of an estate, and any two or more persons, being proprietors of the whole of an estate, both or all of whom may be so disqualified. (c)

III. The superintendence of this Court, is not to extend to proprietors of estates not paying revenue immediately to Government, nor to joint proprietors of estates paying revenue immediately to Government, both or all of whom may not be of the descriptions specified in Section II. The disqualifications in the rules prescribed for the decennial settlement, do not include the former, and the latter, are required thereby to elect a joint manager, in the choice of whom, those who are themselves unable to vote, are allowed a voice through their guardians. To such proprietors, managers, and guardians, this Regulation is in no respect to be held applicable. (d)

To whom the superintendence of this Court is not meant to extend.

IV. The collectors of the revenue, are to ascertain and report to the Board of Revenue, both now and hereafter, what proprietors in their respective zillahs may come within the descriptions of disqualified landholders specified in Section II; and the following rules are prescribed for ascertaining the existence of the stated ground of disqualification in the first instance, and also for enabling proprietors of certain descriptions who may have been declared disqualified, to recover the management of their estates, when the ground of their disqualification may be removed.

Collectors to ascertain and report, what landholders are disqualified. Rules for ascertaining the ground of disqualification, and for enabling certain disqualified proprietors, to recover their estates when the ground of their disqualification may be removed.

V. First. If a proprietor of land shall be reported disqualified solely from being a female, the Board of Revenue, in their capacity of a Court of Wards, shall immediately proceed to take the estate under their care, reporting the circumstance to the Governor General in Council, who reserves to himself the power of declaring any female proprietor, whom he may deem competent to the management of her own estate, exempt from the operation of this Regulation. (e)

Females.

Second. If a collector shall report a proprietor of land to be disqualified on the ground of minority, the Board of Revenue, in their capacity of a Court of Wards, provided they shall see no reason to doubt the non-age of the proprietor, are to take the estate under their care, and report the circumstance to the Governor General in

(a) The Board of Revenue, either as a Court of Ward or in any other capacity, has no jurisdiction in that part of the province of Behar, which is comprized in the zillahs of Behar, Shahabad, Surun, and Tirhoot, the Commissioner appointed by R. 1, of 1816, being invested with the authority of a Court of Wards, and with the other powers of that Board, in those places.—This present Regulation is extended to the zillah of Cuttack, by R. 12, of 1805, S. 36.

(b) These disqualifications are now done away. See R. 7, of 1796.

(c) See R. 3, of 1796, for excluding from the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards, certain descriptions of landed estates belonging to disqualified landholders.

(d) Estates not paying revenue to Government, or lakheraj lands, although not within the ordinary jurisdiction of the Court of Wards, may yet be committed to the charge of that Court, as other estates, at the discretion of the Governor General in Council. See R. 3, of 1796.

(e) The Court of Wards is now empowered, of its own authority, to exempt any female proprietor from the operation of this Regulation, if there be no ground of disqualification, only submitting a report of such cases, and the reasons thereof, to the Governor General in Council. See R. 10, of 1793, S. 3.

The decision of the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut shall be final, and the court shall certify a copy of its decision to the Governor General in Council, who will order the estate to be put under the charge of the Court of Wards or not, according as the proprietor may be adjudged by the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut to be a minor, or otherwise.

The court is to transmit all its proceedings, with its opinion on the case, to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, which court shall determine finally whether the stated ground of disqualification be well founded or not, and certify a copy of its decision to the Governor General in Council, who will order the Court of Wards to take the estate of the proprietor under their care or not, according as the proprietor may be adjudged by the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut to be disqualified, or otherwise.

Fourth. If a proprietor of land shall be deemed disqualified on the ground of contumacious or notorious profligacy of character, the Board of Revenue are to instruct the collector to submit a statement of the circumstances, through the vakeel of Government, to the judge of the dewanny adawlut of the zillah, who shall forward it to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut. This court shall issue a precept to the judge of the zillah or to the provincial court of appeal, to enquire into the circumstances of the case in the presence of the party, or his vakeel, who are respectively to be allowed to produce any evidence which they may have to adduce. The court is to report the result of its proceedings, with its opinion on the case, to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, which court shall finally determine whether the stated ground of disqualification be well founded or not, and report its decision to the Governor General in Council, who will order the estate to be committed to the charge of the Court of Wards or not, according as the proprietor may be adjudged by the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, to be disqualified, or otherwise. (f)

Measures to be taken occasionally to ascertain continuance of disqualification.

Fifth. Persons not born in a state of idiotism, but who may have been declared by the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut disqualified as lunatics, are to be produced annually before the judge of the dewanny adawlut in the jurisdiction of which they may reside, or oftener if he shall think fit, in order to ascertain whether they be restored to sanity or otherwise; and if in any instance the ground of disqualification shall appear to the judge to be completely removed, he shall immediately report the same, with a full relation of the circumstances of the case, to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, which court shall finally determine whether the ground of disqualification be removed or not. The court is to communicate its decision to the Governor General in Council, who will order the Court of Wards to deliver over charge of the estate to the proprietor or not, according as the ground of his disqualification may be adjudged by the court removed, or otherwise.

Sixth. Any person who may have been adjudged disqualified, on any of the grounds specified in clauses second, third, or fourth, (g) and who may deem the ground of his disqualification removed, shall be at liberty to represent the circumstances to the judge of the dewanny adawlut of the zillah, who shall forward the representation to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut. This court shall issue a precept to the judge of the zillah court, or to the provincial court of appeal of the division, to enquire into the case, and to receive such evidence as the disqualified proprietor may have to offer in support of his representation. The court is to report the result of its enquiry, with its opinion thereon, to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, which court shall determine finally whether the ground of disqualification be or be not removed, and report its decision to the Governor General in Council, who will order the Court of Wards to restore the proprietor to the management of his lands or not, according as the ground of disqualification may be adjudged by the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut to be removed, or otherwise.

Disqualified proprietors specified in clauses second, third, and fourth, who may deem the ground of their disqualification removed, how to proceed to recover the management of their estates.

VI. The trusts of manager for disqualified landholders, and guardian to them, are to be considered altogether distinct, but, as hereafter specified, they may in some instances be vested in the same person; and the rules contained in the following sections relative to managers and guardians respectively, are founded on this distinction.

Trusts of manager and guardian to be considered altogether distinct, though they may in some instances be vested in the same person.

VII. Where the trusts of manager and guardian are vested in different persons, the former is to have the care of the estates real and personal; the latter, the care of the person, maintenance, and, if a minor, the education of the ward.

What is to be entrusted to the manager and guardian respectively, when different persons.

VIII. First. The manager, who is to be denominated serberakar, is to be chosen by the collector, subject to the approbation of the Court of Wards, and his commission is to be signed by the collector, and authenticated by his official seal. In recommending persons for this trust, capacity for the business, goodness of character, and sufficient responsibility, are to be particularly attended to, and, after these considerations, a preference is to be given to the legal heirs to the estate, or other near relations of the proprietors, and, in the event of there being no heirs or relations of this description, to a creditable servant of the family. If no one among these be found duly qualified for the trust, and willing to undertake it, it must be vested in a proper person unconnected with the family. A husband may be the manager of any separate property belonging to his wife, provided she desire it, but not otherwise. (h)

Rules to be observed in the selection of managers.

Second. All female proprietors, not minors, or otherwise disqualified, may also recommend managers for their estates, and their recommendations are to be attended to, if consistent with the primary considerations above noticed.

IX. The manager, previous to the receipt of his commission, is to give security for his appearance during the continuance of it, and is to execute the following obligation.

Security to be given, and obligation to be executed, by managers

"I, A. B. having voluntarily taken on myself the management of the estate of C——, disqualified proprietor of D—— do hereby solemnly promise and engage to manage the said estate diligently and faithfully for the said proprietor; to use means in my power, to improve the same for his or her benefit; and to act, in every respect, to the best of my judgment, for his or her interest, in like manner as if the estate were my own, and I were acting for myself. I also promise and engage to render a true and just account of whatsoever may be received by me from, or on account of, the estate committed to my management, and in the event of it being proved, that I have been guilty of any embezzlement, or of any abuse of trust, injurious to the property of the above mentioned proprietor, I do hereby bind myself, my heirs, and successors, to make good treble the amount of the embezzlement or injury so proved against me. I further promise and engage, to adhere strictly to such Regulations as may be passed for the guidance of managers by the Governor General in Council, and to such orders as I may receive from the Court of Wards, and to derive no personal advantage whatever, directly or indirectly, from the trust committed to me, beyond the allowance by them granted to me."

Allowance to be fixed for managers, and penalty for any embezzlement proved against them.

X. An allowance to the manager proportionate to the extent of his trust, and adequate to a full compensation for his trouble, is to be proposed by the collectors, and fixed by the Court of Wards: and if it be proved to the satisfaction of the Court of Wards, that any manager shall have appropriated to his own use, directly or indirectly, any sum of money or other property, above his fixed allowance, he is declared liable for such embezzlement, to the fine specified in his obligation, besides dismission from his trust; and the fine is to be appropriated to the benefit of the estate under his charge.

Establishment of officers to act under the manager to be also fixed. By whom to be nominated and appointed.

XI. An establishment of necessary officers to act under the manager, is also to be proposed by the collectors, and fixed by the Court of Wards. The persons to be employed on this establishment, are to be nominated by the manager himself; but approved by the collector, who may object to such as may appear to him disqualified by character or otherwise, and require the manager to appoint others. These orders are to be considered applicable to the manager's sudder establishment, and also to his mofussil establishment, in estates of considerable extent, where mofussil officers may be necessary. (i) Any officer, sudder or mofussil, who may be proved to the satisfaction of the Court of Wards, to have appropriated to his own use, directly or indirectly, any sum of money or other property beyond his fixed allowance, is to be deemed guilty of embezzlement, and to be liable to the same fine as the manager in similar cases, besides dismission from his office.

Penalty for embezzlement proved against such officers.

XII. First. By the rules for the decennial settlement, the assessment of lands the property of disqualified proprietors, is to be fixed in like manner as that of other lands; and the following orders have been passed for the guidance of the managers and collectors, regarding the payment of this assessment, as well as respecting the general appropriation of the receipts of the managers from the lands under their charge.

Rules for the guidance of the collectors, and managers regarding the payment of the public assessment, and general appropriation of the managers receipts.

Provision for the support of the proprietors and their families.

Second. An allowance of ten per cent on the public revenue assessed on the lands of disqualified proprietors, or of ten per cent on the actual revenue paid to Government, in the event of the whole of the assessment not being realized, is to be fixed for the support of the proprietors, and such persons of their families as may be entitled to receive a provision from them, and the appointed manager of such lands, shall be authorized to pay this allowance monthly, in proportion to his actual monthly payments of revenue to the collector, and no further. Instead of paying the whole of his receipts to the collector, he is to pay the monthly kists of Government's revenue only to the collector, or such part thereof as he may be able to discharge from his collections, after defraying the charges of his approved establishment and the allowance of the proprietors; but he is to deliver a monthly account current of his receipts and disbursements to the collector, (j) who is to audit the disbursements therein specified, and see that the receipts, after defraying the necessary charges, and providing the authorized allowance of the proprietor, have been fairly appropriated to the payment of the revenue due to Government. As the lands of disqualified proprietors are not held answerable for the payment of the revenue assessed thereon, in the event of the neat collections of any year proving inadequate to the payment of the fixed assessment, in addition to the allowance of the proprietor, and of there being a surplus collection in any future year, the collector shall take care that such surplus is appropriated to the discharge of the arrear due to Government, and the proportion of the proprietor's allowance, which must also, according to the rule laid down, be at the same time in arrear; or, if no such balance be outstanding, he shall see the surplus expended by the manager for the improvement of the lands, or otherwise for the benefit of the estate under his charge.

Collector to see the manager's neat receipts fairly appropriated to the payment of the public revenue.

Deficiencies in revenue of any year how to be made good; and surplus receipts of any year how to be appropriated.

XIII. By the foregoing rules, ten per cent on the revenue assessed, or realized, is fixed as the general allowance for the support of disqualified proprietors, and such persons of their families as may be entitled to receive a provision from them; but as in some instances this allowance may be more than adequate to the expense of suitably maintaining and educating minors, or maintaining other disqualified proprietors, as well as of making a provision for their relations entitled thereto; or, on the other hand, may not be sufficient for these purposes, in some instances where there may be other funds arising from lakheraje lands, or other resources independent of the malguzarry lands, which might be appropriated thereto; the collectors are vested with a discretionary power to reduce the ten per cent allowance in the former case, and to increase it in the latter, as on a consideration of the rank and circumstances of the parties, and the amount of their allowances and other income, they may think proper. They are, however, to report any instances of the exercise of this power, in their monthly communications to the Court of Wards, and previous to authorizing any increase of the fixed allowance, are to ascertain with accuracy, that there are lakheraje lands, or other resources independent of the malguzarry lands, fully adequate to make good the same, without which, no excess is to be admitted, unless the Governor General in Council should think proper to grant a dispensation from the general rule, in any particular case that may appear to require it. In the event of any reduction of the allowance fixed for the support of disqualified proprietors, the difference is to be applied by the manager to the benefit of the estate under his charge, to which purpose he is also to apply the income arising from resources independent of the malguzarry lands, which, the collector, under the discretion above vested in him, may judge unnecessary for the education or maintenance of the proprietors, and the necessary provision of their relations entitled thereto.

Discretionary power vested in collectors to reduce or increase, in certain cases, the general allowance fixed for the support of proprietors and their families.

Restrictions on the exercise of this power.

Manager to appropriate the savings arising from such reduction of allowance to the benefit of the estate; as well as any surplus income arising from resources independent of the malguzarry lands not otherwise appropriated by the collector.

XIV. Where a distinct guardian may be appointed, as hereafter specified, the manager is to pay to him the amount of the allowance fixed for the maintenance or education of the proprietors, and of the provision for persons of their families entitled thereto, as well as the amount of any resources independent of the produce of the malguzarry lands, which the collectors, under the discretion vested in them by the foregoing article, may think it proper to allot for these purposes.

Payments to be made by the manager to the guardian when distinct.

XV. Agreeably to the distinction laid down in Section VII, the manager is to have the entire care of the estate, real and personal. He will therefore have the exclusive charge of all lands, malguzarry or lakheraje, as well as all houses, tenements, goods, money, and moveables of whatever nature, belonging to the proprietor whose estate may be committed to his charge, excepting only the house wherein such proprietor may reside, the moveables wanted for his or her use, and the money allowed for the support Specification of property to be entrusted to the manager and guardian respectively.

(j) When portions of the same estate of a disqualified landholder may be situated in different zillahs, the manager is to render his accounts for the whole estate to the collector of the zillah in which the principal portion of the estate may be situated. See R. 53, of 1793, S. 5.

Exception to the rule.

Collector to audit disbursements and see receipts duly appropriated.

Surplus receipts when not required for the improvement of the lands, how to be appropriated.

Title deeds, mortgage deeds, and Government paper securities, now or hereafter belonging to the estate, how to be disposed of.

every of the proprietor, and his or her family entitled to a provision, which are to be left to the care of the guardian, where distinct guardians may be appointed. Both managers and guardians, on their receiving charge of any property, are to sign an exact inventory of the same, which is to be deposited in the treasury of the collectorship.

XVI. The manager, agreeably to the terms of his obligation, is to manage the estate committed to him, diligently and faithfully, for the benefit of the proprietor, and in every respect to act to the best of his judgment for the proprietor's interest, in like manner, as if the estate were his own. In instances however, where he may act for a proprietor under age, not otherwise disqualified, he is not to grant any lease extending beyond the life of the proprietor, or contrary to Regulation XLIV, 1793, or to dispose of any part of the permanent property committed to his custody, without the sanction of the Court of Wards.

XVII. In addition to the monthly account current required in clause second, section XII, the manager at the expiration of every year, is to deliver to the collector, an annual account current of his receipts and disbursements upon oath, with vouchers for the latter, (unless the Court of Wards shall be satisfied that it will be for the benefit of their general trust, to admit the manager to deliver in such accounts, under a solemn declaration of their being true and faithful accounts, in which case they are empowered to receive the accounts under such declaration, instead of an oath,) and the collector is to audit the disbursements, and take care that the whole of the surplus receipts be duly appropriated, in the manner specified in clause second, section XII.

XVIII. If the collector should think it unnecessary, or unadvisable, to appropriate such surplus receipts to the improvement of the lands already under the managers charge, he shall cause the same to be applied by the manager to the purchase of other landed property, or to interest loans on mortgages, or to the purchase of Government paper securities, as circumstances may render preferable; in which cases, he shall transmit the title deeds and mortgage deeds of the land purchases, or mortgages, to the Court of Wards, to be deposited in the general treasury; but as interest will occasionally become payable on the Government paper securities, he shall deposit them in the public treasury under his charge, giving in all cases a receipt to the manager as well for the title and mortgage deeds, as the paper securities. The Court of Wards are also to obtain the sub-treasurer's receipt for the two former, when deposited in the general treasury, and are to transmit an attested copy thereof to the collector, to be delivered by him to the manager. The manager shall also deliver any existing title or mortgage deeds, or Government securities, belonging to the estate under his charge, to the collector, who shall, in like manner, return a receipt for the same, and transmit them to the Court of Wards, or deposit them in his public treasury as above directed. Any interest becoming payable on Government securities, is to be paid to the manager, to be appropriated by him, in common with other resources, independent of the produce of the malguzarry lands, as before mentioned.

XIX. Any just debts now out-standing against, or hereafter adjudged against, the estates of disqualified landholders, must necessarily be satisfied (if required so to be by the creditors) as far as may be consistent with the rights of Government, to whom the produce of the malguzarry lands is mortgaged in the first instance, for the payment of the public revenue assessed thereon. The circumstances of all such debts however, are to be immediately reported to the collector, and by him, without delay, to the Court of Wards, with his sentiments on the best mode of satisfying the same, for their instructions, previous to any payment being made by the manager in discharge of them. In the event of any debts being compounded for a less sum than the full amount, the estate is to be debited by the manager for the actual payment only.

XX. Agreeably to section VII, it will be the province of guardians appointed for disqualified landholders, to take care of the person, maintenance, and, if a minor, the education of the wards.

Province of guardians.

XXI. The rules contained in section VIII, for the election of managers are to be applied also to the choice of guardians, with these differences, that the guardianship shall in no instance be entrusted to the legal heir, or other person interested in out-living the ward, and that female minors shall have guardians of their own sex. Further, under these restrictions, landholders, whose heirs are disqualified, may appoint guardians to such heirs by will in writing; and such guardians, (provided they be duly qualified) if willing to accept the trust, and execute the obligation hereafter specified, shall be preferred. Such testamentary appointments however, shall in all instances be reported, with the sentiments of the collector, for the confirmation of the Court of Wards, and shall not be deemed valid till confirmed by them.

Rules to be observed in the choice of guardians.

XXII. Landholders disqualified on account of minority, idiotism, lunacy, or other natural defect or infirmity, rendering them incapable of attending to the care of their own persons and maintenance, will alone require guardians. Female, as well as male proprietors, not so disqualified, may themselves receive and disburse the allowance fixed for their maintenance.

What landholders will require guardians.

XXIII. For persons of the descriptions above mentioned, it is expected, that some friend of the party will gratuitously discharge the trust of guardian, appropriating the fixed allowance to the maintenance, and, if a minor, to the education also, of the ward. Should it however, in any instance, be found necessary to make a pecuniary compensation to a person to act as guardian, such compensation, after being approved by the Court of Wards, is to be provided from the allowance fixed for the maintenance of the ward.

Compensation to guardians, when necessary, how to be provided.

XXIV. The guardian, previous to the receipt of his commission, is to give security for his appearance during the continuance of it, and is to execute the following obligation.

Security to be given, and obligation to be executed, by guardians.

"I, A. B. having voluntarily taken on myself the guardianship of C———, disqualified proprietor of D———, do hereby solemnly promise and engage, to execute the trust committed to me, zealously and faithfully, to the best of my judgment, and according to the Regulations which have been, or may be, prescribed for the guidance of guardians, by the Governor General in Council. I will conscientiously appropriate the allowance fixed for the maintenance, and (if the ward be a minor) the education of my ward, to his (or her) benefit, and will derive no advantage therefrom myself, directly or indirectly, beyond the compensation granted me for my superintendence. I also promise and engage, to render a true and just account of whatsoever may be received by me, on account of my ward above mentioned, and in the event of it being proved that I have been guilty of any embezzlement, or of any breach of trust, injurious to his (or her) property, I hereby bind myself, my heirs and successors, to make good treble the amount of the embezzlement or injury so proved against me."

XXV. An establishment of necessary servants to act under the guardian, is to be proposed by the guardian, to the collector, and fixed by the Court of Wards, and the several rules and restrictions in section XI, regarding the establishments of managers, are to be considered equally applicable to the establishments of guardians. The expense of the latter, is to be defrayed from the allowance fixed for the support of the proprietors.

Establishment of servants to act under guardians by whom to be proposed and fixed. Rules applicable to such establishments. Expenses from what fund to be defrayed.

XXVI. The guardian is to deliver a monthly account current of his receipts and disbursements, to the collector, who shall audit the disbursements therein specified, and see that the receipts have been fairly and duly appropriated. The guardian is also to deliver an annual account current upon oath, (unless the Court of Wards shall be satisfied that it will be for the benefit of their general trust, to admit the guardian Cases in which the trusts of guardian and manager may be united in persons to whom the inheritance cannot descend. Rule to be observed in such cases.

Minors, and others having guardians not to be sued but under the protection and joint name of their guardians.

XXVII. In cases of minority, where the minor may be a male, the superintendence of his female relations is not to be allowed after the expiration of the fifth year, and on his attaining the age of tuition, it must be the first care of the guardian to procure proper teachers to give him an education suitable to his situation in life.

XXVIII. Minority with respect to both Hindoos and Mahomedans, is limited to the expiration of the fifteenth year. (k)

XXIX. The guardians of female minors, who, agreeably to section XXI, are to be of the same sex, are also to take care that their wards, when arrived at the age of tuition, receive an education suitable to their condition.

XXX. The trusts of guardian and manager, may be united in persons to whom the inheritance cannot possibly descend, if circumstances should render the same eligible; but in this case, the trustee shall be considered as acting in two distinct characters, and shall execute the obligations of both manager and guardian, and deliver the accounts required from each distinctly.

XXXI. Both manager and guardian, shall sign and seal all papers with their own names and seals, adding to the former their designation of manager or guardian. They shall on no account sign or seal the name of their ward, or of his (or her) deceased parents, but shall deliver all family seals belonging to the ward to the collector, to be deposited in the treasury of the collectorship.

XXXII. First. Minors, and other disqualified landholders having guardians, as described in section XXII, shall not be sued but under the protection and joint name of their guardians. (l)

Second. They may however during the term of their disqualification, sue the collectors, their guardians, or managers, before the Court of Wards, for fraud, by any person willing to undertake their cause, provided he shall previously give security for the payment of all costs and damages in case of being non-suit; in return for which, the person so suing, shall receive any fine and costs that may be a judgment against the collector, guardian, or manager, in the cause undertaken by him. (m) The Court of Wards may order the collector to enquire into, and report upon, any such charges against guardians, or managers, but the collector is not to pass judgment, which is to be given by the Court of Wards. If the Court of Wards, or the collector, shall have occasion to require the attendance of any persons in the course of such enquiries, they shall make application to the judge of the proper dewanny adawlut to summon them to attend, and the Court of Wards and collectors, are empowered to administer oaths to such persons, if necessary, under the rules and restrictions prescribed to the zillah and city courts for the administration of oaths. The Court of Wards are to transmit copies of any judgments which may be given by them under this clause, against a collector, guardian, or manager, to the court of dewanny adawlut of the zillah, and they shall be considered as judgments of the court, and be enforced accordingly. An appeal however shall lie from such judgments immediately to the Sudder Dewanny XXXIII. No adoption by disqualified landholders is to be deemed valid, without the previous consent of the Court of Wards, on application made to them through the colle tor.

No adoption by disqualified landholders valid without previous consent of the Court of Wards.

XXXIV. When the collectors report to the Board of Revenue the disqualification of any landholder, they are at the same time to state the condition of the party, the particulars of his or her estate, real and personal, as far as can be ascertained, and the person who may appear to them most eligible for manager and guardian, with the grounds of such opinion. In cases of testamentary appointments of guardians, they are also to notice the same, adding whether there be any and what objections to the confirmation of such appointments.

Information to accompany the collector's reports of disqualified landholders.

XXXV. The collectors are further to make such monthly or annual reports to the Court of Wards as may be required by them, and they, as well as managers and guardians, are to observe all instructions transmitted to them by the Court of Wards, not contrary to this Regulation, or such other Regulations as may be hereafter enacted by the Governor General in Council.

Collectors to make such further reports as may be required by the Court of Wards, and they as well as managers and guardians to observe all instructions transmitted by that court, not contrary to these, or future Regulations of the Governor General in Council.

The rules regarding the suits specified in section XXXIII, Regulation XIV, 1793, which the collectors are required to defend at their own risk and expense, are to be considered applicable to suits that may be instituted against collectors under this section. Collectors, managers, and guardians, liable to be sued for any act done in opposition to this Regulation, or any breach of their respective trusts, after the estate shall be removed from under the charge of the Court of Wards.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION XI.

A REGULATION for removing certain restrictions to the operation of the Hindoo and Mahomedan laws, with regard to the inheritance of landed property, subject to the payment of revenue to Government.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengul era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1250 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higree.

A CUSTOM, originating in considerations of financial convenience, was established in these provinces under the native administrations, according to which, some of the most extensive zeginदारries are not liable to division. Upon the death of the proprietor of one of these estates, it devolves entire to the eldest son, or next heir of the deceased, to the exclusion of all other sons or relations. This custom is repugnant both to the Hindoo and Mahomedan laws, which annex to primogeniture no exclusive right of succession to landed property, and consequently subversive of the rights of those individuals, who would be entitled to a share of the estates in question, were the established laws of inheritance allowed to operate with regard to them, as well as all other estates. It likewise tends to prevent the general improvement of the country, from the proprietors of these large estates not having the means, or being unable to bestow the attention, requisite for bringing into cultivation the extensive tracts of waste land comprised in them. For the above reasons, and as the limitation of the public demand upon the estates of individuals as they now exist, and the rules prescribed for apportioning the amount of it on the several shares of any estates which may be divided, obviate the objections and inconveniencies that might have arisen from such divisions, when the public demand was liable to annual or frequent variation; the Governor General in Council has enacted the following rules. (a)

After the 1st July 1794, landed property to descend according to the Mahomedan or Hindoo law, unless the last proprietor shall have otherwise disposed of it, in a manner sanctioned by those laws.

II. After the first of July 1794, corresponding with the 20th Assar 1201 Bengal era; the 17th Assar 1201 Fussily; 20th Assar 1201 Willaity; 17th Assar 1851 Sumbut; and the 2d Zehigeh 1208 Higeree; if any zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, shall die without a will, or without having declared by a writing, or verbally, to whom and in what manner his or her landed property is to devolve after his or her demise, and shall leave two or more heirs, who, by the Mahomedan or Hindoo law, (according as the parties may be of the former or latter persuasion,) may be respectively entitled to succeed to a portion of the landed property of the deceased, such persons shall succeed to the shares to which they may be so entitled.

Two or more persons succeeding to an estate, to be at liberty to hold it as a joint undivided estate;

III. (k) The Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, is likewise empowered to receive charges of corruption or extortion, which may be preferred against a ministerial officer of a zillah or city court, that may have been preferred in the first instance to the provincial court, in any appeal or matter depending before it, or which may have been decided by it, and to refer it to such provincial court, or to the zillah or city court, to which the accused may be attached, provided the complainant shall prove to the satisfaction of the court, that he preferred the charge to the provincial court, and offered to make the required oath or declaration, and give the security prescribed in clause first, (k) and shall moreover make the required oath or declaration, and enter into the security prescribed in the above mentioned clause. (k) But if any person shall charge a ministerial officer of any zillah or city court, before the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, with corruption or extortion in any suit or matter that may be depending before it, or which may have been decided by it, the court may receive the charge, and refer it for trial to the zillah or city court, to which the offender may be attached, without

(h) This rule, regarding security, is qualified by R. 10, of 1806, S. 10. See the preceding notes. See also R. 26, of 1814, S. 3, regarding summary appeals, with which the rules in this clause, and in clause fourth following, correspond.

But if any person shall charge a ministerial officer of any zillah or city court with corruption or extortion in any appeal or matter which may be depending, or have been decided, in the provincial court, such court may receive the charge, and refer it to the zillah or city court to which the accused may be attached without further enquiry, provided the complainant shall previously make the prescribed oath or declaration, and give the security required in clause first. Seventh. Charges of corruption or extortion that may be preferred against the ministerial officers of any civil or criminal court of judicature under this section, are to be considered as civil actions, and accordingly, are to be prosecuted in the civil courts. Conformably to this rule, whenever the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, or the Nizamut Adawlut, may receive any such charge against their own officers, or exercise the powers vested in them by clause fifth, they are to direct the complainant to prosecute the charge in the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut: and whenever the provincial courts of appeal, or the courts of circuit, may receive any such charge against any of their own ministerial officers, or the ministerial officers of any zillah or city court, or, in the event of any such charge being referred to them, they are to direct the complainant to prosecute the charge before the provincial court of appeal: and whenever any zillah or city court may receive any such charge against their ministerial officers, or any such charge may be referred to them by the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, or the provincial court of appeal, they are to direct the complainant to prosecute the charge in the Dewanny Adawlut.

In enforcing the decision, the court is to observe the rules prescribed for enforcing other decisions of the court. If the officer against whom such decree may be passed, shall not appeal from it within the limited time, or, if an appeal shall not lie from the decision, the court is to transmit a copy of the decree to the Governor General in Council. If an appeal shall lie from the decision, and such officer shall prefer an appeal, and the decision shall be confirmed in appeal, the court by which the final decision may be passed, is to transmit a copy of it to the Governor General in Council, who reserves to himself the power of declaring such officer incapable of serving Government in any capacity. The courts may suspend a native officer against whom a charge of corruption or extortion may be preferred, until the final decision may be passed, if they shall see cause for so doing.

The Governor General in Council, provided he shall think it proper so to do, will dismiss such officer from his appointment, or both dismiss him from his appointment, and suspend him from the service of the Honorable Company. A copy of every decree passed by a court, acquitting a ministerial officer of a charge of corruption or extortion, is to be transmitted by the court to the Governor General in Council, within one week after it may be passed. ## A. D. 1793. REGULATION XIV.

A REGULATION for the recovery of arrears of the public revenue assessed upon the lands, from zemindars, independent talookdars, and other actual proprietors of land, and farmers of land holding farms immediately of Government.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Hidgee.

TO ensure the punctual-collection of the annual revenue payable to Government by the proprietors and farmers of land, it is essential that the collectors should be armed with powers to enforce the discharge of it, without having recourse to the courts of justice, as the delay that must necessarily attend the institution of a law process for the recovery of every arrear, would encourage persons destitute of good faith to withhold the public dues, and render the collection of them a source of endless litigation. It is equally requisite upon general principles, that the collectors should exercise these powers at their own peril, that they may be deterred from abusing them for the purposes of exaction and oppression, whereby the improvement of landed property would be discouraged, and the value of it continue uncertain, and consequently depreciated. The collectors having in their possession the engagements of the proprietors and farmers of land, which specify the amount of the annual revenue that they have respectively agreed to pay, with the monthly proportions in which it is to be discharged, and also the rules defining the process by which they are to compel the payment of arrears, can never suffer from unjust prosecutions, so long as they are careful not to infringe those rules and engagements, as the courts of justice, at the same time that they will restrain them from abusing their power, will always support them in the due exercise of it, for enforcing payment of what they are authorized to demand on behalf of the State. On the other hand, the proprietors and farmers of land, will be able to prevent the powers delegated to the collectors of revenue, being exercised to their detriment, by performing punctually the engagements which they have voluntarily entered into with the publick. Until they previously violate those engagements, the collector will have no authority to issue any process affecting either their persons, rights, or property; and if he exceeds or abuses the powers vested in him, they will be able to obtain redress for the injury which they may sustain, by prosecuting him in the court of justice. The Governor General in Council has accordingly enacted as follows. (a)

II. If the whole, or a portion, of the kist or instalment payable in any month, by a proprietor or farmer of land, shall remain undischarged on the first of the following month, the sum so remaining unpaid, is to be considered an arrear of revenue.

What is to be considered an arrear of re-

III. When a collector shall have occasion to require payment of an arrear of revenue, from any zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, or any farmer of land, he is to demand the discharge of it by a writing under his official seal, and attested by his signature, and that of his dewan, (b) specifying the amount of the arrear, and the date on which it became due, and requiring it to be paid at the treasury of the collectorship, within a certain number of days after the day on which the writing may be served, in the manner herein specified. In fixing the day for the payment of the arrear, the collector is to advert to the distance of his place of residence from the estate or farm of the defaulter, and allow a reasonable time for him to convey the money to the public treasury. The collector is to deliver the writing to a single peon, with directions to proceed either to the principal cutcherry of the defaulter, in the estate or farm on account of which the arrear may be due, or to the usual place of abode of the defaulter, if it be within the limits of his zillah, according as he may deem advisable. The defaulter, or his head officer in attendance in such cutcherry, is to grant, and the peon is to take, a receipt for the writing, specifying the date on which he may present it. The defaulter, or his officer above mentioned, is to pay to the peon two annas per day for his subsistence, (excepting in districts where custom has fixed the subsistence money of peons at a lower rate, in which case such lower rate, and no more, shall be exacted,) for the time allowed for delivering the writing, and returning to the collector. The name of the peon who may be deputed, the amount of his subsistence money, and the number of days for which he is to receive it, are to be endorsed on the writing. If the peon deputed to serve the demand for the arrears, shall not meet with, or be able to gain admittance to, the defaulter, or his head officer, by the evening of the day following the day on which he may arrive at his usual place of abode, or at his cutcherry above specified, or, if the defaulter, or his head officer, shall refuse or omit to give the receipt above required to the peon, immediately upon his presenting the writing, he is on the same evening to fix up the writing on the outer door or gate of such place or cutcherry, and return to the collector, to whom he is to report the date on which he may have fixed it up. (c)

Cases in which collectors are authorized, and required, to cause defaulting proprietors and farmers of land to be confined.

IV. If any zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, or any farmer of land, shall omit to discharge the whole of an arrear of revenue, which may be demanded of him in the manner prescribed in section III, by the period limited in the writing, the collector, unless the defaulter shall have fallen in arrear, so as not to have paid a third part of the instalment of any one month, by the fifteenth of the ensuing month, is authorized either to cause him to be confined or not, as from circumstances may appear to him advisable. But if any proprietor, or farmer of land, shall not have discharged a third of the instalment of any one month, by the fifteenth of the ensuing month, and, after having been served with the written demand specified in section III, for the whole arrear, shall omit to pay the amount of it within the time prescribed in the writing, or, if any proprietor or farmer of land, shall have fallen in arrears, to the amount of two thirds of the list of any one month, and the collector, previous to the fifteenth of the ensuing month, shall have demanded the discharge of the arrears in the mode prescribed in section III, and fixed any day, subsequent to the fifteenth of the last mentioned month, for the payment of it, and the defaulter shall omit to discharge the whole amount by the prescribed period, the collector is positively enjoined to cause the defaulter to be imprisoned. The collectors are prohibited taking any proprietor or farmer of land into custody, and causing him to be confined for an arrear of revenue, until the defaulter has been served with the written demand for the arrear, as directed in this section, and he shall have failed to pay the amount by the limited period, under pain of being prosecuted by the defaulter in the Dewanny Adawlat, or court of civil judicature of the zillah, for false imprisonment, and paying such damages as the court may award against him. V. When a collector shall proceed under section IV, (c) to the confinement of a zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, or farmer of land, for the recovery of arrears, he shall depute two peons, but no greater number than two, with a writing under his official seal, and attested with his signature, and that of his dewan (f) specifying the amount of the arrear due from the defaulter, and the date on which it became payable, and requiring him to deliver himself into the custody of the peons, that they may convey him to the jail of the Dewanny Adawlat of the zillah. The peons are to carry the defaulter direct to the jail. (g) Immediately upon the arrival of the defaulter at the jail, the collector is to apply to the court, by motion in writing to be made in open court, if the court shall be sitting, through the pleader of Government, for the confinement of the defaulter. If the court shall not be sitting, the motion is to be presented to the judge out of court. The motion is to specify the amount of the arrear due from the defaulter, and the date on which it became payable. Upon receipt of the motion, the judge is immediately to order the defaulter, to be confined in the jail of the dewanny adawlat, and detain him there, until he shall have discharged the arrear for which he may have been taken into custody, and all subsequent arrears, that may become due during his confinement, or until the collector shall apply to the court, by motion made as above directed, to have him released. Peons deputed to take defaulting proprietors or farmers of land into custody under this section, are to receive from the defaulter, two annas per day each for their subsistence, (excepting in districts where custom has fixed the subsistence money of peons at a lower rate, in which case such lower rate, and no more, shall be exacted,) for the time allowed for taking him into custody, and conveying him to jail. The names of the peons who may be deputed, the amount of the subsistence money, and the number of days for which they are to receive it, are to be endorsed on the writing. If the defaulter shall not reside or be within the limits of the zillah, wherein the lands on account of which the arrear shall be due may be situated, the collector is to order the two peons, whom he may charge with the writing, to proceed direct to the collector of the zillah in which the defaulter may be or reside, and such collector shall immediately send with them a peon, to point out the place of residence of the defaulter. The two peons shall take the defaulter into custody, and convey him to the jail of the dewanny adawlut of the zillah in which they may so apprehend him. (h) The collector who may issue the writing, shall forward to the vakeel of Government in such zillah, the prescribed motion for the confinement of the defaulter, so that he may have it ready to present to the judge, immediately upon the arrival of the defaulter at the jail. The collector is to be careful likewise to specify in the writing for taking the defaulter into custody, the name of the zillah to the jail of which he is to be conducted. With the above exceptions as to the mode of serving the process, and the jail in which the defaulter is directed to be confined, all the other rules contained in this Regulation regarding his case, are to be considered equally applicable to it, as if he had been imprisoned in the jail of the zillah, wherein the lands on account of which the arrear shall be due may be situated. All suits or complaints, which the defaulter may have to prefer against the collector, or his officers, or the aumeen who may be deputed to take charge of his lands, are accordingly to be lodged in the dewanny adawlut of the last mentioned zillah, and the judge of the zillah, in the jail of which the defaulter may be confined, is to give effect to all decrees or orders which may be transmitted to him by the judge of the zillah, in which the suits or complaints of the defaulter may be so preferred.

VI. When a collector shall proceed to confine a zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, or farmer of land, under section IV, he is to depute an aumeen, with a proper establishment of officers, to collect the rents and revenues, from the estate or farm of the defaulter. (i) The collector is to transmit the establishment to the Board of Revenue, (j) who are to submit it to the Governor General in Council, with a recommendation that it be confirmed or altered as may appear to them advisable. (k) The expense of the establishment of the aumeen when approved, and all other charges attending his deputation which may be admitted, shall be defrayed by the defaulter, and disbursed from the collections made from his estate or farm. The dewan, or head native officer of the defaulter, or any other person whom he may think proper to appoint, is to keep a counterpart of the accounts of the receipts and disbursements of the aumeen. In cases in which no engagements may exist between the defaulter and his dependent talookdars or ryots, the aumeen is to collect from them according to the established rates and usages of the purgunnah. (m) The aumeen shall likewise be subject to a prosecution by the proprietor of the estate, or the farmer, for embezzlement, or injuries done to the estate, or farm, during the time that the collection of the rents and revenues of it may be entrusted to him. If the estate or farm of the defaulter, shall be too inconsiderable to admit of its being charged with the expense of the appointment of an aumeen, it shall be committed to the nearest tehseldar, or other officer, employed under the collector in the business of the collections, who shall perform the duties above prescribed to the aumeen, and under the same restrictions and penalties. VII. To prevent proprietors or farmers of land withholding the payment of the public revenue, to derive the benefit of the use of the money, or otherwise applying it to their private purposes, the Board of Revenue are empowered, in every case in which it shall appear to them that a zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, or farmer of land, has wantonly, or without sufficient cause established to their satisfaction, withheld the payment of the public dues, to charge the defaulter with interest on the arrear, at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, from the period at which it may become payable, until the date on which it may be discharged. The order of the Board of Revenue to the collector to levy the interest, shall be a sufficient authority to him to enforce the payment of it, by the process to which he is empowered to have recourse, for compelling the discharge of arrears of the stipulated public revenue. But the Board of Revenue, are not to order the collector to exact the interest, until they have submitted the circumstances of the case to the Governor General in Council, and received his sanction for the demand of it. If the crops in any estate, or farm, shall have been damaged or destroyed by drought, inundation, or other calamity of season, or from any cause not originating in the neglect, mismanagement, or misconduct, of the proprietor or farmer; and such proprietor or farmer shall fall in arrears so as to subject himself to be confined under section IV, and the collector shall be satisfied from the best information which he may be able to obtain, that the defaulter is unable to make good the arrears by the period limited in the written demand for the payment of them, required to be issued under section III, either from the collections on account of such year from his estate or farm, or from his private funds, or property, or by a loan; he is directed to suspend the exercise of the powers vested in him in the first mentioned section for the confinement of the defaulter. IX. If a collector shall demand a sum of money on account of arrears of public revenue, from a zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, under section III, and the proprietor shall deny, by a writing addressed to the collector, that any part of the arrears claimed is due from him, and within the time limited in the written demand for the payment of the arrears, shall tender good security to the collector, to institute a suit against him in the court of dewanny adawlut of the zillah, within ten days commencing from the date of the deed of security, or, if the court shall be shut, and shall not be opened until after the expiration of such ten days, within three days calculating from the day on which it may be opened, to try the justness of the demand, and to pay the amount of the arrear that may be finally adjudged to be due from him, with interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, from the date on which the arrear became due, to the date of the decree, with all costs of suit, the collector is not to issue any further process against him on account of the demand. If such proprietor however, shall omit to institute the suit within the time stipulated, or to pay the arrear, the collector is to demand in writing from the surety, the immediate discharge of the arrear, with interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, from the date on which it became due, to the day of payment; and in the event of it not being forthwith discharged by the surety or the defaulter, he is to proceed against both of them, in the manner in which he is enjoined in sections IV and V, to proceed against defaulting proprietors of land, who shall not have discharged a third part of the instalment of any one month, by the fifteenth of the following month; and the surety shall be kept in confinement, until the arrear, with the interest upon it at the above-mentioned rate, from the date on which it may become due, to the day on which it may be paid, shall be discharged by him or the defaulter, or be made good by the sale of their property. (q)

Collectors not to confine proprietors of land, who deny the whole of the arrear demanded, and give security to bring the demand before the dewanny adawlut, and to pay the amount that may be decreed against them with costs.

Collectors to confine such proprietors, if they omit to institute the suit within the time limited.

X. If a collector shall demand from any actual proprietor of land, a sum of money on account of arrears of public revenue, in the mode prescribed in section III, and the proprietor shall acknowledge a part of the demand to be due, but deny, by a writing addressed to the collector, the justness of the remainder, and pay the part which he may admit to be due, within the time limited in the written demand for the discharge of the whole arrear claimed, and give the security required in section IX, from proprietors of land denying the justness of any part of an arrear demanded of them, the collector is not to issue any further process against him, on account of the part of the arrear so denied. If such proprietor however, shall not pay the part of the demand admitted by him, within the time prescribed, or if he shall duly pay such part, but omit to institute the suit within the stipulated period, or to discharge the whole of the demand, the collector is to require in writing from the surety, the immediate payment of the arrear, with interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, from the date on which it became due, to the day of payment; and, in the event of the amount not being forthwith discharged by the surety or the defaulter, he is to proceed against both of them, in the manner in which he is enjoined in sections IV and V to proceed against defaulting proprietors, who shall not have discharged a third part of the instalment of any one month, by the fifteenth of the following month; and the surety shall be kept in confinement, until the arrear, with the interest upon it, from the date on which it became due, to the day on which it may be paid, shall be discharged by him or the defaulter, or be made good by the sale of their property.

Judge to discharge the persons so confined, upon their executing the engagements, and performing the other acts therein required.

Persons confined by the collector for arrears at liberty to institute a suit against him to try the justice of the demand.

of the judge of the dewanny adawlut of the zillah, that the proprietor denied the justness of the whole or a part of the demand, and offered the security required in such cases in sections IX and X, and, if he admitted a part of the demand, paid, or actually tendered such part, within the limited time, and that the collector omitted or refused to accept the security or payment; the judge, after taking the required security, and in case of a part of the demand being admitted, receiving payment of such part in deposit, is to release such proprietor, who shall be at liberty to prosecute the collector in the dewanny adawlut of the zillah for false imprisonment. The courts are to pay the sums which they may receive in deposit under this section, to the collector of the revenue of the zillah, wherein the lands of the proprietor, on account of which the arrear may have been demanded, may be situated.

XII. Every proprietor or farmer of land, who may be in confinement for arrears of revenue, that may not have been adjudged to be due from him by a judicial decree, and who may deem the demand not warranted by his engagements with Government, is permitted to prosecute the collector by whom he may have been imprisoned, in the dewanny adawlut of the zillah, wherein the lands on account of which the arrears shall be claimed may be situated, to try the justness of the demand. If no part of the arrear claimed shall be found to be due from him, the judge shall release him, and decree such costs and damages against the collector, as he may deem equitable, upon a consideration of the circumstances of the case. If only a part of the demand shall appear due, the court is to discharge the prisoner upon his paying such part. In both cases however, the court, previous to releasing such person, shall take good security from him to perform the final decision in appeal, in the event of the cause being appealed by the collector, in consequence of orders from the Board of Revenue, or without their orders. If the collector shall represent to the court, that an appeal will not be preferred from the decision, or if an appeal shall not be lodged within the time limited for preferring appeals to the provincial courts of appeal, the judge shall release the person so confined, without taking such security. (r) But no collector shall be liable to the payment of any damages, for causing proprietors of land, or their sureties, to be confined under sections IX, X, or XI, in consequence of their not instituting the suit conformably to their engagement, or performing the other conditions to which they may have agreed, as therein specified, although it should be determined upon trial, that no part of the arrear which was to constitute the subject of the suit, was due. (s)

XIII. At the expiration of the year, if an arrear shall remain due from any zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land who may not be in confinement, the collector is to communicate the amount to the Board of Revenue, who are to report it to the Governor General in Council, and recommend the sale of such a portion of the estate of the defaulter, as may be sufficient for the liquidation of the amount. (t) If however an arrear of revenue shall be stated to be outstanding against any actual proprietor of land, and he shall have given the security required, and instituted a suit under sections IX, X, or XI, to try the justness of the arrear demanded of him, his lands shall not be liable to sale for the arrears so claimed, until a final decision shall be passed in the cause. Lands not to be sold for arrears, without the sanction of the Governor General in Council.

XIV. If a collector shall demand a sum of money, on account of arrears of revenue from a zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, or any farmer of land, and such proprietor or farmer of land shall deny the justness of the whole or a part of the demand in a writing to that effect addressed to the collector, but to prevent any further process whatever being issued against him by the collector on account of the demand, shall discharge the whole of it, such proprietor or farmer of land shall be at liberty to prosecute the collector in the dewanny adawlut of the zillah for the recovery of the sum which he may consider to have been unjustly exacted from him; and if it shall appear to the judge that neither the whole nor any part of the demand was due, he shall decree the whole of the sum so paid, or such part of it as may not be proved to have been due, to be refunded from the treasury of the zillah. (w)

Proprietors or farmers of land denying the whole or part of a demand, but paying the whole to prevent any steps being taken against them by the collector, to be at liberty to prosecute him for the excess exacted.

XV. If a collector shall issue the process prescribed in section V, against any zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, to convey him to jail on account of arrears of the public revenue, and the defaulter shall refuse to obey, or resist, or cause to be resisted, the peons deputed by the collector to convey him to jail, or escape after being taken by them into custody, or abscond, or shut himself up in his own or any house, or in any building, or retire to any place, so that the process cannot be served upon him, the collector who may issue the writing, is immediately to represent the circumstances, through the vakeel of Government, to the dewanny adawlut of the zillah, wherein the lands on account of which the arrears shall be due, may be situated; and, upon the peons deputed to execute the process, or any two or more credible persons, making oath to the truth of the circumstances stated in the representation of the collector, the judge, provided he shall be satisfied in his own mind, from such depositions of the witnesses, and their answers upon oath to any questions which he may put to them, that the charge is well founded, shall require the defaulter, by a publication in writing, to deliver himself into the custody of the court within four weeks, calculating from the day following the date of the publication. The publication is to be written in the Persian and Bengal languages, if the estate of the defaulter shall be in Bengal or Orissa; or, in the Persian language, and the Hindoostanee language and Nagreee character, if it should be situated in Behar; and shall be fixed up, as early after the date of it as may be practicable, at his usual place of abode, or the principal cut herry in the estate on account of which the arrears may be due, in the office of collector, and the court room of the dewanny adawlut of the zillah. The collector is to continue the aumeen directed to be deputed by section VI, to collect the rents and revenues of the estate of the defaulter, in the same manner as if the process issued under section V, had been duly served, and obeyed by him.

In what language the publication is to be written, and where and when it is to be fixed up.

Aumeen to be continued in the same manner as if the process had been duly served.

XVI. If the defaulter shall not surrender himself, before the expiration of the period limited in the publication, directed to be made in section XV, or, if he shall deliver himself up within the prescribed time, and, after receiving his answer to the charge, and hearing the evidence which he may produce in his defence, and that which the collector may adduce in support of his representation, if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the court, that the defaulter is guilty of the charge, the court is to decree the proprietary right of the defaulter, and his heirs, in the estate on account of which the arrears may be due, forfeited to Government. defaulter shall not appeal from the decree to the provincial court of appeal, within the time limited for preferring appeals to that court, in section XII, Regulation V, 1793, the court is immediately to transmit to the Governor General in Council, a copy of the decree, and of all the proceedings respecting the charge. If the defaulter shall appeal to the provincial court of appeal within the prescribed period, and the court should confirm the decision of the zillah court, and the cause shall not be appealable to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, or, if it be appealable, and the defaulter shall not lodge an appeal within the time limited for preferring appeals to that court, in section X, Regulation VI, 1793, the provincial court is immediately to forward a copy of their decree and proceedings in the appeal, and of the proceedings and decree of the zillah court, to the Governor General in Council. If an appeal shall be received from the decision of the provincial court of appeal, and the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut should confirm the decree of the provincial court, they are immediately to transmit a copy of their decree and proceedings, and of the decrees and proceedings received from the provincial court of appeal, to the Governor General in Council. If the judge of the zillah court shall decree the charge not proved, he is nevertheless to detain the defaulter in confinement, in the same manner as if the process prescribed in section V, had been duly served upon him, and he had obeyed it; and the collector is immediately to obtain from the court, a copy of the decree and proceedings, and transmit them, with a letter containing his objections to the decision, to the Board of Revenue, who are to order the collector to appeal from it, or not, as may appear to them proper. If the Board shall order an appeal to be preferred, and it shall be lodged within the limited time, and the provincial court should reverse the decision of the zillah court, and adjudge the proprietary right in the estate forfeited, and the cause shall not be appealable to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, or if it shall be appealable, and an appeal should not be preferred within the limited time, the provincial court is immediately to forward a copy of their proceedings and decree in the appeal, and of the decree and proceedings of the zillah court, to the Governor General in Council. If the judge of the zillah court shall decree the charge proved, and the decision shall be reversed in the provincial court, the collector is immediately to transmit a copy of the decrees and proceedings of the zillah court, and provincial court of appeal, with a letter stating his objections to the decree of the latter court, to the Board of Revenue, who are to order him to appeal the cause to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, (provided the cause shall be appealable,) or not, as they may think proper. If the cause shall be appealed, and the appeal shall be received in the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, and the court should reverse the decision of the provincial court, and declare the proprietary right in the estate forfeited, the court is immediately to transmit a copy of their decree and proceedings, and of the decrees and proceedings received from the provincial court of appeal, to the Governor General in Council. That no doubt may be entertained from what decrees passed by the provincial courts of appeal under this section, an appeal is to be allowed to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, it is declared, that an appeal shall not lie to the last mentioned court, unless the annual produce of the estate of the defaulter on account of which the arrears may have been demanded, calculating according to the amount paid, or payable, by the dependent talookdars, under farmers, and ryots, to the defaulter, on account of the year in which the decision of the zillah court may be passed, shall exceed one thousand sicca rupees: and the collectors are enjoined, to insert generally in the representation which they are directed to make to the dewanny adawlut of the zillah in section XV, whether the produce of the estate on account of the year above mentioned, according to the best information they may have been able to obtain, exceeds or falls short of, one thousand sicca rupees, but without specifying the actual amount of the produce. If the defaulter shall not deliver himself up within the prescribed time time, or if he shall surrender himself by the limited period, and the collector shall have stated the produce of the estate to be under one thousand sicca rupees, and the defaulter shall not deny the truth of the collector's statement in his answer to the charge, and the cause should be afterwards brought before the provincial court of appeal, an appeal shall not lie from the decision of that court to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut. If the collector shall represent, that the produce of the estate for the year before mentioned, exceeds or falls short of one thousand sicca rupees, and the defaulter should appear within the limited time, and in his answer to the charge, object to the statement, the judge is to try the objections, and pass such decision upon them, as may appear to him equitable. If the cause should be afterwards brought before the provincial court of appeal, and no objection be offered by either party to the decision of the zillah court, on the collector's statement of the produce of the estate, it is to be held accurate. If objections should be offered, the provincial court is to try the objections, and pass such decision upon them, as may appear to it equitable. If an appeal from the decree of the provincial court should be presented to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, and the admission or rejection of the appeal, should depend upon the produce of the estate for the year before mentioned, exceeding or falling short of one thousand sicca rupees, the court of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut is to examine the decisions passed by the dewanny adawlut of the zillah, and the provincial court of appeal, respecting the produce of the estate, and either adjudge the cause to be appealable or not, as may appear to them equitable. (y) Decrees that may be passed under this section by the dewanny adawlut of any zillah, or any provincial court of appeal, or the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, adjudging the proprietary right in the estate of a defaulter to be forfeited to Government, shall not be carried into execution in any case whatever, without an order from the Governor General in Council confirming the decree, and directing in what manner the proprietary right in the estate shall be disposed of. It shall be at the option of the Governor General in Council, within four weeks after the receipt of a decree adjudging the proprietary right of any defaulter in an estate, forfeited, either to order the decree to be executed, or to commute the forfeiture for such fine, as upon a consideration of the situation and circumstances in life of the defaulter, he may think adequate to the offence for which the decree may be passed. In the event of the Governor General in Council commuting the forfeiture for a fine, the court which shall have transmitted the decree and proceedings to the Governor General in Council, upon receiving notice of the fine that he may impose, are to levy the amount of it by the same process by which they are directed to enforce decrees of the court, and to pay the amount to the collector of the zillah. But if the Governor General in Council shall not, within four weeks after the decree shall have been received by him, either order it to be executed, or commute the forfeiture for a fine, the decree is to stand good against the defaulter: (z) The process which a collector may institute against a defaulter, in the court of dewanny adawlut of the zillah, under this section, as well as the prosecution or defence of any appeal from the decision of such court, which may be preferred to the provincial court of appeal, or from the decree of the provincial court, to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, in which the collector may be appellant or respondent, is to be carried on at the public expense, and to be conducted by the vakeel of Government whom the collector is to furnish with the necessary instructions.

XVII. If the defaulter mentioned in section XVI, shall be allowed to retain the proprietary right in his estate, Government is to account to him for the amount received through the aumeen; and if it shall exceed the public revenue that was due Decrees passed under this section not to be carried into execution without the sanction of the Governor General in Council.

If the estate is decreed forfeited, the Governor General in Council, may confirm the decree, or commute the forfeiture for a fine, within four weeks after he may receive the decree.

Decree of forfeiture to be final, if not ordered to be executed, or commuted for a fine, within the time above mentioned.

Process and appeals instituted under this section, to be conducted by the vakeel of Government on the part of the collector, and to be carried on at the public expense.

from the estate, the expenses attending the deputation of the aumeen, and the fine which may be imposed upon the defaulter, the overplus is to be returned to him. If the sum received through the aumeen, shall be inadequate to the payment of the several demands abovementioned, and the defaulter shall not make good the deficiency, a portion of his lands is to be sold for the discharge of it.

XVIII. If the decree adjudging the proprietary right in the estate of the defaulter forfeited, shall be confirmed under section XVI, it shall be at the option of the Governor General in Council, either to confer such right upon the heirs of the defaulter, on their agreeing to make good all sums whatever that may be due to Government from the defaulter on account of the estate, and to pay the fixed revenue assessed upon it; or, to dispose of it at public sale subject to the payment of such revenue. If the estate shall be conferred upon the heirs of the defaulter, he is to be immediately released, if he should be in confinement. If the estate shall be disposed of at public sale, the proceeds of the sale are to be appropriated towards the discharge of the demands of Government, either on account of the public revenue, the expense attending the deputation of the aumeen, or other charges incurred in consequence of the default of the former proprietor. If no such demand shall be outstanding at the time of the sale, or if any such demand should be due, and the proceeds shall exceed the amount of it, the whole of the proceeds in the first mentioned case, and the overplus in the second, is to be carried to the public account, or applied in any other manner that the Governor General in Council may direct.

XIX. If a collector shall issue the process prescribed in section V, against any farmer of land, to convey him to jail on account of arrears of public revenue, and the defaulter shall refuse to obey, or resist, or cause to be resisted, the process deputed by the collector to convey him to jail, or escape after being taken by them into custody, or abscond, or shut himself up in his own or any house, or in any building, or retire to any place, so that the process cannot be served upon him, the collector, who may issue the writing, shall immediately represent the circumstances, through the vakeel of Government, to the dewanny adawlut of the zillah, wherein the lands on a count of which the arrears shall be due may be situated, and, upon the process deputed to execute the process, or any two or more credible persons, making oath to the truth of the circumstances stated in the representation of the collector, the judge, provided he shall be satisfied in his own mind from such depositions of the witnesses, and their answers upon oath to any questions which he may put to them, that the charge is well founded, is to require the defaulter, by a publication in writing, to deliver himself into the custody of the court, within four weeks calculating from the day following the date of the publication. The publication is to be written in the Persian and Bengal languages, if the farm of the defaulter shall be in Bengal or Orissa, or, in the Persian language, and the Hindoostanee language and Nagree character, if it be situated in Behar, and shall be fixed up, as early after the date of it as may be practicable, at his usual place of abode, if it be within the limits of the zillah, or the principal cutcherry in the farm, and in the office of the collector, and the court room of the dewanny adawlut. The collector is to continue the aumeen directed to be deputed in section VI, to collect the rents and revenues of the farm of the defaulter, in the same manner as if the process issued under section V, had been duly served, and obeyed by him. If the defaulter shall not surrender himself, before the expiration of the period limited in the publication, or, if he shall deliver himself up within the prescribed time and after receiving his answer to the charge, and the evidence that he may have to produce in his defence, and that which the collector may adduce in support of his representation, if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the court, that the defaulter is guilty of the charge, the court shall decree the lease of the farmer annulled from the expiration of the Bengal, Fussily, or Willaity year, (according as the farm may be situated in Bengal, Behar, or Orissa,) in which the decree may be passed. (a) If the defaulter shall not appeal to the provincial court of appeal, within the time limited for preferring appeals to that court, in section XII, Regulation V, 1793, the court is immediately to transmit to the Governor General in Council a copy of the decree, and of all the proceedings respecting the charge. If the defaulter shall appeal to the provincial court of appeal within the prescribed time, and that court shall confirm the decision of the zillah court, or if the cause shall not be appealable to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, or if it shall be appealable, and the defaulter shall not lodge an appeal within the time limited for preferring appeals to that court, in section X, Regulation VI, 1793, the provincial court is immediately to forward a copy of their decree and proceedings in the appeal, and of the decree and proceedings of the zillah court, to the Governor General in Council. If an appeal shall be received from the decision of the provincial court of appeal, and the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut shall confirm the decree of the provincial court, they are immediately to transmit a copy of their decree and proceedings, and of the decrees and proceedings received from the provincial court of appeal, to the Governor General in Council. If the judge of the zillah court shall decree the charge not proved, he is nevertheless to detain the defaulter in confinement, in the same manner as if the process in section V, had been duly served upon him, and he had obeyed it, and the collector is immediately to obtain from the court, a copy of the decree and proceedings, and transmit them with a letter containing his objections to the decision, to the Board of Revenue, who are to order the collector to appeal from it, or not, as may appear to them proper. And that no doubt may be entertained, from what decrees passed by the provincial courts of appeal under this section, an appeal shall lie to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, it is declared, that an appeal shall not lie to the last mentioned court, unless the fine adjudged to be paid by the defaulter, shall exceed one thousand sicca rupees. (d) Decrees that may be passed under this section by the dewanny adawlut of any zillah, or any provincial court of appeal, or by the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, adjudging a fine to be paid by a surety, are not to be carried into execution in any case whatever without an order from the Governor General in Council confirming the decree. XXII. If a proprietor of land shall be conveyed to jail by the collector under the powers vested in him by sections IV and V, and the amount directed to be deputed in section VI, shall not by the close of the year have realized from the estate, a sum sufficient for the liquidation of the balance due to Government, and all the admitted charges incurred in consequence of his deputation, the collector is to state the amount of the arrear to the Board of Revenue, who are to report it to the Governor General in Council, and recommend the sale of the lands of the defaulter, or such portion of them as may be sufficient to make good the amount which may be due from him to the public. But no part of this section, or section XIII, is to be construed to preclude the Governor General in Council, from ordering the sale of the lands of a defaulting proprietor of land, who may not have instituted a suit to contest the arrears, whether he may be in confinement or not, to be made at any time previous to the close of the year in which the arrears may become due, should it in any case appear to him inexpedient to postpone the sale until after the expiration of it. And at whatever period the sale of the lands of a proprietor in confinement may be ordered to take place, if the arrear shall not have been adjudged to be due from him by a decree of a court of justice, and provided he shall previous to the day of sale, deny the justness of the whole or a part of the arrear under his engagements, and give the security, and otherwise conform to the rules prescribed in sections IX and X, according to the circumstances of the case, the sale of his lands is not to be made until the cause shall be finally decided; and he shall be released, and be considered exactly in the same predicament as the proprietors mentioned in sections IX and X, who may deny the justness of the whole or a part of any demand, immediately upon the writing specified in section III, being served.

The collector is not to accept of the security unless he shall be satisfied that it is good and sufficient. If he shall accept of the security, he is to forward notice of the acceptance of it to the Board of Revenue in duplicate, by two different posts, to provide against the non-arrival of the notice which may be first dispatched. If the sale of the lands shall be ordered to be made by the collector of the zillah, he is empowered to suspend it, upon such security being delivered to him previous to the sale; but he is immediately to report the circumstances to the Board of Revenue, for the information of the Governor General in Council. (g) If the Governor General in Council shall annul the lease, the defaulter is to be at liberty to prosecute the dependent talookdars, under farmers, or ryots, in the lands included in the farm, for any arrears of rent or revenue that may be due from them to him, on account of the period during which his lease remained in force.

XXIV. When a collector shall proceed to confine the surety of any proprietor or farmer of land, in the cases authorized in this Regulation, he is immediately to cause such portion of the defaulter's lands, as he may estimate to be sufficient to make good the amount of the demand, in the event of their being sold, to be attached under the rules prescribed in section VI, for the attachment of the lands of defaulting proprietors. (h) If the surety shall not possess any landed property in his zillah, the collector is to depute an aumeen into the zillah in which the defaulter may have landed property, with a letter stating the amount of the demand on him, and the property to be attached. The collector of such zillah, is immediately to order a peon to point out the property to the aumeen, who is to keep it in attachment, until the Board of Revenue shall have obtained the sanction of the Governor General in Council for the sale of it. If the property ordered to be sold, shall be too inconsiderable to admit of its being charged with the expense of an aumeen, it is to be committed to the nearest tehseeldar, or other officer, employed under the collector in the business of the collections, who is to perform the duties prescribed to the aumeen, and under the like restrictions and penalties.

If a profit shall arise on the second sale, it is to be carried to the credit of the defaulter, or of Government, if the lands be sold on the public account under section XVIII. If the first purchaser shall refuse or omit to make the deposit, or to pay within the required time, the amount of the deficiency, and the expenses arising on the re-sale, after being served by the collector of the zillah in which he may be or reside, or by the Board of Revenue, if he shall be in Calcutta, with a written demand for the amount, similar to that directed in section III, to be served on proprietors and farmers of land from whom arrears of revenue are due, such defaulting purchaser, shall be considered exactly in the same predicament, as sureties of proprietors or farmers of land, who omit or refuse to discharge any sum of money due from them, and he is to be proceeded against accordingly, by the collector of the zillah in which he may be or reside.

XXVIII. The purchasers of lands sold under this Regulation are not to be held responsible for any arrears or suspensions of revenue that may be due to Government from the lands prior to the year in which the purchase may be made, unless it shall be otherwise stipulated in the conditions of sale. Arrears or suspensions not so stipulated to be made good by the purchaser, are to be paid by the former proprietor, and recourse is to be had to the remainder of his real or to any other property which he may possess, or to the confinement of his person, or to both his person and property, for the recovery of the amount. Arrears of rent or revenue that may be due to the defaulting proprietor from his dependent talookdars, under farmers or ryots, preceding the date on which the lands may be sold, are to belong to him, and are to be recoverable by him by suit in the dewanny a lawlut of the zillah. If the person making such application, shall be confined under a decree passed by the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, or of the zillah court, or the provincial court of appeal, and the time prescribed for appealing from the decision shall have elapsed, the judge is not to enter into the merits of the case, but only to enquire, whether the prisoner has discharged the amount of the decree, and the sums which may have become due from him subsequent to his confinement. If the prisoner shall not be confined under a judicial decree, but under the process which the collectors are empowered by this Regulation, to issue for conveying persons to jail for claims of Government, and he shall dispute the justness of the demand, the judge is not to enquire into the merits of the case, but is to leave the prisoner to prosecute the collector under section XII, which is hereby extended to demands on sureties, and purchasers of land, as far as it can be applied to them. If however the prisoner shall admit the justness of the demand for which he was confined, as well as any other claims that may be made upon him, for sums stated to have become due from him subsequent to his confinement, and shall assert that the whole of such sums have been discharged by him, the judge is to proceed to enquire, whether the prisoner has actually paid such sums or not. Upon examination of the prisoner's accounts of his payments, (which examination is to be considered as a continuation of the original suit or process, and not as a new suit or process,) if it shall appear to the judge, that the demands for which he may be in confinement, have been liquidated, he is to release him, upon his giving security to make good any sum which the collector may state to be still due from him, in the event of the cause being appealed, and the sum being awarded in favour of Government. If the collector shall not object to the adjustment of accounts made by the court, or, if he shall object to them, and the person confined shall omit to give the security above required, and the collector shall not appeal within the time limited for preferring appeals, the judge is to release the prisoner without taking any security. If it shall be found that the whole, or a part of the sum for which such person may be in confinement, remains undischarged, and he shall acquiesce in the adjustment of accounts made by the court, and shall have been confined on account of such demand, for a term exceeding one year, the judge is empowered to release him, upon his giving good security to pay the sum remaining due from him, by instalments during the course of one year after his release. The collector, and the prisoner, are to be allowed to appeal from the decision which may be passed by the court under this section, in the event of either of them being dissatisfied with it, under the rules regarding appeals prescribed in Regulations V and VI, 1793. The rules prescribed to collectors in section XXX, regarding the decisions therein specified, are to be considered applicable to all decisions passed under this section.

Collector how to proceed in case of his being cast in a prosecution instituted against him in the zillah court on account of sums demanded or received by him as arrears of revenue.

XXX. Upon a decision being passed in the dewanny adawlut of any zillah, by which the whole, or any part, of a sum of money that may have been demanded, or actually received, by a collector, as an arrear of revenue under this Regulation, from any proprietor or farmer of land, shall be adjudged not to be due, the collector is to apply immediately to the court, through his vakeel, for a copy of the proceedings and decree. The court is to order copies of the proceedings and decree, to be delivered to the collector with all practicable dispatch. (c) The collector is to forward the papers without delay to the Board of Revenue, with a letter stating his objections to the decree. If the Board shall be of opinion that the decision is not well founded, they are to authorize the collector to appeal the cause to the provincial court of appeal. If that court shall confirm the decision of the zillah court, the collector is to apply for, and the court is to grant, a copy of their proceedings and decree in appeal, exclusive of the decree and proceedings received from the zillah court. The collector is to forward the decree and proceedings of the provincial court, to the Board of Revenue, with a letter containing his objections to the decree of that court. If the Board shall be dissatisfied with the decision of the provincial court of appeal, and the cause shall be appealable to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, they are to direct the collector to prefer an appeal to that court. If the Board of Revenue are satisfied with the decision of the provincial court of appeal, they are to direct the collector not to prefer an appeal to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut. In all cases in which the Board of Revenue may order the collector to prefer an appeal to the provincial court, the collector is to be indemnified by Government, for all costs and damages that may have been awarded against him by the zillah court. On the other hand, if the Board of Revenue shall deem the decision of the zillah court equitable, and not direct an appeal, the collector is to defray all the costs and damages that may have been awarded against him in that court. The collector is nevertheless to be at liberty to appeal the cause, but at the risk of paying all costs and damages that may be adjudged against him in appeal, in the event of his being ultimately cast. Appeals in which the collectors may be engaged, either in the provincial court of appeal, or the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, in consequence of orders from the Board of Revenue, are to be carried on by the vakeel of Government, and at the public expense.

Collectors to be indemnified for all expenses.

(c) A copy of every decree in every regular suit and appeal, in which Government shall be a party, is required by R. 2, of 1806, S. 3, to be transmitted to the secretary in the judicial department, for the information of the Governor General in Council, together with an English translation thereof; and all the doubt, delay, and inconvenience attending the mode of proceeding under the rules in this and some of the subsequent sections, arising from a want of an accurate distinction between private and public actions, have been obviated by the provisions of R. 2, of 1814.

XXXI. If a collector shall be prosecuted under sections IX, X, XII, XIV, XXII, or XXIX, and the prosecutor shall be cast, or be dissatisfied with the decision of the judge of the dewanny adawlut of the zillah, and appeal to the provincial court of appeal, the collector is to appoint one of the vakeels of the court to plead the cause. If the decree of the zillah court shall be confirmed, or the appellant should be dissatisfied with the decision of the provincial court of appeal, and appeal to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, and an appeal should be admitted, the collector is to appoint one of the pleaders in that court to defend the suit. If the provincial court of appeal shall not confirm the decision of the zillah court, the collector is to apply to the provincial court, for a copy of the proceedings and decree of the zillah court, and of their proceedings and decree in the appeal. The courts are to furnish the collector with these papers with all practicable dispatch; and the collector is to forward them to the Board of Revenue, with a letter stating his objections to the decree in appeal. If the Board shall be of opinion that the decree of the provincial court is not well founded, they are to authorize the collector to appeal to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut. If the Board shall see no ground for appealing from the decision of the provincial court of appeal, the collector is nevertheless to be at liberty to prefer an appeal to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, but at the risk of paying all the costs and expenses, which may be awarded against him by that court, in the event of his being cast. All appeals that may be preferred by the collector to the provincial court of appeal, or to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, or in which he may be respondent, under this section, agreeably to the orders of the Board of Revenue, are to be carried on at the public expense, and conducted by the vakeel of Government, who is to be furnished with the necessary instructions for that purpose by the collector.

XXXII. In every case, in which a collector may be prosecuted in the dewanny adawlut of the zillah under this Regulation, for sums demanded or received by him on behalf of Government, from any proprietor or farmer of land, or from any surety, or from any purchaser of land; or for any sums demanded or received, or taken by him, directly or indirectly, for his own use, from any of the abovementioned descriptions of persons, over and above what he may be entitled to demand on behalf of the public; or for any acts done in his official capacity that may be repugnant to this Regulation, or which may not be warranted by it, and in appeals that he may have preferred without the orders of the Board of Revenue, he is to appoint any of the authorized vakeels of the court before which the suit may be brought, to plead the cause. (p)

XXXIII. In prosecutions that may be instituted in the dewanny adawlut of any zillah, against the collector of the zillah, for sums of money demanded or directly or indirectly received or taken by him for his own use from any proprietor or farmer of land, or any surety, or any purchaser of land; or for any acts done in his official capacity that may be repugnant to this Regulation, or which may not be warranted by it, and incurred in suits in the zillah court, from the decision on which the Board of Revenue may direct an appeal.

If persons prosecuting under sections IX, X, XII, XIV, XXII, or XXIX, shall be cast and appeal, the collector is to nominate one of the vakeels of the provincial court of appeal, to defend the appeal.

If the decision of the zillah court be confirmed, and an appeal to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut be admitted, how the collector is to proceed.

Collector how to proceed if the provincial court should not confirm the decision of the zillah court.

Board of Revenue to order the collector to appeal, if they think the decision of the provincial court not well founded.

If the Board of Revenue shall not direct an appeal, the collector is to appeal at his own risk.

Appeals preferred under this section, agreeably to the orders of the Board of Revenue, to be carried on at the public expense.

Collectors to appoint vakeels of the zillah court to defend suits preferred against them under this Regulation, and to nominate vakeels of the courts of appeal to carry on appeals which they may have preferred without the orders of the Board of Revenue.

What suits instituted against a collector under this section, are to be considered of a personal and private nature, and how he is to defend them.

(p) For extortion, or other gross misconduct, the collectors are liable to an action of damages in the zillah, city, or provincial court, or in the Supreme Court, at the election of the party aggrieved; and he may also be prosecuted criminally in the latter court, or under the provisions of R. 17, of 1813; and in the case of either of the two last mentioned prosecutions, he is equally liable to be dismissed from the service, if the charge be established.

that shall not involve any claims to sums received or demanded by him on behalf of Government, in conformity to this Regulation, (which claims are to be made the subject of distinct suits, and are to be tried in the manner and under the rules prescribed in this Regulation,) the collector is not to forward the proceedings and decree to the Board of Revenue. The suit is to be considered entirely as a dispute of a private nature, between the collector and the prosecutor, and the collector is to defend it at his own risk and expense, in the same manner as individuals amenable to the courts, and not employed by Government, are required to defend suits instituted against them. (g)

Collectors not to derive any pecuniary advantage from suits in which they may be engaged, except in the cases specified in section XXXIII.

Nor to suffer any loss if their conduct is determined to be conformable to the Regulations.

Collectors to bring to account all costs and damages that may be adjudged to them with the exception above specified.

Collectors to issue from the public treasury, and to insert at the foot of their accounts, the expenses of suits that are at all events to be defrayed by Government, as well as the expenses of suits that may be ultimately defrayable by Government, but not to insert the expenses in their accounts, without the sanction of the Board of Revenue.

Board of Revenue to report to the Governor (General in Council, any cases in which a collector may have been compelled to pay costs or damages, and for which they may be of opinion he ought not to be made responsible.

Cases in which security is to be demanded from collectors for costs or damages, or for the performance of decrees of the court.

XXXIV. The collectors are not to derive any pecuniary advantage whatever, from suits that they may institute, or which may be preferred against them in any of the courts of justice in their official capacity, with the exception of suits in which they may be engaged under section XXXIII, the sums awarded to them in which they are to apply to their own use. On the other hand, it is not intended that the collectors should sustain any loss in levying the dues of Government, in cases in which their conduct may be adjudged by a final judicial decree, to be conformable to this Regulation. The collectors are accordingly to bring to the credit of Government in their monthly accounts, all sums whatever, (with the exception above specified,) that may be adjudged to them as costs or damages by any of the courts of civil justice, and they are to insert at the foot of their monthly accounts, or in a separate account, or in their monthly accounts under a distinct head, according as the Board of Revenue may deem advisable, all sums which they may disburse in conformity to this Regulation, on account of process or suits directed to be carried on by the vakeel of Government, the costs and damages in which are expressly directed to be defrayed by the public, or in suits, the costs and damages in which may be ultimately defrayable by Government, but for which the collectors are directed to be held responsible in the first instance. But they are in no case to charge these disbursements in their accounts, without previously obtaining the special sanction of the Board of Revenue for that purpose. Until such sanction is procured, the collectors are to be held answerable for the disbursements.

XXXV. If a collector shall have been compelled to pay costs or damages in any suit under this Regulation, and upon his stating the case to the Board of Revenue, it shall appear to them upon a consideration of the circumstances of it, that he ought not to be made responsible for the amount, the Board are to transmit the case to the Governor General in Council, who will determine whether the collector shall be made responsible for such costs or damages or not.

XXXVI. Security is not to be demanded from the collectors for their personal appearance, in any suit in which they may be engaged under this Regulation. Nor shall any security be required from them for the payment of costs, or for the performance of the decrees or orders of the court, in suits which are directed by this Regulation to be carried on by the vakeel of Government, and at the public expense. In suits for sums demanded or received by the collector on behalf of Government, for the costs and damages in which, he is declared eventually responsible, the courts are to require the same security from the collector for the payment of the costs and damages, as would be taken in similar cases from individual suitors; but they are not to require any security from him, for the performance of their decrees respecting the sums which may constitute the subject of the suits, as Government will be answerable for the due performance of them. In the suits described in section XXXIII, which may be instituted against the collector, he is to give the same security for the payment of the costs, and the performance of the decrees and orders of the courts, as would be required from individual suitors in similar cases. If a collector shall refuse or omit, to pay within the limited period, any sum of money that may be ordered to be levied from him, either on account of the suits described in section XXXIII, or as costs or damages in any other suits, for the expenses incurred in which he is declared eventually responsible, the court is to levy the amount from his surety by the customary process. If the court shall not be able to obtain payment from his surety, the judge is to report the circumstances to the Governor General in Council, who will order the amount to be paid from the public treasury, and deduct it from the allowances which may be receivable by the collector from Government. In all other cases, if a collector shall omit or refuse to obey any order or decree of a court of judicature, the court from which the process shall have issued, is to fine him according to the nature of the offence. In the event of the collector refusing or omitting to pay the fine, the court is to report the circumstances to the Governor General in Council, who, provided he shall approve of the fine, will order the amount to be stopped from the allowances which may be receivable by such collector from Government.

Courts how to proceed in the event of a collector omitting or refusing to obey any order or decree.

XXXVII. The Board of Revenue are to issue such instructions as they may think advisable to the collectors, regarding the mode of inserting in their monthly accounts, the sums which may be paid to them as costs and damages, in consequence of the orders or decrees of any of the courts of civil judicature, or noting at the foot of their accounts, or charging under a separate head in their monthly accounts, the sums which they may disburse as costs or damages which are expressly directed to be defrayed by Government, whatever may be the final decision in the cause, or that may be ultimately defrayable by Government, although in the first instance the collectors are to be held responsible for them; and to require such vouchers as they may deem necessary for such receipts and disbursements, as well as for the sums which the courts may adjudge to be repaid from the public treasury, or not to be due to the public.

Board of Revenue to issue instructions to the collectors, regarding the mode of inserting or noting in their accounts, their receipts and disbursements in the suits herein mentioned, and to require such vouchers for the sums as they may think proper.

XXXVIII. When any process or order, shall be issued by any of the courts of civil judicature, to the collector of a zillah, in suits instituted under this Regulation, the register of the court immediately serving the process or order, is to transmit it under a cover sealed in the form of a letter, and superscribed with his name and official appellation, and addressed to the collector. The collector is to acknowledge the receipt of the process or order, on the day on which he may receive it, by a letter addressed to the register of the court by which it may have been served.

XXXIX. To facilitate the communication between the collectors and the vakeels in the provincial courts of appeal, and the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, who may be entrusted with the conduct of any appeals, (including appeals from decisions in the suits described in section XXXIII,) in which they may be engaged under this Regulation, either whilst they may continue in the office of collector of the zillah in which such suits may have arisen, or after their removal from the office, the collectors are permitted to forward free of postage, any instructions which they may have to transmit to the vakeels of such courts. The instructions are to be enclosed under a cover, sealed, and directed to the vakeel. The instructions so sealed and directed, are to be transmitted under a sealed cover, addressed to the register of the court in which the cause may be depending, and superscribed with the name and official appellation of the person dispatching it. The register of the court, immediately upon receiving the instructions, is to deliver them sealed to the vakeel to whom they may be directed. Any person who may be removed from the office of collector of a zillah, and may have suits depending in the dewanny adawlut of such zillah, after his removal from the office, is likewise empowered to forward instructions to his vakeel through the register of the court. In like manner, the vakeels in any of the courts to whom the pleading of suits may be committed under this Regulation, by persons holding the office of collector, or after they have been removed from the office, are authorized to forward any papers which they may have to convey to their employers, by the public dawk free of postage. The papers are to be enclosed in a cover sealed with the seal of the vakeel, and the register of the court is to transmit the papers so sealed, in a cover addressed to the person to whom they are to be forwarded, and superscribe the cover with his official signature.

XL. Arrears of tuccavy, or any money advanced by Government to proprietors or farmers of land, for making or repairing embankments, reservoirs, or water courses, or other improvements to their estates or farms, are to be recovered by the same process as is prescribed for exacting payment of arrears of revenue, and under the same rules and restrictions as far as they may be applicable.

XLI. No collector is to be liable to prosecution for any official acts of his predecessor. But persons who may be removed from the office of collector of the revenue of a zillah, are to carry on, in the same manner as if they had continued in the office, all suits of the nature of those described in section XXXIII, in which they may be engaged, and all suits preferred against them in the zillah courts, for sums that they may have demanded or received on behalf of Government, and for the costs and damages in which they are declared eventually answerable; as well as all suits, being appeals from decisions in suits of the last mentioned description, excepting such of those appeals as they may have preferred, or in which they may have become a party, in consequence of orders from the Board of Revenue.

XLII. If the collector of a zillah shall die, or be removed from his office, his successor is to carry on all unfinished process or suits in the court of dewanny adawlut of such zillah, directed by this Regulation to be conducted by the vakeel of Government, and at the public expense; and all appeals from the decrees of the zillah court, or the provincial court of appeal in such cases; as also all appeals from the decrees of the zillah court, or the provincial court of appeal, in which the former collector may have been engaged, in consequence of orders from the Board of Revenue, and which are ordered to be pleaded by the vakeel of Government, and at the public expense.

XLIII. In cases in which the Board of Revenue may judge it expedient, or in which they may receive orders for the purpose from the Governor General in Council, they are to take upon themselves the superintendence of the prosecution, or defence of any appeal, in the Sadler Dewanny Adawlut, which a collector may prefer, or be engaged in, pursuant to their orders, instead of leaving the superintendence of the appeal to him.

XLIV. If the lands subject to the payment of Revenue to Government, belonging to any defaulting proprietor or farmer of land, or any surety, or purchaser of land, which may be sold under this Regulation, shall not produce a sum sufficient for the liquidation of the public demand, any other real or personal property which the defaulter may possess, is to be attached and sold to make good the deficiency, under the same rules as his lands subject to the payment of Revenue to Government are directed to be sold, as far as those rules may be applicable to such property. (r) And if any property shall be attached, and ordered to be put up to sale, and the sale shall be countermanded in consequence of the proprietor discharging the claim upon him, or other cause, he is nevertheless to be held responsible, for all expenses that may be incurred in consequence of the attachment of the property, in the same manner as if the sale of it had taken place; and in the event of his omitting to discharge the amount, it is to be levied by the same process, as the demand for which the property originally ordered to be sold, may have been directed to be levied.

XLV. If any proprietor or farmer of land, against whom the collector may issue the process specified in section V, shall be or reside, in either of the cities of Patna, Dacca, or Moorshedabad, the collector is to order the two peons whom he may charge with the writing for the apprehension of the defaulter, to proceed to the judge of such city, who is to order a peon to accompany them, to point out the place of residence of the defaulter. The two peons are to take the defaulter into custody, and convey him to the jail of the dewanny adawlut of the city, in which they may so apprehend him. The remainder of section V, with regard to cases in which defaulters shall not reside or be within the limits of the zillah, wherein the lands on account of which the arrears may be due, shall be situated, is to be considered equally applicable, as if the defaulter had been apprehended in any zillah, instead of in such city. If any defaulter of either of the descriptions before mentioned in this section, shall be or reside within the limits of the town of Calcutta, the collector is to forward the written demand for the amount claimed from the defaulter to the Board of Revenue, who are to submit it to the Governor General in Council. Upon the receipt of the writing, the Governor General in Council, will either order the defaulter to be apprehended, and conveyed to the jail of the dewanny adawlut of the zillah, from the collector of which the written demand may have issued, or adopt such other measures as may appear to him proper. If the Governor General in Council shall cause the defaulter to be apprehended, and conveyed to the jail of the dewanny adawlut of the zillah above-mentioned, he is thenceforward to be considered exactly in the same predicament, as if he had been apprehended within the limits of such zillah, and conveyed to jail by the collector of it, under section V. (s)

XLVI. If a proprietor, or farmer of land, or a surety, or a purchaser of land, shall deem himself aggrieved under this Regulation, by any act which may be done by a collector, in conformity to special orders from the Governor General in Council, or the Board of Revenue; or if a collector shall demand a sum of money under this Regulation, on behalf of Government, from any of the above mentioned descriptions of persons, and the stated defaulter shall admit the demand to be conformable to the engagements or stipulations, under which the collector may make the demand, but deny their validity, or have any objections to make to them either wholly or in part, under any Regulations passed by the Governor General in Council, the collector is not to be liable to any prosecution on account of such act, or the demands that he may make conformably to such engagements or stipulations, which are to be held valid, until they are set aside, or altered; by a final judicial decision; and the proprietor, or farmer of land, or surety, or purchaser of land, is to discharge the demands that may be made upon him by the collector under such engagements or stipulations, until the decision shall be passed. In the cases above specified, Government is to be considered as a party in the cause with its subjects, and the proprietor, or farmer of land, or the surety, or purchaser, is to present a petition to the judge of the dewanny adawlut of the zillah in which the cause may be cognizable, stating his objections to the act, or to the engagements or stipulations, and praying that the Governor General in Council, will order the dewanny adawlut of the zillah, to try the points or matters contested under the Regulations. The judge to whom the petition may be presented, is to forward it immediately to the Governor General in Council, who, provided he shall not think it proper to afford the redress that may be solicited by the petitioner, and the courts of justice shall be competent to try the cause, will direct the court in which it may be cognizable, to proceed to the trial of it. If the Governor General in Council shall order the cause to be tried, the judge of the court is to send a written notification of the order to the complainant, and the cause is to be considered as filed in the court, from the date of the notification. The court is then to proceed to try the suit, under the same rules and regulations, as are prescribed for the trial of suits between individuals. The collector of the zillah is to carry on, under the orders of the Board of Revenue, all suits that may be instituted against Government in conformity to this

Mortgagee to deliver in true accounts of his receipts and expenditures.

XI. For the adjustment of the accounts, in the cases of mortgages specified in section X, where the mortgagee shall have had the usufruct of the mortgaged property, the mortgagee is to be required to deliver in the accounts of his gross receipts from the property mortgaged, and also of his expenditures, for the management or preservation of it. The mortgagee is to swear, or (if he be of the description of persons whom the courts are empowered to exempt from taking oaths,) to subscribe a solemn declaration, that the accounts which he may deliver in, are true and authentic. The mortgager is to be permitted to examine the accounts, and after hearing any objections he may have to offer, or any evidence that either party may have to adduce, respecting them, the court is to adjust the account. XII. The rules contained in the preceding sections, are not to be considered to extend to respondentia loans, or policies of insurance, the interest on which is to be regulated by the terms of the deeds, and the laws and usages which prevail respecting such transactions.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION XVI.

A REGULATION for referring suits to arbitration, and submitting certain cases to the decision of the Nazim.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higerce.

THE Regulations for the administration of justice passed on the 27th June 1787, empowered the courts to refer certain suits to the decision of one person, without the consent of either of the parties. This rule deprived the parties in such suits of the benefit of having their claims tried by the regular tribunals, and was further inexpedient, as it vested in the judges a discretionary power of committing the administration of the laws to any persons (with certain exceptions) whom they thought proper. In cases in which suits were referred to arbitration with the consent of the parties, no provisions were made in those Regulations for determining differences of opinion that might arise between the arbitrators, or for completing the award in the event of their not delivering it by the limited period. The awards in suits referred to arbitration, were consequently often protracted from disagreements between the arbitrators, or other causes, and the suits were frequently brought again before the courts for decision. These defects in the Regulations were productive of much inconvenience and expense to the parties, and the good effects intended to be produced by referring disputes to arbitration, were always liable to be counteracted. The Governor General in Council being desirous to promote the reference of disputes of certain descriptions to arbitration, and to encourage people of credit and character to act as arbitrators: and having deemed it proper to submit certain cases to the decision of the Nazim, the following rules have been enacted. (a)

II. In suits that may be brought before any of the courts of civil judicature concerning disputed accounts, partnerships, debts, doubtful or contested bargains, or non-performance of contracts, in which the cause of action shall exceed two hundred sicca rupees, the courts are to recommend the parties to submit the decision of the matters in dispute to arbitration.

III. In all suits for money or personal property, the amount or value of which shall not exceed the sum of two hundred sicca rupees, the courts are empowered, with the consent of the parties, to refer the suit to the decision of one arbitrator. The parties or their vakeels, upon agreeing to the reference, shall on or before the next court day, mutually choose some one common friend or indifferent person who may be willing to undertake the arbitration. If the parties shall not agree with respect to the person to be appointed arbitrator, or, if the person nominated by them shall refuse to accept the arbitration, and the parties or their vakeels cannot agree in the appointment of another person willing to undertake the arbitration, the court, with the consent of the parties, is to appoint as arbitrator in the cause, the proprietor of the estate in which the cause of action shall have arisen, or the farmer, if the estate be held in farm of Government, or the cauzy of the purgunnah; or the tehseeldar, or any other creditable person, provided that the person so to be nominated by the court, be not in any respect interested in the matter in dispute. But if the parties cannot agree in the nomination of an arbitrator, or, if the person whom they may nominate, shall refuse to accept the trust, and the parties cannot agree upon the appointment of any other person willing to undertake the arbitration, or shall not consent to the appointment of an arbitrator by the court, the cause is not to be referred to arbitration, but is to be tried by the court, or the register, if the cause be depending in a zillah or a city court, and the judge shall think it proper to refer it to him for decision. In the event of the parties, or their vakeels, agreeing in the nomination of an arbitrator willing to accept the arbitration, or to an arbitrator being appointed by the court, the person so chosen or appointed, shall be the arbitrator in the cause. The parties however in suits of the nature of those described in this section, are to have the option of choosing two or more arbitrators to decide their cause in the same manner as the parties in the causes specified in section II,

IV. The judges of the courts are enjoined to afford every encouragement in their power to persons of character and credit to become arbitrators; but they are not to employ any coercive means for that purpose, nor to permit any of their public officers, or private servants, or any of the authorized vakeels, (b) to be arbitrators in a cause. In all cases, the courts are directed to endeavour, but without using any compulsion, to prevail upon parties to submit their cause to the arbitration of one person to be mutually agreed upon by them. In every case (with the exception of the cases specified in section III, which the courts are empowered to refer to one arbitrator with the consent of the parties) the parties are to choose the arbitrators, who are to decide the matter in dispute without fee or reward.

V. Whenever a suit shall be submitted to arbitration, the court in which it may have been instituted, previous to the arbitrator or arbitrators entering upon the arbitration, is to cause the parties to execute arbitration bonds, binding themselves to abide by the award, and agreeing that it be made a decree of the court. The court is to fix such time as it may think reasonable, upon a consideration of the nature and circumstances of the case, for the delivery of the award, and the period so fixed is to be specified in the bonds. If the cause shall be referred to two or more arbitrators, the following provisions are to be made for completing the award in the event of the arbitrators not delivering it by the limited time, either from disagreement or other cause. If the decision of the suit shall be referred to two or more arbitrators, whether an odd or an even number, the parties are to have the option of nominating jointly one person as umpire, or, if the number of arbitrators appointed shall be three or more, being an odd number, to agree that the award given by the majority shall be final, or, to permit the arbitrators to nominate an umpire. The name of the umpire, and the time by which he is to make his award, in the event of the arbitrators not delivering it by the limited period, is to be specified in the bonds, which are to be executed before the arbitrators enter upon the enquiry. In the event of an umpire being appointed, and the arbitrators not agreeing in an award by the limited period, their authority is to cease from such period, and the umpire is to give his award.

Court's how to proceed when the arbitration bonds have been executed.

VI. When a cause shall be referred to arbitration, and the bonds specified in the preceding section shall have been executed, the court is to transmit to the arbitrator or arbitrators a copy of the bill of complaint, and by a short writing under the seal of the court, refer to him or them the matters in dispute between the parties. In the trial of the suit, the arbitrators are to investigate the matters in dispute, by hearing the pleadings of the parties, and examining their respective witnesses and documents. The court is to issue the same process to the parties, and to the witnesses, whom the arbitrator or arbitrators, or the parties, may desire to have examined, to appear before the arbitrator or arbitrators, and to administer such oaths to the parties and witnesses as the court is authorized to administer, in causes tried before it; and persons not attending in consequence of such process, or making any default, or refusing to give their testimony, or to sign their depositions, or being guilty of any contempt to the arbitrator or arbitrators during the investigation of the suit, are to be subject to the like disadvantages, penalties and punishments, by order made by the arbitrator or arbitrators, as they would incur for the same offences in suits tried before the court, provided that the arbitrator or arbitrators shall report the order with the reason for making it to the court, and obtain its consent thereto, which is to be signified by the judge or judges signing the order. In cases in which an arbitration may be held at a considerable distance from the court, the court may grant commissions to the arbitrators to administer the proper oaths to witnesses whom they may be desirous of examining upon oath.

Cases in which the courts may extend the period for the delivery of an award.

VII. In cases where arbitrators, or umpires, shall not have been able to complete the award by the limited time from want of the necessary evidence or information, or other good and sufficient cause, the courts are empowered to allow a further time for the delivery of the award. In the first mentioned case, the courts are to fix a period by which the umpire (if an umpire shall have been appointed) for the delivery of his final award, in the event of the arbitrators not completing their award by the expiration of such further time.

Arbitrators to deliver all documents and papers in to the courts.

VIII. When a final award in a cause shall be made either by the arbitrators, or the umpire, it is to be submitted to the court under the seal and signature of the person or persons by whom it may be made, together with all the proceedings, depositions, and exhibits in the cause. The court is to pass a decree conformably to the award, and the decree is to be carried into execution in the same manner as other decrees of the court.

Award to become a decree of the court.

Awards not to be set aside but upon proof of corruption or partiality against the arbitrators.

IX. The award of an arbitrator or arbitrators is not to be set aside, except it be fully proved to the satisfaction of the court by the oaths of two credible witnesses, that the arbitrator or arbitrators has or have been guilty of gross corruption or partiality in the cause in which the award may be made.

X. In complaints brought before any zillah or city court in which it shall appear either by the application of the Nazim, or the representation of the defendant, at or before the time of giving in his or her answer, or by the petition of the complainant, that both parties are servants or relations of His Excellency, or the widows or female descendants of the former Nazims of Bengal, the parties are to be referred for justice to the Nazim, or to any person whom he may appoint to dispense it. Upon a complaint being preferred against any servant or servants of His Excellency by persons of a different description, the court in which the complaint may be instituted, is either to refer it to His Excellency, or to hear it in the ordinary manner, according to its discretion, taking care at all times, and in all matters, to pay every proper attention to the dignity and long established rights of the Nabob. Provided however, that in all cases in which either the plaintiff or defendant shall prefer the jurisdiction of the court to that of the Nazim, the judge is to try and determine the suit in the same manner as if neither of the parties had been persons of the description specified in this section.

Cases to be referred to the Nazim.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION XVII.

A REGULATION for re-enacting with alterations and amendments the Regulations passed by the Governor General in Council on the 20th July, 1792, for empowering landholders and farmers of land to distrain and sell the personal property of under farmers, ryots, and dependent talookdars, and (in certain specified cases) their sureties for arrears of rent or revenue, and for preventing landholders and farmers of land, confining or inflicting corporal punishment on their under farmers, ryots, and dependent talookdars, or their sureties, to enforce payment of arrears.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793, corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higree;

FROM the Regulations not defining the nature and extent of the coercion which landholders and farmers of land might legally exercise over their under farmers, ryots, and dependent talookdars to enforce payment of arrears of rent or revenue, many landholders and farmers, availing themselves of the sanction of former usage, had recourse to the most oppressive means for realizing arrears, and frequently employed the same severities for the purposes of extortion; whilst others, doubtful what measures they were empowered to adopt to enforce payment from defaulters, and apprehensive of subjecting themselves to prosecution for oppression, refrained from all compulsion, and were often defrauded of arrears to which they were justly entitled. These defects in the Regulations tending to screen oppression and dishonesty on the one hand, and to discourage moderation and good faith on the other; and it being as essential to the prosperity of the country and the punctual collection of the public revenue, that landholders and farmers of land should have the means of compelling payment from defaulters without being obliged to have recourse to the courts of justice, and incurring the delay and expense necessarily attending a law process for the recovery of every arrear, as that under farmers, ryots, and dependent talookdars should be protected from oppression and unjust demands; the Governor General in Council with a view to the attainment of these important objects, passed certain Regulations on the 20th July 1792. The rules and orders contained in those Regulations are hereby re-enacted with alterations and amendments. (a)

(a) Extended to the zillah of Cuttack, (except that part which is exempted from the operation of the general Regulations,) by R. 14, of 1805, S. 11.

What persons may distrain. Whose and what property is liable to distraint and sale.

II. Zemindars, independent talookdars, and other actual proprietors of land, and farmers of land who hold their farms immediately of Government, are empowered to distrain without sending notice to any court of justice or any public officer (excepting the after notice directed to be given in the cases of defaulters employed in the provision of the Company's investment or the manufacture of salt as specified in section XXXI) the crops and products of the earth of every description, the grain, cattle, and all other personal property whether found in the house or on the premises of the defaulter, or in the house or on the premises of any other person within or without the limits of the estate or farm of the distrainer, belonging to their under renters and ryots and the talookdars paying revenue through them, for arrears of rent or revenue, and to cause the said property to be sold for the discharge of such arrears. The same powers are likewise vested in dependent talookdars for the recovery of arrears of rent from their under farmers and ryots, and also in under farmers who farm lands from zemindars, independent talookdars, or other actual proprietors of land, or dependent talookdars, or farmers of land who hold their farms immediately of Government, to enable such under farmers to enforce payment of arrears of rent or revenue from their ryots, under farmers, or dependent talookdars. The several descriptions of landholders and farmers of land above specified are to exercise the powers hereby vested in them under the following rules and restrictions. (b).

What property is not liable to distraint and sale.

III. Persons vested with the power of distraint shall not distrain or sell the lands, houses, or other real property of their under farmers and ryots, or the talookdars paying revenue through them; nor goods or advances belonging to the Company in the hands of any weaver, manufacturer, or other persons employed in the provision of their investment; nor the loom, thread, un-wrought silk or materials of manufacture of any weaver or manufacturer; nor the tools of any tradesman or labourer standing towards them in the relation of under farmer, ryot, or dependent talookdar. All such distraints and sales, are declared illegal and void. The defaulter shall stand acquitted of the arrear for which the distress may be levied, and the property shall be restored to him, or the distrainer shall be compelled to make good to him the value of it, if it shall be personal property, and shall have been destroyed, damaged, or injured, or shall not be forthcoming, and the distrainer shall be further obliged to pay to him damages adequate to the loss which he may prove to have sustained in consequence of such attachment or sale, with all costs of suit.

Distraint and sale of it illegal and void.

Penalty.

What property is not to be distrained, if other sufficient property can be attached.

IV. The ploughs and implements of husbandry, the cattle actually trained to the plough, and the seed grain of under farmers, ryots and dependent talookdars shall not be distrained for arrears, provided the defaulter shall possess, and the distrainer shall have it in his power to attach, other cattle, grain, or property sufficient for the discharge of the arrear. (c) Distraiiners are enjoined to attend strictly to this rule, and every deviation from it shall be punished by an award to the party aggrieved of damages adequate to the injury he may have sustained, with all costs of suit.

V. Under farmers, ryots, and dependent talookdars, shall not be considered to have defaulted until the arrears have been ineffectually demanded from them and also from their surety, if they shall have given security, and the surety shall be forthcoming; (d) and when, as the last resource, an attachment shall be issued against the property of a defaulter, the responsibility of the surety shall not be thereby in any degree diminished.

Sureties not exonerated by the distraint of the property of defaulters.

(b) Landholders and farmers are at liberty to delegate the powers vested in them by this Regulation, to their agents employed in the collection of their rents, by R. 7, of 1799, S. 2. See also the further provisions in that Regulation, from section 14 to 20, for enabling landholders and farmers more speedily to realise their rents.

(c) Modified, by R. 3, of 1812, S. 14. The proviso repealed.

(d) Repealed by R. 7, of 1799, S. 3. See other rules therein.

VI. If any person vested with the power of distraint shall attach, or cause to be sold the property of any under farmer, ryot, or dependent talookdar for arrears of rent or revenue, and it shall appear upon trial that no arrear was due, the distrainer shall be compelled to restore the property to the owner, or to make good to him the value of it, if it shall have been sold, damaged, injured or destroyed, or shall not be forthcoming, and to pay to him as damages a sum adequate to the value of such property and all costs of suit.

Penalty for attaching property if no arrear be due.

VII. If the defaulter shall tender the arrears demanded of him in the presence of two creditable witnesses to the person deputed to attach his property, such person shall receive the arrears, and shall not proceed to the attachment.

Attachment not to take place if the defaulter shall tender the arrears upon demand.

VIII. Distainers shall deliver to the person whom they may depute to attach the property of a defaulter, a writing under their seal and signature, (e) specifying the amount of the arrear for which the attachment may be issued, and the date on which such arrear became due. The person so deputed shall produce this writing as his authority for making the attachment; and on the day on which he may attach the property, shall deliver a copy of it to the stated defaulter endorsing thereon a list or inventory of the property attached, and the name of the place where it may be lodged or kept, with a notice that it will be sold on the fifteenth day commencing from the day following the day on which the attachment took place, (f) or, if the property attached shall consist of crops or other ungathered products of the earth, within fifteen days calculating from the day following the day on which such crops or products may be stored, (f) as directed in section XIII, unless the arrear and expenses of the attachment shall be previously discharged, or he shall contest the demand, and procure the attachment to be withdrawn in the manner hereafter specified, (g) If the defaulter shall be absent, a copy of the above writing with the prescribed endorsement shall be fixed up or left at his usual place of residence before the expiration of the third day calculating from the day of the attachment. If any person vested with the power of distraint shall cause any property to be attached without furnishing the agent whom they may employ for that purpose with the writing above directed, or if such agent shall be furnished with the writing prescribed, and shall omit to deliver a copy of it with the required endorsement to the defaulter, or, in the event of his absence, to leave such copy at his usual place of residence within the period limited, the distrainer shall not be entitled to recover the arrear for which the distress may have been levied, and he shall be compelled to restore the property to the defaulter, or the value of it, if it shall have been sold, damaged, injured, or destroyed, or shall not be forthcoming, and to pay all costs of suit. (h)

Distainers to furnish the person they may depute to distraint with a writing specifying the amount of the arrear and the date on which it became due.

IX. If an attachment for arrears shall have been issued against the property of any under farmer, ryot, or dependent talookdar who may not have given security to the distrainer for the payment of his rent or revenue, and such under farmer, ryot, or dependent talookdar shall dispute the justness of the demand, and within five days commencing from the day following the day of the attachment, or, if the property attached shall consist of crops or other ungathered products of the earth, within five days calculating from the day following the day on which such crops or products may be stored as directed in section XIII, shall enter into a bond before the judge of the zillah, the cause of the purgunnah, or the distrainer, with good security, binding himself to institute a suit in the dewanny adawlut of the zillah within fifteen days from the date of such bond for the trial of the demand, and to pay whatever sum may be adjudged to be due from him with interest upon it at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, to be calculated from the date on which the arrear that may be awarded became payable to the date of the decree, with all costs of suit, the distrainer shall immediately withdraw the attachment and restore the property to the defaulter. If the stated defaulter shall fail to execute the bond within the period prescribed, the distrainer shall be at liberty to keep the property under attachment, and to cause it to be sold in the manner directed in section XXII, unless the arrear with the expenses of the attachment shall be discharged previous to the day of sale. If the defaulter shall execute the bond, but omit to institute the suit in the dewanny adawlut by the time prescribed, the distrainer shall demand payment of the arrear from the surety, and in the event of his not discharging the amount immediately, the distrainer shall be at liberty to issue an attachment against the personal property both of the surety and the defaulter, or the personal property of either of them, and to cause it to be sold unless the arrear and the expenses of the attachment shall be discharged previous to the day of sale. X. If an attachment for arrears shall have been issued against an under farmer, ryot, or dependent talookdar, who may have given security for the payment of his rent or revenue, and such under farmer, ryot, or dependent talookdar shall dispute the justness of the demand, and the surety within five days commencing from the day following the day of the attachment, or, if the property attached shall consist of crops or other ungathered products of the earth, within five days calculating from the day following the day on which such crop or products may be stored as directed in section XIII, shall deliver a writing, attested by two witnesses, to the judge of the dewanny adawlut, the cause of the purgumamah or the distrainer engaging that either he or the stated defaulter will institute a suit in the dewanny adawlut of the zillah within fifteen days from the date of such writing to try the demand, and to pay the amount that may be adjudged against them with interest upon it at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, to be calculated from the date on which the arrear that may be awarded became payable to the date of the decree, with all costs of suit, the distrainer shall immediately withdraw the attachment. If the surety shall fail to execute such writing within the prescribed period, the distrainer shall continue the property under attachment, and cause it to be sold in the manner directed in section XXII, unless the arrear and the expenses attending the attachment shall be discharged previous to the day of sale. If the surety shall execute the writing, but fail to have the suit instituted either in his own name or that of the defaulter within the limited period, the distrainer shall demand payment of the arrears from the surety, and in the event of his omitting to discharge the amount immediately, the distrainer shall be at liberty to issue an attachment against the personal property both of the surety and the defaulter, or the personal property of either of them, and to cause it to be sold in the manner directed in section XXII, unless the arrears and the expense attending the attachment shall be discharged prior to the day of sale. If the surety of the stated defaulter shall refuse or omit to enter into the writing required, or if he shall happen to be at a distance so as to render it impossible for him to execute such writing within the prescribed time, and such defaulter in either of these cases shall give the security required from the defaulters specified in section IX, the distrainer shall withdraw the attachment, and as far as regards the said arrear, such distrainer, defaulter, and surety, shall be considered in every respect in the same predicament as the distrainers, defaulters, and sureties mentioned in the said section. Landholders and farmers of land are prohibited distraining or selling the property of the sureties of their under farmers, ryots, and dependent talookdars (nominal sureties excepted as described in section XXVII) under any pretext whatever, but in the cases specified in this section and in section IX. In all other cases landholders and farmers of land are to have recourse to the dewanny adawlut of the zillah for the recovery of any claims which they may have on the sureties of their under farmers, ryots, or dependent talookdars. If any person shall distraint or sell the property of a draint or sale of the property of sureties.

XI. If the defaulter shall tender payment of the arrear demanded of him in the presence of two creditable witnesses after his property shall have been attached and prior to the day fixed for its being put up to sale, and also of the necessary expenses attending the attachment, the distrainer shall receive the amount of such arrear and expenses immediately upon the same being tendered, and shall forthwith release the property. In case of any dispute arising respecting the expenses of the attachment, it shall be determined by the cauzy of the purgunnah in which the distress may have been levied. (j) The courts of dewanny adawlut are upon complaint made to them to punish any distrainer who may act contrary to this Regulation by awarding against him in favour of the party injured damages according to the circumstances of the case, with all costs of suit.

Attachment to be withdrawn if the defaulter shall tender the arrear and expenses of attachment previous to the day of sale.

Penalty.

XII. Distrainers shall not drive or convey distrained cattle or other property out of the limits of the purgunnah in which it may have been attached. The expense of reaping or gathering and storing such crops or products shall be paid by the owner upon his redeeming the property, or from the proceeds of the sale in the event of its being sold.

XVI. The distress levied shall not be excessive, or in other words, the property seized shall be as nearly as possible proportionate to the amount of the arrear. If any person vested with the power of distraint shall attach any property the value of which shall be disproportionate to the arrear, and it shall be proved that he could have seized other property of less value and which would have been sufficient for the liquidation of such arrear, the court of dewanny adawlut shall award to the owner damages according to the circumstances of the case, with all costs of suit.

Commissioners for the trial of civil suits, under R. 23, of 1814, and tehseeldars appointed by the collectors for the collection of the public revenue, are commissioners ex officio for the sale of distrained property. Cauzies and other persons who may not be commissioners for the trial of civil suits, under R. 23, of 1814, must have a commission from a zillah or city judge, to render them lawful commissioners for the sale of distrained property. See R. 35, of 1795, S. 8, and R. 7, of 1799, S. 6 and 7. The disputes, therefore, above alluded to, must be determined by those persons, who are competent to act as sellers of distrained property in the district where the distress may have been levied.

The defaulting purchaser shall forfeit to the distainer fifteen per cent on the amount of the price for which he purchased the property so resold, and make good to him any loss that may arise on the resale. ## A. D. 1793. REGULATION XIX.

BY the ancient law of the country, the ruling power is entitled to a certain proportion of the produce of every begah of land (demandable in money or kind according to local custom) unless it transfers its right thereto for a term, or in perpetuity, or limits the public demand upon the whole of the lands belonging to an individual, leaving him to appropriate to his own use, the difference between the value of such proportion of the produce, and the sum payable to the publick, whilst he continues to discharge the latter. As a necessary consequence of this law, if a zemindar made a grant of any part of his lands to be held exempt from the payment of revenue, it was considered void, from being an alienation of the dues of Government without its sanction. Had the validity of such grants been admitted, it is obvious that the revenue of Government would have been liable to gradual diminution. Previous however to the Company's accession to the dewanny, numerous grants of this description were made, not only by the zemindars, but by the officers of Government appointed to the temporary superintendence of the collection of the revenue, under the pretext that the produce of the lands was to be applied to religious or charitable uses. Of these grants, some were applied to the purposes for which they were professed to have been made, but in general, they were given for the personal advantage of the grantee, or with a view to the clandestine appropriation of the produce to the use of the grantor, or sold to supply his private exigencies. In conformity to the principles which prevailed under the native administration, the British Government have at various times declared all grants for holding land exempt from the payment of revenue, made since the date of the Company's accession to the dewanny without their sanction, illegal and void. Their lenity however induced them to adopt it as a principle, that grants of this description made previous to the date of the dewanny, and provided the grantees had obtained possession, should be held valid to the extent of the intentions of the grantor, as ascertainable from the terms of the writings by which the grants might have been made, or from their nature and denomination. But no complete register of these exempted lands having been formed upon the Company's accession to the dewanny, nor subsequent to that period, many zemindars, as well as the temporary farmers of the public revenue, and the officers of Government to whom the collection of the revenue in the different districts has been occasionally committed in consequence of the zemindars refusing to pay the revenue demanded of them, have availed themselves of the abovementioned rule of limitation, to make grants of extensive tracts of land to others, or in the names of their relations or dependents for their own use, dating the deeds for these alienations previous to the Company's accession to the dewanny, or procuring them to be registered in the zemindarry records, as having been alienated prior to that period. Others have made such alienations without antedating the grants, and left it to the grantee to maintain himself in possession by such means as circumstances might afford, in the event of his title being brought into question. The Governor General in Council deeming it incumbent on him to recover the public dues thus alienated in opposition to the ancient and existing laws of the country, as well as to resume the revenue of all lands the grants for which might expire; and as the proprietors of estates were not entitled to collect such of the public dues from the lands included in their estates, as Government had judged it advisable to transfer to individuals, or to resume those which had been alienated by themselves or others, the amount, in both cases, being excluded from the assets on which the settlement was to be concluded; it was made a rule at the time of forming the decennial settlement, and which has been re-enacted by section XXXVI, Regulation VII, 1793, that the jumma assessed upon the estates of individuals, was to be considered as exclusive and independent of all existing lakhraje lands, whether exempted from the kheraje or public revenue, with or without due authority; and by the third clause of the seventh article of the proclamation contained in Regulation I, 1793, which specifies the conditions under which Government declared the decennial settlement permanent: it is expressly stipulated, that the Governor General in Council will impose such assessment as he may deem equitable on all lands at present alienated, and paying no public revenue, which have been or may be proved to be held under illegal or invalid titles. The Governor General in Council however, at the same time that he is desirous of recovering the public dues from lands which have been illegally alienated, is equally solicitous that persons holding such grants under titles that are declared valid, should be secured in the possession and enjoyment of their property. It is likewise his wish that the recovery of the dues of Government from those lands which have been illegally alienated previous to the 1st December 1790, should be attended with as little distress as possible to the possessors; and to obviate all injustice, or extortion, in the enquiry into the titles of persons holding exempted lands, he has further resolved that the claims of the public on their lands (provided they register the grants as required in this Regulation) shall be tried in the courts of judicature, that no such exempted lands may be subjected to the payment of revenue, until the titles of the proprietor shall have been adjudged invalid by a final judicial decree. Upon the above grounds, and with a view to facilitate the recovery of the public dues from lands held exempted under invalid grants, as well as to prevent any similar alienations being hereafter made, to the prejudice of the security of the public revenue which has been assessed in perpetuity upon the estates of individuals; and further that Government and the officers employed in the collection of the public revenue, may at all times have in their possession a correct register of the lands in the several zillahs, held exempt from the payment of revenue, the following rules, containing the rules passed on the 1st December 1790, with modifications, have been enacted. (a)

II. First. All grants for holding land exempt from the payment of revenue, made previous to the 12th August 1765, the date of the Company's accession to the dewanny, by whatever authority, and whether by a writing, or without a writing, shall be deemed valid, provided the grantee, actually and bona fide, obtained possession of the land so granted previous to the date abovementioned, and the land shall not have been subsequently rendered subject to the payment of revenue, by the officers, or the orders of Government. If it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the court, that the grantee did not obtain possession of the land so granted previous to the 12th August 1765, or that he did obtain possession of it prior to that date, but that it has been since subjected to the payment of revenue by the officers, or the orders of Government, the grant shall not be deemed valid.

Grants of alienated land made previous to the 12th August 1765, declared valid, provided the grantee obtained possession before that date and has since held possession without paying revenue.

Grants made before the 12th August 1765, of no validity if possession was not obtained prior thereto, or the land has been since subjected to the payment of revenue.

(a) Extended to the zillah of Cuttack, (except that part which is excepted from the operation of the general Regulation by R. 13, of 1803, S. 10 and 24, subject to the local modifications contained in that Regulation, and in S. 6, of 1813.

Second. In the event however of a claim being preferred by any person to hold land exempt from the payment of revenue, under a grant made previous to the date of the Company's accession to the dewanny, and of it being proved to the satisfaction of the court in which the suit may be instituted in the first instance, or to which it may be appealed, that the grantee held the land exempt from the payment of revenue previous to that date, but that it was subject to the payment of revenue posterior thereto by an officer of Government, and the court shall entertain doubts as to the competency of such officer under the powers vested in him, to subject the lands to the payment of revenue, the court shall suspend its judgment, and report the circumstances to the Governor General in Council, to whom a power is reserved of determining whether such officer was or was not competent to subject the land to the payment of revenue, and upon receiving the determination of the Governor General in Council, the court is to decide accordingly. No such claim however to hold exempt from the payment of revenue, land that may have been subjected to the payment of revenue for the twelve years preceeding the date on which the claim may be instituted, shall be heard by any zillah or city court, unless the claimant can show good and sufficient cause for not having preferred the claim to a competent jurisdiction within the twelve years, and proceeded in it, as required by section XIV, Regulation III, 1793

Third. But no part of the two preceding clauses is to be construed to empower the courts to allow any person not being the original grantee, entitled to hold exempt from the payment of revenue, land now subject to the payment of revenue, under a grant made previous to the Company's accession to the dewanny, the writing for which may expressly specify it to have been given for the life of the grantee only, or, supposing no such specification to have been made in the writing, or the writing not to be forthcoming, or no writing to have been executed, where the grant from the nature and denomination of it, shall be proved to be a life tenure only, according to the ancient usages of the country.

Fourth. Not to entitle the heirs of any person now holding land exempt from the payment of public revenue under a grant made previous to the dewanny, to succeed to and hold such land exempt from the payment of revenue upon the demise of the present possessor, where the writing for such grant may expressly specify it to have been given for the life of the grantee only, or, supposing no such specification to have been made in the writing, or the writing not to be forthcoming, or no writing to have been executed, where from the nature and denomination of the grant, it shall be proved to be a life tenure only, according to the ancient usages of the country. Not to entitle the heir to any such person to hold the lands exempt from the payment of revenue after his demise, supposing the writing for the grant not to specify whether it was to be considered hereditary or otherwise, unless it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the court, that the grant, from the nature and denomination of it, is hereditary according to the ancient usages of the country. But upon the demise of the present possessor of any such grant, which may be a judged not hereditary under this clause, if it shall appear that one or more successions in virtue of whatever right, shall have taken place before the date of the dewanny, the lands shall not be subjected to the payment of revenue under the decree, without the sanction of the Governor General in Council, to whom a copy of the proceedings and decree of the court is to be transmitted, and to whom is reserved a power of declaring the lands subject to the payment of revenue or not, as may appear to him proper.

Fifth. The present possessors of lands now exempt from the payment of revenue, under such life grants made previous to the dewanny, and declared by the preceding clause not to be hereditary, are prohibited from selling, or otherwise transferring them, or mortgaging the revenue of them for a longer period than their own lives, and all such transfers and mortgages are declared illegal and void. It is to be understood Courts to refer to the Governor General in Council, in the event of the court entertaining doubts as to the authority of any officer of Government to subject exempt land granted before the dewanny to the payment of revenue.

Claims to hold exempt from revenue, lands that have paid revenue for twelve years, not to be heard.

Exception.

No persons not being the original grantees, to be entitled to hold exempt from the payment of revenue lands now subject to the payment of revenue, under grants made previous to the dewanny.

Not to entitle the heirs of persons now possessing exempt lands under life grants made previous to the dewanny, to hold such lands exempt from the payment of revenue upon the death of the present possessor.

Power reserved to Governor General in Council, of determining whether life grants, to which one or more successions of whatever nature may have taken place prior to the date of the dewanny, shall be subjected to the payment of revenue or not, upon the death of the present possessor.

The present possessors of such life grants prohibited from transferring them, or mortgaging the revenue of them beyond their own lives.

Such life grants if confirmed by Government or its officers, not to be subject to the payment of revenue on the death of the present possessor.

understood however, that if any such life grants shall have been confirmed as hereditary tenures by Government, or by the officers of Government empowered so to confirm them, they are not to be liable to the payment of revenue on the death of the present possessor, and are to be excepted from the other rules contained in this and the preceding clause. If doubts shall arise in any court as to the competency of the authority of any officer of Government to confirm any such life grant as hereditary, the court is to suspend its judgment, and report the circumstances to the Governor General in Council, to whom a power is reserved of determining finally whether such officer possessed competent authority to confirm the grant as hereditary or not, and the court, upon receiving the determination of the Governor General in Council, is to decide accordingly.

All grants made or confirmed since the dewanny, excepting by the authority of Government, or its officers duly empowered, declared invalid.

III. First. All grants for holding land exempt from the payment of revenue, which may have been made since the 19th August 1765, and previous to the 1st December 1790, corresponding with the 18th Auglum 1197 Bengal era, the 10th Auglum 1195 Fussily, the 18th Auglum 1198 Willaity, by any other authority than that of Government, and which may not have been confirmed by Government, or by any officer empowered to confirm them, are declared invalid.

Courts how to proceed in the event of their entertaining doubts of the authority of the officer to confirm the grant.

Second. If doubts shall be entertained by any court as to the competency of the authority of any officer to confirm any such grant, the court is to suspend its judgment, and report the circumstances of the case to the Governor General in Council, to whom a power is reserved of determining finally whether the officer possessed competent authority to confirm the grant, or otherwise: and the court, upon receiving the determination of the Governor General in Council, shall decide accordingly.

Exception to the rule in clause first, in favor of the grants heretofore specified made by the chiefs of the provincial councils.

Third. The rule contained in clause first, is not to be considered to extend to authorize the subjecting to the payment of revenue, land held exempt from the payment of it under grants made previous to the commencement of the Bengal year 1178, or the Fussily or Willaity year 1179, (according as the land may be situated in Bengal, Behar, or Orissa,) under the signature of the chiefs of the late provincial councils, and the seals of those councils, agreeably to an authority vested in them by Government for granting land to be held exempt from the payment of revenue, the annual produce of which did not exceed one hundred rupees.

And also of lands not exceeding ten begahs granted before the dates here specified, which are appropriated to religious or charitable purposes.

Fourth. Nor to authorize the subjecting to the payment of revenue, any land, the grants for which, whether for the life of the grantee, or otherwise, were made previous to the commencement of the Bengal year 1178, or the Fussily or Willaity year 1179, (according as the land may be situated in Bengal, Behar or Orissa,) where the quantity of land granted shall not exceed ten begahs, and the produce of it is bona fide appropriated as an endowment on temples, or to the maintenance of Brahmins, or other religious or charitable purposes. The rule in this clause is declared to extend also to all grants of land whatever not exceeding ten begahs, made previous to the dewanny, the produce of which may be now so appropriated.

Questions regarding the proprietary right in lands alienated before the 1st December 1790, and adjudged liable to the payment of revenue, to be determined in the dewanny adawlut, this Regulation with respect to lands relating only to revenue.

IV. This Regulation, as far as regards lands alienated previous to the 1st December 1790, respects only the question whether they are liable to the payment of revenue or otherwise. Every dispute or claim regarding the proprietary right in lands alienated previous to that date, and which, in conformity to this Regulation, may become subject to the payment of revenue, is to be considered as a matter of a private nature to be determined by the courts of dewanny adawlut, in the event of any dispute or claim arising respecting it, between the grantee and the grantor, or their respective heirs, or successors. The grantees, or the present possessors, until dispossessed by a decree of the dewanny adawlut, are to be considered as the proprietors of the lands with the same right of property therein as is declared to be vested in proprietors of estates or dependent talooks (according as the land may exceed or be less than one hundred begahs as specified in sections VI, VII, and XXI,) subject to the payment of revenue, and and they are to execute engagements for the revenue with which their lands may be declared chargeable, either to Government, or to the proprietor, or farmer of the estate in which the lands may be situated, or to the officer of Government, (according as the revenue of the estate in which the land may be situated may be payable by the proprietor or a farmer, or collected khans,) under the rules for the decennial settlement. If by the decision of the dewanny adawlut, the proprietary right in the land shall be transferred, the person succeeding thereto, is in like manner to be responsible for the payment of the revenue assessed, or chargeable thereon.

V. By continuing the proprietary right in the land to the grantee or possessor in the cases specified in the preceding section, instead of dispossessing him of the land altogether agreeably to former usage, and assessing the land in the mode prescribed in the two following sections, a liberal provision will be left to him. Where the grant may have been made before the Bengal year 1178, or the Fussily or Willaity year 1179, the proprietor will hold his land, as an estate paying a fixed revenue of only half the amount assessed on other malguzarry lands in the country; and where the grant may have been made subsequent to the abovementioned periods, he will hold the land as subject to the payment of the same revenue as other lands assessed with revenue under the rules for the decennial settlement, as hereafter directed.

VI. The revenue assessable under section IV, on land not exceeding one hundred begahs of the measurement that may prevail in the pargunnah, wherein it may be situated, and whether lying in one village, or two or more villages, and that may have been alienated by any one grant, made previous to the 1st December 1790, and which may be adjudged or become liable to the payment of revenue, shall belong to the person responsible for the discharge of the revenue of the estate or dependent talook in which the land may be situated, notwithstanding any thing said in section VIII, Regulation I, 1793; and he shall not be liable to the payment of any additional revenue, on account of the assessment which may be chargeable on such lands during the continuance of the engagement under which he may pay the revenue of such estate, or dependent talook, when the land may be so adjudged liable to the payment of revenue. If the estate or dependent talook shall be held khans when the lands are decreed liable to the payment of revenue, the amount is to be collected by, and paid to whomsoever the rents and revenue, of the estate or talook may be payable, until a settlement shall be concluded for the revenue of it, either with the proprietor, or a farmer. The land which may be so adjudged subject to the payment of revenue, is to be considered as a dependent talook.

To whom the revenue assessed on lands not exceeding one hundred begahs alienated before the 1st December 1790, is to belong.

VII. The revenue assessable under section VIII, on land exceeding one hundred begahs of the measurement that may prevail in the pargunnah wherein it may be situated, and whether lying in one village, or two or more villages, and alienated by any one grant made previous to the 1st December 1790, and which may be adjudged or become liable to the payment of revenue, is declared to belong to Government. The lands specified in this section which may be adjudged liable to the payment of revenue, are to be considered as independent talooks.

The revenue assessable on lands exceeding one hundred begahs, alienated prior to the 1st December 1790, declared to belong to Government.

VIII. First. The amount of the revenue payable from the lands specified in section VII, is to be adjusted according to the following rules.

Rules for fixing the assessment on the lands specified in section VII.

Second. If the grant shall have been made previous to the Bengal year 1178, or the Fussily or Willaity year 1179, (according as the lands may be situated in Bengal, Behar, or Orissa,) the revenue to be paid to Government shall be equal to one-half of the annual produce of the land, calculating according to the rates at which other lands in the pargunnah of a similar description may be assessed. If any part of the land shall be uncultivated, the proprietor is to be required to bring it into cultivation, and to pay such rissud or progressive increase, to be regulated with a reference to the reduced rate of the assessment on the cultivated land, as the Board of

If the grant shall have been made previous to the Bengal year 1178, or the Fussily or Willaity year 1179.

Revenue, (b) with the sanction of the Governor General in Council, may deem reasonable. The produce of the land shall be ascertained by a survey and measurement, one-half of the expense attending which, is to be defrayed by the proprietor, in the event of his agreeing to the jumma required of him; and the other moiety by Government; or, by such other mode of investigation as the collector, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, may judge advisable. If the proprietor shall refuse to agree to the assessment, the lands are to be let in farm or held khans, under the rules prescribed in Regulation VIII, 1793. If the proprietor shall agree to pay the revenue that may be required of him, the amount shall not be liable to any variation in future, but he, and his heirs and successors, shall hold the lands at such fixed revenue for ever.

Third. If the grant shall have been made subsequent to the Bengal year 1178, or the Fussily or Willaity year 1179 (according as the lands may be situated in Bengal, Behar, or Orissa,) the revenue or jumma to be paid to Government from the land, shall be assessed agreeably to the rules prescribed in Regulation VIII, 1793, for forming the settlement of estates paying revenue to Government, and the produce shall be ascertained and the expense of the investigation defrayed, in the manner specified with regard to the lands in the preceding clause. If the proprietor shall refuse to agree to the assessment, the lands are to be let in farm or held khans under the rules for the decennial settlement. If the proprietor shall agree to pay the revenue that may be required of him, the amount shall not be liable to any variation in future, but he and his heirs and successors, shall hold the land at such fixed revenue for ever.

IX. The rules in the preceding section, are to be held applicable to the lands specified in section VI, with this difference, that the proprietor, farmer, dependent talookdar, or officer of Government, to whom the revenue may be payable, shall ascertain the produce of the land without subjecting the grantee to any expense, and submit the accounts of it to the collector, who shall fix the revenue to be paid from the lands in perpetuity, reporting the amount for the confirmation of the Board of Revenue, who are empowered, in cases in which it shall appear to them proper, to increase or reduce the amount. If the proprietor shall agree to pay the revenue required of him, he and his heirs and successors, shall hold the lands as a dependent talook, subject to the payment of such fixed revenue for ever.

X. All grants for holding land exempt from the payment of revenue, whether exceeding or under one hundred begahs, that have been made since the 1st December 1790, or that may hereafter made, by any other authority than that of the Governor General in Council, are declared null and void, and no length of possession shall be hereafter considered to give validity to any such grant either with regard to the property in the soil, or the rents of it. (c) And every person who now possesses, or may succeed to the proprietary right in any estate, or dependent talook, or who now holds, or may hereafter hold any estate or dependent talook in farm of Government, or of the proprietor, or any other person, and every officer of Government appointed to make the collections from any estate or talook held khans, is authorized and required to collect the rents from such lands at the rates of the purgunnah, and to dispossess the grantee of the proprietary right in the land, and to re-annex it to the estate or talook in which it may be situated, without making previous application to a court of judicature, or sending previous or subsequent notice of the dispossession or annexation to any officer of Government; nor shall any such proprietor, farmer, or dependent talookdar, be liable to an increase of assessment on account of such grants which he may re-sume and annul, during the term of the engagements that he may be under for the payment of the revenue of such estate or talook when the grant may be so resumed and annulled. The managers of the estates of disqualified proprietors, and of joint undivided estates, are authorized and required to exercise on behalf of the proprietors, the powers vested in proprietors by this section.

(b) A Commissioner is now entrusted with the superintendence of the revenues and the general control of the collectors in the discharge of their several public duties, in that part of the province of Behar, which is comprized in the zillahs of Behar, Shahabad, Sarun and Tirhoot, instead of the Board of Revenue. This difference, therefore, is to be understood throughout this Regulation, wherever the Board of Revenue is either named or denoted, and the rule or matter under consideration should relate to those zillahs. See R. 1, of 1816.

(c) See the limitation of time for the cognizance of public suits in the courts of civil judicature, in R. 2, of 1805, S. 2. C. 2.

If the grant shall have been made subsequent to the Bengal year 1178, or the Fussily or Willaity year 1179.

Managers of estates to exercise on behalf of the proprietors, the powers vested in proprietors by this section.

XI. Proprietors or farmers of land, or dependent talookdars, who may deem themselves entitled to the revenue of any land of the description of that specified in section VI, situated in their respective estates, farms, or talooks, are to institute a suit for the recovery of it in the court of dewanny adawlut. Any proprietor, or farmer of land, or dependent talookdar, or other person, subjecting such lands to the payment of revenue, without having previously obtained a judicial decree for that purpose, shall be liable to be sued for damages by the parties injured. Where estates or dependent talooks may be held khaus, the right of suing for the recovery of the revenue from the lands specified in section VI, is to be considered as vested in the party to whom the collections from the estate or talook may be payable. If the estate or talook be held khaus by Government, the talischohlar or other officer is to sue for the revenue chargeable on such lands in the room of the proprietor, but under the directions of the collector.

How proprietors and farmers of land, &c. are to recover the revenue payable to them from the lands specified in section VI.

To whom the right of suing for the revenue of the lands specified in section VI, is to belong, if the estate or talook be held khaus.

XII. It is to be the duty of the collectors, after receiving the sanction of the Board of Revenue for that purpose as directed in section XIV, to prosecute in the court of dewanny adawlut on behalf of Government, for the recovery of the public dues from the lands specified in section VII, that are declared by this Regulation subject to the payment of revenue; and no lapse of time shall be considered as a bar to the recovery of the public dues from such lands. (d)

Collectors to prosecute for the recovery of the public dues from the lands specified in section VII.

No lapse of time to be a bar to the recovery of the public dues.

XIII. The collectors shall receive a commission of twenty-five per cent on the amount of the jumma which may be assessed in perpetuity, on land adjudged liable to the payment of revenue to Government, in consequence of suits which may be prosecuted by them to a final judgment. (c) Collectors who may institute suits for the recovery of the public dues from lands, but who shall not prosecute them to a final decision whilst they hold the office of collector of the zillah in which the lands may be situated, shall not be entitled to any commission in the event of the lands being adjudged liable to the payment of revenue, but the commission shall be paid to the collectors who may prosecute them to a final judgment as above prescribed, unless the Governor General in Council shall deem it equitable, upon a consideration of the circumstances of the case, to give the whole or any part of the commission to the collectors by whom the suits may have been instituted or to collectors who may have succeeded the collectors who instituted the suits, and preceded the collectors by whom they may have been prosecuted to a final decision.

Commission of twenty-five per cent to be received by collectors on the permanent jumma of lands adjudged liable to the payment of revenue in consequence of suits prosecuted by them to a final decision.

Collectors instituting suits, but not prosecuting them to a final judgment, not to receive commission, excepting in the cases herein specified.

XIV. When a collector shall have ground to believe that any land exceeding one hundred begahs, and alienated by any one grant previous to the 1st December 1790, is held exempt from the payment of revenue under an invalid title, he is to state such information as he may possess, or be able to procure respecting it, to the Board of Revenue, who, if there shall appear to them ground to believe that the land is liable to the payment of revenue, are empowered to order the collector to institute a suit for the recovery of the public dues. The Board of Revenue are likewise empowered, previous to ordering the institution of the suit, to authorize the collector to demand from the proprietor, by a written requisition under his official seal and signature, and expressly specifying it to be made pursuant to the orders of the Board, to deliver into his custody by a time to be limited in the requisition, all the writings in virtue of which he may persons who may have a knowledge of their usual place of residence, occupation, or mode of obtaining their livelihood, and if there shall appear to him grounds for supposing that they are disorderly or ill-disposed people, he shall employ them in repairing the public roads, or upon any other public work, until they find security for their good behaviour in case of their being discharged, or until some creditable persons shall agree to entertain them in their service, or the magistrate shall be satisfied from their deportment whilst in his custody, or other circumstances, that they will of themselves take to some service or employment so as to obtain an honest livelihood, in either of which cases, the magistrate shall discharge them. If any person so apprehended shall make his escape from the custody of the magistrate before he is regularly discharged, and shall be re-apprehended, he shall be imprisoned and kept to hard labour for six months.

(c) See R. 38, of 1795, S. 2, for determining on what amount the commission is to be granted, in the event of a settlement in perpetuity of the reclaimed lands not being immediately concluded.

Punishment for vagrants or suspected persons escaping from the custody of the magistrate.

XI. It is to be understood, that the duty of the darogah with regard to persons charged with crimes or misdemeanors, is to be confined to apprehending and sending them under safe custody to the magistrate, or taking security for their appearance before him. He is not to discharge the parties accused after they are once apprehended, (except in the cases mentioned in section VII, in which he is expressly authorized to release them upon security, or upon the parties delivering in a razenamah in the case specified in section XII.) (h) not to enquire into or pass sentence upon any complaint, or impose any fine, or make any exaction, or inflict any punishment on the prosecutors, or the accused, or their respective witnesses, or on any persons whomsoever. (i)

Further definition of the duty of the darogahs with regard to persons charged with crimes or misdemeanors.

XII. In complaints for petty assaults, and in the other cases described in section VIII, Regulation IX, 1793, on which the magistrates are empowered to pass sentence, the darogahs are permitted to discharge the defendant provided the complainant shall deliver a razenamah or writing desiring to withdraw his complaint, and the defendant shall also give a razenamah or writing, agreeing to the complaint being withdrawn. These razenamahs are to be attested by two creditable witnesses, and are to be transmitted to the magistrate by the darogah with his monthly report. If the parties shall not deliver in such razenamahs, the case is to be brought before the magistrate. To prevent any misconstruction of the authority vested in the darogahs by this section, it is expressly declared not to extend to the cases of petty-thefts on which the magistrates are empowered to decide by section IX, Regulation IX, 1793. (j)

Darogahs authorized to release the defendant in certain cases, upon which the magistrate is empowered to decide, provided both parties agree in writing to withdraw the prosecution.

This authority not to extend to petty thefts.

XIII. All pykes, chokeydars, paustans, dusauds, nigabans, harees, and other descriptions of village watchmen, are declared subject to the orders of the darogah. He shall keep a register of their names, and upon the death or removal of any of them the landholder, or others to whom the filling up of the vacancies shall belong, shall send the names of the persons whom they may appoint to the darogah of the jurisdiction, that they may be registered by him as above directed. (k)

Village watchmen to be subject to the authority of the darogah, and their names to be registered by him.

XIV. The pykes, paustans, and other village watchmen mentioned in section XIII. shall apprehend and send to the darogah any persons who may be taken in the act of committing murder, robbery, house-breaking or theft, or against whom a hue and cry shall have been raised. It shall be their special duty also to convey to the darogah of the jurisdiction immediate intelligence of any robbers who may have concealed themselves in their respective villages or the country adjacent, and also of any vagrants or other persons who may be lurking about the country, without any ostensible means of subsistence, or who cannot give a satisfactory account of themselves.

Duties to be performed by the village watchmen.

(k) So much rescinded by R. 7, of 1811, S. 2. The police darogahs are restrained from interfering in cases of petty crimes or misdemeanors.

The latter part of this section is inapplicable to the cases provided for by R. 9, of 1807, S. 16, 17, and 18, and R. 7, of 1811, S. 2, C. 3.

Pykes,

Pykes, paushauns, or other village watchmen, who shall not act in conformity to this section, shall be dismissed from their stations by the landholders or other persons by whom they may be employed upon the requisition of the magistrate, and shall be further punished as the law may direct, should it be proved that they assisted in harbouring or concealing any of the abovementioned descriptions of offenders or suspected persons, or connived in any respect at their malpractices. Dawk officers to receive and convey free of postage all letters on the public service delivered to them by the darogahs.

Manner in which letters are to be conveyed to and from the darogahs who may be stationed at a distance from the dawk road.

XV. To enable the magistrate to obtain speedy intelligence of any crimes or misdemeanors that may be committed within the limits of his zillah, and, in cases in which it may be necessary, for the expeditious circulation of information of any such breaches of the peace to the neighbouring magistrates or darogahs of police, orders have been issued to all the dawk officers in the Company's provinces to receive and convey free of postage any letters which may be tendered to them by the darogahs of police. Such letters are to be superscribed with the name of the darogah and the jurisdiction over which he may preside, together with the words "kar sircar," to denote that the letters relate to the public service. Any darogah who shall insert in such letters any matter not relating to the public service upon which he is employed shall be dismissed from his office. In cases where the darogahs shall be stationed at a considerable distance from the road by which the dawk may travel, the following directions are to be observed as far as may be practicable. The dawk officer shall deliver the letter to the proprietor or head person of the village on the road that may be nearest to the place at which the darogah to whom the letter may be addressed shall reside, and take a receipt from him for it, specifying the date of its delivery. The proprietor or head person of the village shall be held responsible for the letter being delivered to the darogah to whom it is addressed without delay, unless the distance of his place of residence shall exceed five coss, in which case such proprietor or head person of the village who received the letter from the dawk officer shall deliver it to the proprietor or head person of the first village, the distance of which may exceed five coss from the dawk road, and take a receipt for it. In this manner the letter shall be forwarded by the proprietors or head persons of the villages for the distance of five coss each, until the letter reaches the officer to whom it is addressed. In like manner whenever the darogahs so stationed at a distance from the dawk road, shall have occasion to send letters to the dawk, the proprietors or head persons of villages shall convey them to the nearest dawk chokey in the same mode as they are required to convey to such darogahs any letters that may be delivered to them by the dawk officers. As the places of residence of the darogahs will be fixed, the names of the villages to the proprietors or head persons of which it may fall to convey the letters between the place where the darogahs may reside and the nearest dawk chokey or station, will be soon known to the dawk officers and darogahs, who, to prevent disputes arising between the landholders respecting the conveyance of letters as above directed, shall write on the back of all letters the names of the villages by the proprietors or head persons of which they are to be conveyed. The darogahs are authorized to dispatch letters by the public dawk not only to the magistrate to whose authority they are immediately subject and the darogahs of his zillah, but also to the magistrates and darogahs of any of the neighbouring zillahs to whom they may have occasion to send notice of any breaches of the peace that may have been committed in their own or any other jurisdiction. And the darogahs shall make it a rule whenever they receive intelligence of any murder, or robbery having been committed in their own or any other jurisdiction, to dispatch immediate information of it to all the neighbouring darogahs, and also to the magistrates of the adjacent zillahs, unless they shall have apprehended the offenders. All proprietors and farmers of land, gomastahs, and other head persons of villages are required to pay strict obedience to these orders for conveying the letters of the daro-gahs. and the magistrates are directed to fix up copies of them in the head cutcherry of every purgunnah throughout their respective zillahs.

XVI. A concurrent jurisdiction is vested in the magistrates of the several zillahs, and the cities of Patna, Dacca, and Moorshedabad, and their police officers, in the cases and under the restrictions following, viz. the darogahs and police officers subject to the authority of the magistrate of the zillah are empowered either under his warrant or without such warrant to pursue persons charged with crimes or misdemeanors into the jurisdiction of other darogahs, whether subject to the same magistrate as themselves, or to the magistrate of any other zillah, or either of the cities. The magistrates, darogahs, police officers, landholders, farmers, gomastahs of villages, cultivators of land, and all other persons having authority or residing in the jurisdiction into which the offenders may be pursued, are required to afford every assistance in their power to the pursuing officers for the apprehension of the offenders. It is to be understood however, that this concurrent authority vested in the magistrates and their police officers is to extend only to cases in which the crime or misdemeanor shall have been committed within their respective jurisdictions, or (in the event of the crime having been committed in any other jurisdiction) where the offender was actually within their jurisdiction when the charge against him was preferred to them. And it shall not be lawful for the magistrate or darogah of one zillah or jurisdiction to issue a warrant for the apprehension of any offender being or residing in another zillah or jurisdiction at the time of the complaint being preferred to them for any crime or misdemeanor not committed within the limits of their respective jurisdictions. In such case the complainant must apply in the first instance to the magistrate of the zillah, or to the darogah of the jurisdiction in which the crime or misdemeanor shall have been committed, or in which the offender may reside or be found. (m)

A concurrent jurisdiction is vested in the magistrates and the police officers of the several zillahs, in particular cases and under certain restrictions.

XVII. Whenever the police officers employed under one magistrate, shall apprehend offenders in the jurisdiction of another magistrate, in virtue of the powers vested in them in the preceding section, they shall immediately deliver to the darogah of the police jurisdiction in which the offenders may be apprehended, a list of their names and a statement of the crimes or misdemeanors with which they may be charged, and the said darogah shall immediately forward such list and statement to the magistrate to whose authority he may be subject.

Police officers apprehending offenders out of their own jurisdictions to deliver a list of the names of the offenders, and a statement of their crimes, to the darogah in whose jurisdiction they may be apprehended.

XVIII. The darogahs shall receive from Government a reward of ten rupees for every dacoit who may be apprehended by them in the first instance, to be paid upon the conviction of the offenders. (n) They shall likewise be entitled to a commission of ten per cent on the value of all property, stolen or plundered, which they may recover, provided that the thieves or robbers be apprehended and convicted. The commission is to be paid by the owner of the property, which is to be fairly valued by the magistrate, or by any creditable and competent person whom he may appoint for that purpose. The magistrate is to cause the commission in the case above directed to be paid by the owner, or his agent, to the darogah to whom it may be due. If the owner shall omit or refuse to pay the commission, the magistrate shall dispose of such portion of the property at public sale as may be sufficient to make good the amount, and deliver the residue to the owner.

Darogahs to receive a reward of ten rupees for every dacoit apprehended by them and convicted, and ten per cent on the value of property recovered from robbers upon conviction of the offenders.

XIX. The darogahs are to proceed in person, or to depute one or more of their officers, as circumstances may require, to the several towns, gunges, bazars, and haunts on market days, to prevent any disputes or disturbances arising between the vendors and purchasers, or other persons resorting to the markets.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION XXIII. (a)

A REGULATION for raising an annual fund for defraying the expense of the police establishments entertained under Regulation XXII, 1793.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramazan 1207 Higerce.

UPON the introduction of a general system of police on the 7th December 1792, the Governor General in Council determined, that the expense of the establishments should be defrayed by the merchants, traders, and shop-keepers residing in the several cities, towns, bazars, and gunges. He considered it equitable that this expense should be charged upon the commercial part of the community; first, because they are particularly interested in the establishment of an efficient police from having at all times a large property moving about the country, and consequently being liable to suffer more than any other descriptions of individuals from the depredations of robbers; secondly, because they carried on the whole internal trade of the country free of duty in consequence of the late abolition of the inland customs, and although one of the most opulent classes of the people, paid no immediate tax to the State. The Governor General in Council however deeming it proper that the annual expense of the police should be assessed as equally as possible upon the whole of the commercial body, and it being necessary for the attainment of this object that all native merchants, traders, and shop-keepers, whether residing or having houses of trade, golahs, or shops, in cities, towns, villages, bazars, gunges, or elsewhere, should contribute in due proportions towards the defraying of it; and Government being also desirous that the assessment and collection of the taxes which it may be found necessary to impose for the support of this important arrangement should be attended with as little inconvenience as possible to the contributors; the following rules have been enacted.

II. The taxes which have been imposed under the orders of the Governor General in Council of the 7th December 1792, for defraying the expense of the police establishments, shall continue payable in Bengal, until the end of the current Bengal year; in Behar, until the close of the present Fussily year; and in Orissa, until the expiration of the current Willaity year; from which periods they are to be discontinued in those provinces respectively.

III. The assessment and collection of the police tax in each zillah shall henceforth be made by the collector of the land revenue of the zillah. The assessment and collection of the tax in the cities of Patna, Dacca, and Moorshedabad, shall be committed to the collectors of the zillahs in which those cities are respectively situated, viz. Behar Proper, Dacca Jelalpoore, and Moorshedabad.

IV. The sums which the collectors may realize from the taxes that they are empowered to assess and collect under this Regulation, or from the fines which they are authorized to impose under section XVI; and all deductions or allowances, either in money or arising from the produce of lands, formerly made to the proprietors of land for defraying the charges of the police, and which have been or may be resumed under clause fourth, section VIII, Regulation I, 1793; and all disbursements which they may be authorized to make on account of the police establishments that now are or may be entertained under Regulation XXII, 1793, shall be inserted in their monthly treasury accounts under the separate head of "police," that Government may at any time be able to compare the receipts with the expenditures.

(a) The whole of this Regulation is rescinded by R. 6, of 1797, S. 2.

That pensions are to be continued.

II. All pensions received by virtue of sunnuds granted previous to the Company's accession to the dewanny, or since granted with the sanction of Government, shall be continued during the lives of the grantees. Pensions not to be continued to descendants of original grantees without the sanction of the Governor General in Council.

IV. If the persons to whom the pensions were originally granted be deceased, the allowances are not to be continued to their heirs or descendants without the sanction of the Governor General in Council; and no pension, after the death of the party now entitled thereto, shall be hereafter continued to his descendants without the like sanction, whether the grant be, according to the terms of it, hereditary or otherwise. quarterly with the funds necessary for that purpose, and furnishing him with a list of the persons entitled to such pensions. In issuing these pensions, the cauzies are to be guided by the same rules and restrictions as are prescribed to the collectors by section XIV, respecting the pensions exceeding fifty rupees per annum, which are to be paid to the pensioners immediately from their treasury. The cauzies are to take receipts from the pensioners for their respective allowances, and transmit them to the collector. They are to report to the collector the death of any pensioner the payment of whose allowance may have been entrusted to them, and any cauzy who shall issue a pension without taking the prescribed precautions to ascertain that the person entitled thereto is in existence, or appropriate to his own use the allowance of any pensioner, or continue to any person not entitled thereto the allowance of a deceased pensioner, with whose demise there shall be satisfactory grounds for believing he was acquainted, shall be liable to be dismissed from his office, upon such misconduct being proved to the satisfaction of the Governor General in Council. The court, provided proof be made to its satisfaction, that the complainant conformed to the rules herein prescribed to pensioners respecting the receipt of their pensions, and the person complained against cannot show good and sufficient cause to the satisfaction of the court for having withheld the pension, the court is to order it to be discharged, and compel the collector or other person by whom the pension may have been withheld, to pay to the complainant such sum for costs as may appear to be equitable. ## A. D. 1793. REGULATION XXV. (a)

A REGULATION for the division of estates paying revenue to Government, and for allowing two or more proprietors of shares of an estate, to hold their shares as a joint undivided estate.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higerree.

daries, water, and other matters, which necessarily result where the lands belonging to different estates circumscribe each other, or are intermixed, and which, by obstructing the cultivation, and consequently depreciating the value of the property, are equally prejudicial to the interests of the proprietors, and to those of the public. Justice to the sharers, and the security of the resources of the State, require likewise that the fixed public revenue should be apportioned on each of the estates into which the property may be divided, agreeably to the rules prescribed in Regulation I, 1793. For this purpose, the officers of Government appointed to make the division, must have access to the accounts of the gross collections from the property to be divided. The proprietors can have no well founded objection to the production of these accounts, it being specified in the proclamation contained in Regulation I, 1793, by which the decennial settlement was declared permanent, that Government reserved to itself the power of passing such Regulations for ascertaining the actual produce of lands ordered to be divided as might be deemed expedient; and the limitation of the demand upon each estate in perpetuity, precluding proprietors from being subjected to the payment of any increase of revenue, whatever may be the excess of their receipts from their estates, above the assessment which they may have engaged to pay annually to Government. It is also necessary for the convenience of the proprietors of two or more estates, that may have originally formed specific and ascertained proportions of the same zemindarry, talook, or chowdrai, and for preventing the divisions of landed property becoming too numerous and minute, that the proprietors of such estates should be allowed to unite them into one estate. The following rules applicable to the above considerations have been accordingly enacted.

II. The division of every zemindarry, independent talook, or other estate, paying revenue immediately to Government, which may be ordered to be divided into two or more distinct estates, and the apportioning of the fixed jumma assessed on the whole of the estate, upon the several shares, is to be executed under the superintendence of the collector of the revenue of the zillah in which the estate may be situated.

Division of estates in the case specified in this Regulation to be made by the collector.

III. If all the proprietors of a joint undivided estate, shall be desirous to have their estate divided into two or more separate estates, they are to make a written application for that purpose to the collector of the zillah under their respective seals and signatures, and attested by four credible witnesses, specifying the shares which belong to them respectively, and whether they are desirous of having separate possession of their respective shares, or whether any two or more of them propose to hold their shares as a joint estate. The collector is to forward the application to the Board of Revenue, who are empowered to authorize him to divide the joint property into the number of estates requested by the proprietors. All expenses incurred by the division are to be borne by the proprietors, in the proportion which their respective shares may bear to the whole estate. Agreeably to this rule, a proprietor of a sixteenth part, or one anna share, will defray a sixteenth of the expense, and the other sharers in proportion.

Proprietors of a joint estate entitled to have a division of it made at their own expense.

IV. First. If one, two, or more of the proprietors of a joint estate, shall be desirous to have the separate possession of his or their respective share or shares, or, if two or more of them shall be desirous to have their shares separated, and to hold them as a joint estate, they are to make a written application for that purpose to the collector of the zillah, under their seals and signatures, and attested by four credible witnesses. The collector is to forward the application to the Board of Revenue, who are empowered to authorize the collector to make the division as may be requested by the proprietors. If the division shall be made at the application of one sharer only, he is to pay the whole of the expense attending it. If the division be made at the application of two, or more of the sharers, they are to defray the expense in the proportion proportion that each of their respective shares may bear to the aggregate of their shares. Agreeably to this principle, if the estate be divided at the application of three sharers, each entitled to two-sixteenths, or a two annas share of the whole estate, each sharer is to defray a third of the expense attending the division.

Second. Where any person or persons, may succeed to the proprietary right in a portion, or the whole of an estate, in virtue of a decree of a court of justice, the court to which the enforcing of the decree may be committed, is empowered, upon receiving an application from the proprietor or proprietors to that effect, to issue a precept under the seal of the court, and attested by the register, to the collector, requiring him to divide the estate, and (provided it be not held khaus or let in farm by Government) to put the parties in possession of the shares to which they may be entitled under the decree. The collector is to proceed to make the division upon the receipt of the precept, sending a copy of it to the Board of Revenue for their information.

V. If one, two, or more persons shall apply to a collector for the division of an estate, and the separate possession of the share or shares to which he or they may state themselves entitled, and all or any of the persons in the possession of the estate, or any part of it, shall deny by a writing under his or their seals and signatures, and attested by two credible witnesses, the right of such claimant or claimants to the share or shares so claimed, the collector is not to proceed to the division until he or they shall have established his or their right to such share or shares in the dewanny adawlut, or until the party denying such right, shall signify to the collector, by a writing under his or their seals and signatures, and attested by four credible witnesses, that he or they admit the title of the person or persons applying for the division, to the share or shares claimed.

VI. If two or more estates that may have originally formed specific and ascertainable portions of the same zemindarry, talook, or chowdrai, shall come into the possession of one person; or, if one, two, or more persons, shall possess two or more shares of any such estate, such person or persons shall be entitled to have such shares united, and to hold them as one estate. Application for the union of estates, is to be made to the collector of the zillah in writing, under the seal and signature of the proprietor or proprietors, and attested by two credible witnesses. The collector is to forward the application to the Board of Revenue, who are empowered to comply with the application, reporting it to the Governor General in Council, to whom a power is reserved of disallowing the union, in cases in which from the great extent of the estates proposed to be united, it may appear to him inadvisable. If the union shall take place, the required entry of it is to be made in the register of intermediate mutations in property, as prescribed in Regulation XLVIII, 1793; and, in the next quinquennial register, the estates so united, are to stand as one estate, and an engagement for the fixed revenue assessed upon it, is to be taken from the proprietor or proprietors accordingly.

VII. When a division of an estate shall be ordered to be made, each of the estates into which the property may be directed to be divided, shall be formed of entire and (as far as the situation of the lands, and other local circumstances may admit) contiguous mohauls or villages, so that each estate may be as compact as possible.

VIII. The public revenue is to be assessed upon each estate into which the property may be ordered to be divided, in conformity to the rules prescribed in Regulation I, 1793; but in selecting the mohauls or villages to be included in each separate estate, the advantages or disadvantages arising from situation, the vicinity of roads or navigable rivers, the nature and quality of the soil and produce, the quantity of waste land, the depth at which water may be procurable, the number of tanks, Courts of justice may order the division of an estate in the cases herein specified.

Collectors not to proceed to a division, if all, or any of the parties in possession deny the right of the person or persons applying for the division to the share or shares claimed, until their title be established in the dewanny adawlut, or the parties so denying shall admit the title.

Two or more estates which originally formed part of the same zemindarry &c. may be united and registered as one estate.

Each estate to be as compact as possible.

Public revenue to be assessed upon each estate agreeably to the rules herein prescribed.

the state of the embankments, and water-courses, and every other local circumstance affecting the present, or likely to influence the future, value of the lands, are to be duly considered, and the mohauls or villages to be included in each estate, fairly and impartially selected accordingly. A strict adherence to the above rule is essential to rendering the division equitable. For if the mohauls or villages containing a large proportion of waste land, and situated in the vicinity of a navigable river, or possessing other local advantages, are included in one estate, and the mohauls or villages, liable to inundation, or comprising a small proportion of waste land, or situated at a greater distance from a navigable river, or subject to other local disadvantages, are included in another, it is obvious that the selection of the mohauls and villages included in the two estates, will not be fairly and impartially made, although the public revenue may be assessed upon each estate agreeably to the rules prescribed in Regulation I, 1793, as far as regards their immediate produce at the time of the division. The former estate will be more valuable than the latter, from being capable of improvement, without being liable to be affected by the calamities of season, whilst the latter, will be subject to those calamities, without possessing the same advantages as the former.

IX. If a dwelling-house belonging to one sharer, shall be situated in a mohaul or village, which may be included in the estate of another, the proprietor of such house shall be at liberty to retain it with the offices, buildings, and ground, immediately attached to it, upon paying to the proprietor of the mohaul or village an equitable rent for the ground; and the limits of the ground, and the rent to be paid for it, shall be particularized in the paper of partition.

Upon a division, proprietors allowed to retain their dwelling houses and the land immediately attached to them, although situated in the share of another, on paying rent for the land.

X. Tanks, reservoirs, water-courses, and embankments, shall be considered as attached to the land for the benefit of which they were originally made. In cases in which from the extent, situation, or construction of works of this nature, it shall be found necessary to continue them the joint property of the proprietors of two or more of the estates, the paper of partition is to specify as far as circumstances may admit, the proportion of the benefit which each estate is entitled to derive therefrom, and of the expense of the repairs with which it is to be charged.

Rules with regard to tanks, embankments, &c.

XI. Places of worship that may have been held in common previous to the division of a zemindarry or other estate, shall be continued on the same footing, unless the parties shall otherwise agree amongst themselves, in which case, they are to signify their determination in writing to the aumeen, who shall insert it in the paper of partition.

And places of religious worship.

XII. When an estate shall be ordered to be divided, the collector is to appoint a creditable aumeen to make the division, with such personal allowance and establishment as may appear to him proper, reporting the amount and particulars of each to the Board of Revenue for their approval.

Divisions of estates to be made by an aumeen to be appointed by the collector.

XIII. First. The collector is empowered and directed to administer the following oath to the aumeen, previous to his proceeding to make the division:—"I, A. B. appointed to make the division of the estate of ———, in the zillah of ———, solemnly swear, that I will fairly and impartially, and as expeditiously as may be practicable, make the division of the property, and apportion the public revenue upon each distinct estate into which it is directed to be divided, to the best of my knowledge and judgment, according to the Regulations passed by the Governor General in Council; that I will not directly or indirectly receive, or allow any other person to receive, any fee, present, or reward whatever, from any of the sharers, or any person or persons on their behalf on account of the division, or any matter connected therewith; that I will not derive any advantage or emolument from my appointment, excepting such as may be expressly allowed to me by the collector, and approved by the Board of Revenue; and that I will deliver to the collector all such papers and accounts as may come into my possession, respecting the estate which I am appointed to divide."

Liability for aumeen's conduct of corruption in relation to their oath.

Second. If the aumeen shall be convicted before the dewanny adawlut of the zillah, of receiving or allowing any other person to receive, directly or indirectly, any money or effects, or other property, from the sharers, or any person or persons on their behalf, in opposition to his oath, he shall be compelled to restore the money or property to the party from whom it may have been received, and to pay a fine of three times the amount or value of it to Government, with all costs to the party prosecuting, and be imprisoned until he shall make good the decree, or the amount of it shall be liquidated by the sale of his property.

Documents with which the collector is to furnish the aumeen.

XIV. The collector is to deliver to the aumeen a sunnud of appointment, under his official seal and signature, in which are to be specified the name of the estate, the names of the different sharers, their respective proportions, the number of separate estates into which the property is to be divided, and the shares included in each estate, together with a copy of the Regulations under which he is to make the division, and of the entries in the last formed quinquennial register, or in the subsequent register of intermediate mutations, which may relate to the property to be divided.

Aumeen to survey the different parts of the estate in person.

XV. Upon the arrival of the aumeen on the spot, he is to survey in person different parts of the property, so as to enable him to select the lands to be included in each estate, in conformity to the rules prescribed in sections VII and VIII.

Proprietors to furnish the aumeen with the necessary accounts to enable him to allot the jumma on the several shares in conformity to Regulation I, 1793.

XVI. The proprietors are to furnish the aumeen with the accounts of the gross produce of each mohaul and village, and all other accounts or information that he may require, to enable him to assess the public revenue on each of the estates into which the property is to be divided, in conformity to the rules prescribed in section I, 1793.

Proprietors to swear to the truth of the accounts, or, if exempted from swearing, to subscribe the usual declaration.

XVII. The proprietors are to swear to the truth of the accounts before the collector, or, if they shall be of the description of persons whom the courts of judicature are empowered to exempt from taking oaths, the collector is to authorize the aumeen to receive from them a solemn declaration to the truth of the accounts. If the proprietors shall omit to furnish the required accounts, the persons withholding them shall be liable to such daily fine until they produce them, as the Governor in Council may judge it proper to impose upon a consideration of the case, and their situation and circumstances in life; and the amount of the fine shall be levied by the collector by the same process as is prescribed for levying arrears of revenue.

Proprietors liable to be fined if they do not produce the accounts.

Proprietors to cause their putwarries, and other zemindary officers to attend the aumeen under the penalty herein prescribed.

XVIII. The proprietors are likewise to cause the putwarries, and other zemindary officers, to attend the aumeen to explain the accounts, and furnish him with such information as he may require for dividing the estate and apportioning the public jumma, under the penalty of being fined in the same manner as for omitting to produce their accounts. Putwarries refusing to deliver their accounts, or otherwise acting contrary to the rules contained in section LXII, Regulation VIII, 1793, shall be proceeded against as therein directed.

Putwarries acting contrary to the rules in section LXII, Regulation VIII, 1793.

Documents to be delivered to the collector by the aumeen when he has completed the division.

XIX. When the aumeen has completed the division of the property, and ascertained the public revenue on each estate, he is to submit to the collector the papers of the division and allotment, which are to specify the names of the mohauls or villages included in each separate estate into which the property may have been divided, the gross produce of each mohaul and village for the three years preceding the year in which the division may be ordered to be made, and the proportion of the public jumma which he may have assessed thereon, with such observations regarding the manner in which he may have selected the lands included in each estate, and the accounts from which he may have apportioned the public revenue of them, as may be necessary for the information of the collector, together with a detail of the adjustment which he may have made respecting the tanks, places of worship, or other matters, specified in sections IX, X and XI.

XX. The collector is to examine the documents which may be delivered to him by the aumeen, and after receiving any objections or remarks that may be offered to him by the sharers in person, or by their vakeels, he shall draw out a paper of partition, specifying the mohauls or villages included in the several estates into which the property may have been divided, the gross produce of each mohaul or village, the allotment of the public jumma upon each, the name or names of the proprietor or proprietors of each estate, and where an estate is to be held as the joint property of two or more persons, their respective shares in the estate, together with the stipulations that may have been made respecting any of the matters mentioned in sections IX, X and XI, and transmit a copy of the paper to the Board of Revenue, with such observations as may be necessary to enable them to judge whether the division of the property, and the allotment of the jumma on each estate into which it may have been divided, have been made agreeably to the Regulations. Previous however to forwarding the paper of partition to the Board of Revenue, the collector is to furnish the sharers with a copy of it, and any objections which they may offer to it, are to be forwarded to the Board of Revenue with the paper. The Board of Revenue are empowered to confirm, or make such alterations in the division of the property, and the allotment of the public revenue on each estate, or other matters specified in the paper of partition, as may appear to them proper, reporting their determination to the Governor General in Council. The Board of Revenue may order further enquiries to be made before they pass their determination on the division in cases in which it may appear to them necessary.

Board of Revenue may confirm or alter it, or order further enquiries.

The determination of the Board of Revenue on the paper of partition, shall be communicated in writing, by the collector to the sharers, who shall be allowed six weeks from the date of the communication, to appeal from the determination of the Board of Revenue to the Governor General in Council, whose decision shall be final. The party desirous of appealing, is to present his petition of appeal to the collector, or to the Board of Revenue, and the petition is to specify the matters to which the appeal may object.

Decision of the Board of Revenue is to be communicated to the sharers, all or any of whom may appeal from it to the Governor General in Council, within six weeks.

If all the sharers shall express themselves satisfied with the decision of the Board of Revenue by a writing under their respective seals and signatures, or, if none of them shall appeal within the limited time, or (in the event of an appeal having been interposed) upon the receipt of the final decision of the Governor General in Council, the collector shall put the parties in possession of their respective estates, and the collector is to make the necessary entries in the register of intermediate mutations recorded in Regulation XLVIII, 1793, after comparing the documents delivered by the aumeen, with the entries regarding the estate in the preceding quinquennial register, and correcting or supplying any errors or omissions that may be discovered in the same.

In like manner, if all the proprietors of the estate which may be ordered to be divided in the cases specified in sections III and IV, shall agree to refer the division of the estate, and the apportioning of the public jumma, and the adjustment of all other matters respecting the division, to an arbitrator or arbitrators, they they shall present a petition to that effect to the collector, attested by four credible witnesses, and specifying the name of the arbitrator or arbitrators whom they may choose, and, where two or more arbitrators are chosen, the name of the umpire. Upon the receipt of the petition, the collector is to direct the aumeen to cause the parties to execute arbitration bonds. The proprietors are to produce the necessary accounts before the arbitrators, and to swear, or subscribe a solemn declaration to the truth of them, before the aumeen, and the division of the lands, and the allotment of the jumma, and every other matter relating thereto, shall be settled by the arbitrators, in the presence and subject to the inspection of the aumeen, who is to be responsible for their proceeding according to the Regulations. Estates however small to be rendered as compact as possible.

XXIV. If any landed property ordered to be divided, shall not consist of a sufficient number of villages, to admit of one or more whole village or villages being included in each estate, the division of the village or villages of which the property may consist, is to be made so as to render each estate into which the property may be divided, as compact as possible.

Cases in which the sharers are to draw lots for the lands that are to form their respective estates after the division is finally adjusted.

XXV. To remove, as far as may be possible, every inducement to fraud or partiality in the division of landed property, it shall be a rule, that where two or more of the estates shall consist of the same proportions of the whole property divided, the parties entitled to them, shall draw lots for the divisions, in the public catchery before the collector, who shall be held responsible that in drawing the lots no unfair means are practised. Agreeably to this rule, if any landed property shall be ordered to be divided into three estates, each consisting of a four annas share or four-sixteenths; or into three estates, one consisting of an eight annas share or eight-sixteenths; and the other two, each of four annas or four-sixteenths of the whole property, after the division and allotment of the public revenue, and every other matter relating to the division, shall have been finally adjusted, the proprietors of the four shares in the first case, and of the two four-annas shares in the second, shall draw lots for the divisions, unless they shall settle amongst themselves which division of the property each party is to receive, and present a petition to the collector under their respective seals and signatures, and attested by two credible witnesses, specifying the divisions which each of them may have agreed to take, in which case, the collector shall put them in possession of the divisions which they may respectively select.

Governor General in Council reserves the power of ordering a new allotment of the public jumma in the event of it being proved to his satisfaction within three years after the allotment was fraudulently or erroneously made,

XXVI. To guard against collusion or error in the distribution of the public jumma on landed property which may be ordered to be divided into two or more distinct estates, it is declared, that if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Governor General in Council within three years after the parties may have been put in possession, that the jumma was fraudulently or erroneously apportioned at the time of the division, he reserves to himself the power of ordering a new allotment of the jumma upon the several estates into which it may have been divided, conformably to the principles prescribed in Regulation I, 1793, upon an estimate of the gross produce of each estate at the time of the division, to be made agreeably to the best evidence and information that may be procurable respecting it, and further, of ordering the parties whose estates may appear to have been under-assessed, to pay the sharers upon whose estates the assessment may have been excessive, the sum of which they may be found and to order the parties whose estates may have been over-assessed, to be to have been defrauded by the over-assessment, and in the event of their omitting to discharge the amount, to cause it to be levied by the collector by the process prescribed for the recovery of arrears of revenue.

Indemnified by the sharers whose estates may have been under-assessed.

XXVII. If any of the sharers in landed property ordered to be divided, shall be females not deemed competent to the management of their own estates, or minors, or persons otherwise disqualified for the charge of their own lands, the collector is to report the same to the Court of Wards, who are enjoined to be careful that the rights of such proprietors are duly attended to in the division, although his or her share of the property should not be liable after the division may be finally adjusted, to the operation of Regulation X, 1793.

Court of Wards to take care that the rights of females or proprietors disqualified by natural defects or infirmities, are duly attended to in divisions.

XXVIII. If any of the sharers in landed property ordered to be divided, from indisposition or other cause, shall be unable, or shall not choose to attend, the collector, or the aumeen in person, in the cases required, they are to depute a vakeel duly appointed, with powers to perform all such acts as they themselves are authorized or required to perform, under this Regulation, until the division of the property shall be finally adjusted.

Parties not attending in person to appoint vakeels with full powers to act for them.

XXIX. Landed property, for the payment of the public revenue assessed upon which, engagements have been or may be concluded with the proprietors, and that may be ordered to be divided under this Regulation, is to remain under charge of the manager directed to be appointed by the proprietors of joint undivided estates, by Regulation VIII, 1793, and the whole of it is to be held answerable for the payment of the public revenue assessed upon it, until the division shall have been finally adjusted, and the proprietors put into possession of the distinct estates into which it may be ordered to be divided.

Joint landed property to be held responsible for the payment of the public revenue until the parties are put in possession of the distinct estates into which it is to be divided.

XXX. The division of landed property held khaus, or let in farm, by Government, in as much as regards the division of the lands, is to be made agreeably to the rules prescribed in this Regulation, as far as they may be applicable to lands so circumstanced; and the farmer, or the native collector, of the revenue on the part of Government, shall produce all the accounts and papers which they may possess respecting the lands, upon receiving a requisition to that effect from the aumeen. Such property, when divided, will be subject to the rules contained in section XI, Regulation I, 1793.

Rules respecting the division of landed property let in farm, or held khaus by Government.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION XXVI.

REGULATION for extending the term of minority of Mahomedan and Hindoo proprietors of land paying revenue to Government, to the expiration of the eighteenth year. — PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussil; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willasty; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higree.

BY the original rules for the decennial settlement of the three provinces, minors were declared disqualified for the management of their estates, and according to the rules for the establishment and guidance of the Court of Wards passed on the 15th July 1791, and re-enacted with modifications by Regulation X, 1793, the minority of proprietors of land, is limited to the expiration of the fifteenth year. In fixing this period Government were guided solely by legal considerations, the Mahomedan and Hindoo laws, although they prescribe no specific age for the termination of of minority, indirectly pointing but the fifteenth year as the time when persons are to be considered competent to the management of their affairs. Instances however have recently occurred, that evince the inexpediency of vesting proprietors with the charge of their lands at this early period; and general principles, which have their foundation in human nature, justify the conclusion that the same effects would result in similar cases that might hereafter occur, were the cause allowed to exist. At this early age, the proprietors must necessarily be unacquainted with the Laws and Regulations which they are bound to observe in the management of their estates, and their understanding cannot be sufficiently matured to render them sensible that their welfare depends upon their making the acquirement of this knowledge, the chief object of their pursuit. Emancipated from the control of their guardians, and with their property at their disposal, they abandon themselves to those pleasures to which their youth naturally inclines them. The management of their estates consequently devolves to favourites or dependents, who are interested in confirming them in habits of dissipation, until they have lost both the capacity and inclination to assume the direction of their own affairs. But the pernicious consequences resulting from the incapacity of the proprietors, is not confined to themselves. The cultivators of the soil and the various orders of people residing upon their lands, suffer equally by the rapacity and mismanagement of their agents; the payment of the public revenue is withheld; and the improvement of the country retarded. It is therefore incumbent on Government, as well with a view to the future welfare of the proprietor, of land in general, as to protect the country from the frequent shocks to which it would necessarily be liable from their want of education and early corruption of morals, to extend the term of their minority to an age, by which, with due attention on the part of their guardians, they may be rendered qualified for the management of their estates. The following rules have been accordingly enacted. (a) Period of minority extended to the end of the eighteenth year.

II. The rule contained in section XXVIII, Regulation X, 1793, which limits the minority of Hindoo and Mahomedan proprietors of estates paying revenue to Government, to the expiration of the fifteenth year, is hereby rescinded, and the minority of such proprietors is declared to extend to the end of the eighteenth year.

Rule declared to extend to male proprietors of joint undivided estate.

III. The rule contained in the preceding section, is to be considered to extend to proprietors of joint undivided estates, for the management of which a serberakar or manager is required to be appointed by the proprietors by section XXIII, (b) Regulation VIII, 1793.

(a) Extended to the zillah of Cuttack (except that part which is exempted from the operation of the general Regulations) by R. 12, of 1805, S. 36.

(b) This section is rescinded by R. 17, of 1805, S. 2.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION XXVII.

A REGULATION for re-enacting with alterations and modifications, the rules passed by the Governor General in Council, on the 11th June and 28th July 1790, and subsequent dates, for the resumption and abolition of the sayar, or internal duties and taxes, throughout Bengal, Behar, and Orissa; and for adjusting and paying the deductions and compensations, directed to be granted to the proprietors and farmers of estates, paying revenue to Government, and the holders of property exempt from the payment of revenue to Government, on account of the duties and taxes abolished.—
PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramixaan 1207 Higerce.

THE imposition and collection of internal duties, have from time immemorial been admitted to be the exclusive privilege of Government, not exercisable by any subject without its express sanction; and consequently, it has ever been a well known law of the country, that no person can establish a gunge, haut or bazar, without authority from the governing power. Grants from the Sovereign or his representative, delegating this authority, as well as universal tradition, prove that this right was asserted by the Mahomedan Government, and the orders of the Honorable Court of Directors, as well as repeated declarations and promulgations by the British administrations, demonstrate that this right was constantly asserted by the Company. It was however judged advisable to leave the exercise of this privilege to the landholders, Government contenting themselves with imposing general Regulations for the prevention of undue exactions, and occasionally interfering to modify or abolish particular imposts as they occurred, or were discovered. Experience having at length proved that prohibitory orders for preventing oppression, were not attended with the desired effect, it was determined on the 11th June 1790, to take from the landholders the power of imposing and collecting duties altogether, and to exercise this privilege immediately and exclusively on the part of Government. The consequences of this measure, were expected to be the effectual abolition of many vexatious duties on articles of internal manufacture, and consumption, as well as on exports and imports; the suppression of many petty monopolies and exclusive privileges, which had been secretly continued to the great prejudice of the lower orders of people; and, as the natural effects of the reform of these abuses, benefit to trade, and ease to the inhabitants of the country in general. A further consequence expected from the exercise of this privilege, was a future opportunity of augmenting the public revenue, in case the exigencies of Government should render it indispensably necessary, without increasing the assessment on the land. But this was a secondary expectation only; the primary objects intended were those first stated, the promotion of commerce, and the general relief of the inhabitants. In the adoption of the above arrangements, the Governor General in Council had no intention to divest the landholders of any collections they had made, under the denomination of sayar, not in reality a duty, but a consideration for the use of ground, shops, or other buildings belonging to them. As however the rent of warehouses (golahs), and shops (dokans), had in general been received by the officers employed to collect the gunge, haut, and bazar duties, and had frequently been let in farm with them; and as the rent paid for orchards, pasture ground, and fisheries, had been some times included in the sayar, under the denominations of phulkur, bunkur, and julkur, the Governor General in Council thought it necessary to declare expressly, that it was by no means his intention to include clude in the resumption of the sayer then ordered, the monthly or annual rents paid for ground, or buildings erected thereon of whatever description, or the phulkur, bunkur, and julkur, such rents being properly the private right of the proprietors, and in no respect a tax or duty on commodities, the exclusive right of Government. The principles on which it was determined that a compensation should be made to the parties affected by the discontinuance of the privilege of collecting duties, were as follow. Firstly. It having never been lawful to exercise this privilege without the sanction of Government, it followed, of course, that all instances of the exercise of it without such sanction were illegal usurpations, and the usurpers, so far from having any just claim to a compensation, might, without injustice, have been made answerable for the amount unlawfully received by them. As however the Company had limited their retrospection in similar cases to the period of their accession to the dewanny, this principle was adopted only, with regard to collections commenced since that period. Secondly. Government having also always reserved to itself a power of abolishing all duties deemed oppressive, it followed that all collections, made contrary to any prohibitory orders of Government, were unauthorized exactions, for which no compensation was due to the parties who had benefited by them. Thirdly. The condition of particular persons reduced to distress, by the deprivation of the income they had received from duties, though unauthorized, being a separate consideration, unconnected with the question of right, was reserved for determination as cases might occur. Fourthly. The holders of lukheraje land, or land exempted from the payment of public revenue, who had received the sanction of Government to the establishment of gunges, bazars, and hauts, on their lands, or in other words, who had been authorized to exercise the privilege of collecting duties thereon, were deemed entitled to a full compensation for the resumption of such privilege, adequate to the annual profit they derived from it. Fifthly. The holders of malguzarry land, or land assessed for the public revenue, who had been permitted to collect gunge, haut, bazar, or other duties on their lands, were also considered entitled to a full compensation for the profits they were allowed to enjoy from such collections, and these profits having by a general Regulation been limited to one tenth of their neat receipts, an equivalent to this proportion was considered the compensation due to them. In pursuance of the principles above stated, the Governor General in Council prescribed such rules, adapted to existing circumstances, as he judged necessary for the immediate guidance of the collectors and the Board of Revenue in carrying his intentions into effect, in such mode as might secure the objects intended with the least possible injury to the individuals affected thereby. But on the collection of the sayer being committed to the officers of Government, it was found that the exactions were so numerous and complicate, and imposed on such impolitic principles as to preclude the possibility of regulating them in such a manner as to render them productive to the State, and at the same time to prevent their operating as a burden on the internal commerce and industry of the country. It was in consequence determined on the 28th July 1790, to abolish the sayer collections (with certain specified exceptions) throughout the three provinces, leaving it to future consideration what internal duties or taxes should be imposed in lieu of them. The Governor General in Council deeming it of importance that all the rules which have been passed regarding the sayer collections since their first resumption on the 11th June 1790, to the present date, should be made as generally known as possible, he has included them in this Regulation, and the several rules passed within that period, are to be considered to have operated from the date on which they were respectively passed, and to be still in force, excepting where they shall have been wholly or partially modified, altered, or rescinded by subsequent rules enacted during that period, or by this Regulation, or any other Regulation passed on this date. (a)

(a) Such parts of these rules as are now rescinded, are distinguished by Italic characters. This Regulation is extended to the zillah of Cuttack, by R. 12, of 1805, S. 31.

RULE FOR THE ABOLITION OF THE SAYER, PASSED ON THE 28th JULY 1790.

IV. The privilege of imposing and collecting internal duties, has been resumed from the landholders, and taken exclusively into the hands of Government for the purpose of reforming abuses in these collections, and thereby affording benefit to the commerce of the country, as well as general ease to its inhabitants. For the more effectual attainment of these objects, the Governor General in Council has now resolved, that all duties, taxes, and other collections, coming under the denomination of sayer, (with the exception of the Government and Calcutta customs; the duties levied on pilgrims at Gya, and other places of pilgrimage; the alkarry, or tax on spirituous liquors, which is to be collected on account of Government agreeably to former orders; the collections made in the gunges, bazars, and hauts, situated within the limits of Calcutta; and such collections as are confirmed to the landholders, and the holders of gunges, bazars, and hauts, by the published resolutions of the 11th June 1790, namely, rent paid for the use of land, or for houses, shops, or other buildings, erected thereon, or for orchards, pasture ground or fisheries, sometimes included in the sayer, under the denomination of phulkur, bunker, and julkur,) whether made by Europeans or natives, either on their own or the public account, in the gunges, bazars, hauts, or other places within the provinces, be forthwith abolished, and that the compensations to be made in consequence, be regulated by an average of the neat produce stated in the past accounts for as many years as they can be procured not exceeding ten (excluding therefrom such collections as have been prohibited by Government,) and be adjusted with regard to the collections in malguzarry and lakheraje lands respectively, according to the principles already laid down in the resolutions of the 11th June 1790. The collectors have accordingly been required to withdraw their officers from the gunges, bazars, and hauts, and to transmit the accounts necessary for adjusting the compensation without delay, together with the reports before required from them on the titles by which the duties have been hitherto collected by the several persons levying them. At the same time, the Governor General in Council conceiving there may be proprietors of petty gunges, bazars, and hauts in the lakheraje lands, whose subsistence has been chiefly drawn from the collections now abolished, and who may be subjected to distress or inconvenience, unless some provision be made for them during the period which may elapse previous to the adjustment of the compensation to be allowed them, has instructed the collectors, on proof of the situation of persons so circumstanced, to make them such monthly allowance as may appear advisable, to be deducted from the amount of the compensation to which they may finally appear entitled, provided that in no case the monthly allowance so given exceed the estimated monthly neat produce of the duties hitherto received by the parties respectively. (c)

Abolition of the sayer.

RULE PASSED ON THE 6th AUGUST 1790.

V. First. The proprietary right in the ground on which hauts and bazars are held, is to continue vested in the landholders; but the public are to have the free use of it. The rules passed on the 28th July 1790, extending to the abolition of all collections heretofore made under the head of tehbazzaree or other denominations,

Ground on which hauts and bazars have been held to continue approved

(c) Claims to compensation on account of the abolition of the sayer, in the provinces of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, Cuttack excepted, which have not been preferred to the proper authority previous to the promulgation of R. 6, of 1811, (passed 14th June 1811,) cannot now be received or admitted. See R. 6, of 1811, from persons exposing their goods for sale in the gunges, bazars, and hauts, under temporary stalls and sheds, or in the open streets, and as the landholders are to receive a compensation for these collections, they can have no right whilst such compensation is continued to them, either to appropriate the ground for the temporary use of which such collections were made to any other purpose, or to levy any exactions whatever from the persons who may in future expose their goods thereon for sale as heretofore. The ground on which hauts and bazars are now held, is accordingly to be continued to be appropriated to this purpose free of all charge to the venders.

Rule in preceding clause, not to deprive the landholders of the collections declared to belong to them by the rules of the 11th June 1790.

Second. The above rule is not to preclude the landholders from receiving the monthly or annual rent arising from permanent shops, or other buildings, the collection of which is confirmed to them by the rules of the 11th June, 1790.

RULES PASSED ON THE 8th APRIL 1791.

VI First. The amount of the compensation to be given to the lakheraje holders of the sayer abolished, after a determination on their right thereto, in the mode directed by the Regulations of the 11th June 1790, shall be paid in money, or in bonds bearing interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, to be paid in quarterly proportions by the collector of the district in which the gunge, haut, or bazar yielding the sayer abolished, may be situated, until it shall suit the convenience of Government to pay off the principal, the amount of which is to be regulated upon this principle, that the annual interest be equal to the neat annual profit derived from the sayer abolished.

Compensation to the proprietors of gunges &c. in lands paying revenue to Government, how to be discharged.

Second. The amount of the compensation to be given to the malguzarry holders of the sayer abolished, after the like determination on their right thereto, is to be provided to such of them as may engage for the revenue of their own lands, by granting to them an abatement of jumma equal to the full amount of their neat collections on account of the sayer abolished, which will include their one-tenth profit for which the compensation is ordered; and to those whose lands may now or hereafter be let in farm, by stipulating with the farmers for the payment of the amount of the compensation in addition to the jumma of Government, for securing which payment to the malguzars, a certificate is to be given to each of them under the seal and signature of the Board of Revenue, declaring the annual neat amount of their sayer abolished, and their title to one tenth thereof as their compensation receivable in the manner herein stated. #### RULE PASSED ON THE 15th APRIL, 1791.

Amendment of the rule passed on the 8th April 1791, regarding the payment of the compensations to the proprietors of malguzarry gunges &c.

VII. First. Many lands having already been let in farm in Burdwan, and in other parts of Bengal, as well as in Behar, for ten years, and as the farmers of such lands could not now be made answerable for the amount of the sayer compensation to the proprietors in addition to the jumma of Government, without an equivalent deduction from the latter, and further as it will be for the benefit of the proprietors without any disadvantage to Government (since every farmer stipulating for the payment of the compensation would probably reduce his offers for the revenue, in an equal proportion) to declare the compensation of dispossessed landholders in general payable by Government, instead of the farmers as determined by the rule passed on the 8th April 1791. The Regulation of the 8th April 1791, is accordingly modified as follows :

Amended rule.

Second. The amount of the compensation to be given to the holders of the malguzarry sayer abolished, after a determination on their right thereto, in the mode

The latter part of this clause, relating to the manner of payment of the compensation to holders of the malguzarry sayer, whose lands were or have afterwards been held in farm or khas, is modified by the rule passed on the 15th April, 1791.

directed by the resolutions of the Governor General in Council of the 11th June 1790, is to be provided to such of them as may engage with Government for the revenue of their own lands, by granting to them an abatement of jumma equal to the full amount of their former neat collections from the sayar abolished, including their one-tenth profit for which the compensation is ordered; and to those whose lands may now or hereafter be let in farm or held khas, by the annual payment of the amount of such compensation on the part of Government, to be made in quarterly proportions by the collector of the district in which the gunge, haut, or bazar, yielding the sayar abolished, may be situated, for securing which payment to the malguzarry holders entitled thereto, a certificate is to be given to each of them under the seal and signature of the Board of Revenue, declaring the neat annual amount of their sayar abolished and their title to one-tenth thereof as their compensation receivable in the manner herein stated, until it can be provided by an abatement of jumma on the settlement of their land being made with them, in which case they will be no longer entitled to the payment specified.

RULE PASSED ON THE 24th JUNE 1791.

VIII. Doubts having arisen whether under the rule passed on the 15th April 1791, the one-tenth compensation is to be made to disqualified landholders by a reduction of jumma, or by a money payment from Government, their lands being nominally held khas, though really managed for the benefit of the proprietors (any surplus collection above the fixed revenue being applied to their benefit) it is declared that the compensation in these instances is to be made in like manner as if the settlement were made with the proprietors, viz. by an abatement of the revenue assessed upon their lands equal to the full amount of the former neat collections of the sayar resumed or abolished, including their one-tenth for which the compensation is ordered; or, in cases where a new assessment of their lands may be made on consideration of the land assets only, by an abatement of such assessment equal to the amount of the one-tenth compensation due to them.

Further rule regarding the compensation to disqualified landholders.

RULE PASSED ON THE 23d DECEMBER 1791.

RULE PASSED ON THE 27th APRIL 1792.

Penalty for persons convicted of exacting unauthorized duties.

XI. Persons exacting taxes or duties of any denomination, contrary to the sayar Regulations of the 11th June 1790, whether as principals or accessaries, having by the 12th Article of the Regulations of that date, been declared liable to prosecution in the courts of dewanny adawlut, the judges of the said courts are required to receive all complaints preferred on account of such exactions, to hear and determine the same within ten days from the date of filing the plaint, or as soon afterwards as the attendance of the necessary evidence may admit, and on proof, to decree a refund of the amount exacted, with damages equal to double the amount besides all necessary costs incurred by the plaintiff in the prosecution, as well as a heavy fine to Government proportionate to the circumstances of the offender, which decree shall be enforced by them by the process prescribed in other cases, and if the property of the offender, which shall be applied in the first instance to make good the damages and costs adjudged to the party injured, shall be in any instance insufficient to make good the fine to Government, the courts may order the fine to be commuted to imprisonment for such period as on consideration of the case may appear to them adequate to the offence.

RULE

RULE PASSED ON THE 1st MAY 1793.

XII. In the event of any deductions or compensations on account of the abolition of the sayer remaining to be adjusted, the adjustment of them is to be left to the collectors under the superintendence of the Board of Revenue, (g) and subject to the final confirmation of the Governor General in Council, under this Regulation, and the courts of judicature are not to take cognizance of any claims regarding such deductions or compensations that have been or may remain to be adjusted. But in cases in which the compensation on account of the abolition of the sayer, either in lands paying revenue to Government, or exempted from the payment of such revenue, shall have been finally adjusted with the sanction of the Governor General in Council, and payment of the amount which may be due under such adjustment, shall be withheld from the person entitled thereto, the courts of dewanny adawlut may take cognizance of any suit that may be preferred to them against the officer withholding the same, for obtaining payment of the amount. If the payment shall have been withheld pursuant to orders from the Governor General in Council, or the Board of Revenue, the judge, previous to proceeding to the trial of the suit, is to forward the petition of the complainant to the Governor General in Council, in the same manner as is directed with regard to the cases specified in section XI, Regulation III, 1793, that, if it shall appear to him proper so to do, he may afford redress to the party without bringing the suit to a trial. Suits instituted against Government under this section, and which may be brought to a trial, are to be defended by the collector, who is to commit the pleading of the cause to the vakeel of Government, and in the event of Government being cast, or of the collector being dissatisfied with the decision, he is to report the circumstances to the Board of Revenue, that an appeal may be preferred against the decision if deemed advisable. (h)

Adjustment of sayer deductions and compensations to be left to the revenue officers, subject to the confirmation of the Governor General in Council.

Courts not to take cognizance of any claims respecting deductions or compensations made or to be made.

If the payment of compensations which may have been adjusted are withheld, courts may take cognizance of suits for the recovery of the amount.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION XXVIII.

A REGULATION for prohibiting British subjects (excepting King's officers serving under the presidency of Fort William, and the civil covenanted servants of the Company, and their military officers) residing at a greater distance from Calcutta than ten miles, unless they render themselves amenable to the courts of dewanny adawlut in civil suits which may be instituted against them by any of the descriptions of persons mentioned in section VII, Regulation III, 1793, and for enabling British subjects to recover any demands, recoverable under the Regulations, which they may have upon such persons.

PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 91st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Hillaity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higreee.

BRITISH subjects residing in the interior parts of the country for commercial purposes, may recover with facility, and at a moderate expense, their claims upon the natives, or other inhabitants of the Company's territories who are declared amenable to the courts of dewanny adawlut in section VII, Regulation III, 1793, by

(g) Or to the Commissioner appointed under R. 1, of 1816, for the zillahs of Behar, Shahabad, Sarun, and Firhoost. The like difference is to be understood throughout this Regulation, provided the subject or rule relates to any of those zillahs.

(h) See R. 2, of 1814, for modifying the rules before established for the trial of suits proposed to be instituted against any of the public officers who have been declared amenable for acts connected with the discharge of their official duties, to the jurisdiction of the courts of civil judicature.

instituting

instituting a suit against them in the court of the zillah or city in which they reside. But the natives of the country, and all other persons subject to the jurisdiction of the dewanny courts, have no means of obtaining redress against such British subjects, but by suing them in the Supreme Court of Judicature at Calcutta. The manufacturers therefore, as well as the immediate cultivators of the soil, and the lower orders of the people, with whom such British subjects necessarily have extensive dealings, are in fact precluded from all redress in the event of their being wronged, as it is obviously impracticable for the generality of persons of these descriptions to quit their families and occupations, and perform a journey probably of several hundred miles, to sue for small demands, in a court proceeding and deciding according to laws, and in a language with both of which they are equally unacquainted, and at an expense that the opulent only can support. The extension of commerce and agriculture, and consequently the future prosperity of the country, depending upon due protection and encouragement being afforded to the manufacturers, the cultivators of the soil, and the other classes of the lower and industrious orders of the people; and it being also equitable that British subjects of every description, should be enabled to recover all demands, excepting such as may be declared not recoverable, which they may have upon the natives, or other persons described in section VII, Regulation III, 1793; the Governor General in Council has enacted the following rules. (a)

British subjects (with certain exceptions) not to be allowed to reside further from Calcutta than ten miles, unless they execute the bond in section III.

II. British subjects (excepting King's officers serving under the presidency of Fort William, the civil covenanted servants of the Company, and their military officers) shall not be permitted to reside at a greater distance from Calcutta than ten miles, unless they enter into a bond rendering themselves amenable to the court of dewanny adawlut within the jurisdiction of which they may reside, in all civil suits that may be instituted against them by natives, or inhabitants of either of the provinces of Bengal, Behar, or Orissa, coming within the descriptions of persons declared amenable to the zillah and city courts by section VII, Regulation III, 1793, for any sum of money, or thing, the amount or value of which shall not exceed five hundred sicca rupees. (b)

Form of the bond.

III. The following is the form of the bond to be executed by such British subjects:

KNOW ALL MEN by these presents, that I _____, of _____, but now about to reside at _____ in the zillah or district of _____ (or in the city of _____) in the province of _____, am held and firmly bound unto _____, judge of the dewanny adawlut of the said zillah or district (or city) of _____ in the sum of _____ to be paid to the said _____, his executors, or administrators, for which payment well and truly to be made, I do hereby bind myself, my heirs, executors, and administrators, firmly by these presents, sealed with my seal, dated this _____ day of _____ in the year of our Lord _____.

WHEREAS the Governor General in Council of Fort William in Bengal, acting for and on behalf of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies, hath by virtue of certain powers and authority in him vested previous to the date hereof, resolved that no British subject, excepting the officers of and belonging to the army of His Majesty the King of Great Britain, serving under the presidency of Fort William, and the civil covenanted servants of the said United Company, and their military officers, shall reside or take up a temporary or other abode at a greater distance from Calcutta at Fort William aforesaid, than ten English miles standard measurement, unless such British subject shall previous to, or at the commencement of, such abode or residence, execute a bond or obligation in such penalty as the Governor General in Council of Fort William aforesaid for the time being, shall duly direct to the judge of the dewanny adawlut for the time being of the zillah or district (or city) in which such British subject shall be about to reside, his heirs, executors, or administrators, with condition that such British subject shall and will from time to time, and at all times thenceforward, submit and be amenable to the dewanny adawlut or court of civil jurisdiction of such zillah or district (or city) in all civil suits that may be instituted against him by any native or other inhabitant (not being a British subject, or resident within the limits of Calcutta) of the provinces within the territorial acquisitions of the said United Company, provided the amount or value of the matter in dispute between the parties in such suit, does not exceed the sum of five hundred sicca rupees; AND WHEREAS the above bounden _____ is a British subject, and hath under and subject to the herein before recited resolution of the Governor General in Council of Fort William aforesaid, obtained permission and license of and from the said Governor General in Council to reside at _____ in the zillah or district (or city) of _____ in the province of _____, in consideration whereof, he the said _____ hath agreed to execute and deliver this present bond or obligation.

(a) Extended to the province of Benares by R. 24, of 1795, and to the zillah of Cuttack by R. 14, of 1806, S. 11.

(b) British born subjects who may be permitted to reside within the district of Sylhet, are to be required to execute a bond, in addition to the one prescribed by this section, to render themselves amenable to the dewanny adawlut of that district in all civil suits for whatever amount or value that may be instituted against them by any of the inhabitants of the hills on, or contiguous to, the Company's frontier in Sylhet, and without such submission they are not to be allowed to remain there. See R. 3, of 1799, S. 7.

NOW THE CONDITION of this obligation is such, that if the above bounden _____, his heirs, executors, and administrators, and all and every of them, do and shall from time to time, and at all times hereafter, on his and their parts and behalves, in all things well and truly stand to, obey, abide by, perform, observe, fulfil, keep and satisfy, all and every the order and orders, decree and decrees, judgment and judgments, of the dewanny adawlut or court of civil jurisdiction, established by the authority of the said United Company, or of the Governor General in Council of and for the said United Company, in the said zillah or district (or city) of _____ in the said province of _____, or of the judge or judges of the said courts for the time being, in all and every suit or suits, action or actions, which now is or are or hereafter shall or may be brought, commenced, instituted, sued, or prosecuted against the said _____ by any native or natives, or other inhabitant or inhabitants (not being a British subject or subjects, or resident within the limits of the town of Calcutta at Fort William aforesaid) of any of the provinces dependent upon, or, within the territorial acquisitions of the said United Company, provided the matter in dispute between the parties, or, the cause or causes of each and every such suit or suits, action or actions, doth not and shall not respectively at the time of commencing such suit or suits, action or actions, exceed in value the sum of five hundred sicca rupees, or if the said _____, his heirs, executors, and administrators, shall and do, well and truly stand to, abide by, obey, fulfil, and satisfy, all and every the order and orders, decree or decrees, judgment or judgments, which in case of any appeal of such suit or suits, action or actions, duly and regularly made from the said dewanny adawlut to the proper court or courts of appeal, shall be duly and regularly made by such court of appeal as shall finally hear, decide and determine such suit or suits, action or actions, and if the said _____, his heirs, executors, and administrators, or any or either of them, shall not and do not in and relating to such suit or suits, action or actions, apply for any writ or writs of surcease to issue out of and from the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal aforesaid, according to the manner and form prescribed and mentioned in the charter or letters patent for esta-blishing the same, then this obligation to be void and of no effect, otherwise to be and remain in full force and virtue.

IV. The bond is to be executed in open court, before the judge of the court, within the jurisdiction of which such British subject may reside, or take up his abode, unless the court shall have been adjourned, in which case it is to be executed before the judge out of court. The bond is to be deposited amongst the records of the court.

New bond to be executed when any such British subject shall remove into another jurisdiction.

V. If any such British subject residing within the jurisdiction of a zillah or city court, who may have executed the bond contained in section III, shall hereafter remove into the jurisdiction of any other zillah or city court, to any place being at a greater distance from Calcutta than ten miles, he shall execute a new bond to the same effect, which shall be deposited in the dewanny adawlut of the zillah or city in which he may so take up his abode. And all such British subjects, whether they may have previously executed the bond in section III, or not, upon proceeding to any place within the jurisdiction of a zillah or city court, and being at a greater distance from Calcutta than ten miles, with a view to reside there, shall within ten days after their arrival in such jurisdiction, attend before the judge of the court to execute the prescribed bond, and in default of their so attending, the judge shall summon them to appear for that purpose, by a writing under the seal of the court, and attested by the register.

If such plaintiff shall refuse to execute the instrument, his plaint shall not be received or filed. (c)

A. D. 1793. REGULATION XXIX.

A REGULATION for re-enacting, with alterations and amendments, the rules passed on the 10th of December 1788, and subsequent dates, for the conduct of the salt agents, and all persons employed or concerned in the provision of salt on account of Government.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengul era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higeer.

GOVERNMENT having thought it proper to reserve to itself the exclusive privilege of manufacturing salt as a source of public revenue, the nature and extent of the business require, that rules should be prescribed for preventing persons employed in the manufacture, embezzling the money advanced to them, and for ensuring the due performance of their engagements. It is equally essential, that provision should be made for deterring the officers and others employed in the superintendence of the manufacture, from compelling persons to engage in it, or oppressing those who may have voluntarily executed agreements, or entered into the employ of the publick. As the most effectual mode of guarding against such abuses, and of ensuring justice to the salt-workers, and others employed in the manufacture, in their dealings with the publick; the Governor General in Council has determined, that the rules to which persons engaging in the salt manufacture may be subject, shall be incorporated with the laws and regulations for the internal Government of the country, and that the agents and officers employed in the immediate superintendence of the manufacture, shall be liable to be sued for any deviation from those rules in the courts of judicature, that every person who may deem himself aggrieved by their official acts, whether originating with themselves, or done in consequence of orders from the superior authorities, may be able to obtain redress with the same facility, as for an injury received from an individual. The following rules, being the rules passed by the Governor General in Council, on the 10th December 1788, and subsequent dates, with alterations and amendments, adapted to the principles above stated, have been accordingly enacted. (a)

Oath to be taken by the agents.

II. The persons who may be appointed agents for the provision of salt on account of Government, previous to entering on the execution of the duties of their office, shall take and subscribe the following oath before the Governor General in Council, or any person whom he may commission to administer it.

"I, A. B. swear, that I will render true and faithful accounts of the sums which may be advanced to me as agent for superintending the provision of salt to be manufactured on account of the Company, in the division of _____, and of the produce, whenever required by the Governor General in Council; and that I will not at any time, either during my agency or afterwards, have any concern in salt, nor derive any profit from my agency besides my commission, and the salary which has been allowed to me by the Governor General in Council, nor knowingly suffer my dependents to derive any profits but such as are allowed."

"SO HELP ME GOD."

No person to be compelled to engage in the salt manufacture.

Persons having engaged, not to be obliged to re-engage.

III. No person shall be compelled under any pretence whatever, to engage in the provision, manufacture, or transportation of salt, either as a contractor, or a labourer, or in any other capacity; and all persons who may engage in the provision, manufacture, or transportation of salt, and may not choose to re-engage, shall be at liberty to relinquish the employment, after performing the engagements into which they may have entered, and to follow any other occupation they may think proper, without hindrance or molestation.

Penalty for salt agents compelling persons to engage in the manufacture.

IV. If a salt agent shall compel, or use any means, or cause any of his officers or others, to compel any molungee, byoparry, or other person, to receive advances, or to contract for or engage in the provision, manufacture, or transportation of salt, the judge of the dewanny adawlut, on proof of the charge to his satisfaction, shall adjudge the contract or engagement null and void, and direct the complainant to be discharged, and cause the advances, if any should have been made, to be returned by him, and award such costs and damages against the agent as may appear to him equitable. The agent so offending, shall moreover be liable to be dismissed from his office by the Governor General in Council.

Penalty for assistants or any head officers of an auring using compulsion.

V. First. If the assistant to a salt agent, whether a covenanted servant of the Company, or a European not in the Company's service, or any head native officer of an auring or place of manufacture empowered to redress complaints as hereafter directed, shall compel, or use any means, or cause any of his officers or others, to compel any molungee, labourer, or other person to receive advances, or to contract for or engage in the provision, manufacture, or transportation of salt, he shall on conviction before the agent, or before the dewanny adawlut, stand dismissed from his office, (b) and shall be made to pay to the complainant a sum equal to the amount of the whole of the advances which he would have been entitled to receive, had he voluntarily entered into the contract or engagement, with any further compensation to which he may appear entitled, and the complainant shall be immediately discharged, and any advances that he may have received, shall be taken back from him.

Assistants and head officers responsible for

Second. Assistants, and head officers of aurings, empowered to redress complaints, shall be held responsible for any compulsion that may be used for the purposes speci-

(a) Extended to the zillah of Cuttack by R. 22, of 1814, S. 2.

(b) An assistant to a salt agent, being a covenanted servant, is not peremptorily removable from his office but by the express orders of the Governor General in Council. Nor are the salt agents empowered of their own authority to remove or appoint any officer upon their establishments, excepting those who receive a salary under ten rupees a month, but by the orders of the Board of Trade. See R. 5, of 1804, and R. 8, of 1809.

fied in the preceding clause, by the gomastahs, peons, or other officers subject to their authority, unless it shall appear that it was had recourse to without their knowledge or connivance, and that they redressed the injury immediately on being apprized of it. Where persons subject to the authority of such assistant or head officer, shall be convicted of using such compulsion without his knowledge or connivance, the court, or the agent, or the officer before whom they may be convicted, shall pass the same decision as is directed to be given in the preceding clause, in cases in which the head officers of aurungs may be convicted of using compulsion. (c) compulsion used by those under them.

Exceptions.

VI. If any contractor, hyoparry, or molungee, having received advances or entered into engagements for the provision of salt, shall be convicted before the dewanny adawlut, or the agent, or any of his officers empowered to redress complaints, of compelling directly or indirectly, any labourer, or other person to receive advances, or to engage in the manufacture: the court, or the agent, or the officer so empowered, is to give the same judgment, with the exception of dismissal from office, as is directed to be passed in the cases specified in clause second of the preceding section. And that no contractor, hyoparry, or molungee, may plead ignorance of the above rule, a clause to the effect thereof shall be inserted in their contracts.

Penalty for contractors, hyoparries and molungees, using compulsion.

VII. All contracts and engagements entered into with hyoparries, molungees, or others, for the provision of a specific quantity of salt, are to be made in writing, attested by at least two creditable witnesses, and are to be signed by the agent, or any of his officers whom he may empower to sign them, and one copy of them is to remain with the agent or his officer, and the other is to be delivered to the party contracted or engaged with. In all practicable cases, security shall be taken for the performance of such contracts and engagements, and the contractor shall have the option of delivering the salt, either by weight or measure, the mode of delivery being specified in his contract.

Contracts for salt to be made in writing, and attested by at least two witnesses.

VIII. When advances are made to contractors or others, the money shall be counted and examined by them, or the persons appointed on their part to receive the money, previous to their signing the receipts, and the agents shall be careful that the money is of proper weight; and in contracts, the periods for making the advances shall be specified, and the advances made accordingly.

Security to be taken for the due performance of contracts, in all practicable cases.

Money advanced to be of proper weight, and to be examined and counted by the receivers.

IX. Where it is customary to enter into contracts with hyoparries or others, for the provision of a specific quantity of salt, and to leave the contractor to engage the necessary number of salt-workers, or labourers, and to make the advances to them, the agent and his officers are prohibited from deputing peons, or other persons, to assist the contractors, in collecting salt-workers or labourers, but are to leave the contractors to hire persons willing to enter into their employ. Where it is customary for the agent to procure the salt-workers or labourers for the contractor, he shall not depute peons or other persons with the contractors to collect the salt-workers or labourers, or leave the contractors to make the advances to them, but shall himself, or by means of his officers, hire the requisite number of salt-workers or labourers, and cause the money to be advanced to them in the public cutcherry in his own presence, or in the presence of his officers appointed for the purpose, and shall take or cause to be taken receipts for the money so advanced to the salt-workers or labourers, under their signature or mark, and attested by at least two creditable witnesses. This rule with regard to advances to labourers, is to be observed in cases where no contracts may be made, and where the salt may be deliverable by the salt-workers or labourers, immediately to the officers of the agent.

How advances are to be made to salt-workers or labourers, in cases of contract where the agent is, or is not, bound to procure them, and in cases where the salt is delivered by the manufacturer to the officers of the agent.

X. Labourers or salt-workers shall not be considered to have engaged to work in the manufacture, until they have received money as advances, and given a receipt for the amount.

Labourers or salt-workers not to be considered as having engaged, until they have received advances and signed receipts.

(c) The authority granted by this clause to the agent and his officers, for the dismissal of public servants, is to be considered to extend over such as receive less than ten rupees per month. See R. 5, of 1804, and R. 8, of 1809.

Rules for preventing persons who may voluntarily receive advances, afterwards returning them under the pretext of their having been compelled to receive them.

XI. To prevent persons who may voluntarily receive advances, and give a receipt for the amount, afterwards declaring that they were compelled to receive the advances in order to get released from their engagement; the courts, in the event of any complaint being made to them by a labourer or other person that he was compelled to receive advances, are directed, excepting in cases in which they may have full and satisfactory evidence before them that compulsion was used, to consider the receipt as evidence prima facie, of the advances having been voluntarily received, and they shall not release the complainant from his engagements, or prevent his proceeding to the place of manufacture, should he not have proceeded there, nor bring him from thence, should he have repaired thither, until they shall have completed the trial of the complaint, and shall be satisfied that the engagement was compulsive, and repugnant to this Regulation. The agents are to apply this rule in similar complaints that may be preferred to them.

Penalty for officers of the agent guilty of exactions.

XII. Overseers, gomastahs, peons, and all officers in the employ of the agent, are prohibited from taking or receiving any tullubannah, gratuity, perquisite, or allowance, either in money or effects, under any pretence whatever, from any molungee, lyoparry, contractor, labourer, or other person employed or concerned in the provision, manufacture, or transportation of salt, and if any of the above descriptions of persons under the authority of the agent, being a native, shall be convicted of disobedience to this injunction, he shall be compelled to pay four times the amount so taken or received to the party injured, and be dismissed from his office, and if he be an European, he shall be made to pay the above sum to the injured party, and be immediately dismissed, and sent to Calcutta. (d)

In all practicable cases, engagements to be concluded with the immediate manufacturers.

XIII. The abuses which heretofore existed in the salt manufacture, having originated chiefly in the number of intermediate persons employed between Government and the manufacturers, the agents are required in all practicable cases, to conclude engagements for the provision of salt with the persons by whom it is actually manufactured.

Agents to depute persons in the boiling seasons to afford relief to the labourers where necessary.

XIV. The agents shall occasionally depute creditable persons for the purpose of inspecting the different places of manufacture during the boiling season, and report the condition of the labourers, and any ill treatment they may have experienced, in order that immediate relief may be afforded to them, with such further redress, either during or after the expiration of the season, as they may be entitled to, and the agents are enjoined to redress all complaints that may be transmitted to them by the persons so deputed.

Penalties for native officers convicted of the offences herein specified.

XV. Native officers employed under the agents, who may be convicted of disposing, or conniving at the disposal, of the salt manufactured on account of the Company, to others, or of making salt for themselves, or conniving at any other person making salt on their private account, embezzling the Company's salt, or property, entrusted to them, or of writing false balances in their accounts, shall, on conviction in the dewanny adawlut, forfeit double the value of the salt so made, or the property so embezzled, or of the amount of the balances so alienated, in addition to the costs of suit, and be further liable to imprisonment for such term as to the court may seem proper, not exceeding twelve months, and upon the circumstances being represented by the Board of Trade to the Governor General in Council, he will, if it shall appear to him proper, declare the offender incapable of serving Government in any capacity. (e)

No persons to use means

(d) See the notes to section 5 of this Regulation, regarding the dismissal of public servants from their offices; and also the provisions of R. 6, of 1801, S. 31, how darogahs and other officers of salt chokers are punishable, for receiving presents or gratuities from persons concerned in the salt trade; or in the transportation of that article.

not to hinder the salt agents or their officers, from access to molungees, or other persons, in order to treat with them respecting the business of the manufacture, nor are they to use any arts, menaces, or punishment, to deter persons from accepting advances, under pain of being liable to be sued for damages in the dewanny adawlut.

XVII. All officers of Government, proprietors and farmers of land, talookdars, under-farmers, and ryots, and their officers, agents, and dependents, are strictly enjoined not to behave with disrespect to the salt agents, or their officers, or in any wise to throw obstructions in the way of the manufacture, and they are required, on application from the agent, or any of his officers, to afford every assistance in their power towards promoting the manufacture, which may be consistent with the authority vested in them, and the Regulations.

No person to behave with disrespect to the salt agents or officers. Nor to impede the manufacture, but to assist it to the utmost of their power.

XVIII. Persons actually employed in the salt manufacture who cultivate or rent lands, are to pay according to their pottahs or engagements, in the same manner as other ryots or renters, and under the same rules and Regulations, with the exceptions specified in sections XIX and XXI, as to the mode of demanding and enforcing payment of arrears during the manufacturing season, which is to be considered as commencing on the first day of Kautic, and ending on the last day of Assar.

Persons employed in the salt manufacture, renting or cultivating lands, subject to the same rules as other renters or cultivators.

Exception.

XIX. First. To prevent unnecessary interruption to the manufacture, and at the same time that persons employed in it, may not withhold the rents justly due from them for lands which they may rent or cultivate, the following rules are prescribed.

Rules for the recovery of arrears of rent from persons employed in the manufacture.

Not to be summoned during the manufacturing season.

Second. From the beginning of Kautic to the end of Assar, no person under engagements and employed in the salt manufacture, shall be summoned to the cut-herry, of any proprietor or farmer of land, or any native holding or entrusted with the collection of the rents or revenue of lands, under any pretence whatever. If any such proprietors, farmers, or natives, shall have a claim for or relating to rent on any persons so engaged and employed, and shall be desirous of enforcing it during the period abovementioned, they shall either distrain for the amount under Regulation XVII, 1793, or sue the stated defaulter for it in the dewanny adawlut, or state their claim in writing to the agent, who, if he shall deem it expedient so to do, shall cause the stated defaulter to satisfy the claim, or satisfy it himself, and stop the amount by kist-bundy from his future advances, so that his labour on a count of the manufacture may not be interrupted. If the claimant shall prefer applying in the first instance to the agent, and he shall not afford satisfaction for the claim, the claimant must distrain or commence a civil prosecution as above pointed out; but in the event of the claimant having recourse to distraint, the salt, advances, or implements belonging to the Company, in the hands of the defaulter, shall not be liable for the claim.

Demand to be enforced by distraint, suit, or application to the agent.

Salt, advances, or implements of the Company not liable for the arrears.

XX. First. Persons instituting suits in the dewanny adawlut, against any of the officers of the agents or any individuals under engagements on account of the salt manufacture, and employed therein, are to specify their being so engaged and employed. If the summons is to be served during the months of Sawun, Bhadoon, and Assin, it shall be served on the defendant in the same manner as on other defendants not employed in the salt manufacture. If the summons is to be served between the commencement of Kautic and the end of Assar, the summons, with a copy of the complaint, shall be enclosed in a sealed cover addressed to the agent, and superscribed with the official signature of the judge or register. (f) It shall be at the option of the agent to execute, or to cause one of his officers, or any other person whom he may think proper, to execute the security required from defendants by section V, Regulation IV, 1793, and also the security directed by section IX, Regulation

Persons instituting suits against individuals employed in the salt manufacture to specify their being so employed.

Summons to be served immediately on the defendant during Sawun, Bhadoon, and Assin.

Summons to be served through the agents during the manufacturing season, who may himself become security or order any other person to become security.

(f) The general first process against a defendant in a civil suit, is a notice instead of the summons and requisition of security for appearance, except when a defendant intends or is likely to abscond. The notice is to be served upon persons in the employ of the salt agents, in the same manner as summonses are directed to be served upon them by this section. See the provisions of R. 2, of 1806. See also R. 4, of 1793, prescribing rules to be observed in summoning the officers of the salt chokees.

VII, (g) 1793, for the fees of the authorized vakeel whom he may entertain, or to leave the party summoned to find the required security, and in the latter case, and in the event of the summons being committed to an officer of the court, if the officer shall entertain doubts of the responsibility of the security so offered, and the agent shall declare it to be responsible, the officer shall accept the security. If the agent shall not deem it expedient to order any of his officers, or any other person to become security, and the defendant himself shall not be able to find a security whom the agent may deem responsible, the agent is to cause the party summoned to accompany the officer of the court to the court, or, if the summons shall not have been committed to the charge of an officer, he shall cause him to be conveyed before the court.

Case in which the defendant is to accompany the officer to the court.

Agent may likewise empower the person, herein specified to execute securities, and to redress complaints in matters relating to the manufacture.

Judge to be furnished with a list of such persons, and their places of abode.

Judges may send the summonses to the persons so empowered, instead of the agent.

How summonses are to be executed, where the plaintiff shall not specify that the defendant is employed in the salt manufacture, and the summons shall be issued in the same manner as to other defendants.

Warrants for bailable offences against persons employed in the salt manufacture, are to be served during the manufacturing season.

Second. The salt agents are to empower their respective assistants, whether covenanted servants of the Company, or Europeans not in the Company's service, and the head officer of each of the principal aarungs or places of manufacture, and also an authorized vakeel of the dewanny adawlut, or any other person whom the agents may think it proper to station at the place at which the court may be held, to execute the securities specified in the preceding clause for persons employed in the salt manufacture, and also to redress complaints that may be preferred to them by molungees, labourers, or others working under their respective aarungs, against their subordinate officers, or any molungees or persons employed in the salt manufacture, on account of matters relating to the manufacture, but no other. The agents are to be careful to keep the judge furnished with a list of the persons so empowered, specifying also the place at which they may usually reside, and the judges are authorized, in instances in which they may deem it proper, either from the distance of the place of abode of the agent, from the place at which the person to be summoned may reside, or other circumstances, to order the summons to be enclosed to one of the persons so empowered to become security, instead of transmitting it to the agent himself under the preceding clause, in which case, such person shall proceed in the manner prescribed to the agent where the summons may be sent immediately to him.

Third. If a suit shall be preferred in the dewanny adawlut against any of the officers of the agents, or any person under engagements on account of the salt manufacture, and employed therein, without specifying that he is so engaged and employed, and a summons shall in consequence be ordered to be served on him in the same manner as on other defendants, between the commencement of Kautic and the end of Assar, the officer serving the summons, on the circumstance of the defendant being so employed, being notified to him by the agent, or any of his officers, or by the defendant himself, shall deliver the summons to the nearest person empowered to execute securities, whether the agent, or his assistant, or the head officer of an aarung, who shall proceed in the manner prescribed to the agent in clause first. If the officer shall receive the notification of the defendant being employed in the manufacture, from the defendant only, and shall entertain doubts of his being so employed, or if he shall not entertain any such doubts but shall apprehend that he will abscond whilst he (the officer) is repairing with the summons to the person empowered to execute the securities, he shall in such case carry the defendant with the summons to the persons so empowered, and shall not release his person until the required securities have been executed.

Fourth. In cases in which a person under engagements on account of the salt manufacture, and employed therein, shall be charged before the magistrate with a bailable offence, and the warrant shall be ordered to be served at any period between the commencement of the month of Kautic, and the end of Assar, the warrant shall be served in the manner directed in the preceding clauses, with regard to summonses in civil cases, with this difference, that the warrant shall require the party summoned to appear in person or by vakeel, as the magistrate may think proper, either during or after the manufacturing season, and specify the sum for which the security or recognizance for the appearance of the defendant is to be given, the amount of which shall be regulated by the magistrate according to the nature of the offence, and the situation and circumstances in life of the defendant.

(g) This Regulation is rescinded, and other rules regarding the office of vakeel or native pleader in the courts of civil judicature are enacted by R. 27, of 1814, by S. 23, of which, a deposit is to be made instead of giving security for vakeel's fees.

Fifth. In all the cases specified in the preceding clauses of this section, the agent, or his assistant, or head officer, through whom the summons or warrant may be served, shall return on the back of it, in what manner it has been served, and by whom the security has been executed.

Return to be made on the back of summonses and warrants served as above directed.

Sixth. If a charge shall be preferred to a magistrate against any of the officers of the agents, or any person under engagements on account of the salt manufacture, and employed therein, for an offence that is not bailable, and there shall appear to the magistrate sufficient ground for apprehending the person so charged, the warrant for his apprehension shall require him to appear immediately in person, and shall be executed at all times in the same manner as upon persons not so engaged or employed. But the officer after securing the offender, is to give notice thereof to the agent or the head officer of the nearest aurung, or place of manufacture.

Warrants for offences not bailable how to be executed on persons employed in the salt manufacture.

Seventh. The darogahs of police are to observe the rules prescribed in clauses fourth and sixth of this section, in all complaints that may be preferred to them against molungees, labourers, or other persons in the employ of the Company.

Darogahs of police to observe the rules in clauses fourth and sixth.

Eighth. In all cases, in which the agents, or their head officers empowered for that purpose, shall become security under any of the clauses of this section, for the appearance of any officer or person employed in the salt manufacture, or for the fees of vakeels, (h) or shall declare any person whom the party summoned may offer as security, to be responsible, the agent is to be considered personally answerable for the due performance of the conditions of the security, in the event of the party for whom the security may be given not performing them himself, or, where the party himself shall have given the security, and it shall have been declared responsible by the agent or his officers, in the event of the party or such surety not performing them. It will accordingly be the business of the agents to take care to employ creditable persons only as head officers to superintend the business of the aurungs, and to become security and redress complaints, and to furnish them with proper instructions, and to take such security from them as they (the agents) may deem sufficient to indemnify themselves for the consequences that may result from any abuse which such officers may commit in the exercise of their trust.

Agents and their officers to be responsible for the performance of the conditions of the securities they may execute or approve.

Ninth. Summonses to officers or other persons employed in the salt manufacture, to appear as witnesses, shall be served during the manufacturing season, in the same manner as if they were parties in the cause, but the judges are to be careful not to summon such officers or persons excepting when their attendance shall be necessary, and on their appearance, to have them examined and dismissed with all practicable dispatch, so that they may be absent from the business of the manufacture as short a time as possible.

How summonses on persons employed in the salt manufacture are to be executed when required as witnesses.

Tenth. The agents, and their European and native officers, are declared liable to be sued in the dewanny adawlut, should they apply any of the rules in the preceding clauses of this section regarding summonses and warrants issued against persons employed in the manufacture of salt, to persons not bonâ fide so employed. And as the rules contained in those clauses, are intended only to prevent unnecessary interruption to the manufacture, where it can be avoided without impeding the course of justice; the judges and magistrates are empowered in particular cases in which it may appear to them indispensably necessary for the purposes of justice, to order the personal attendance of any native officer or person in any wise concerned or employed in the salt manufacture, whether he may be a party or a witness in the suit or prosecution, at any time during the manufacturing season, notwithstanding any thing that may be said to the contrary in those clauses, and to cause process to be executed upon him for that purpose, in the same manner as upon other individuals, but in such cases, the judges and magistrates are to record on their proceedings their reasons for deviating from the prescriptions contained in the said clauses, which are to be considered as the general rules for issuing and executing such summonses and warrants, and in the summons or warrant, they are to specify that it has been specially ordered to be so executed, in virtue of the discretionary power vested in them by this clause, and they are moreover strictly enjoined to refrain from every unnecessary exercise of that power.

XXI. If a decree shall be passed against a native officer, or any person under engagements on account of the salt manufacture, and actually employed in it, and the court shall order the decree to be enforced at any time between the commencement of Kautic and the end of Assar, recourse may be had to his property, but his person shall not be attached or molested during that period. At the close however of the manufacturing season, the agent shall be responsible for his appearing before the court, if required; but the salt, or the advances, or any implements belonging to the Company, which may be in his hands, shall not be liable for the decree. But during Sawun, Bhadoon, and Assin, and also in the manufacturing season, if the salt agent shall signify to the judge through an authorized vakeel of the court, that their attendance is not required in the business of the manufacture, the persons of all such individuals so employed, shall be equally amenable with their property for decrees.

XXII. First. The salt agents, and their assistants, whether covenanted servants of the Company, or Europeans not in the Company's service, and their native officers and agents are declared liable to be sued in the dewanny adawlut for any breach of this Regulation, or any other Regulation that may be passed and printed in the manner directed in Regulation XLI, 1793, but under the rules and restrictions prescribed in the following clauses of this section.

Second. During the manufacturing season, if any molungee, or a labourer, or any other person, who may be employed in the salt manufacture, shall deem himself aggrieved by any act or order of the agent himself, he shall in the first instance state his complaint in person or by vakeel, to the agent, and in the event of the agent refusing to afford him the required redress, or of his omitting to grant it within a reasonable time, the complainant shall be at liberty to sue him in the dewanny adawlut.

Third. During the manufacturing season, if a molungee, or a labourer, or any other person who may be employed in the salt manufacture, shall deem himself aggrieved by any act of the assistant to the agent, or the head officer of an aurung or place of manufacture vested with the power of becoming security, and redressing complaints, he shall in the first instance state his complaint in person or by vakeel to the agent, or the officer from whom he may have sustained the injury. If he shall first apply to such officer, and he shall refuse to afford him the required redress, or omit to grant it within a reasonable time, he shall have recourse to the agent, and if he shall in like manner omit or refuse to give redress, the complainant shall be at liberty to sue the officer from whom he may have sustained the injury, or the agent, in the dewanny adawlut, and the court shall hold the officer or the agent responsible accordingly.

Fourth. During the manufacturing season, if any molungee, or labourer, or other person, who may be employed in the salt manufacture, shall deem himself aggrieved by any native officer subordinate to the head officer of the aurung under which he may work, or by any contractor, byoparry, or molungee, he shall in the first instance apply for redress in person or by vakeel, to the agent or his assistant, or to the head officer of the aurung, and in the event of his applying first to the assistant or head officer,

Fifth. In the cases specified in the three preceding clauses, the courts are not to receive the suit of the complainant, unless he shall prove, either by oath, or in any other mode which the court may deem satisfactory, that he made the previous application for redress to the agent, as directed in those clauses.

Sixth. In the several cases specified in clauses second, third, and fourth, of this section, the complainant, if the engagements which he may have entered into on account of the manufacture be not completed, shall not quit the place of manufacture to prosecute his complaint in person, without the permission of the head officer of the aurung under which he may work, or of the agent, or his assistant, but shall employ a vakeel for that purpose, unless he shall offer to substitute a person to perform his work in his room, and the agent, or his assistant, or the head officer of the aurung, shall be of opinion that the work will be equally well performed by the person so offered to be substituted, in which case the agent, or his assistant, or officer, shall permit the complainant to depart.

Seventh. Agents may take upon themselves the redress of complaints depending before their assistants, or head officers empowered to redress complaints, and they may also set aside, or alter, the awards on any complaints that may have been given by their assistants, or head officers, and give such award as may appear to them equitable.

Eighth. Complainants or persons complained against, who may be dissatisfied with the awards of the agents, or their assistants, or head officers, may appeal therefrom to the dewanny adawlut, and the appeal shall be admitted, provided it be preferred to the court before the commencement of the ensuing manufacturing season, or it may be admitted after that period, if the party appealing can show to the court satisfactory cause for not having preferred the appeal within the limited time.

Ninth. The agents are authorized, in cases in which they may deem it advisable so to do, to undertake the defence of any suit that may be instituted in the dewanny adawlut against their assistants or any of their officers, or other persons employed by them in the business of the manufacture, but in such cases the agent himself is to be considered as responsible for the decree of the court.

Tenth. During the months of Sawun, Bhadoon, and Assin, molungees, labourers, and all other persons having entered into engagements on account of the salt manufacture, or having been employed in it, who may consider themselves aggrieved by any acts done by the agent, or his assistant, or any of his officers, or other persons employed by him, in breach of this Regulation, or any other Regulation printed and published in the manner directed in Regulation XLI, 1793, are declared to have the option of suing either in person or by vakeel, the party from whom they may have sustained the injury in the dewanny adawlut, without preferring the previous application for redress, directed in the preceding clauses of this section to be made during the manufacturing season, or they may pursue the mode of redress pointed out in those clauses, and the parties bound thereby to give redress, shall afford it in the same manner as if application had been made to them for that purpose during the said season; and further, with a view to ensure to the molungees, labourers, and other persons engaged in the manufacture, speedy redress of injuries they may sustain, the courts are required, in Courts not to receive complaints in the cases specified in the three preceding clauses, unless satisfied that the required previous application for redress has been made.

Complainants not to quit their work to prosecute complaints in the cases above specified, but to employ vakeels.

Persons dissatisfied with the awards of the agents may appeal to the dewanny adawlut.

Agents may undertake the defence of any suits instituted in the adawlut against their officers.

In Sawun, Bhadoon and Assin, any person employed in the salt department may sue the agent or any of his officers or others in the adawlut without making any previous application whatever for redress, or, they may make previous application for redress as directed in this section in the manufacturing season.

The agent or his assistant, is immediately to acknowledge the receipt of the order, or process, by an endorsement to that effect on the back of it, and is to return it under a sealed cover addressed to the judge or register.

XXIV. In cases in which suits may be instituted in the dewanny adawlut against an agent or his assistant, or the head officer of an auring, for a breach of this Regulation, or any other Regulation, printed and published in the manner directed in Regulation XLI, 1793; and where the act complained of shall not have been done pursuant to special orders from the Board of Trade, or the Governor General in Council, the agent, or his assistant, or officer who may be prosecuted, is to appoint an authorized vakeel of the court to defend the suit at his own risk. (i)

XXV. In cases in which the agents, or their assistants, or any of the head officers of the auring, may be sued for an official act done in pursuance of the orders of the Governor General in Council, or of the Board of Trade, or in cases in which they may be ordered by either of those authorities, to defend or prosecute a suit, the prosecution or defence shall be carried on at the expense of Government, either by the vakeel of Government, or any other authorized vakeel of the court, as the Board of Trade or the agent may deem proper, notwithstanding any thing that may be said to the contrary in any Regulation passed on this date.

XXVI. If the Board of Trade shall approve, either wholly or in part of a decision given against an agent or his assistant, or any of his head officers, in suits of the description of those specified in section XXIV, they are empowered to make the person against whom the decision may be given, or the act complained of may have been done, responsible for the whole or any part of the costs and damages awarded by the decree, or of the decree itself, if upon a consideration of the merits of the case, and of the conduct of the person against whom the decree may be given, or by whom the act complained of may have been done, they shall be of opinion that Government ought not to be charged with all or any part of such costs or damages, or of the amount decreed. But in such cases, the person whom the Board may so hold responsible, shall be at liberty to appeal the cause at his own risk.

XXVII. If the Board of Trade shall be dissatisfied with any decree passed against an agent, or his assistant, or any of his officers, either in suits of the description of those specified in sections XXIV or XXV, they may authorize an appeal from it under the Regulations, in which case, the appeal shall be carried on in the provincial court, and in the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut (should the cause be carried to the last mentioned court) by the vakeel of Government, or by any other authorized vakeel of the court into which the cause may be brought, notwithstanding any thing that may be said to the contrary in any Regulation passed on this date.

XXVIII. Security is not to be demanded from the agents, or their assistants, nor from the head officers of auring, whom they may empower to become security, and redress complaints, for their personal appearance, (j) in any suit in which they may be engaged in their official capacity, nor for the payment of costs or damages, or for the performance of the decrees or orders of the court. The Governor General in Council will be responsible that the agents, and their assistants who may be covenanted servants of the Company, shall answer the suits that may be instituted against them, and fulfil the decrees of the courts, and he will hold the agents answerable, that their European assistants who may not be in the service of the Company, shall appear to answer suits preferred against them, and make good the decrees that may be passed against them. With regard to the native officers subordinate to the head officers of the aurungs, and all other persons employed in the manufacture, security must be taken from them, and the decrees passed against them, enforced in the manner directed in sections XX and XXI.

(i) See the several provisions of R. 17, of 1813, and R. 2, of 1814, regarding inquiries into charges and complaints against European public-officers, and the trial of suits against any of the public officers, who have been declared amenable for acts connected with the discharge of their official duties, to the courts of civil judicature.

(j) Security for appearance is not now demandable from any defendant in a civil suit, unless there be reason to apprehend that he will abscond. See R. 2, of 1806.

XXIX. The agents, their assistants, and head officers of aurungs, shall not be liable to prosecution for any official acts of their predecessors. But persons who may be removed from an agency, or an assistantship, or the appointment of head officer of an aurung, are to carry on, in the same manner as if they had continued in the office, all suits instituted against them in their official capacity, unless the Board of Trade, upon a consideration of the circumstances of the cases, shall deem it advisable to order the agent for the time being, to carry on the suits. This rule however is not to extend to suits in which an agent, or an assistant, or head officer of an aurung, who may have been removed, shall have been engaged in virtue of orders from the Board of Trade, or the Governor General in Council. All such suits are to be carried on by the agent for the time being at the risk of Government.

XXX. To facilitate the communication between the agents and their assistants, and head officers of aurungs, and the vakeels in the zillah or city courts, or the provincial courts of appeal, and the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, who may be entrusted with the conduct of any suits or appeals in which they may be engaged in their official capacity, either whilst they may continue in the office, or after their removal from it, they are permitted to forward free of postage, any instructions which they may have occasion to transmit to the vakeels of those courts. The instructions are to be enclosed under a sealed cover directed to the vakeel. The instructions so sealed and directed are to be transmitted under a sealed cover addressed to the register of the court in which the cause may be depending, and are to be superscribed with the name and the official appellation of the person dispatching them, or that which he bore when the cause of action arose. The register of the court, immediately on receiving the instructions, is to deliver them sealed to the vakeel to whom they may be directed. In like manner, the vakeels in any of the courts to whom the pleading of such suits or appeals may be committed under this Regulation, by persons holding or having held the office of agent, assistant, or head officer of an aurung, are authorized, either whilst their constituents remain in such office, or after they shall have been removed from it, to forward any papers which they may have to convey to their constituents by the public dawk free of postage. The papers are to be enclosed in a cover sealed with the seal of the vakeel, and the judge or the register of the court, is to transmit the papers so sealed in a cover addressed to the person to whom they are to be forwarded, and subscribe the cover with his official signature.

XXXI. In cases in which the Board of Trade may judge it expedient, or in which they may receive orders for the purpose from the Governor General in Council, they shall take upon themselves the superintendence of the prosecution or defence of any suit or appeal, in which they or their officers may be engaged, either in a zillah or city court, a provincial court of appeal, or the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, instead of leaving the superintendence of the conduct of the suit or appeal to the agent or any other officer.

XXXII. The agents, and their assistants, and head officers of aurungs, are not to derive any advantage whatever from suits in which they may be engaged in any of the officers of aurungs, for costs or damages, or the performance of decrees of the court.

Agents &c. not liable to prosecution for the acts of their predecessors.

Cases in which the Board of Trade are to take upon themselves the prosecution or defence of suit or any appeal.

Agents and their assistants, and head officers not to derive any pecuniary advantage from suits in which they may be engaged, nor to suffer any loss, if their conduct be approved by the superior authorities.

To bring to account all sums adjudged to them, and to issue from their treasury, the expenses of suits in which they may be engaged, but not to pass them to the debit of Government, without the sanction of the Board of Trade.

the courts of justice in their official capacity. On the other hand, it is not intended that they should sustain any loss in consequence of such suits, where their conduct may be approved by the Board of Trade, or the Governor General in Council. The agents, and their assistants, and head officers of avarungs, are accordingly to bring to the credit of the Company in their public accounts, all sums whatever that may be adjudged to them by any of the courts of justice; and they are to note at the foot of their accounts, or in a separate account, or under a distinct head in their accounts, according as the Board of Trade may direct, all sums which they may disburse, or be adjudged to pay, on account of any suits or prosecutions in which they may be engaged or concerned, in their official capacity; but no such disbursements or payments, are to be considered as passed to the debit of Government, until the previous sanction of the Board of Trade shall have been obtained for that purpose, and until such sanction is procured, the agents, or their assistants, or head officers on whose account the disbursements or payments may be made, are to be held answerable for the amount.

XXXIII. If any byoparry, molungee, or other person who may have received advances on account of the salt manufacture, or have been employed in it, shall deem himself aggrieved by any act done in breach of this Regulation, by an agent, or his assistant, or the head officer of an avarung, pursuant to special orders from the Board of Trade, or the Governor General in Council, he will be at liberty to seek redress in the mode prescribed for such cases in section XI, Regulation III, 1793.

Salt imported in breach of the rules in either of the two preceding clauses is liable to confiscation.

V. First. The salt agents and their officers, and the officers of the salt chokies, on receiving information of any salt having been illegally manufactured or imported, in breach of the prohibitions contained in sections II, III, or IV, are empowered to attach the same, without giving previous notice to the judge or magistrate of the district, or, if they shall deem it necessary, they may apply to the magistrate, or any of the darogahs of police, to assist them in seizing the salt, and on such application being made, the magistrate or darogah shall afford the assistance required.

If the officer seizing the salt, shall make any unnecessary delay in forwarding the required report, or shall omit to forward it, he shall be liable to a prosecution in the dewanny adawlut for damages by the proprietor, and to dismissal from office, and to forfeit to Government any reward he might be entitled to in the event of the salt being confiscated. Officers acting under the immediate orders of the Board of Trade, are to transmit similar notice in such cases to that Board, and under the like penalties in case of delay or failure in forwarding it.

In such cases however, the Board of Trade, if on a consideration of the circumstances, and the conduct of the person by whom the seizure may have been made, they shall deem it proper so to do, may indemnify him for the consequences of the suit, or order it to be defended on the part of Government, or adjust the matter with the proprietor of the salt, reporting the measures which they may adopt to the Governor General in Council for his information.

XI. If the Board of Trade, on a seizure of salt being reported to them, shall be of opinion that it is liable to confiscation, they shall confiscate it, with the boats, cattle, or carriages, on which it may have been loaded, and proceed to the sale thereof when it may be deemed advisable. Any person dissatisfied with their decision, shall be at liberty either to prosecute Government in the court of dewanny adawlut of the zillah or city in which the seizure may be made, in which case the judge shall proceed as directed in the cases specified in section XI, Regulation III, 1793; or to apply immediately to the Governor General in Council, who will either leave the complainant to seek his remedy in the mode pointed out in that section, or afford such redress as may appear to him equitable.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION XXXI.

A REGULATION for re-enacting with modifications and amendments, the rules passed on the 23d July 1787, and subsequent dates, for the conduct of the Commercial Residents and Agents, and all persons employed or concerned in the provision of the Company's Investment.—PASSED on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Wiluily; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Rurizaan 1207 Higerree.

THE nature and extent of the commercial concerns of the Company, render it necessary that rules should be prescribed for preventing manufacturers, or other persons in their employ, embezzling the money advanced to them, or disposing of the goods provided with it to individuals, and for ensuring the delivery of the goods agreeably to their engagements. No well founded objection can be offered to such rules by the manufacturers, or others to whom they may extend, whilst they at the same time establish it as a fundamental principle, that no person shall be compelled to work for the Company, and that those who may engage in their employ, shall always be at liberty to relinquish it, after performing the engagements into which they may have voluntarily entered. It is equally requisite, on general principles, that precautions should be taken to prevent the rules adopted for the abovementioned purposes, being rendered subservient to the private views of the officers employed in the provision of the investment, to the injury of the manufacturers, and the prejudice of the interests of the Company, both in their commercial capacity, and as rulers of the country. As the most effectual mode of guarding against such abuses, and of ensuring justice to the manufacturers and others in their dealings with the Company, the Governor General in Council has determined that the rules to which persons engaging to furnish goods for the Company's investment may be subjected, shall be incorporated with the Laws and Regulations for the internal Government of the country, and that the officers employed in the immediate superintendence of the provision of the investment, shall be liable to be sued for any deviation from those rules in the courts of judicature, that every person who may deem himself aggrieved by their official acts, whether originating with themselves, or done in consequence of orders from the superior authorities, may be able to obtain redress with the same facility as for an injury received from any individual. The following rules, being the rules passed by the Governor General in Council on the 23d July 1787, and subsequent dates, with modifications and amendments, adapted to the principles above stated, have been accordingly enacted. (a)

II. Weavers not indebted, nor under engagements to the Company, shall not be compelled to enter into their employ; and weavers indebted, or under engagements to the Company, on duly discharging such debts, or engagements, shall not be compelled to enter into fresh engagements.

III. First. Weavers who may engage for the provision of any part of the Company's investment, are to consider themselves as engaging under the following rules and conditions.

Second. All engagements with weavers, are to be made in writing, attested by at least two credible witnesses. One copy of the writing is to remain with the commercial resident or his officers, and the remaining copy with the other party to the engagement.

No weaver to be compelled to work for the Company. Persons under engagements, after fulfilling them, not to be compelled to re-engage.

No weavers to work for individuals, or bazar sales, until they have completed their engagements on account of the investment.

Third. Weavers under engagements to the Company, and who may not intend to take further advances, shall give at least a fortnight's notice of their intention.

Fourth. Weavers indebted to the Company who have received advances from them, or come under engagements to them, shall, in discharge of such debt, advances, or engagements, deliver cloths, according to agreement. They shall on no account give to any other person or persons whatever, European, or native, either the labor or the produce engaged to the Company; and, if they have not fulfilled their engagements by the period agreed on, they shall not work for newer engagements, not for bazar sales, until those engagements are completed.

Fifth. When any weaver fails to deliver by the stipulated periods, the cloths for which he may have engaged, the commercial resident shall be at liberty to place peons upon him, in order to quicken his deliveries, and prevent his infringing the two restrictions in the latter part of clause fourth.

Sixth. If notwithstanding the restrictions in the latter part of clause fourth, any weaver shall by himself, or by any other person, sell cloths to private merchants, Europeans, or natives, or to dealers or agents of whatever description, whilst he is deficient in his stipulated deliveries on account of the Company's investment, he shall be liable to be prosecuted in the dewanny adawlut, and upon proof of the fact, he shall be adjudged to forfeit to the Company, all that the produce of the cloths so sold, rated either at what he got for them, or their bazar value, shall exceed the ordinary prime cost of the thread in them, with costs of suit besides, and moreover be obliged to complete his engagements.

Seventh. Weavers possessed of more than one loom, and entertaining one or more workmen, shall be subject to a penalty of thirty-five per cent on the stipulated price of every piece of cloth that they may fail to deliver according to the written agreement which they may have executed, in addition to the repayment of the money advanced for the same.

Eighth. The penalty specified in the preceding clause, shall be sued for in the dewanny adawlut, and shall be recoverable, on the agreement with the weaver, the failure in his deliveries being proved.

IV. A list or register of the weavers employed in the provision of the Company's investment, in every purgunnah, specifying their places of abode, shall be fixed up by the commercial resident in the cutcherry of that purgunnah, and shall be corrected at the beginning of every week or month, according to the alterations that may have happened in the week or month preceding. The officers of the cutcherry, are to give immediate permission for the exhibition of the list, and the commercial resident shall transmit a copy of it in the native languages once in every three months to the judge of the zillah.

V. Persons procuring from weavers in the Company's employ, by the ready money, or under the pretence of previous engagements which were not such, cloths really wrought for the Company, and with their advances, knowing such cloths to be the right of the Company, either by the mark upon them, or the transactions between the weavers from whom they procure them and the Company, or having reason for such knowledge from the notoriety of such weavers being in the Company's employ, or discovering the same by the clandestine methods they take to obtain the cloths, shall be liable to be sued for damages in the dewanny adawlut, and on proof of the fact to its satisfaction, the court shall award to the Company such amount as may appear to it equitable, in addition to the cloths so obtained. But for purchases, openly and fairly made in the public haunts and bazars, the buyers shall not be liable to prosecution, unless the cloths have the Company's mark upon them.

VI. All Officers of Government, proprietors and farmers of land, and dependent talookdars, under farmers and ryots, and their agents and dependents, are enjoined not to hinder the commercial residents or their officers from access to weavers, or other persons, in order to treat with them about the Company's business; nor are they to use any arts, menaces, or punishments, to deter weavers or other persons, from accepting the Company's advances, under pain of being liable to be sued for damages in the dewanny adawlut.

VII. All officers of Government, proprietors and farmers of land, talookdars, under farmers, and ryots, and their agents and dependents, are strictly prohibited from behaving with disrespect to the commercial residents or their officers; and they are required on application from the commercial residents or their officers, to afford every assistance for the protection of the weavers and other persons employed by the Company, and the security of the investment, that may be consistent with the powers and authority vested in them, and the Regulations.

VIII. Weavers employed by the Company, who may cultivate or rent land, are to pay the rent according to their pottahs in the same manner as other ryots or renters, and under the same rules and Regulations, with the exceptions hereafter specified as to the mode of demanding and enforcing payment of arrears of rent due from them.

IX. First. To prevent unnecessary interruption to the provision of the investment, and at the same time that weavers and other persons employed in the provision of it, may not withhold the rent justly due from them for land which they may rent or cultivate, the following rules are prescribed.

Second. No weaver, or other manufacturer, gomastah, or other officer or person employed in the provision of the Company's investment, shall be summoned to the pottahs of any proprietor, or farmer of land, or any native holding or entrusted with the collection of the rents or revenue of lands, under any pretence whatever. If any such persons shall have claims on such weavers manufacturers, gomastahs, or officers, for, or relating to, arrears of rent, they shall either distrain for the amount under Regulation XVII, 1793, or sue the defaulter for it in the dewanny adawlut, or send their claim in writing to the commercial resident, who, if the weaver, or other person is then actually-employed by the Company, may, if he shall deem it expedient so to do, cause him to satisfy the claim, or satisfy it himself, and stop the amount by kist-bundah for his future advances, so that his labor on account of the Company's investment may not be interrupted. But the cloth, thread, or advances belonging to the Company in the hands of such weaver, or other person, shall in no case be liable for satisfaction, but shall be restored to the resident.

Third. Persons instituting suits in the dewanny adawlut against a weaver, or manufacturer, or any officer or person employed in the provision of the Company's investment, are to specify his being so employed in the bill of plaint. In such suits the summons, with a copy of the plaint, shall be enclosed to the commercial resident under a sealed cover, addressed to the resident, and superscribed with the official signature of the judge or the register. (b) It shall be at the option of the resident to execute, or to cause one of his officers, or any person whom he may think proper, to execute the security required from defendants by section V, Regulation IV, 1793, and also the security directed to be taken by section IX, Regulation VII, 1793, for the fees of the authorized vakeel whom the defendant may entertain, or to leave the party summoned to find such securities, and in the latter case, if the officer of the court hearing the summons, where it shall have been transmitted by an officer, shall entertain any doubt of the responsibility of the security so offered, and nor to impede the business of the investment, but to assist it to the utmost of their power.

The notice is required to be served upon persons employed in the provision of the investment, in the same manner as summonses are directed to be served upon them by this section. See R. 2, of 1806.

the resident shall deem it to be sufficient, the officer shall accept the security. If the resident shall not think it proper to order any of his officers, or any other person to become security, and the defendant himself shall not be able to find security which the resident may deem responsible, he is to cause the defendant to accompany the officer of the court to the court, or, if no officer shall have been sent with the summons, to appear in person before the court, that he may be dealt with in the same manner as other defendants not giving the required security.

Residents to empower persons to become security, and judges may transmit summonses to them.

Second. The residents are to empower the head officer at each of the different aurungs or kotess subordinate to them, and also an authorized vakeel of the dewanny adawlut, or any other person whom they may think it proper to station at the place at which the court may be held, to execute securities for the persons, and in the cases specified in the preceding clause. The residents are to be careful to keep the judges furnished with a list of the persons so empowered, specifying also the place at which they may usually reside, and the judges are authorized, in instances in which they may deem it proper, either from the distance of the place of abode of the resident from the place at which the party summoned may reside, or other circumstances, to order the summons to be enclosed to one of the persons so empowered to become security, instead of transmitting it to the resident himself under the preceding clause, in which case, such person shall proceed in the same manner as the resident is directed to proceed, where the summons may be sent immediately to him.

How obedience to a summons is to be enforced if issued against a person employed in the Company's investment without its having been so specified in the plaint.

Third. If any person shall prefer a suit in the dewanny adawlut against a weaver or other manufacturer, or any officer or person employed in the provision of the Company's investment, without specifying that the defendant is so employed and the summons shall in consequence be ordered to be served on the defendant, in the same manner as on other defendants, the officer serving the same, upon the circumstance of the defendant being so employed, being notified to him by the resident, or any of his officers, or by the defendant himself, shall deliver the summons to the nearest person empowered to execute the securities in the cases specified in clause first, whether the resident, or the head officer of an auring or kotce, who shall proceed in the manner prescribed to the resident in that clause. If the officer shall receive the notification of the defendant being in the Company's employ, from the defendant only, and shall entertain doubts of his being so employed, or if he shall not entertain any doubt of his being so employed, but shall apprehend that he will abscond whilst he (the officer) is repairing with the summons to the person empowered to execute the securities, he shall in such case, carry the defendant with the summons, to the person so empowered, and shall not release him, until the required securities have been executed.

How warrants for bailable offences against persons employed in the investment are to be served.

Fourth. In cases in which a weaver, or other manufacturer, or any officer or person employed in the provision of the Company's investment, shall be charged before the magistrate with a bailable offence, the warrant shall be served in the manner directed in the preceding clauses with regard to summonses in civil cases, with this difference, that the warrant shall require the party summoned to appear in person, or by vakeel, as the magistrate may think proper, and shall specify the amount of the sum for which the security or recognizance for the appearance of the defendant is to be given, and the amount of which shall be regulated by the magistrate according to the nature of the charge, and the situation and circumstances in life of the defendant. (d) to be made on back of summonses warrants served as is directed.

Fifth. In all the cases specified in the preceding clauses of this section, the resident or head officer through whom the summons or warrant may be served, shall return on the back of it in what manner it has been served, and by whom the security has been executed.

(d) The remainder of this section, including this clause, is extended to certain officers employed under the Company for the provision of opium, by R. 12, of 1816, S. 26.

Sixth.

Sixth. If a charge shall be preferred to a magistrate against any weaver or other manufacturer, or any officer or person employed in the provision of the Company's investment, for an offence that is not bailable, and there shall appear to the magistrate sufficient ground for apprehending the person so charged, the warrant for his apprehension shall require him to appear immediately in person, and shall be executed in the same manner as upon persons not so employed. But the officer, after securing the offender, is to give notice of his apprehension to the resident, or the head officer of the nearest auring or kotee.

Warrants for offences not bailable how to be executed on persons in the Company's employ.

Seventh. The darogahs of police are to observe the rules prescribed in clauses fourth and sixth of this section, in complaints that may be preferred to them against weavers, or other manufacturers, or officers or persons in the employ of the Company.

Darogahs of police to observe the rules in clauses fourth and sixth.

Eighth. In all cases in which the residents, or their head officers empowered for that purpose, shall become security under any of the clauses of this section for the appearance of any person employed in the investment, or for the fees of his vakeel, (c) or shall declare any person whom the party summoned may offer as security, to be responsible, the resident is to be considered personally answerable for the due performance of the conditions of the security, in the event of the party for whom the security may be given not performing them himself, or, where the party himself shall have given the security, and it shall have been declared responsible by the resident, or his head officer of an auring or kotee, in the event of the party or his surety not performing them. It will accordingly be the business of the residents, to take care to employ creditable persons only as head officers at the several aurings and kotces to superintend the business, and become security; and to furnish them with proper instructions, and to take such security from them, as they (the residents) may deem sufficient to indemnify themselves for the consequences that may result from any abuse which such officers may commit in the exercise of their trust.

Residents and their head officers to be responsible for the performance of the conditions of the securities they may execute or approve.

Ninth. Summonses to weavers, or other manufacturers, or officers, or any persons employed in the Company's investment, as witnesses, shall be served in the same manner as if they were parties in the cause, but the judges are to be careful not to summon such persons excepting when their attendance shall be absolutely necessary, and on their appearance, to have them examined and dismissed with all practicable dispatch, so that they may be absent from the business of the investment as short a time as possible.

How summonses on persons employed in the investment when required as witnesses are to be executed.

Tenth. The residents and their head officers, are declared liable to be sued in the dewanny adawlut, should they apply any of the rules in the preceding clauses of this section regarding summonses and warrants issued against persons employed in the investment, to persons not bona fide so employed. And as the rules contained in those clauses, are intended only to prevent unnecessary interruption to the investment, where it can be avoided without impeding the course of justice; the judges and magistrates are empowered in particular cases in which it may appear to them indispensably necessary for the purpose of justice, to order the personal attendance of any native officer or person in any wise concerned or employed in the investment, whether he may be a party or a witness in the suit, or prosecution, notwithstanding any thing that may be said to the contrary in those clauses; and to cause process to be executed upon him for that purpose, in the same manner as upon other individuals; but in such cases, the judges and magistrates are to record their reasons for deviating from the prescriptions contained in the said clauses, which are to be considered as the general rules for issuing and executing such summonses and warrants; and in the summons or warrant, they are to specify that it has been specially ordered to be so executed, in virtue of the discretionary power vested in them by this clause; and they are moreover strictly enjoined to refrain from every unnecessary exercise of this discretionary power.

Residents and their head officers forbidden to apply the above rules to persons not employed in the Company's investment.

Discretionary power vested in the judges and magistrates of causing the immediate attendance of all natives employed in the investment.

XI. All complaints of weavers against individual traders, and vice versa, are to be considered as matters of a private nature between the parties, who are to have recourse to the proper courts of judicature, should they have any ground of complaint against each other for breach of engagements, or other cause. The courts are to decide according to the tenor of the engagements between the parties if any engagements exist, and the Regulations. But where weavers are employed at the same time by more than one foreign or private agent, they shall deliver first to the previous contractor, and afterwards to the other, according to priority of engagements.

XII. Decisions in favor of private merchants, or other individuals, against weavers who were in the employ of the Company at the time they entered with such private merchants or individuals into the agreements on which they are sued (their having been so employed being proved by the lists of the Company's weavers published at the cut-herries and transmitted to the judge of the dewanny adawlut as directed in Section IV, as well as by the dates of the respective agreements and transactions consequent to them) shall be made with a saving to the Company of their claims on such weavers, which claims also are to be proved in court. And that this rule may be carried into effect, before execution follows at the suit of an individual against any weaver in that list, the Company's commercial resident shall be desired to state whether such weaver was in the employ of the Company, when the agreement on which he may be cast was made, as also whether the Company have any and what demand upon him, and to make proof of the same; which being satisfied or secured, the sum decreed against him in favor of the individual shall next be made good from his property, but his person shall not be liable to attachment. (f)

XIII. Gomastahs, deedars, mookeems, and all native servants and persons of whatsoever description, employed under the Company's factories or aurguns in the provision of their investment, guilty of changing the Company's cloths: accepting of money from individuals for abetting or conniving at the alienation of them by the weavers; writing false balances in the Company's accounts; embezzling otherwise the property entrusted to them; or exacting money in any shape from weavers to whom advances are made; shall, on conviction in the court of dewanny adawlut to which they may be amenable, forfeit double the amount of the value of the property or the money which they may have embezzled, alienated, or exacted, and shall be further liable to imprisonment for any term that the court may judge proper not exceeding twelve months, and upon the circumstances being represented by the Board of Trade to the Governor General in Council, he will, if it shall appear to him proper, declare the offender incapable of serving Government in any capacity.

XIV. All the rules in this Regulation regarding weavers employed for the Company, are to be considered to extend in their principles and meaning, to the manufacturers and other persons employed in the provision of raw silk, and of the other articles of the Company's investment provided within the provinces of Bengal, Behar, or Orissa.

XV. First. The following rules are prescribed for the conduct of commercial residents carrying on trade for themselves.

Second. The resident shall supply, or ensure the Company's demand for goods, as far as the ability of his aurgun will go, before he provides any for himself.

Third. He shall carefully and avowedly distinguish to the manufacturers between the Company's provision and his own.

Fourth.

Fourth. He shall give them the price for which they may choose to deal with him, without making the Company's prices a standard for his own trade.

Fifth. He shall not make use of any influence he may possess, as the Company's representative, to induce the manufacturers to work for him in preference to other dealers.

Sixth. He shall be subject to the same regulations in case of disputes with manufacturers, as other private traders.

Seventh. He shall not take any commission for agents or others, but deal merely on his own stock as a merchant.

Eighth. He shall not carry on any trade in his auring, directly or indirectly, in the name of any other person.

Ninth. Whatever goods he may provide of the produce of the auring where he is stationed, shall not be sold there, nor sent to any foreign settlement, but shall be consigned to some other place, and if brought to Calcutta, or sent by manjee to the upper provinces, shall be registered in his name in the custom-house books.

Tenth. He shall state to the Board of Trade by the 15th of December in every year, the gross amount of the money invested or to be invested by him on his own account, as nearly as he can judge of the same from the 1st May preceding to the 30th April following, and the Board of Trade shall thereupon communicate to the Governor General in Council any remarks that may appear to them proper.

XVI. The commercial residents and their native officers of every description, are declared liable to be sued in the dewanny adawlut by weavers or others with whom they may use compulsion to make them enter into the Company's employ, or whose names they may improperly insert in the list specified in section IV, or whom they may not pay for their cloths or goods according to the engagements entered into between them and the Company, or who may not obtain in due time a fair settlement of accounts, or who may suffer unjust exactions from peons put over them, or for any breach of this Regulation, or any other Regulation regarding the provision of the investment, printed and published in the manner directed in Regulation XLI, 1793. In all such cases, whether the act complained of shall have been done by the resident or any of his officers, the party aggrieved is in the first instance, to state his complaint to the resident, and in the event of his refusing to afford the required redress, or omitting to grant it within a reasonable time, the complainant may then sue the resident, whether the injury complained of shall have been done by himself or his officer. But the courts are not to receive any suit that may be preferred against a resident or any of his officers, unless the complainant shall prove to the satisfaction of the court, by oath, or by any other mode which the court may deem satisfactory, that he applied to the resident for redress, and that he refused to afford the redress required, or omitted to grant it within a reasonable time. Either party dissatisfied with the award or decision of a resident, on any complaint made to him under this section, may appeal from it to the dewanny adawlut.

XVII. In suits instituted against a resident or any of his officers, under the preceding section, and where the act complained of shall not have been done pursuant to special orders from the Board of Trade, or the Governor General in Council, the party complained against is to appoint one of the authorized vakeels of the court to defend the suit at his own risk. (g)

XVIII. The residents may take upon themselves the defence of any suits which may be instituted against their officers, but in such cases, the residents are to be an-of suits instituted against their officers.

answerable for the decree of the court in the same manner as if the suit had been originally instituted against them.

Process issued against residents how to be served.

XIX. When any process shall be issued by a court of civil judicature to a commercial resident, the judge or the register of the court, is to transmit it under a sealed cover addressed to the resident in the form of a letter, and superscribed with his name and official appellation. The resident is immediately to acknowledge the receipt of the process by an endorsement to that effect on the instrument, and to return it under a sealed cover addressed to the judge or the register of the court from which it may have issued.

By whom decrees, costs and damages given against residents and their officers are to be made good.

XX. Where the Board of Trade shall approve of decisions given against the commercial residents, or their officers, in suits in which they may have been engaged in their official capacity, and which may not have been prosecuted or defended by them, pursuant to orders from the Board, or the Governor General in Council, they are empowered to make the resident, or his officer by whom the act complained of may have been done, responsible for the whole or any part of the costs and damages awarded by the decree, or of the decree itself, if upon a consideration of the merits of the case, and of the conduct of the person against whom the decree may be given, or the act complained of may have been done, they shall be of opinion that the Company ought not to be charged with all or any part of such costs or damages, or decree. But in such cases, the person whom they may so determine to hold responsible, may appeal the cause at his own risk and cost.

Board of Trade may authorize an appeal from any decision passed against the resident or his officers.

XXI. If the Board of Trade shall be dissatisfied with a decree passed against a commercial resident, or any of his officers, in suits in which they may have been engaged, either with or without their orders, or the orders of the Governor General in Council, they may authorize an appeal from it under the Regulations, in which case, the appeal shall be carried on in the provincial court of appeal, and in the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, (should the cause be carried to the last mentioned court) by the vakeel of Government, or by any other authorized vakeel of the court into which the cause may be brought, notwithstanding any thing that may be said to the contrary in any Regulation passed on this date.

Security not to be demanded from residents or their head officers for their appearance, or costs or damages or decree.

XXII. Security is not to be demanded from the commercial residents, or the head officers of aurguns or kotees who may be empowered to execute securities, for their personal appearance (h) in any suit in which they may be engaged in their official capacity; nor shall security be required from them for the payment of costs or damages, or for the performance of the decrees or orders of the courts, as Government will be responsible for causing the residents to answer to such suits instituted against them and to make good the decrees, and will hold them responsible for their head officers of aurguns or kotees answering to such suits preferred against them, and performing the decrees that may be passed therein.

What suits they are bound to defend after removal from office.

XXIII. The residents and their head officers of kotees or aurguns, shall not be liable to a prosecution for official acts of their predecessors. But persons who may be removed from a residency, or from the place of head officer of an aurgun or kotee, are to carry on in the same manner as if they had continued in the office, all suits instituted against them in their official capacity, unless the Board of Trade, upon a consideration of the circumstances of the cases, shall deem it advisable to order their successors to carry on the suits. This rule however is not to extend to suits in which a resident or head officer, who may have been removed, shall have been engaged in virtue of orders from the Board of Trade, or the Governor General in Council. All such suits are to be carried on by the resident for the time being, and at the risk and expense of Government.

(h) Security for personal appearance is not now demandable from any defendant in a civil suit, unless there be reason to apprehend that he will abscond. See R. 2, of 1806.

XXIV. To facilitate the communication between the residents and their head officers of aurungs or kotees, and their vakeels in the zillah or city courts, or the provincial courts of appeal, and the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, who may be intrusted with the conduct of any suits or appeals in which they may be engaged in their official capacity, either whilst they may continue in the office, or after their removal from it, they are permitted to forward, free of postage, any instructions which they may have to transmit to their vakeels in those courts. The instructions are to be enclosed under a sealed cover directed to the vakeel. The instructions so sealed and directed, are to be transmitted under a sealed cover, addressed to the register of the court in which the cause may be depending, and superscribed with the name and official appellation of the person dispatching it, or that which he bore when the cause of action arose. The register of the court, immediately on receiving the instructions, is to deliver them sealed to the vakeel to whom they may be directed. In like manner, the vakeels in any of the courts to whom the pleading of such suits or appeals may be committed by commercial residents, or their head officers abovementioned, are authorized either whilst their constituents remain in such office, or after they shall have been removed from it, to forward any papers which they may have to convey to their constituents by the public dawk free of postage. The papers are to be enclosed in a cover sealed with the seal of the vakeel, and the judge, or the register to the court, is to transmit the papers so sealed, in a cover sealed and addressed to the person to whom they are to be forwarded, and superscribed with his official signature.

XXV. In cases in which the Board of Trade may judge it expedient, or in which they may receive orders for the purpose from the Governor General in Council, they are to take upon themselves the superintendence of the prosecution or defence of any suit or appeal in which they or their officers may be engaged, either in a zillah or city court, or in a provincial court of appeal, or in the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, instead of leaving the superintendence of the conduct of the suit or appeal to the resident, or any of his officers.

XXVI. Neither the commercial residents, nor their head officers of aurungs or kotees, are to derive any advantage whatever from suits in the courts of justice in which they may be engaged, or in any wise concerned, in their official capacity. On the other hand, it is not intended, that the residents or their abovementioned officers should sustain any loss in consequence of such suits, where their conduct may be adjudged to be conformable to the Regulations, or may be approved by the Board of Trade, or the Governor General in Council. The commercial residents and their head officers of aurungs or kotees, are accordingly to bring to the credit of the Company in their accounts, all sums whatever that may be adjudged to them by any of the courts of justice, and they are to note at the foot of their accounts, or in a separate account, or under a distinct head in their accounts, according as the Board of Trade may direct, all sums which they may disburse, or be adjudged to pay, on account of suits in which they may be engaged, or be concerned, in their official capacity; but no such disbursements or payments are to be considered as passed to the debit of the Company, until the previous sanction of the Board of Trade, or the Governor General in Council, shall have been obtained for that purpose, and until such sanction is procured, the residents or the officers making the disbursements or payments, are to be held answerable for the amount.

XXVII. The rules in this Regulation respecting commercial residents, are to be considered equally applicable to their assistants having the charge of the business, or to any other person being a covenanted servant of the Company, and intrusted with the superintendence of the provision of goods for the Company's investment at any auring, whatever may be his official appellation.

XXVIII. If a weaver or manufacturer, or any native employed in the provision of the Company's investment, shall deem himself aggrieved by any act done in opposition

Residents and their head officers, allowed to forward instructions to their vakeels by the dawk free of postage.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION XXXII. (a)

A REGULATION for enacting into a Regulation, the terms of the contracts concluded for the provision of opium on account of Government, in the provinces of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, from the 1st September 1793, to the 31st August 1797; and for preventing illicit trade in that article.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fushly; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higeree.

IN adjusting the terms of the contracts for the provision of opium in the three provinces, it was the object of Government to prevent this source of public revenue operating as an oppression on the ryots, by depriving the contractors of the power of compelling any person to cultivate the poppy, and by ensuring to those who might voluntarily enter into engagements for that purpose, the full price of the quantity of opium which they might deliver. It was at the same time necessary that provisions should be made to guard against the contractors being defrauded by the cultivators, and also for preventing illicit traffic in opium. The terms of the contracts as published on the 26th April 1793, and the provisions above alluded to, are hereby enacted into a Regulation.

Conditions of the contracts.

II. First. The contract for the provision of the opium in Bengal, and in Behar, is to be held under the following conditions.

Governor General in Council at liberty to annul the contract if it should be disapproved of by the Court of Directors.

Second. Article 1st. In the event of the Court of Directors disapproving of the terms of the contract, or making any alteration in the mode of providing the opium, or relinquishing the provision of the same altogether, the Governor General in Council is to be at liberty to annul the engagements which may be entered into in consequence of this advertisement, from the end of the year or season (that is the 31st August) in which the orders notifying such disapproval, alteration, or relinquishment, shall be received in Bengal.

Four years the term of the contract.

Third. 2d. The contract is to be for four years, commencing from the 1st of September next (1793).

Contract to be for sicca rupees. Periods at which the advances to the contractors are to be made and in what proportions.

Fourth. 3d. The contract is to be made for sicca rupees. The advances to the contractor are to be made in that specie; and no other specie is to be advanced by him to the ryots. The advances to the contractor are to be made in the following proportions, and at the undermentioned periods:

In Assar,	.....2 sixteenths.
Sawun,	.....3 ditto.
Bhadoon,	.....3 ditto.
Assin,	.....3 ditto.
Cautic,	.....3 ditto.
Aughun,	.....2 ditto.

(*) This Regulation although not expressly rescinded, is not in force. At the time it was passed, and until the 11th July, 1799, opium was provided by contract, but on that date, the method of providing opium by contract was relinquished, and the provision of it by agency adopted. R<sup>o</sup> 6, of 1799, was accordingly enacted for the guidance of all persons concerned in the provision of that article on the part of Government by agency, which continued to be in force until rescinded by R. 13, of 1816, and this last Regulation now contains, collectively, all the rules, with additions and modifications, for the provision, or manufacture and sale of opium.

Fifth. 4th. The contractor is to engage to deliver annually six thousand four hundred factory maunds of Behar, and one thousand five hundred and eighty factory maunds of Bengal opium, each factory maund containing forty seers, and each seer weighing seventy-two sicca rupees and ten annas. The opium is to be delivered in chests containing two factory maunds each. The contractor is to receive for every chest of opium of the abovementioned weight which shall be delivered by him over and above the stipulated quantity, the sum of fifty sicca rupees per chest, in addition to the contract price.

Contractor to receive fifty rupees extra for each chest he may deliver above the stipulated quantity.

Sixth. 5th. The Bengal opium to be delivered in the first year of the engagement, is to be equal in quality to approved Bengal opium delivered in the last year of the existing contract. That of the second year, is to be equal to approved Bengal opium of the first, and a corresponding rule is to be observed with respect to the deliveries in the two years succeeding. Similar conditions are also made with respect to the opium to be provided in Behar. Three chests of approved Bengal, and the same number of approved Behar opium, of the years from the supplies of which the musters are to be taken, will be deposited at the office of the Board of Trade, as a standard for ascertaining the quality of the opium delivered. The deliveries shall be compared with the musters by one or the members of the hospital board, and a person appointed by the Board of Trade; and any disputes that may arise between the officers of Government and the contractor regarding the quality of the opium, will be determined by three creditable persons to be appointed by Government, who shall be bound by oath to decide impartially.

Quality of the opium, and the standard for determining it.

By whom the deliveries are to be compared with the musters, and disputes regarding the quality of the opium decided.

Seventh. 6th. The contractor shall pay to the Company, a penalty of three hundred sicca rupees per chest, for every chest of opium short of the stipulated quantity of which he shall fail in the delivery; and refund the amount of the advances made to him for the provision of the quantity so deficient; but should either the whole, or any part of such deficiency be occasioned by hail storms, hurricanes, or any other calamity of season affecting the crops, the contractor is not to be subject to the payment of the penalty for such part of the quantity deficient as he may prove to the satisfaction of the collector of the district, and the Governor General in Council, to have been occasioned by such calamity; and in that case, he shall only refund the amount of the advances with an interest of eight per cent per annum, for the time he may have had the use of it. The contractor, within five days after such calamity shall have occurred, must represent the same to the collector of the district, in order that he may take the necessary measures for ascertaining the loss occasioned thereby, as directed in the seventeenth article. Should the contractor omit to inform the collector of the calamity within such period, no remission of the penalty will be allowed him for deficiencies occasioned thereby in his deliveries.

Penalty to be paid by the contractor for short delivery; advance for the quantity deficient to be refunded with interest.

Contractor to pay no penalty on deficiencies proved to have been occasioned by damages done to the crops by calamities of season, but only to refund the advances with interest.

Eighth. 7th. The opium is to be delivered by the contractor at the office of the Board of Trade in Calcutta. The charges of package and manufacture, and the charges and risk of transportation and delivery, are to be on account of the contractor.

Opium to be delivered in Calcutta to the Board of Trade. All risk and charge previous to delivery to be on account of the contractor.

Ninth. 8th. The contractor is to deliver to the Company, or their agents, all the opium that he may be able to provide, and to pay a penalty of sicca rupees seven hundred and fifty for every chest of opium that he may sell, barter, or otherwise dispose of, to any other person or persons whomsoever.

Penalty to be paid by the contractor on opium which he may provide and not deliver to the Company.

Tenth. 9th. The contractor is to pay to the Rajah of Benares, a duty of two and a half per cent on all opium imported by him from the dominions of the Nabob Vizier on the valuation specified in His Excellency's rowannah, and two and a half per cent on its entering the Company's provinces on the valuation inserted in the Benares rowannah, which will be the same as that specified in the rowannah granted by the officers of the Nabob Vizier. The contractor is not to be liable to the payment of any duties on the opium provided by him in Bengal or Behar. The contractor for the Bengal opium, is not to import or provide any opium the produce of Behar or Benares, under pain of the same being confiscated; and the contractor for the Behar opium is not to import or provide any opium the produce of Bengal or Benares, under the penalty above mentioned. Should however the same person contract for the provision of the opium of two or more of the above countries, these restrictions are not to operate with regard to the opium produced within the countries included in his contract.

Eleventh. 10th. Government will deliver over to the contractor for the purpose of manufacturing the opium, such houses and godowns belonging to the Company in Bengal and in Behar, as may be now in the possession of the present contractors, upon condition of his re-delivering them to Government at the expiration of his contract, in the same state of repair in which they may be made over to him. The contractor is to defray the charges of whatever repairs may be required for the godowns or houses, from the period of their being made over to him, to the time of their being re-delivered by him to the officers of the Company.

Twelfth. 11th. The contractor is to be amenable to the courts of dewanny adawlut in all matters relating to his contract, with the right of appeal from the decisions of the zillah and city courts to the provincial courts of appeal, and from the decrees of the provincial courts to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, in causes which may be appealable to that court, subject to the several rules and restrictions that are or may be prescribed by the judicial regulations. The judges of the dewanny adawlut of the several zillahs are to take cognizance of all causes, respecting opium, instituted by the contractor, or his agents, against the ryots or others concerned in the provision or manufacture of that article, or by the latter against the former, and proceed to try and decide upon the same in preference to any other suits that may be pending in their courts; and they shall award damages against the party cast according to the circumstances of the case, and the usages observed in all other suits.

Thirteenth. 12th. The contractor is to be responsible for the acts of his agents, gomastahs, and all persons employed by him, and to bind himself to satisfy all decrees that may be passed by the courts of dewanny adawlut against him, his agents, gomastahs, or the persons employed by him, from whom he is to take such security as he may think proper before he entertains them.

Fourteenth. 13th. In lieu of the khoshkhereed, or advanced price of eight annas per seer, paid by the contractor previous to the existing contract for every seer of opium produced in the several purgunnahs in Behar over and above the tydaal, or standard produce of 1185, and which khoshkhereed price was abolished upon the conclusion of the present contract, the contractor is to pay to the ryots an increase of two annas per seer on the gross produce of the soubah, as specified in the account in the fifteenth article. The ryots of Bhagulpoore, Colgong, and Munnyaree, in Bengal, are to receive in lieu of the khoshkhereed formerly paid to them, the advanced price on the gross produce as specified in the account abovementioned.

Fifteenth. 14th. The contractor is not to levy the cesses in Behar, known by the names of beeshy, beeshy mamooly, russoom, bishenpereet, nor any other cesses or abwaubs whatever, although the same should not be specified in the account inserted in the following article (chellaun or allowance for the drying up and wastage of the crude material in transporting it from the purgunnahs to the place of manufacture excepted, as authorized in the following article) under pain of being obliged to refund the amount, and to pay a penalty of three times the sum to the party from whom it may have been exacted, together with such costs of suit, as such party may have incurred in the prosecution of his complaint in the dewanny adawlut.

Sixteenth. 15th. The contractor is to pay the following prices to the ryots for their opium, and to advance the same to them at the customary periods. It is however to be clearly and particularly understood, that the ryots are to have it entirely at their option to cultivate the poppy or not, as they may think proper.

A. D. 1793. REGULATIONS. XXXI.

The advances from the contractor to the ryots in Sircar Sarun, Ratty, Gaddassia, Sarissa, Cusmar, Tirhoot, Nursingpore, Morah, Chynpore Khas, Sasserah, and Tillotoo, Arrah, Powar, Peroo, Nuanore, Behers, Bojespore, and Diawar, are to be made, agreeably to the third article, in sicca rupees. The batta between these and the different species of rupees in which the advances have been heretofore paid, as specified in the preceding account, is to be the same as it is and has been under the existing contract.

Seventeenth. 16th. The contractor, or his agent, at the season for sowing the poppy, is to be allowed to take engagements from the cultivator for the specific number of biggahs to be cultivated only, and not also, as was once the practice, for the specific quantity of opium to be produced in those biggahs. When the poppy shall be full grown, the contractor is then to depute his agent, who, with the cultivator, shall proceed into the field, and with the assistance of two or three other creditable cultivators, form the estimate of what such field is to produce, whereupon the grower is to enter into an engagement to deliver so much; and, should the field produce more, to deliver that also pro rato.

Eighteenth. 17th. In the event of the crops being injured by hail storms, hurricanes, or any other calamity of season, either previous or subsequent to the completion of the estimate of the produce directed to be formed in the preceding article, the collector of the district, upon application being made to him by the contractor, within five days after such calamity shall have happened, is to depute an aumeen to ascertain, in conjunction with the agents of the contractor, and the ryots, the actual extent of the loss occasioned thereby. The charges of aumeens so deputed, are to be delayed by the contractor.

Nineteenth. 18th. The contractor and his agents, are not to confide, beat, or restrain the property of any ryot, or person, engaging for the provision of opium, nor to levy any tollubandh, fines, or salary from any such person, under the pain of being obliged to refund three times the amount to the party from whom the exaction shall have been made, and being further compelled to pay, to the complainant the amount of the costs, or damages, incurred by him in the prosecution of his suit for the recovery thereof in the dewanny adawlut.

Twentieth. 19th. The weights and scales made use of in the kotees, or warehouses, in the different purgunnals, for weighing the opium received from the ryots, are to be sealed with the seal of the magistrate of the district, and examined annually by him, or by such person as he shall think proper to appoint for that purpose, during the month of January. The contractor, or his agents, making use of weights or scales not so sealed, or of uneven scales or deficient weights, although sealed, to be liable to such fine as the judge may think proper to impose. In weighing the opium, the scales are not to be held up in the hands of the dundeedar, or native weighman, but the opium is to be weighed in the presence of both parties, in the mode known under the denomination of dherm dundee (or fair and conscientious weighing) by the scales being poised on a wooden stand fixed in the earth.

Twenty-first. 20th. In the event of the cultivator failing to deliver the full quantity of opium agreed for by him in the manner specified in the sixteenth article, the undermentioned consequences are to follow:

First. If the failure be occasioned by no fault on his part, he is only to refund the proportional part of the advance received by him, with interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum for the time he may have had the use of it, and without any other mulct, penalty, or fine whatever.

Second. If the contractor shall suspect, or believe, the cause of failure to be in the wilful neglect or embezzlement of the ryot, he is to complain to the judge of the dewanny adawlut of the zillah, and upon proof of its having been owing to neglect, the the judge is to award that the ryot shall restore the proportional advance, with interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum; and if from embezzlement, or otherwise disposing of it, the judge is to punish such offence by imposing a fine of four sicca rupees per seer, and confiscating the opium where it can be seized, and, where it cannot be seized, by imposing a fine of ten sicca rupees per seer, to be levied by the process for enforcing decrees prescribed by the Regulations.

Third. The ryot is not to be liable to any penalty for breach of contract, except in case of embezzlement, unless it shall appear, and be proved, that he had in his hands, at the period of the failure, unliquidated advances from the contractor; but where he wilfully embezzles the crude material, by selling or disposing of it to others, although without having at such time any of the advances of the contractor in his hands, the contractor is to complain against him to the judge of the adawlut of the zillah, in which such person shall reside, and the judge is to punish such offence in the mode pointed out in the second clause of this article.

Twenty-second. 21st. Where the ryot mixes water with the crude material with a view to encrease the weight of it, and brings it in that state to be delivered, the contractor or his agent is to appoint two or more creditable opium growers to decide on their dherm or conscience, what surplus quantity or keirdah shall be taken for such increase of weight by the undue admixture of water; and the parties shall abide by their award, unless it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the judge that the arbitrators have been guilty of partiality.

Twenty-third. 22d. Where the crude material shall be delivered in by the growers in an adulterated state, as by the mixture of foreign ingredients, (exclusive of the water noticed in the preceding article) the contractor may immediately seize on, and declare the same confiscated, sealing it up, at the same time, in the presence of the ryot, and under his mark, and in the presence of two or more creditable witnesses, depositing it also in a secure and separate place, and leaving the ryot to have recourse against him to the judicial power, for which purpose, he is to keep the said opium, thus sealed up, for three weeks; and if, in that time, the ryot shall not lodge his complaint, it shall not be afterwards heard; and the contractor may then open the said opium, and sell it for his own advantage for local consumption, liable to such fine as Government may think proper to impose, should it ever be proved that he made up any part of such adulterated and condemned opium in that which he is to deliver to the Company.

Twenty-fourth. 23d. Should the zemindars, or other proprietors of land, or any farmer of land, or their agents, exact more from the ryots on account of their opium lands than the established rates, the contractor or the ryot from whom such exactions may be made, is to be at liberty to prosecute the person guilty of such exactions before the judge, who shall forthwith inquire into the same, and grant redress.

Twenty-fifth. 24th. The contractor is to be subject to the payment of certain charitable allowances to Bramins, and indulgences to the head cultivators, in the soubah of Behar, amounting annually to about seventeen thousand rupees. He is also to be subject to the annual payment of rupees four hundred and seventy-seven, on account of indulgences to the head cultivators, charitable allowances, &c. at Mongheer in Behar. A statement of the particulars of these allowances is deposited in the office of the secretary to the Government.

Twenty-sixth. 25th. Should any disputes arise between the contractor or his agent, and the ryots or others, relative to the cultivation, provision, or transportation of opium, not provided for in the preceding articles, either party is to be at liberty to apply for redress to the court of dewāny adawlut of the zillah, the judge of which will pass such decision as he may think equitable upon a consideration of the circumstances of the case.

V. All persons not European British subjects, who may be proved to have purchased smuggled opium, or in whose possession smuggled opium may be found, shall be liable to the same fines as are directed to be imposed on ryots selling or embezzling opium, viz. four sicca rupees per seer, in addition to the confiscation of the opium when it can be seized, and when it cannot be seized, ten sicca rupees per seer, recoverable in the dewanny adawlut by the process laid down in the Regulations, one-half of such fines, as well as of the neat proceeds of the opium confiscated, is to be paid to the informer, and the other moiety to Government. ## A. D. 1793. REGULATION XXXIII.

A REGULATION for re-enacting with modifications. the rules passed on the 11th February, and 21st October, 1791, for repairing the embankments kept in repair at the public expense; and for encouraging the digging of tanks or reservoirs, and water-courses, and making embankments.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higree.

IT being necessary that provision should be made for the annual repair of certain embankments in different parts of the country, which have been considered as public works, and have been kept in repair at the expense of Government in consequence of their great extent, and the damage to which the districts and places for the protection of which they have been constructed would be liable from inundation, in the event event of their not receiving the necessary annual repairs; and there being the strongest grounds for believing, that if the embankments, reservoirs, and watercourses, in the estates of individuals, which are not considered as public works, were enlarged, or put into a proper state of repair, and new works of the same nature made where necessary and practicable, a sufficient portion of the crops might be preserved in seasons of drought or inundation for the subsistence of the body of the people, and consequently the recurrence of the miseries which this country has so often suffered from famine, be prevented; and the Governor General in Council being therefore solicitous to encourage proprietors, farmers, and cultivators of land, to undertake these important improvements in their estates and lands, he passed certain Regulations applicable to the above considerations on the 11th of February, and 21st October, 1791, which are hereby re-enacted with modifications. (a)

II. The care and superintendence of embankments which are considered as public works, and are annually repaired at the expense of Government, and also of embankments in estates, the temporary charge and repair of which may devolve on Government, in consequence of the removal of the proprietors from the management of their lands, or other cause, is vested in the collector of the zillah in which the works may be situated. (b)

III. The Board of Revenue are to require the collectors to report annually in due season the state of such embankments, and to transmit an estimate of the expense of the repairs which they may require. The Board of Revenue are to submit the report and estimate to the Governor General in Council, with their opinion whether the work to be performed is of such a nature as to require the assistance of an engineer officer, or other professional person.

*IV. V. If a professional person shall be employed to make the repairs, he is to survey the embankments, and transmit to the Board of Revenue for the approbation of the Governor General in Council, a statement of the repairs, or any additional works that may be required, with an estimate of the expense of them. The Board of Revenue however, are empowered, in cases in which it may appear to them expedient, to authorize such professional person, or the collector (where a professional person shall not be employed) to commence such part of the work as it may be deemed indispensibly necessary to complete without delay, previous to receiving the survey or estimate, or, where these documents shall have been transmitted to them, without waiting for their being approved by the Governor General in Council.

VI. Professional persons employed under this Regulation, are to prepare and sign a daily or weekly return of the number of workmen employed on the embankments, which shall be delivered to an officer to be appointed by the collector, who is to pay the workmen according to the return, transmitting it to the collector as a voucher for the money disbursed. The professional person so employed, is to transmit to the collector and indent for such materials, tools, or implements, as may be necessary for carrying on the work, with an estimate of the costs of them, and the collector shall furnish them at the lowest price at which they may be procurable.

(a) This Regulation is extended to the province of Benares by R. 46, of 1795, and appears to be extended to the zillah of Cuttack, in common with the other Regulations extended to that zillah, by R. 12, of 1805, S. 36.

(b) This and the five succeeding sections are rescinded by R. 6, of 1806, S. 2. See other rules therein.

VII. The collectors to whom the care and superintendence of the repair of embankments is, or may be committed, (whether the work shall have been executed by a professional person or an officer appointed by them) are to prepare two copies of the accounts of their expenditures in the Bengal and English languages, in Bengal; and in the Persian and English languages, in Behar; and to deposit one copy in the cutcherry of the zillah for general inspection, and to transmit the other to the Board of Revenue.

Collectors to deposit one copy of the disbursements in the cutcherry of the zillah, and to send another to the Board of Revenue.

VIII. Advances shall be made to proprietors, or farmers of land, or dependent talookdars, or under-farmers, or ryots, for the purpose of repairing or making embankments, or repairing, enlarging, or making tanks, reservoirs, or water courses, under the conditions specified in the following sections.

Advances to be loaned to individuals for repairing or making embankments, reservoirs or watercourses.

IX. The applications for such advances are to be made in writing to the collector of the zillah, and are to specify the nature and extent of the work for which they are required, the period by which it will be completed, and the amount of the advance solicited. If a person applying for advances, shall not be the proprietor of the lands for the benefit of which the works are to be made, he is to give security for the repayment of the advance with interest, and also for the payment of the penalty to be exacted in the cases mentioned in section X. and shall specify in his application the security he may have to offer. If the person making the application, shall be the proprietor of the lands for the benefit of which the works are intended, he is not to be required to give security, but his lands are to be held responsible for the repayment of the advance with interest, and for the eventual discharge of the penalty. (c)

Applications for such advances to whom to be made, and what to contain.

Persons not the proprietors of the lands, applying for advances, to give the security herein required. If proprietors, they are not to give security, but their estates to be responsible for the repayment of the advance, interest, and penalty.

X. Persons receiving advances, and (if they be not the proprietors of the lands) their sureties, are to bind themselves to repay the amount at such period or periods, as may be agreed upon between them and the collector, with interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, and also to pay a penalty of twenty-five per cent on the amount advanced, in the event of the works not being completed by the stipulated period, or if the money not being applied to the purpose for which it may have been advanced.

Engagement to be executed by persons receiving advances, and their sureties.

XI. The collectors, upon the receipt of such written applications, are to forward them without delay to the Board of Revenue, (d) with any remarks which they may have to offer respecting them. The Board of Revenue, provided there shall appear to them no objection to the execution of the work proposed, and (in cases in which security is directed to be taken) they shall be satisfied of the sufficiency of the security offered for the repayment of the required advance with interest, and for the discharge of the penalty in the cases mentioned in the preceding section, are empowered to authorize the collector to make the required advance upon the person applying for it, and (if he be not proprietor of the land) his surety, executing the prescribed engagements.

Board of Revenue empowered to comply with them.

XII. Upon the arrival of the period by which such works may have been stipulated to be completed, the collector is to direct the tehsildar, or other officer of Government upon the spot, or such person as he may deem it proper to appoint, to survey the works, and to report in what manner they have been executed, and in the event of their not having been completed according to the engagement, and by the stipulated period, or of the money not having been applied to the purpose for which it

Survey and report of the works to be made and sent to the collector, who are empowered to levy the penalty in the cases herein specified.

(c) Modified by R. 46, of 1795, S. 2, in its application to the province of Benares, where the proprietors of land applying for advances for the improvement of their own lands, are to give the same securities as are required from persons who may not be the proprietors of the land for the benefit of which the advances may be made.

(d) The general charge of the embankments maintained in the different zillahs at the expense of Government, is intrusted to local committees instead of the Board of Revenue or the other principal revenue authorities, except in those parts of the country, where it may be inconvenient to appoint local committees, in which case, the collectors are to be guided either by the Board of Revenue, or the Commissioner for Behar and Benares, in the provinces of Bengal, Behar, Orissa and Benares, to whom they may be subject. See R. 6, of 1805, and R. 1, of 1816.

may have been advanced, he is to levy the penalty above directed, sending immediate information to the Board of Revenue of the exaction of it.

If a work for which advances may be made under this Regulation, shall not be completed by the stipulated period, and the person who may have received the advances can show good cause to the satisfaction of the collector for not having finished it, he is to report the circumstances to the Board of Revenue, who are empowered to allow such further time for the completion of the work, as they may judge proper.

Report to be made by the collectors of the execution of the works.

Board of Revenue empowered to receive applications for advances and to order them to be complied with.

Cases in which the Board of Revenue may extend the period fixed for completing works.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION XXXIV. (a)

A REGULATION for re-enacting with modifications, the rules passed on the 16th April 1790, and subsequent dates, for levying a tax upon intoxicating liquors and drugs, and for preventing the illicit manufacture and vend of them.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Wilaity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higeer.

THE immoderate use of spirituous liquors and intoxicating drugs, having become prevalent amongst many of the lower orders of the people, from the very inconsiderable price at which they were manufactured and sold; and the proceedings of the criminal courts having evinced that the robberies and other disorders committed in the country, were in a great measure ascribable to the want of proper restrictions, on the manufacture and vend of such liquors and drugs; the Governor General in Council, with a view to prevent the perpetration of crimes, and at the same time to augment the public revenue, passed certain rules on the 16th of April 1790, and subsequent dates. Those rules are now re-enacted with modifications.

II. All persons are prohibited from manufacturing spirituous liquors without a license from the collector of the zillah, or the collector intrusted with the collection of the tax on spirituous liquors in the city, in which they may be desirous of distilling the liquors.

III. No tax shall be levied on the manufacture or sale of spirituous liquors excepting on the part of Government. Any persons having claims to deductions or compensations on account of duties or taxes levied by them previous to the resumption of the abkarry collections by Government on the 16th April 1790, are to prefer their claim to the collector, that he may investigate and report upon it to the Board of Revenue, who will decide upon it, and submit their decision for the confirmation of the Governor General in Council. The courts of judicature are not to take cognizance of any such claims, but where a compensation shall have been granted, and the pay-

No person to manufacture spirituous liquors without a licence from the collector.

(a) The whole of this Regulation is rescinded by R. 10, of 1813, S. 2.

ment of them shall be withheld, they are empowered to take cognizance of suits to obtain payment, under the rules prescribed in similar cases with regard to compensations on account of the sayer in section XII, Regulation XXVII, 1793.

IV. The manufacture and sale of spirituous liquors are to be confined to certain towns and villages in each zillah, in the selection of which, the collectors are to be guided by the best information they may be able to obtain regarding the local consumption, fixing upon the places in which it is supposed to be most extensive.

V. A specified tax is to be levied on every still for the manufacture of spirituous liquors, and no further duties shall be exacted either upon the manufacture or vend of such liquors.

VI. First. The towns and villages to be selected as licensed places of manufacture and vend, agreeably to the directions contained in section IV, shall be divided into three classes, according to their size and population. Stills for the manufacture of spirituous liquors erected in such towns and villages shall be taxed at the rates under mentioned:

R. A.

Stills in cities and towns of the first class, to pay a daily tax of. . . . . 1 4

Stills in towns or villages in the second class, to pay a daily tax of. . . . . 0 12

Stills in towns and villages of the third class, to pay a daily tax of. . . . . 0 6

Second. In cases in which from local circumstances the collectors may deem it advisable to reduce the tax below the rates specified in the preceding clause, they are to state their reasons at large for the proposed reduction, and the reduced rate, when determined upon with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, is to be specified in the licences granted to the distillers.

Third. In applying the standard rates to the places selected for public manufacture and vend, the collector is to be particularly careful not to adopt lower rates than those established at the nearest licensed places of manufacture and vend in any of the neighbouring zillahs; if the situations of any of the places in the two zillahs, should be so contiguous as to enable the distillers at the places in his own zillah to derive a partial advantage by underselling the distillers in the neighbouring zillah.

VII. All private unlicensed stills are prohibited. Persons desirous of working a still for their private use, shall take out a licence on the footing of public distillers, and enter into similar engagements; but no licence shall be granted for working a private still in any place whatever, excepting the established places of public manufacture and vend.

VIII. As granting licences for working stills in places in the neighbourhood of the cities of Patna, Dacca, and Moorsshedabad, would not only in a great measure defeat the object of this Regulation as far as it regards the police of those cities, by affording a harbour for disorderly persons in the vicinity of them, but also injure the public revenue, by enabling the distillers in such places to undersell those residing in the cities, the collectors are not to grant licences for working stills within such a distance of either of the three cities, as may be likely either to affect the police, or the produce of the tax on the stills worked therein. This rule is also to be applied, as far as may be necessary, to large towns, where circumstances may require it; and where any large town may be situated contiguous to either of the cities, the collector is either to grant licences therein as if it formed a part of the city, or to adopt such arrangements as may appear to him calculated to obviate the consequences above stated.

IX. The collectors are to publish the names of the places which may be occasionally selected for the manufacture and vend of liquors, and the rates at which licences will be granted to distillers in each of them, and they shall cause the persons intrusted with the collection of the tax, to fix up at each place, a copy of the form of the licences, with a specification of the penalties to which persons manufacturing or selling liquors without a licence, or with a licence, but out of the licensed place of vend, are liable.

Manufacture and sale of spirituous liquors to be confined to certain places to be fixed upon by the collectors.

A specified tax to be levied on every still.

Licensed places of manufacture and vend to be divided into three classes.

Tax on stills in places in the first class.
In the second.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION XXXV.

A REGULATION for re-enacting with amendments, the rules passed on the 20th June, 24th October, and 31st November 1792, and subsequent dates, for the reform of the gold and silver coin in Bengal, Behar, and Orissa; and for prohibiting the currency of any gold or silver coin in those provinces, but the nineteenth sun sicca rupee, and the nineteenth sun goldmohur, and their respective divisions and sub-divisions into halves and quarters; and for preventing the counterfeiting, defacing, or debasing of the coin. PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higeree.

THE principal districts in Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, have each a distinct silver currency, consisting either of the nineteenth sun sicca rupee, or old or counterfeited rupees of different suns or years, coined previous or subsequent to the Company's administration, which are the standard measure of value in all transactions in the districts in which they respectively circulate. The local circulation of these different sorts of rupees, originated chiefly in the following circumstances. Under the native Government, it was customary to insert upon the rupees, the year in which they were struck, and the rupees coined at Patna, Dacca, and Moorshedabad, (at each of which cities there was an established mint) bore different inscriptions, which in fact rendered the rupees issued in each year from the respective mints, a distinct species of coin. Upon the mints at Patna, Dacca, and Moorshedabad, being withdrawn soon after the commencement of the Company's administration, the proprietors and farmers of land in the interior parts of the country, who were bound by their engagements to pay the public revenue in sicca rupees, experienced considerable difficulty in obtaining those rupees, from the coinage of them being confined to Calcutta, at which place the only mint that remained in the provinces was established. They were in consequence compelled to collect the rents from the ryots, in the species of sonaut, or other old rupees, of which there happened to be the greatest number in their respective districts, and which they were permitted to pay into the public treasuries at a fixed exchange. In consequence of the ryots being required to pay their rent in a particular sort of rupee, they of course demanded it from the manufacturers in payment for their grain, or raw materials, whilst the manufacturers, actuated by similar principles with the ryots, required the same species of rupee from the traders who came to purchase their cloth, or other commodities. The various sorts of old rupees accordingly soon became the established currency of particular districts, and as a necessary consequence, the value of each rupee was enhanced in the district in which it was current, from being in demand for all transactions. As a further consequence, every other sort of rupees brought into the district was rejected, from being a different measure of value from that by which the inhabitants had become accustomed to estimate their property, or, if it was received, a discount was exacted upon it, equal to what the receiver would have been obliged to pay upon exchanging it at the house of a shroff for the rupee current in the district, or to allow upon passing it in payment to any other individual. Thus, if a sicca rupee of the nineteenth sun, which is intrinsically worth about seven per cent more than an arcot, was offered in payment in the Dacca province, it was either refused, or received nearly at the same value as an arcot; whilst the holder of arcots, or other sorts of rupees, who carried them into districts in which they were not current, was subject to similar loss. The proprietors and farmers of land, or the persons concerned in making their payments to the public treasuries, derived a considerable advantage from this enhanced valuation of the particular species of rupees current in their respective districts, as they were enabled to obtain credit for them in exchange for siccas, in which their revenues were payable, at a rate considerably exceeding their intrinsic worth. The profits which the shroffs or money changers derive from this disordered state of the coin is necessarily enormous. Their agents in the different parts of the country, buy up all rupees which are brought into districts in which they are not current, and consequently at a depreciated value, and send them for sale to districts where they are the prevailing currency, and in which they dispose of them at an enhanced value to persons who have payments or purchases to make in those districts. The merchants and traders are under the necessity of submitting to the imposition, for no other rupee but the nineteenth sun sicca being coined at the mints, the old rupees are procurable only from the shroffs, and consequently they must either pay the exchange demanded, or discontinue their purchases. From this rejection of the coin current in one district, when tendered in payment in another, the merchants and traders, and the proprietors and cultivators of land in the different parts of the country, are subjected in their commercial dealings with each other to the same losses by exchange, and all the other inconveniences that would necessarily result were the several districts under separate and independent Governments, each having a different coin. The money changers are the only description of people who derive any benefit from this disordered state of the coin. The loss falls upon Government and the publick at large, and must be perpetual, unless the various old and counterfeit rupees now current in the different parts of the country, can be thrown out of circulation, and one species of rupee made the general standard measure of value in all transactions between individuals, and between Government and its subjects. The sicca rupee of the nineteenth sun is the established silver coin of the country, and the rupee in which the public revenues are payable. It was with a view to render it the general measure of value, that Government determined in the year 1773, that all rupees coined in future should bear the impression of the nineteenth sun, or year, of the reign of Shah Allum, and no other species of rupee (with the exception of some arcots) has since been coined in the Calcutta mint. The rupees of the eleventh, twelfth, and fifteenth sun, were indeed directed to be considered current equally with the nineteenth sun sicca rupee. But this was a temporary measure, intended to be continued in force only until there should be a sufficiency of the nineteenth sun sicca rupee introduced into circulation. The number however of these three descriptions of rupees, is of course inconsiderable, compared with the number of the nineteenth sun sicca rupees that have been coined since the abovementioned year, and they are so much worn as to be no longer fit for circulation. The preceding remarks evince, that it is the interest of individuals of every description, excepting the money-changers, to co-operate with Government to render the nineteenth sun sicca rupee generally current, and the standard of value throughout the country. Amongst the measures considered necessary to effect this important object, the following were the principal. First. To direct the officers employed in the provision of the investment, the manufacture of salt, and all commercial transactions of the Company, to make their agreements with individuals for sicca rupees of the nineteenth sun; for if Government in their extensive commercial dealings, and in the provision of the salt, make contracts with their subjects in other species of rupees, they must necessarily continue the measure of value where those concerns are transacted, and it would be as ineffectual to declare the nineteenth sun sicca rupees the only legal currency, as it would be unjust to attempt to enforce the rule. Secondly. To oblige individuals to estimate their property by the nineteenth sun sicca rupee, by declaring the amount of bonds and engagements entered into after a certain period (in fixing which a time was allowed that was presumed sufficient for the introduction of the necessary number of the nineteenth sun sicca rupees into circulation) whereby any sum of money might be stipulated to be paid in any species of rupees excepting the nineteenth sun siccas, not recoverable in any court of judicature. Thirdly. To prohibit the receipt of any rupees excepting siccas of the nineteenth sun, at the public treasuries after the date above alluded to. This last measure was calculated to oblige the proprietors and farmers of land to require nineteenth sun sicca rupees from their under-renters and ryots, and consequently induce the latter to demand them from the manufacturers, who for similar reasons, would necessarily require them from the merchants, and traders, and thus make it the interest of all descriptions of persons to receive the nineteenth sun sicca rupee, and to reject every other species of rupee, upon the principles on which they before demanded the particular rupee current in the respective districts. Fourthly. To establish mints at the cities of Patna, Dacca, and Moorshedabad, to coin precisely the same rupee as that struck at Calcutta. Without the adoption of this last arrangement, it would have been useless to declare the nineteenth sun sicca rupee the only legal tender of payment. For unless individuals had been afforded a ready means of procuring their old coin to be converted without loss into the new, they would have been obliged to have purchased the new money from the shroffs, who would have demanded an exorbitant exchange upon it, as well with a view to reap the immediate advantage, as to prevent the establishment of the general currency of the nineteenth sun sicca rupee. Keeping open mints in the interior parts of the country, until the circulation may be filled up with that coin, precludes the necessity of any person applying to shroffs for it, and consequently deprives them of their influence (which is founded on the wants and necessities of individuals) by furnishing all persons with the new money at the cheapest rate, and with the least trouble. By the operation of these rules, the various sorts of old and light rupees must in a course of time fall to their intrinsic worth compared with the sicca of the nineteenth sun, as they will produce no more in the mint, and to which they will necessarily be brought to be converted into siccas, as they will be no where passable or in demand as coin, from being no where a measure of value. The rules by which the gold coin has been regulated, have been productive of evils similar to those which have prevailed with regard to the silver coin. Under the native administrations, and until the year 1766, the gold mohur was not considered as a legal tender of payment in any public or private transaction, nor was the number of rupees for which it was to pass current, ever fixed by the Government. It was struck, for the convenience of individuals, and the value of it in the markets fluctuated like other commodities, silver being the metal which was the general measure of value throughout the country. In the year 1766, the value of the gold coin with respect to the silver, was first fixed, and the former coin declared a legal tender of payment. A gold mohur was struck, and ordered to pass for fourteen sicca rupees. But as this coin (calculating according to the relative value of the two metals) was much below the worth of the silver in the number of rupees for which it was ordered to pass, it was found impossible to render it current, and it was accordingly called in, and a new gold mohur, being that now current, was issued in 1769, which was directed to pass as a legal tender of payment for sixteen sicca rupees. The intrinsic worth of this coin, was estimated to be equal to the nominal value of it, or as nearly so as was deemed necessary to render it current at the prescribed rate. But whether owing to the effect of the orders for the introduction of the over-rated gold coin of 1766, the considerable value of the new goldmohur, and the want of divisions of it, so as to render the coin calculated for the dealings of the lower orders of the people in the interior parts of the country, or other causes, the currency of it has been confined almost entirely to Calcutta, where it has been received and paid in all public and private payments at the fixed value of sixteen sicca rupees. But this partial currency of the gold coin, has enabled the money changers to practise an abuse upon the public and individuals, of a nature similar to that which has prevailed regarding the silver. Individuals are obliged to receive goldmohurs at the full value in all payments made to them from the treasury at Calcutta. But as the coin will not pass in the interior parts of the country, the receivers are under the necessity, when they have occasion to make purchases or advances out of Calcutta, to sell their goldmohurs to a shroff for silver of the currency of the district in which their purchases are to be made, or, what is the same, for a bill on his house in the district payable in that currency, as the shroff in the latter case exacts the discount in fixing the exchange. The shroffs pay the gold which they thus purchase at a discount, into the treasury at Calcutta at par, whenever they have payments to make to Government. The goldmohurs are in this manner immediately thrown back upon the treasury whenever an opportunity offers, and the shroffs levy a discount on them as often as they are issued from it. The obstruction to the circulation of the gold coin out of Calcutta, necessarily affects its value in purchases in the markets within the town, where also a discount is frequently exacted upon it. The means which appear best calculated to render the goldmohur generally current, are to declare it receivable at all the public treasuries and in all public payments throughout the provinces, at the rate of sixteen sicca rupees; to make it a legal tender of payment in private transactions; to coin a great proportion of halves and quarters; and lastly, to impose a duty upon all gold bullion sent to the mint to be coined, so as to prevent too large a proportion of gold being introduced into circulation, by diminishing in some degree the advantage at present derived from the importation of it in preference to silver. Upon the above grounds, the Regulations of the 20th June, 24th October, and 21st November, 1792, were adopted, and this detail of them, by apprizing individuals of the principles on which the coin of the country is regulated, will enable them to guard against the impositions of the money changers, who alone derive advantage from the want of a uniform gold and silver currency. The Regulations above mentioned, are hereby re-enacted with amendments.

II. Mints have been established at the cities of Patna, Moorshedabad, and Dacca, in addition to the mint at Calcutta, in which sicca rupees and goldmohurs of the nineteenth sun, of the following weight and standard, and half and quarter rupees and goldmohurs, of the same standard, and proportionate weight, will be coined: (a)

(a) The mint which was established at Moorshedabad has been withdrawn by R. 62, of 1795; and, although there are now no mints at the cities of Patna and Dacca, yet there is no Regulation, printed and published agreeably to R. 41, of 1793, by which their discontinuance is authorized, or made known. Besides the mint at Calcutta, there is one established in the city of Benares, and another in the town of Furruckabad; the latter under R. 45, of 1803, but there is no Regulation declaratory of the establishment of the former. R. 10, of 1809, appears to be the first Regulation enacted for the mint at Benares, which prescribes rules for the establishment of the copper coin of that province: but see the provisions of R. 2, of 1812, & 10, for the general conduct of the mint at Benares.

For all silver bullion or coin of, or above sicca standard, coin equal to the weight of the standard bullion to be returned without any charge.

Twelve annas per cent to be charged for refining to sicca standard, bullion or old or light coin under that standard.

Option given to individuals to have their old gold or silver bullion or money, coined into gold mohurs or rupees or halves or quarters in any proportions.

Coin to be milled and to be of the same size as the die, so as to receive the whole impression upon it.

Coin struck in the several mints to be precisely of the same shape, weight and standard, and to have the same impression.

Precaution to be taken for preventing any difference in the impression or milling of the coins struck in the three city mints.

Coin struck at the different mints, to be received and paid indiscriminately.

III. All goldmohurs of the weight and standard specified in section II, coined in the Calcutta mint since the 20th March, 1769, or which may be coined in that mint, and in the mints of Patna, Dacca, and Moorshedabad (b) after the date of this Regulation, and also their halves and quarters, are to be considered a legal tender of payment in all public and private transactions throughout the provinces of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, at the rate of sixteen sicca rupees of the nineteenth sun, for each mohur, and the half and quarter mohur in proportion. If a native officer of any public treasury shall be convicted before the court of dewanny adawlut of any zillah or city, of refusing to receive in payment any such goldmohurs, or the halves or quarters of them, at the rates directed in this section, the court shall adjudge the offender to be dismissed from his office, and further compel him to pay to the complainant his costs of suit, and such damages as to the court may seem proper, upon a consideration of the circumstances of the case.

IV. For all silver bullion, or old or light silver coin, equal to, or above, sicca standard, which may be delivered into the mints, a number of the nineteenth sun sicca rupees, or halves or quarters of such rupees, equal in weight to the silver of sicca standard contained in such bullion or old or light coin, shall be returned to the proprietor without any charge whatsoever. (c)

V. All silver bullion, or old or light silver coin, under sicca standard, which may be delivered into the mints, is to be refined to the sicca standard, and a number of the nineteenth sun sicca rupees, or halves or quarters of such rupees, equal in weight to the refined bullion, shall be returned to the proprietor after deducting twelve annas per cent for the expense of refining.

VI. It shall be at the option of individuals to have their old or light coin or bullion if gold, coined into goldmohurs, or half or quarter goldmohurs, and if silver, into the nineteenth sun sicca rupees, or half or quarter rupees, or into such proportions of each as they may think proper.

VII. To guard as far as possible against the counterfeiting, clipping, drilling, filing, defacing or debasing the coin, the edges both of the gold and silver coin are to be milled, and the dies are to be made of the same size as the coin, so that the whole of the impression may appear upon the surface of it.

VIII. The nineteenth sun sicca rupees, and the nineteenth sun goldmohurs, and the halves and quarters of each, which may be coined at the mints established at Dacca, Patna, and Moorshedabad, and at the Calcutta mint, are to be precisely of the same shape, weight, and standard, and to bear the same impression both on the surface and the edges; and with a view to the effectual attainment of the last mentioned object, the dies for striking and milling the gold and silver coin, are to be cut in the Calcutta mint, and distributed by the mint master to the three subordinate mints, and when these dies are broken, or no longer serviceable, they are to be returned to the Calcutta mint. (d)

IX. The gold and silver coin struck at the different mints, is to be received and paid indiscriminately at the prescribed value in all public and private transactions.

(b) See the note to section 2 of this Regulation.

(c) This and the two next sections are modified by R. 2, of 1812, S. 2.

(d) This and the three succeeding sections have become nugatory in consequence of the abolition of the mints at Dacca, Patna, and Moorshedabad.

X. The mint master is to cause a private mark to be put upon all dies which may be prepared for the several mints, but in such a manner as not to be distinguishable by the naked eye. These marks are to be varied as often as the mint master may judge proper upon new dies being made, and he is to keep a register of them, that in the event of any debased or defective coin being found in circulation, he may be able to ascertain from what mint it may have been issued.

Mint master to have private marks put upon the dies.

XI. The magistrates of the cities of Dacca, Patna, and Moorshedabad respectively, are required to proceed in person once in every fortnight, or as often as they may judge it proper, to the mints at Dacca, Patna, and Moorshedabad, without previously apprizing the superintendent of the mint, at the time when the money is usually struck off, and with their own hand, to take indiscriminately out of the heaps at the foot of the striking presses, three pieces of each description of coin that may have been struck off, and transmit them to the mint master at Calcutta, who is to cause the coin to be examined and assayed, and if it shall not be of the proper standard, or if it shall be defective in the workmanship, or in any other respect, he is to report the circumstances to the Governor General in Council.

Further precaution for preventing bad or defective coin being issued from the mints.

XII. Persons charged with counterfeiting, clipping, filing, drilling, defacing, or debasing the gold or silver coin, are to be committed to the criminal courts, and punished according as the law may direct.

Persons charged with counterfeiting the coin or other offences herein specified, are committed to the criminal courts.

XIII. All officers, agents, gomastahs, or others employed in the collection or payment of the public revenue, or the rents of individuals, or the provision of the investment, the manufacture of salt, or opium, and all proprietors and farmers of land, dependent talookdars, under-farmers and ryots, and all persons whomsoever, are prohibited affixing any mark whatever to the gold or silver coin, and all rupees or goldmohurs, or half or quarter rupees or goldmohurs, that may be so marked, are declared not to be legal tenders of payment in any public or private transaction, and the officers of Government are directed to reject any rupees or goldmohurs, or any half or quarter rupees or goldmohurs, so marked, that may be tendered at the public treasuries. (c)

All persons prohibited affixing marks to the coin.

Coin so marked not to be a legal tender of payment, and to be rejected at the public treasuries.

XIV. As the number of the nineteenth sun sicca rupees in circulation in some districts, may not be sufficient to enable the proprietors and farmers of land to pay such part of their revenues as they may not pay in gold, in rupees of that description, the various sorts of rupees current in the several districts, will be received at the public treasuries from the proprietors and farmers of land in payment of their revenue until the 10th April 1794, (f) corresponding with the 30th Chyete 1200 Bengal era, the 25th Chyete 1201 Fussily, the 30th Chyete 1201 Willaity, the 25th Chyete 1851 Sumbut, and the 9th Ramzaan 1208 Higeree, at the fixed rates specified in the following table, which are calculated agreeably to the difference of the intrinsic value, that each species of rupee bears to the nineteenth sun sicca rupee, as ascertained by assay in the Calcutta mint.

Rules and valuation according to which all rupees not being nineteenth sun siccas are to be received in discharge of the public revenue until the 10th April, 1794.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION XXXVII.

A REGULATION for re-enacting with modifications, the rules passed on the 22d April 1788, and subsequent dates, for trying the validity of the titles of persons holding or claiming a right to hold, altumgah, jaghirc, and other lands, exempt from the payment of public revenue, under grants termed badshahce or royal, and for determining when certain grants of that description shall be considered to have expired; and for fixing the amount of the public revenue to be assessed upon the lands, the grants for which may expire, or be adjudged invalid.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bergelera; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Tussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Wikkuty; the 6th Bysaak 1250 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higerice.

BY the ancient law of the country, the ruling power is entitled to a certain proportion of the produce of every biggah of land, unless it transfers its right thereto for a term, or in perpetuity. As a necessary consequence of this law, every grant or alienation of Governments proportion of the produce of lands without its sanction, was considered null and void. Had the validity of such grants or alienations been a mitted, it is obvious that the public revenue would have been liable to gradual diminution. Under the native Government, grants were occasionally made of the Government's share of the produce of lands for the support of the families of persons who had performed public services, for religious or charitable purposes, for maintaining troops, and for other services. The British Government continued to the grantees or their heirs, such of these grants as were hereditary, and were made before the date of the Company's accession to the dewanny, provided the grantees or their heirs had obtained possession previous to that date; but those grants which were for life only, have been invariably considered as resumable on the death of the grantees. No complete register of these grants having been formed on the Company's accession to the dewanny, nor subsequent to that period, many persons have retained possession of lands under fabricated or antedated grants, or have succeeded to life grants on the demise of the original grantee, or former possessor, without the sanction of Government. The Governor General in Council deeming it incumbent on him to resume the public dues from lands held under invalid tenures, as well as the revenue of all lands the grants for which might expire, and as the proprietors of estates were not entitled to collect such of the public dues from the lands included in their estates, as Government had judged it advisable to transfer to individuals, or to resume those which had been alienated or were appropriated without authority, the amount of the revenue of the lands having in both cases been excluded from the assets on which the settlement was to be concluded, it was made a rule at the time of forming the decennial settlement, and which has been re-enacted by section XXXVI, Regulation VIII, 1793, that the jumma assessed upon the estates of individuals, was to be considered as exclusive and independent of all existing lakheraje lands whether exempted from the kheraje or public revenue, with or without due authority; and by the third clause of the seventh article of the proclamation contained in Regulation I, 1793, which specifies the conditions under which Government declared the decennial settlement permanent, it is expressly stipulated, that the Governor General in Council will impose such assessment as he may deem equitable on all lands at present alienated and paying no public revenue, which have been or may be proved to be held under illegal or invalid titles. The Governor General in Council however, at the same time that he is desirous of recovering the public dues from lands held under invalid tenures, is equally solicitous that persons holding lands under grants that are declared valid, should be secured in the quiet possession and enjoyment of them. With this view, and to obviate all injustice, or extortion, in the inquiry into the titles of persons possessing lands under such grants, he has resolved that all claims of the public for the resumption of such grants (provided the grantees or persons in possession register their grants as required in this Regulation) shall be tried in the courts of judicature, that no such grants may be resumed until the title of the grantee or present possessor shall have been adjudged invalid by a final judicial decree. Upon the above grounds, and with a view to facilitate the resumption of invalid grants, as well as to prevent any grants being hereafter made without the authority of Government, and further that Government and its officers may at all times have in their possession a correct register of the lands in the several zillahs, held exempt from the payment of revenue under badshabee grants, the following rules, containing the rules passed on the 23d April 1788, and subsequent dates, with modifications, have been enacted. (a)

Badshabee grants made previous to the 12th August 1763, declared valid, provided the grantees obtained possession before that date and have since held possession.

11. First. Altumgah, jaghire, ayna, muddudmaush, or other badshabee grants, for holding land exempt from the payment of revenue, made previous to the 12th August 1763, the date of the Company's accession to the dewanny, shall be deemed valid, provided the grantee, actually and bonâ fide, obtained possession of the land so granted previous to that date, and the grant shall not have been subsequently resum-

(a) Extended to the zillah of Cuttack by R. 12, of 1805, S. 10 and 23, subject to the local modifications prescribed by sections 10, 11, 23, 26, 27, 28, and 29 of that Regulation, and R. 5, of 1813.

ed by the officers or the orders of Government. If it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the court, that the grantee did not obtain possession of the land so granted previous to the 12th August 1765, or that he did obtain possession of it prior to that date, but that it has been since resumed by the officers, or the orders of Government, the grant shall not be deemed valid.

Grants made before the dewanny of no validity if possession was not obtained prior thereto or the grant has since been resumed by authority.

Second. In the event however of a claim being preferred by any person to hold land exempt from the payment of revenue, under a badshahsee grant made previous to the date of the Company's accession to the dewanny, and on it being proved to the satisfaction of the court in which the suit may be instituted in the first instance, or to which it may be appealed, that the grantee held the land exempt from the payment of revenue previous to that date, but that it was subjected to the payment of revenue prior thereto by an officer of Government, and the court shall entertain doubts as to the competency of such officer under the powers vested in him, to resume the grant and subject the lands to the payment of revenue, the court shall suspend its judgment, and report the circumstances to the Governor General in Council, to whom a power is reserved of determining whether such officer was or was not competent to resume the grant, and upon receiving the determination of the Governor General in Council, the court is to decide accordingly. No such claim however to hold exempt from the payment of revenue, land that may have been subjected to the payment of revenue for the twelve years preceding the date on which the claim may be instituted, shall be heard by any zillah or city court, unless the claimant can show good and sufficient cause for not having preferred the claim to a competent authority within the twelve years, and proceeded in it, as required by section XIV, Regulation III, 1793 (b)

Courts to refer to the Governor General in Council, in the event of their entertaining doubts as to the authority of any officer of Government who may have resumed badshahsee grants of land made before the dewanny.

Claims to hold exempt from revenue under badshahsee grants lands that have paid revenue for twelve years, not to be heard.

Exception.

Third. But no part of the two preceding clauses, is to be construed to empower the courts to adjudge any person not being the original grantee, entitled to hold land paying revenue to Government, exempt from the payment of revenue, under a jaghire or other grant made previous to the Company's accession to the dewanny, where the grant may expressly specify it to have been given for the life of the grantee only, or, supposing no such specification to have been made in the grant, or the grant not to be forthcoming, where the grant from the nature and denomination of it, shall be proved to be a life tenure only, according to the ancient usages of the country.

Persons not being the original grantees, not to be entitled to hold exempt from the payment of revenue.

Fourth. Nor to entitle the heirs of any person now holding lands exempt from the payment of public revenue under a jaghire, or other badshahsee life grant, made previous to the dewanny, to succeed to, and hold such land exempt from the payment of revenue upon the demise of the present possessor, where the grant may expressly specify it to have been given for the life of the grantee only, or, supposing no such specification to have been made in the grant, or the grant not to be forthcoming, where from the nature and denomination of the grant, it shall be proved to be a life tenure only, according to the ancient usages of the country.

Nor to entitle the heirs of persons now possessing exempted lands under life grants made previous to the dewanny to hold such lands exempt from the payment of revenue upon the death of the present possessor.

Fifth. The present possessors of lands now exempt from the payment of revenue under such jaghire or other life grants made previous to the dewanny, and declared by the preceding clause not to be hereditary, are prohibited from selling, or otherwise transferring them, or mortgaging the revenue of the lands for a longer period than their own lives, and all such transfers and mortgages which have been or may be made, are declared illegal and void.

The present possessors of such life grants prohibited from transferring them, or mortgaging the revenue of them beyond their own lives.

III. First. All badshahsee grants for holding land exempt from the payment of revenue, which may have been made since the 12th August 1765, by any other authority than that of Government, and which may not have been confirmed by Government, or by any officer empowered to confirm them, are declared invalid.

All grants made or confirmed since the dewanny, excepting by the authority of Government, or its officers duly empowered, declared invalid.

Second. If doubts shall be entertained by any court as to the competency of the authority of any officer to confirm any such grant, the court is to suspend its judgment, and report the circumstances of the case to the Governor in Council, to whom a power is reserved of determining finally whether the officer possessed competent authority to confirm the grant, or otherwise, and the court, upon receiving the determination of the Governor General in Council, shall decide accordingly.

IV. It is to be understood that this Regulation respects only the Government proportion of the revenue arising from lands held or claimed to be held under badshahce grants, and whether Government is entitled to resume or retain such revenue or otherwise. Every dispute or claim regarding the zemindarry or proprietary right in lands included in any grant, is to be considered as a matter of a private nature between the contending parties, and is to be determined in the dewanny adawlut.

V. When a jaghire or other life grant, shall escheat to Government, the collector is immediately to attach the revenue of the lands, and report the circumstance to the Board of Revenue, (c) who are to obtain the orders of the Governor General in Council, regarding the resumption of the grant.

VI. When any badshahce grant shall be resumed, or expire, or escheat to Government, the revenue to be paid to Government from the lands included in it shall be assessed and the settlement made in perpetuity, agreeably to the rules for the decennial settlement contained in Regulation VIII, 1793, with the person possessing the zemindarry or proprietary right in the lands, whoever he may be. If the proprietor shall refuse to pay the jumma demanded of him, the lands shall be held khas, or let in farm, as directed in that Regulation.

VII. It is to be the duty of the collectors, after receiving the sanction of the Board of Revenue for that purpose, as directed in section IX, to prosecute in the court of dewanny adawlut on behalf of Government, for the resumption of grants that are declared invalid by this Regulation, and no lapse of time shall be considered as a bar to the resumption of such grants. (d)

VIII. The collectors shall receive a commission of twenty-five per cent on the amount of the jumma which may be assessed in perpetuity, on the land contained in grants which may be resumed in consequence of suits which may be prosecuted by them to a final judgment. Collectors who may institute suits for the recovery of the public dues from lands, but who shall not prosecute them to a final decision whilst they hold the office of collector of the zillah in which the lands may be situated, shall not be entitled to any commission in the event of the lands being adjudged liable to the payment of revenue, but the commission shall be paid to the collectors who may prosecute the suit to a final judgment as above prescribed, unless the Governor General in Council shall deem it equitable, upon a consideration of the circumstances of the case, to give the whole or any part of the commission to the collectors by whom the suits may have been instituted, or to collectors who may have succeeded the collectors who instituted the suits, and preceded the collectors by whom they may have been prosecuted to a final decision. this Regulation, he is to state such information as he may possess, or be able to procure respecting it, to the Board of Revenue, who, if there shall appear to them ground to believe that the grant is invalid, are empowered to order the collector to institute a suit for the resumption of it. The Board of Revenue are likewise empowered, previous to ordering the institution of the suit, to authorize the collector to demand from the grantee or person in possession, by a written requisition under his official seal and signature, and expressly specifying it to be made pursuant to the orders of the Board, to deliver into his custody by a time to be limited in the requisition, all the writings in virtue of which he may possess the lands, or under which they may have been held exempt from the payment of revenue. The collector is to give a receipt for the writings. If the grantee or possessor shall omit or refuse to deliver the writings within the limited time, the Board of Revenue are empowered to order the collector to issue a second and similar requisition to him to deliver the writings by a specific day, and shall at the same time impose such daily fine on the grantee or possessor, as they may judge proper upon a consideration of his situation and circumstances in life, and the amount of the fine shall be levied by the process prescribed for the recovery of arrears of revenue: and if the grantee or person in possession, shall not deliver up the writings by the time prescribed in the second requisition, the Board of Revenue are empowered to attach the lands, and collect the rents on account of Government, until the grantee, or person in possession, shall produce the writings, or the grant shall be adjudged invalid. If the grantee, or person in possession, shall deny that he has any writings, or shall not deliver up all the writings, and upon a suit being instituted against him for the recovery of the public dues, he shall in the first case produce any writing, and in the second, any writing or writings besides such as he may have delivered to the collector, the writing or writings so produced, shall not be received by the court in evidence, nor shall they be allowed to have any weight in the decision, any more than if they had never existed, unless in the second case, he shall show good cause to the satisfaction of the court for not having produced the writings, and shall prove that he assigned such cause in answer to the collector's requisition. But no collector is to require any person holding lands under any grant to produce his title deeds or writings, (excepting for the registry of them by the publication specified in section XX,) or to institute a suit for the resumption of the grant, without obtaining the previous orders of the Board of Revenue for that purpose. The Board of Revenue are empowered, without receiving any previous report from the collectors, to order suits to be instituted for the resumption of grants, which they may have ground to believe are invalid.

X. Any person having a claim to hold lands paying revenue, exempt from the payment of revenue under a badshahee grant, must institute his claim against Government, who alone can be the defendant in such suits, in the dewanny adawlut of the zillah, in the same manner as in cases where individuals may claim a right to hold lands paying revenue, exempt from the payment of revenue under grants not of the description of those termed badshahee, in virtue of Regulation XIX, 1793. The collectors of the revenue are to defend all such suits as may be instituted against Government and such suits, and the suits which the Board of Revenue may direct the collector to institute, are to be defended or prosecuted by the vakeel of Government, under the instructions of the collector; and in the event of Government being cast, either wholly or in part, or, if the collector shall be dissatisfied with the decree in any respect, all the rules contained in section XXX, Regulation XIV, 1793, and the other sections in that Regulation, respecting decisions given against a collector in any zillah court, in suits instituted against him by any proprietor or farmer of land, for sums of money demanded or actually received by him as arrears of revenue, are to be held applicable to such decree, with this difference, that the suit, from the commencement of it, is to be defended or carried on at the expense of Government, ever he may receive information of land held under an invalid grant.

Board, if they see grounds, empowered to order the collector to sue for the resumption of the grant, may require the person in possession to deliver up his title deeds, and may fine him on refusing to deliver up writings upon the requisition;

and levy the amount in the same manner as arrears of revenue; and attach the lands, upon his not complying with the second requisition.

Grantees denying that they have any writings, not to be allowed to avail themselves of any writings they may afterwards produce.

Qualification of the rule.

Collectors prohibited requiring from the grantee their title deeds, or instituting a suit against them without the previous sanction of the Board of Revenue.

Grants forged or altered in any respect, or antedated, declared void.

XII. If it shall appear to any court of judicature during the course of a trial, that a grant has been forged, or that the name of the original grantee has been erased, and any other name substituted, or that any name not in the original grant has been inserted, or that the denomination, or the terms of the tenure in the original grant, have been erased or altered, or that the date of the grant has been changed, or that the grant has been antedated, the grant shall be adjudged null and void.

XIII. Any person by whom any of the frauds specified in the preceding section may appear to have been committed, or who may have been concerned therein, shall, provided the court is of opinion that there are sufficient grounds for a criminal prosecution, be committed or held to bail (according to the circumstances of the case) to take his trial before the court of circuit.

Where a grant may be adjudged invalid, and the lands shall be subjected to the payment of revenue, the former holder of the grant shall not be required to refund any part of the collections which he may have made from the lands previous to the date of the first decree adjudging the land subject to the payment of revenue, whether it be given in the zillah court, the provincial court of appeal, or the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut. But he shall be responsible for the collections from the lands from the date of such first decree, adjudging the land subject to the payment of revenue.

Cases in and rules under which certain grants are to be transferrable.

XV. Altumgah, ayma, and muddudmaush grants, are to be considered as hereditary tenures. These and other grants, which from the terms or nature of them may be hereditary, and are declared valid by this Regulation, or which have been or may be confirmed by the British Government, or any of its officers possessing competent authority to confirm them, are declared transferrable by gift, sale, or otherwise, and all persons succeeding to such grants by whatever mode, are required to register their names in the office of the collector, within six months after they may succeed to the grant. (g) But all such purchases are to be considered as made at the risk of the purchaser, and in the event of the grant not proving to be hereditary, or not to have been made or confirmed by the British Government, or its officers possessing competent authority, the transfer is not to preclude the land from being subjected to the payment of revenue under this Regulation. Jaghires are to be considered as life tenures only, and with all other life tenures, are to expire with the life of the grantee, unless otherwise expressed in the grant.

Immediately on the receipt of these papers, the courts from the jurisdiction of which the separation may be made, are to transmit the papers in the causes depending before them, which in consequence of the separation, may become cognizable in any other provincial court of appeal, or zillah court, to such court, and to cause notification thereof to be communicated to the parties in writing.

Errors or omissions in the register of intermediate resumptions and occurrences are to be noted in a similar manner.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION XXXVIII.

A REGULATION for re-enacting with modifications, such part of the rule passed on the 27th June 1787, as prohibits covenanted civil servants of the Company employed in the administration of justice, or the collection of the public revenue, lending money to zemindars, independent talookdars, or other actual proprietors of land, or dependent talookdars, or farmers of land holding farms immediately of Government, or the underfarmers or ryots of the several descriptions of proprietors and farmers of land abovementioned, or their respective sureties; and for re-enacting with alterations the existing rules prohibiting Europeans of any description, holding possession of lands that may be mortgaged to them, or purchasing or renting lands for erecting houses, or buildings, for carrying on manufactures or other purposes, without the sanction of the Governor General in Council.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higeree.

AT an early period after the establishment of the British Government in this country, the servants of the Company employed in the administration of justice, and the collection of revenue, were prohibited from lending money to the landholders and farmers, and others concerned in the collection or payment of the revenue, in order to guard against the abuses that the powers with which they were invested would have enabled them to practise, had they been permitted to engage in such transactions with individuals subject to their official controul and authority. This rule was incorporated with the judicial Regulations, passed on the 5th July 1781, and has since continued in force. From a regard to the prejudices of the natives, and with a view to promote their ease and happiness, and to obviate the evils that would necessarily have resulted from allowing any persons not amenable to the provincial courts of judicature in common with the natives, to purchase or rent estates, tates, without restriction or limitation, or to hold any land whatever, excepting for the erection of dwelling houses, or buildings for manufactures, or other commercial purposes, it was likewise early made a rule, that no European should purchase or hold land out of the limits of Calcutta without the sanction of Government. This rule was included in the revenue Regulations passed on the 8th June 1757, and has since remained in force. The rules abovementioned, are hereby re-enacted with modifications. (a)

Covenanted servants of the Company employed in the administration of justice, or the collection of the revenue prohibited lending money to proprietors or farmers of land, dependent talookdars, underfarmers, or ryots, or their sureties.

II. The judges and magistrates of the zillah and city courts, the judges of the provincial courts of appeal, and the courts of circuit, and the registers to their respective courts, and their assistants, or other officers being covenanted servants of the Company, and the collectors of the revenue and their assistants, are prohibited lending money, directly or indirectly, to any proprietor or farmer of land, or dependent talookdar, or under-farmer or ryot, or their sureties, and all such loans as have been made in opposition to the repeated prohibitions of Government, or which may be hereafter made, are declared not recoverable in any court of judicature.

Europeans now possessing, or who may hereafter purchase, rent, or occupy land, without the sanction of the Governor General in Council, liable to be dispossessed at his discretion.

III. No European of whatever nation or description, shall purchase, rent, or occupy, directly or indirectly, any land out of the limits of the town of Calcutta, without the sanction of the Governor General in Council, and all persons now so holding land beyond the limits of Calcutta, without having obtained such permission, in opposition to the repeated prohibitions of Government, or who may hereafter so purchase, rent, or occupy land, shall be liable to be dispossessed of the land at the discretion of the Governor General in Council, nor shall they be entitled to any indemnification for buildings which they may have erected, or other account.

Europeans not prohibited lending money to proprietors, &c. on mortgage of the estates or leases, not to be allowed to have possession of the land, or to have any concern in the collections.

IV. Europeans who are not prohibited from lending money to proprietors, or farmers of land, dependent talookdars, under farmers, or ryots, and who may make loans to them on the security or mortgage of their lands or leases, shall not be allowed, directly or indirectly, to hold possession of the lands, the proprietary right in which, or lease whereof, may be mortgaged to them as security for the loan, or to make or appropriate the collections; or to have any concern or interference whatever in the management or collection of the rents or revenue of the lands.

Collector to depute an officer to measure ground, which the Governor General in Council may permit a European to hold.

V. When a European shall be permitted by the Governor General in Council, to purchase, occupy, or rent, any land out of the limits of Calcutta, it shall be measured by an officer to be appointed by the collector, and the expense attending the measurement, shall be paid by the party purchasing, renting, or occupying the ground. It shall be the duty of the collectors, to report to the Board of Revenue (b) for the information of the Governor General in Council, every instance that may come to their knowledge in which Europeans may directly or indirectly, purchase, occupy, or rent land without such authority.

Collectors to report when any Europeans may possess themselves of land without authority.

VI. Upon the receipt of this Regulation, the collectors are to transmit a statement, specifying the names of the Europeans possessing, renting, or occupying land within their respective zillahs, the extent of the land, the purpose to which it is applied, and from what period, and under what authority it has been so possessed, occupied or rented. The collectors are to transmit a similar statement to the Board of Revenue annually, by the 1st of January.

Annual statement of lands held by Europeans to be sent by the collectors to the Board of Revenue.

(a) Extended to the zillah of Cuttack by R. 12, of 1805, S. 36.

(b) Or to the Commissioner in Behar and Benares appointed under R. 1, of 1816, who is to be invariably understood instead of the Board of Revenue, wherever the latter may be named or implied in this Regulation; provided the subject which may be treated of should relate to that part of the country which is under his exclusive jurisdiction.

The following rules have been accordingly enacted. (a)

II. First. The cauzy ul cozaat, or head cauzy of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, shall be appointed by the Governor General in Council, and shall not be removable from his office, but for incapacity, or misconduct in the discharge of his public duty, or acts of profligacy in his private conduct, proved to the satisfaction of the Governor General in Council. But, probably, there has been an alteration in this designation, upon the further acquisition of territory by the English since the passing of those Regulations, and which is usually denoted under the denomination of the Conquered Provinces, or collectively, the Western Provinces.

IV. When the office of cauzy in any purgunnah, city, or town shall become vacant, the judge of the zillah or city court, within whose jurisdiction the place may be situated, is immediately to report the vacancy to the Governor General in Council, and recommend such person as may appear to him best qualified for the succession from his character and legal knowledge. The name of the person so recommended, is to be communicated to the head cauzy, who, if he shall deem him unqualified for the office, either from want of legal knowledge, or the badness of his private character, is to report the same in writing to the Governor General in Council, who reserves to himself the power of appointing such person to the office, or not, or of conferring it upon any other person, according as may appear to him proper. If there shall appear to the head cauzy no objection to the appointment of the person who may be so recommended, he is to report accordingly to the Governor General in Council. The person who may be appointed to the office, shall be furnished with a sunnud of appointment under the official seal of the head cauzy, in which the date of his appointment is to be specified. (e)

They are likewise to keep a list of all such papers, and in the event of their death, resignation, or removal, the list and papers are to be delivered complete to their successors.

VIII. The cauzies stationed in the cities, towns, and purgunnahs, are not to exact any fees for drawing up, or attesting papers, or for the celebration of marriages, or the performance of any religious duties or ceremonies which it has been customary for them to perform, excepting such as the parties concerned may voluntarily agree to pay, as has been hitherto the practice.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION XL.

A REGULATION for granting commissions to natives, to hear and decide civil suits for sums of money, or personal property of a value not exceeding fifty sicca rupees, and prescribing rules for the trial of the suits, and enforcing the decisions which may be passed upon them.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willauty; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramazan 1207 Higerce.

THERE being but one established tribunal in each zillah for the trial of causes, the parties in the most trivial suits, wherever they may reside, are often obliged to repair in person to the place at which the court is held, and to attend on it until the suit is decided. Besides the expense and inconvenience necessarily resulting to the parties themselves from quitting their employments, and proceeding to a distance from their habitations, greater hardship is experienced by their witnesses, who, notwithstanding they may be uninterested in the issue of the suit, are obliged, excepting in particular cases, to attend the court in person, to the great detriment of their private affairs. In addition to these evils, the numerous petty suits filed both in the city and zillah courts, occupy the greater portion of the time of the judges, protract the decision of causes of more importance, and obstruct the general administration of justice. To relieve the courts as far as may be practicable, from the trial of these petty suits; to afford the parties an opportunity of obtaining an adjustment of them, without subjecting themselves or their witnesses to the injurious consequences above stated, and to expedite the decision of causes of every description, the following rule have been enacted.

II. Commissions shall be granted to mahomedans and hindoos in the cities of Patna, Dacca, and Moorshedabad, and in the several zillahs, to try and determine suits for sums of money, or personal property, not exceeding in amount or value fifty sicca rupees.

Commissions to be granted to mahomedans and hindoos to determine suits for money or personal property not exceeding fifty sicca rupees.

III. First. The commissioners are to be nominated by the judges of the zillahs and cities, and approved by the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut; but no person shall be allowed to act as commissioner, until the previous sanction of that court to his nomination shall have been obtained.

Commissioners to be nominated by the judges and approved by the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut.

Second. The commissioners shall receive sunnuds of appointment under the seal and signature of the judge of the zillah or city court under which they may act.

Commissioners to receive sunnuds under the seal and signature of the judge.

Third. No commissioner shall be removed from his office during the period for which his commission may be declared to be in force, without sufficient cause proved to the satisfaction of the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut.

Commissioners not to be removed without sufficient cause proved to the satisfaction of the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION XLI.

A REGULATION for forming into a regular code all Regulations that may be enacted for the internal government of the British territories in Bengal.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Wilylity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higree.

IT is essential to the future prosperity of the British territories in Bengal, that all Regulations which may be passed by Government affecting in any respect the rights, persons, or property of their subjects, should be formed into a regular code, and printed with translations in the country languages; that the grounds on which each Regulation may be enacted should be prefixed to it; and that the courts of justice should be bound to regulate their decisions by the rules and ordinances which those Regulations may contain. A code of Regulations framed upon the above principles will enable individuals to render themselves acquainted with the laws upon which the security of the many inestimable privileges and immunities granted to them by the British Government depends, and the mode of obtaining speedy redress against every infringement of them; the courts of justice will be able to apply the Regulations according to their true intent and import; future administrations will have the means of judging how far Regulations have been productive of the desired effect, and, when necessary, to modify or alter them as from experience may be found advisable; new Regulations will not be made, nor those which may exist be repealed, without due deliberation; and the causes of the future decline or prosperity of these provinces will always be traceable in the code to their source. The Governor General in Council has accordingly enacted as follows. (a)

II. Every rule or order that may be passed by the Governor General in Council regarding the administration of justice; the imposition or levying of taxes, or of duties on commerce; the collection of the public revenue assessed upon the lands; the rights and tenures of the proprietors and cultivators of the soil; the provision of the Company's investment; the manufacture of salt or opium; and generally all Regulations affecting in any respect the rights, persons or property of the natives, or any

Rules and orders affecting the rights, persons, or property, of the people, to be formed into Regulations in the judicial department, and printed and published as heretofore directed.

(a) Extended to the province of Benares by R. 1, of 1795, S. 4, and to the zillah of Cuttack by R. 12, S. 36, R. 13, S. 13, and R. 11, S. 11, of 1805.

individuals who may be amenable to the provincial courts of judicature, shall be recorded in the judicial department, and there framed into a Regulation, and printed, and published as hereafter directed.

III. The Regulations passed annually shall be numbered. The first Regulation enacted in each year shall be numbered one, and all subsequent Regulations according to the order in which they may be passed. The number of each Regulation, and the year in which it may be enacted is to be inserted at the top of every page as in this Regulation.

IV. Every Regulation shall have a title, expressing the subject of it as concisely as possible, similar to the title prefixed to this Regulation.

V. First. There shall be a preamble to every Regulation stating the reasons for the enactment of it.

Second. If any Regulation shall repeal or modify a former Regulation, the reasons for such repeal or modification, are to be detailed in the preamble.

VI. Every Regulation is to be divided into sections. Each section shall be numbered according to the order in which it may occur. The preamble is to be considered as the first section. The sections, where necessary, may be divided into clauses; in which case, each clause is to be numbered in the same manner as the clauses in section V.

VII. In framing a Regulation, if there shall be occasion to refer to any clause or section of a Regulation, or any Regulation at large; as for example the second clause of the fifth section, or the fifth section of this Regulation, or this Regulation generally: the reference in each case shall be expressed in the following manner:— Clause second, section V, Regulation XLI, 1793. Section V, Regulation XLI, 1793. Regulation XLI, 1793.

VIII. The subject of every section and clause shall be inserted opposite to it in the margin as concisely as possible.

IX. Every Regulation is to be printed on paper of the same size as the paper on which this Regulation is printed.

X. At the expiration of each year, a copious index to the Regulations passed during the course of it, shall be prepared and bound up with them.

XI. The superintendent of the Company's press is to retain in his office one hundred copies of each of the Regulations that may be passed and printed annually, and the same number of copies of the translates of them in the Persian and the Bengal languages. At the close of the year, after he has been furnished with the index ordered to be prepared in the preceding section, he shall bind up the English printed copies of the Regulations, and the Persian and the Bengal translates, each in separate volumes. The remainder of the English copies of the Regulations, and the Persian and Bengal translates, are to be distributed as they are passed and printed in such proportions as the Governor General in Council may direct, amongst the courts of justice, the Boards of Revenue and Trade, the collectors of the land revenue and the customs, and the commercial residents and salt agents, or other public officers, or any individuals to whom it may be thought advisable to deliver copies.

XII. Ten of the English copies of the Regulations passed annually, bound up with the index as directed in section XI, shall be transmitted to the Honorable Court of Directors by the two first ships that may be dispatched for England after the volumes are completed. Five copies are to be sent in each of the two ships. The remainder of the one hundred copies shall be distributed in such proportions as the Governor General in Council may direct to the courts of justice, the Boards of Revenue and Trade, the collectors of the revenue, the commercial residents, and salt agents, or other public officers.

XIII. The civil and criminal courts of justice are to be guided in their proceedings and decisions by the Regulations which may be framed and transmitted to them as above directed, and by no other.

Courts of justice to be guided by their proceedings and decisions by the Regulations.

XIV. In the English drafts of Regulations, the same designations and terms are to be applied to the same descriptions of persons and things, in order that rights, property, tenures, privileges, deeds, courts, process, offices, officers, and generally all persons and things may be uniformly described by the same designations and terms throughout the judicial code.

Persons and things to be described by the same designations and terms throughout the judicial code.

XV. Every Regulation with the marginal notes shall be translated into the Persian and Bengal languages by the Persian translator to the Government, or such other person as the Governor General in Council may expressly appoint for that purpose. The number of the Regulation and the year in which it may be passed, and the numbers of the sections and clauses shall be inserted in the translates in the same manner as in the English drafts of the Regulations.

Regulations with marginal notes to be translated into the Persian and Bengal languages. Number of the Regulation, and the year in which it may be passed, to be inserted at the top of the page, and the clauses and sections to be numbered as in the English draft.

XVI. The translator is to be particularly careful to preserve in the translates the same uniformity in the designations and terms applied to persons and things as is directed with regard to the English code in section XIV. Whenever he shall have occasion to insert the designation or name of any person or thing that he may have reason to believe may not be intelligible to the natives in general, and which may not have been used and explained in the translates of any former Regulation, he shall in the first passage in which such word or term may occur, subjoin an explanation of it, that upon its recurring no doubt may be entertained as to its true meaning and import.

Uniformity in designations and terms applied to persons and things to be carefully preserved in the translates. All designations and terms not before used to be explained in the translates.

XVII. It shall be the duty of the translator to revise the proof sheets of the printed translates, and to correct all errors of the press.

Translator to correct errors of the press in the printed translates.

XVIII. The translator is to translate the Regulations into plain and easy language, and in all possible cases to reject words not in common use. As far as may be consistent with the preservation of the true meaning and spirit of the Regulations, he shall adopt the idiom of the native languages, instead of giving a close verbal translation of the English drafts, which must necessarily render the translates obscure, and often unintelligible to the natives.

Translations to be made in plain and easy language, and the idiom of the languages to be adopted.

XIX. One part of a Regulation is to be construed by another, so that the whole may stand.

One part of a Regulation to be construed by another.

XX. If any Regulation shall be passed differing from a former Regulation, either wholly or partially, the new Regulation is to be considered as a virtual repeal of the old one as far as it may differ from the latter, provided that the new Regulation be couched in negative terms, or by its matter necessarily imply a negative.

Rules for construing new Regulation differing wholly or partially, from former Regulations.

XXI. If a Regulation that rescinds another Regulation, is itself afterwards rescinded, the original Regulation is to be considered as revived, without any formal declaration to that purpose.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION XLIII. (a)

A REGULATION for re-enacting with modifications, the rules passed on the 25th February 1793, for granting lands to invalided native officers and private soldiers.— Passed by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Ramzaan 1207 Higeree.

JUSTICE and policy requiring that the jaghire establishment for invalids, should be put upon such a footing as to render it productive of the benefits originally expected to result from it, viz. a comfortable retreat for worn out native soldiers,

(a) The whole of this Regulation, excepting the last section, is rescinded by R. 1, of 1804. The assignment of lands to invalid native commissioned and non-commissioned officers and privates for their support on retiring from the service, has been discontinued since the 5th April, 1811, and they are now only entitled to the invalid pay of their respective ranks, during their lives, as established by the orders of Government, under date the 1st February 1811. See R. 2, of 1811; and also the provisions of R. 12, of 1814, for securing to the invalid native officers, soldiers, and others, such invalid pay or pension.

with an ample subsistence for themselves during their lives, and decent provision for their families after their decease; and it being essential to the attainment of this object that the lands should be procured without any infringement of the rights of the zemindars, the Governor General in Council, on the 25th February 1793, framed a code of rules for new modelling the establishment, in which provisions were made for obtaining the lands from the proprietors on lease, or by purchase, and for delivering them to the invalids in such a state as to enable them to render their respective jaghires immediately productive. To add to the security and consequently the value of the tenures, the terms of them, and the privileges which they conferred on the grantees, were incorporated with the Laws and Regulations of the country. Provisions also were made for withdrawing the interference of the regulating officer from the tannahs upon the death of the original grantees, and leaving their descendants to blend with the mass of the community, but secured by the Regulations in the enjoyment of the rights and property which might devolve to them from their ancestors. Such parts of those rules, and of the rules passed on the 18th February, 1789, and the 24th December 1790, therein referred to, as come within the description of the rules and orders specified in section II, Regulation XLI, 1793, are hereby enacted into a Regulation.

VI. If the estate, or the part of the estate of any zemindar, or other proprietor, in which any lands leased to Government under this Regulation may be situated, shall be disposed of at public sale, or be transferred or devolve in any manner to any other person, neither the lease of Government, nor the terms of the tenures of the invalids, or their heirs or successors, are to be in any respect affected, but the new proprietor is to be bound by the terms of the deeds in the same manner as the proprietor who granted them would have been, had he retained the property, notwithstanding any thing that may be said to the contrary in Regulation XLIV, 1793, or any other Regulation passed on the 1st May 1793.

VII. If a collector in any of the zillahs in which tannahs are allowed to be established, shall hear of any estate procurable by private purchase, which may contain a sufficient quantity of waste land, and be properly situated for the establishment of a tannah, or if any such estate shall be ordered to be put up to public sale, he is to inform the Governor General in Council, in order that it may be purchased on the part of Government for the establishment of a tannah, if circumstances should render it advisable.

VIII. Whenever invalids shall be established upon lands the property of Government, they are to hold them of Government upon the same terms as invalids settled upon lands belonging to zemindars, or other proprietors of land paying revenue to Government, or upon such other terms as the Governor General in Council may judge it proper to prescribe, previous to establishing the invalids upon the lands.

IX. Widows, being heiresses to the jaghires of their husbands, are to be allowed to marry whom they please without forfeiture of their jaghires, which, after their death, are to devolve to their heirs at law.

The following rules are prescribed for the regulation of the arbitrators, or of referring the matter to arbitration.

Section. The officer is to afford every encouragement in his power to persons of character and credit to become arbitrators; but he is not to employ any coercive means for that purpose, nor to permit any of his public officers, or private servants, to be arbitrators in a case. In all cases, he is to encourage, but without using any compulsion, to or induce on the parties to submit their cause to the arbitration of one person, to be mutually agreed upon by them. In every case, the parties are to choose the arbitrator or arbitrators, by whom the matter in dispute is to be decided without fee or reward.

Third. Whenever a suit shall be submitted to arbitration, the regulating officer, previous to the arbitration or arbitrators entering upon the arbitration, is to cause the parties to execute arbitration bonds, binding themselves to abide by the award. The officer is to fix such time as he may think reasonable, upon a consideration of the nature and circumstances of the case, for the delivery of the award, and the period so fixed is to be specified in the bonds. If the cause shall be referred to two or more arbitrators, the following provisions are to be made for completing the award in the event of the arbitrators not delivering it by the limited time, either from disagreement or other cause. If the decision of the suit shall be referred to two or more arbitrators, whether an odd or an even number, the parties are to have the option of nominating jointly one person as umpire; or, if the number of arbitrators appointed shall be three or more, being an odd number, to agree that the award given by the majority shall be final, or, to permit the arbitrators to nominate an umpire. The name of the umpire, and the time by which he is to make the award, in the event of the arbitrators not delivering it by the limited period, is to be specified in the bonds. In the event of an umpire being appointed, and the arbitrators not agreeing in an award by the limited period, their authority is to cease from such period, and the umpire is to give his award.

Fourth. When a cause shall be referred to arbitration, and the bonds specified in the preceding section, shall have been executed the regulating officer is to transmit to the arbitrator or arbitrators a copy of the complaint, and by a short writing under his signature, refer to him or them the matters in dispute between the parties. In Invalids established upon lands the property of Government, they are to hold them of Government upon the same terms as invalids settled upon lands belonging to zemindars, or other proprietors of land paying revenue to Government, or upon such other terms as the Governor General in Council may judge it proper to prescribe, previous to establishing the invalids upon the lands.

If the evidence of any person residing out of the limits of the tannahs should be necessary, the regulating officer is to transmit such interrogatories as may be required to be stated to them, to the vakeel of Government in the zillah in which the witnesses may reside, who is to apply to the court to summon the witnesses, and take their depositions. When the depositions are taken, they are to be forwarded by the register of the court to the regulating officer.

Fifth. In cases where arbitrators, or umpires, shall not have been able to complete the award by the limited time from want of the necessary evidence or information, or other good and sufficient cause, the regulating officer is empowered to allow a further time for the delivery of the award. In the first mentioned case, the regulating officer is to fix a period by which the umpire (if an umpire shall have been appointed) shall deliver his final award, in the event of the arbitrators not completing their award by the expiration of such further time.

Sixth. When a final award in a cause shall be made either by the arbitrators, or the umpire, it is to be submitted to the regulating officer under the seal or signature of the person or persons by whom it may be made, together with all the proceedings, depositions, and exhibits in the cause. The regulating officer is to pass a decision conformably to the award, and the decision is to be carried into execution in the same manner as his other decisions.

Seventh. The regulating officer is on no account to set aside the award of an arbitrator or arbitrators, except it be fully proved to his satisfaction by the oaths of two credible witnesses, that the arbitrator or arbitrators has or have been guilty of gross corruption or partiality in the cause in which the award may be made; in either of which cases he may set aside the award, or make such alteration in it as he may think equitable. The regulating officer however is to be careful not to set aside or alter any award, without such proof of the corruption or partiality.

XIII. If either of the parties shall omit or refuse to appoint arbitrators, the regulating officer is to enquire into the claim, and pass such decision upon it as may appear to him equitable.

XIV. The regulating officer is empowered to administer the proper oaths to persons residing within the limits of the tannah who may be summoned to give evidence before him. If any person so sworn shall appear to him to have been guilty of perjury, the officer may order the vakeel of Government to prosecute him before the magistrate of the zillah for perjury.

XV. The regulating officer is empowered to enforce his decisions by causing the delivery of the property (provided it shall be or lie within the limits of any of the tannahs) to the party in whose favor the decision may be passed, or if any sum of money shall be adjudged, and the party against whom the decision shall be passed shall omit or refuse to satisfy it, by the public sale of any property he may possess within the tannah.

XVI. But the regulating officer is not to take cognizance of any complaint or claim, where the cause of action shall have arisen, or the property claimed shall be situated, without the limits of the tannahs. Such suits are to be instituted and decided in the court of judicature of the zillah.

XVII. The regulating officer shall not sell any property lying without the limits of the tannah, in satisfaction of any decisions that he may pass in causes which he is not authorized to determine. XVIII. The regulating officer is not to issue any process, or exercise any authority whatsoever out of the limits of the tannahs.

XIX. If any claims of a civil nature shall arise between the invalids or other inhabitants of the tannahs and the plaintiff, or both the plaintiff and defendant, shall be desirous of bringing the cause in the first instance before the dewanny adawlut of the zillah in which the tannah may be situated, instead of preferring it to the regulating officer, the plaintiff is permitted to prefer the suit to the court accordingly.

XX. If an invalid shall be charged before the regulating officer with murder, house-breaking, robbery, theft, or other heinous crime, the regulating officer is to send the party accused to the magistrate of the zillah, who is to proceed with him in the same manner as he is directed to proceed with other persons charged before him with similar crimes or offences, and apprehended under his own warrant.

XXI. An appeal is to lie to the dewanny adawlut of the zillah from the decisions passed by the regulating officer, in all causes for personal property in which the sum of money, or the value of the thing claimed or decreed, shall exceed fifty rupees; and in all causes whatever for real property lying within the tannah, provided that the petition of appeal be presented to the judge within six weeks after the date of the decision of the regulating officer.

XXII. If any invalid or other inhabitant of a tannah, shall have a claim or charge of a civil or criminal nature to prefer against any person residing without the limits of the tannahs or if any person residing without the limits of the tannahs, shall have a claim or charge to prefer against an invalid, or other inhabitant of a tannah, such claim or charge is to be considered as exclusively cognizable in the civil or criminal court of the zillah or city to the jurisdiction of which it may belong.

XXIII. To prevent invalids, or their heirs residing within the tannahs and possessing the whole or a part of their jaghires, being harrassed with law suits, and that they may be enabled to defend or prosecute suits in the courts of civil judicature without being obliged to attend in person, or being subjected to trouble or expense; the regulating officer is empowered in the following cases to employ the vakeel of Government to plead the causes of invalids, free of cost.

First. Where an invalid, or his heir residing in a tannah, may have a claim of a civil, or a charge of a criminal nature, to prefer against any person residing out of the limits of the tannahs, or a criminal charge against any invalid or inhabitant of a tannah of which the regulating officer is prohibited taking cognizance by section XX.

Second. Where a claim of a civil nature may be preferred against an invalid, or his heir residing within a tannah, by any person not being an inhabitant of a tannah.

Third. Where an invalid, or his heir residing within a tannah, shall be sued by another invalid or inhabitant of the tannah in the court of justice in the first instance, notwithstanding he shall have offered to the plaintiff to submit the cause to be tried by the regulating officer or by arbitration.

where they may have civil or criminal suits, or charges to prefer against persons out of the tannahs; or criminal charges of the nature specified in section XX, against any person residing in a tannah; or, where a civil suit may be preferred against them by a person residing out of the tannah; or, where they shall have agreed to refer a claim made upon them to the regulating officer, or to arbitration, and the plaintiff shall nevertheless have sued them in the first instance in the court. Authority vested by this section in the regulating officer to extend only to the suits therein specified.

and not to any suits of other descriptions of persons residing in the tannahs, nor of invalids or their heirs who may reside out of the limits of the tannahs.

XXIV. The regulating officer is prohibited employing the vakeel of Government to undertake the suits of invalids in the following cases.

First To prevent invalids or their heirs, abusing the above indulgence of having their suits pleaded by the vakeel of Government, the regulating officer is not to order the vakeel of Government to undertake any suits or prosecutions of the descriptions specified in the preceding section, which may appear to him unjust or frivolous; nor to defend any suits or prosecutions that may be preferred against invalids, or their heirs, which may appear to him well founded. In such cases, the invalid or his heir, is to be left to prosecute the claim or charge, or to defend the suit in person, or by vakeel, at his own cost.

Second. Where an invalid, or his heir residing within a tannah, shall be prosecuted for any of the criminal offences described in section XX, whether the prosecutor be or be not an inhabitant of a tannah.

Third. Where an invalid, or his heir, shall appeal from a decree of the regulating officer.

Fourth. Where invalids, or their heirs, shall agree to any suits in which they may be parties, being brought in the first instance before the court of justice as authorized in section XIX.

XXV. The process of the civil and criminal courts of judicature and of the police officers, is to be current, in the invalid tannahs, in the same manner as in other parts of the country, and the invalids and all inhabitants of the tannahs, are to pay due obedience thereto under pain of paying such fine or suffering such punishment, as the courts are empowered by any Regulation passed and printed in the manner directed in Regulation XLI, 1793, to impose or inflict on persons disobeying or resisting their process.

XXVI. The regulating officer is to discourage all money lending amongst the invalids as much as possible, and Regulation XV, 1793, is to be fixed up in the cutcherry of every tannah. The regulating officer is to conform to the above-mentioned Regulation, in adjusting claims for debt, or other matters to which it is applicable.

XXVII. Jaghires, whilst possessed by invalids, are not to be assigned as security for money borrowed by them, nor to be answerable after their decease for debts contracted by them. But when jaghires devolve to the heirs or successors of invalids, they are to be answerable for debts contracted by such heirs and successors.

XXVIII. The following are the proportions of lands to be granted to the several descriptions of invalids.

XXX. The invalids are to be present at their respective tannahs at the periods of inspection, and payment of the proportion of their pay which Government may judge it proper to continue to them in addition to the provision in land, in failure of which they are to be struck off the establishment. The courts of judicature are not to receive any complaints or representations that may be presented to them by any invalid for having been struck off the establishment under this section.

XXXI. First. The rules in section V, are to be considered as immediately applicable to the lands only which have been granted to invalids subsequent to the 25th February, 1793, or that may be hereafter granted to them. But the collectors are to endeavour to bring the lands in the tannahs established previous to that date in Behar and Boglepore under the rules prescribed in the abovementioned section, as far as may be practicable consistently with the terms on which the lands were made over to the original grantees, by prevailing upon the present occupants, and the zemindars, to enter into agreements to that effect. By this means the nature of the tenure of the former will be defined, and the rights of the latter preserved; all the invalid establishments will be under one uniform system; and the rights both of the zemindars and the invalids, and their respective heirs and successors as founded upon the terms of the deeds of agreement, will be equally under the protection of the laws. For the attainment of the above object, the collectors and the regulating officers are to conform to the following instructions.

Second. To endeavour to conclude agreements with the zemindars, rendering all lands now held by invalids or their heirs, in Boglepore and in Behar, (excepting the lands granted to the invalids under the Regulations of the 18th February 1789,) subject to the conditions specified in section V, of this Regulation.

Third. To new model the tannahs in Boglepore and Behar, as far as relates to the proportions of land, and to fix for each invalid now on the establishment, the quota of land assigned for his rank by section XXVIII, and to extend this rule to the heirs and successors of invalids who have come into possession of jaghires, resuming both from invalids; and the heirs or successors of invalids, whatever quantity of land may have been granted to them exceeding that proportion, excepting where the occupants shall have brought into cultivation a larger quantity of land than is now fixed for their respective ranks; or the ranks of their ancestors or predecessors, in which cases they are not to be deprived of any part of the land that is in actual cultivation, but to continue to possess the whole under the conditions above prescribed.

XXXII. The several rules for administering justice in tannahs established subsequent to the 25th February 1793, are to be considered to extend to the tannahs already established in Boglepore and Behar.

XXXIII. First. No part of the rules in the preceding sections of this Regulation are to be considered applicable to the invalids, who have accepted of double portions of land under the resolutions of the Governor General in Council, passed on the 18th February 1789, and the 24th December 1790. Those invalids are dispersed in different parts of the country, receive no pay, are under no military controul, and are entirely unconnected with the service. They are to be considered as tenants of the landholders in whose estates they are settled, and are subject to the jurisdiction of the civil and criminal courts of judicature, in the same manner as other individuals. To secure them and their heirs in the possession of the lands which have been made over to them, the collectors are to apply to the zemindars to grant them pottahs confirming the land to them and their heirs as pottah talooks, agreeably to the terms of the abovementioned Regulations, under which they received the lands, and which, as far as they regard the provinces of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, are hereafter inserted as the rules by which all questions regarding any such grants as may have been made, are to be decided.

Second. Regulations of the 18th February 1793. Article 1st. Such invalid sepoys and native troops now at Monghir, and all who shall hereafter be invalided, as may be desirous of receiving grants of waste land in lieu of the pay allowed them by Government, upon taking a final discharge from the service, shall be entitled to the same in the following proportions, according to their rank :

Rules in section V, to be considered immediately applicable only to lands granted after the 25th February 1793. But the lands in the tannahs of Boglepore and Behar are to be brought under the abovementioned section as soon and as far as may be practicable.

To enter into agreement with the zemindars subjecting the lands above mentioned to the terms of section V.

To new model those tannahs as far as regards the proportions of land under the restrictions here in prescribed.

Rules for the administration of justice, &c. declared applicable to the tannahs mentioned in the preceding section.

Rules in the preceding sections not applicable to the invalids who accepted of double portions of lands under the resolutions of the 18th February 1789, and 24th December 1790.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION XLIV.

A REGULATION for prohibiting the fixing the jumma of dependent talooks, or granting leases or pottahs for a term exceeding ten years ; and, in cases of lands being disposed of at public sale for the discharge of arrears of the public revenue, for rendering null and void all engagements (with certain exceptions) subsisting between the defaulting proprietor and his dependent talookdars, under-farmers, and ryots, for the payment of rent or revenue on account of the lands so sold.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793 ; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengal era ; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily ; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity ; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sunbut ; and the 19th Ramzaan 1201 Higreec.

THE public demand upon the estates of the proprietors of lands with whom a settlement has been or may be concluded under the original Regulations for the decennial settlement, having been declared fixed for ever, it is to be apprehended that many proprietors, either from improvidence, ignorance, or with a view to raise money, or from other causes or motives, may be induced to dispose of dependent talooks to be held at a reduced jumma ; or fix the jumma of such dependent talooks as now exist in their respective estates at an under rate ; or let lands in farm, or grant pottahs for the cultivation of land at a reduced rent for a long term, or in perpetuity. Such engagements, if held valid, would leave it in the power of weak, improvident, or ill disposed proprietors, to render their property of little or no value to their heirs ; promote vice and injustice ; occasion a permanent diminution of the resources of Government arising from the lands in the event of the rent or revenue reserved by such proprietors proprietors being insufficient for the discharge of the amount of the public demand upon their estates; be an abuse of the great and lasting benefit which has been conferred upon the landholders by the possession of their lands being secured to them in perpetuity at a fixed assessment; and moreover be repugnant to the ancient and established usages of the country, according to which the dues of Government from the lands (which consist of a certain proportion of the annual produce of every beah of land demandable according to the local custom in money or kind, unless Government has transferred its right to such proportion to individuals for a term or in perpetuity, or fixed the public demand upon the whole estate of a proprietor of land, leaving him to appropriate to his own use the difference between the value of such proportion of the produce and the sum payable to the public so long as he continues to discharge the latter) are unalienable without its express sanction. It is at the same time essential that proprietors of land should have a discretionary power to fix the revenue payable by their dependent talookdars, and to grant leases, or fix the rents of their lands for a term sufficient to induce their dependent talookdars, under-farmers, and ryots, to extend and improve the cultivation of their lands, and that such engagements should be held inviolable in all cases except where they may interfere with, or affect in any shape the primary and indefeasible rights of Government. Upon the above grounds, and as the proprietors of land, previous to the decennial settlement being declared perpetual, were not entitled to enter into any engagements with their dependent talookdars, under-farmers, or ryots, for a period extending beyond the term of their own engagements with the public; the Governor General in Council has enacted as follows. (a)

Jumma of dependent talookdars, not to be fixed, nor farms or pottahs granted, for a term exceeding ten years.

Engagements for ten years or less not renewable at any period during the term of them, except in the last year.

All evasions of this rule null and void.

All engagements, leases, and pottahs, which have been or may be granted repugnant to this section, declared void.

Existing engagements between proprietors and their dependent talookdars, under farmers, and ryots, if conformable to this Regulation not to be affected by divisions of the estate made pursuant to judicial decree, or the request of the joint proprietors.

II. No zemindars, independent talookdars, or other actual proprietors of land, nor any persons on their behalf, shall dispose of a dependent talook to be held at the same or at any jumma, or fix at any amount the jumma of an existing dependent talook for a term exceeding ten years, nor let any lands in farm, nor grant pottahs to ryots or other persons for the cultivation of lands, for a term exceeding ten years. Nor shall it be lawful for any zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land who may have entered into an engagement with any dependent talookdar, fixing the jumma of his talook for a term not exceeding ten years, or let any lands in farm, or granted pottahs for the cultivation of lands for a term not exceeding ten years, to renew such engagement, lease, or pottah, at any period before the expiration of it, excepting in the last year, at any time during which it shall be lawful for the parties to renew such engagement, lease, or pottah, upon the same or any other terms for a period not exceeding ten years, calculating from the expiration of the year in which such renewal may take place. All evasions of the prohibitions contained in this section, by entering into two separate engagements, leases or pottahs at the same time; dating an engagement, lease or pottah, subsequent to the period at which it may have been actually executed; or by any other device, shall be considered as an infringement of them; and every engagement fixing the jumma of a dependent talookdar, and every lease or pottah which has been or may be concluded or granted in opposition to such prohibitions, is declared null and void. (b)

III. Where a division of a joint estate shall be made at the request of the proprietors, or pursuant to the decree of a court of justice, the fixed public revenue assessed upon the whole estate shall be apportioned on the several shares agreeably to the principles prescribed in section X, Regulation I, 1793, without regard to any engagements that may subsist between the proprietors and their dependent talookdars, (excepting the dependent talookdars described in section VII,) under-farmers, or ryots. But the sharers shall not demand from the dependent talookdars, under-farmers, or ryots, in their respective shares any sum beyond the amount specified in the engagement, lease, or pottah, which may have been

(a) Inserted to the sillah of Cuttack by R. 12, of 1805, S. 36.

(b) Re-enacted by R. 5, of 1812, S. 2. This and the two following sections have been re-enacted for the sillah of Cuttack, and the Western Provinces. See R. 14, of 1812.

entered into between them and the proprietors jointly previous to the division of the estate, provided that such engagement, lease, or pottah, be not repugnant to the rules prescribed in section II, and such dependent talookdars, under-farmers, or ryots, shall duly perform their part of it; but it shall remain in full force (excepting in the event of the lands being disposed of at public sale for the discharge of arrears of the public assessment) until the term of it shall have expired.* (c)

IV. If the whole or a portion of any estate shall be transferred by public sale (excepting it be so disposed of for the discharge of arrears of the public revenue) or by private sale, gift, or otherwise; or devolve to any person upon the death of the former proprietor, according to the hindoo or mohomedan law of inheritance, the person or persons to whom the lands shall be so transferred or may so devolve, shall not demand from the dependent talookdars, under-farmers, or ryots in the lands transferred, any sum beyond the amount specified in the lease, pottah, or other engagement, for the payment of rent or revenue which may have been entered into between them and the former proprietor previous to the transfer, or devolution, provided that such engagement be not repugnant to the rules prescribed in section II, and that such dependent talookdars, farmers or ryots, duly perform their part of it, but it shall remain in full force until the term of it shall have expired..

Engagements abovementioned not to be affected by the transfer of the lands by public sale (except for arrears of revenue) or by any private act of the proprietors.

V. Whenever the whole or a portion of the lands of any zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land shall be disposed of at public sale for the discharge of arrears of the public assessment, all engagements which such proprietor shall have contracted with dependent talookdars whose talooks may be situated in the lands sold, as also all leases to under-farmers, and pottahs to ryots, for the cultivation of the whole or any part of such lands, (with the exception of the engagements, pottahs, and leases, specified in sections VII and VIII,) shall stand cancelled from the day of sale, and the purchaser or purchasers of the lands shall be at liberty to collect from such dependent talookdars, and from the ryots or cultivators of the lands let in farm, and the lands not farmed, whatever the former proprietor would have been entitled to demand according to the established usages and rates of the purgunnah or district in which such lands may be situated, had the engagements so cancelled never existed. (d)

Exception to the rule.

VI. Nothing contained in this Regulation shall be construed to prohibit any zemindar, independent talookdar, or other actual proprietor of land, selling, giving, or otherwise disposing of any part of his lands as a dependent talook.

This Regulation not to prohibit proprietors from disposing of dependent talooks.

VII. Nor to authorize the assessment of any increase upon the lands of such dependent talookdars as were exempted from any increase of assessment at the forming of the decennial settlement in virtue of the prohibition contained in clause first, section LI, Regulation VIII, 1793. The revenue payable by such dependent talookdars is declared fixed for ever, and their lands are accordingly to be rated at such fixed assessment in all divisions of the estate in which their talooks are included.

Nor to affect the jumma of the talookdars, whose jumma is declared unalterable by section LI, Regulation VIII, 1793.

VIII. Nor to prohibit actual proprietors of land granting without the sanction of Government or its officers, to any person, not being a British subject or a European, a lease or pottah for ground for any term of years, or in perpetuity, for the erection of dwelling houses or buildings for carrying on manufactures, or for gardens, or other purposes, and for offices for such houses or buildings.

Nor to prohibit grants or leases for any term for the purposes herein specified, except to British subjects and Europeans.

(c) This and the following section are rescinded by R. 18, of 1812, S. 3, and other rules enacted in their stead.

(d) Extended to cancelling wholly the leases of under farmers, a part only of the lands included in whose leases may be sold, by R. 3, of 1796, S. 3. Required to be suspended until the end of the local year, in cases of sales taking place after the second month of the year, by R. 1, of 1801, S. 9. See additional rules in R. 5, of 1812, S. 4, and some of the subsequent sections of that Regulation, and explanations in R. 7, of 1799, S. 20, C. 5.

A. D. 1793. REGULATION XLV.

A REGULATION for disposing of malguzarry and lakheraje lands at public sale, pursuant to decrees of the courts of justice.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council, on the 1st May 1793; corresponding with the 21st Bysaak 1200 Bengul era; the 6th Bysaak 1200 Fussily; the 21st Bysaak 1200 Willaity; the 6th Bysaak 1850 Sumbut; and the 19th Rymzaan 1207 Higeree.

The Board of Revenue and the collectors being in possession of the accounts and information necessary for the adjustment of the jumma, and as the superintending the details of the attachment and sale of lands would necessarily occupy much of the time of the courts, and often occasion a delay in the enforcement of the decree, and it being necessary that Government should have the means of compelling the proprietors to furnish the requisite accounts and information for enabling the public officers to apportion the jumma, and that the courts by which the decrees may have been passed, or to which the enforcing of them may be committed, should be vested with a power of countermanding or postponing the sale, in the event of the amount of the decree being discharged previous to the sale being made, or for other cause that may appear to them sufficient, the following rules have been accordingly enacted. (a)

II. When a court of civil judicature shall have occasion to have recourse to the sale of lands paying revenue to Government, in satisfaction of a decree, the court by which the decree is to be enforced, is to transmit a copy of the decree, without any other part of the proceedings, and a translate of it in English, to the Board of Revenue. (a)

II. First. Every five years, the collectors of the land revenue in the several zillahs, are to prepare a register of all the estates in their respective zillahs of whatever denomination or description, the proprietors of which pay the public jumma, or revenue, assessed upon their estates immediately to Government. (b)

Second. By the term estate, is to be understood any land, being malguzarry, or subject to the payment of public revenue, for the discharge of which a separate engagement has been or may be entered into with Government. (c)

III. The names of the estates in each zillah, are to be arranged in alphabetical order according to the English alphabet.

VI. Estates that have not been distinguished by any particular appellation, are to be named by the proprietor or proprietors, and henceforth to retain the name which may be so given to them. If any dispute shall arise between the proprietors of a joint estate regarding the name to be given to the estate, it shall be determined agreeably to the rules prescribed for electing a manager of a joint undivided estate in Regulation VIII, 1793, with this qualification, that where the votes and interest in the estate may be equal, or the proprietors shall neglect to give a name to the estate upon the requisition of the collector, he shall name the estate without reference to the Board of Revenue. Errors or omissions in the register of intermediate mutations are to be noted in a similar manner.

XXII. Erroneous or incomplete entries in the counterparts of the registers to be kept by the keepers of the native records, are to be noted by them in the same manner as the collector is directed to note erroneous entries in the English registers. But the note of every such entry in the counterpart of the register of intermediate mutations in the native languages, shall, in addition to the attestation of the keepers of the native records, be signed by the collector.

XXIII. If the proprietary right in an estate, or the part of an estate, shall be under litigation in a court of justice, at the time of forming the first, or any subsequent quinquennial register, the party in possession is to be registered as the proprietor.

XXV. If a collector shall have occasion to require from the proprietor or the farmer of an estate, or from a dependent talookdar, or under-farmer any information that may be necessary to enable him to form a quinquennial register, or to make the requisite entries in the register of intermediate mutations, and such person shall omit to furnish it by the time required, after having been served by the collector with a written requisition for that purpose under his official seal and signature, the collector is to report the circumstances to the Board of Revenue for the information of the Governor General in Council, who reserves to himself the power of imposing on such person whatever fine may appear proper upon a consideration of the case, and his situation and circumstances in life. Upon receiving notice through the Board of Revenue of any such fines that may be imposed by the Governor General in Council, the collector is to levy the amount by the same process, as he is authorized to have recourse to for the recovery of arrears of revenue.

Proprietors &c. liable to be fined for omitting to furnish any information that may be required by the collector for preparing the registers.

XXVI. The collectors of the several zillahs are to transmit as early as may be practicable to the Board of Revenue, an attested copy of the quinquennial registers both in the English and the native languages, each in a book of the prescribed size, paged and attested by the judge of the dewanny adawlut of the zillah, in the same manner as the original register, as directed in section XIII; and within one month after the expiration of the third, sixth, ninth, and twelfth months of the Bengal, Fausly, or Willaity year, (according to the era current in their respective districts) and attested copy of the entries in the register of intermediate mutations that may have taken place during the three preceding months. (A) This Regulation is rescinded by R. 19, of 1814, which includes, with alterations and additions, the rules of R. 25, of 1793, and of other Regulations, regarding the partition of estates paying revenue to Government.

XXVII. The courts of judicature, the Board of Revenue, and the collectors, are enjoined to be particularly attentive to the preservation of the quinquennial register, and registers of intermediate mutations, both in the English and native languages; and they are directed to have the fair copies of each, which are to be deposited amongst the public records, bound up with such materials, as may be best calculated to prevent their being destroyed by insects.

XXVIII. Upon the receipt of this Regulation, the Board of Revenue are to prepare forms for the quinquennial register, and the register of intermediate mutations, so that the first mentioned register may exhibit the required particulars respecting each estate, and, as far as may be practicable, the sircars, purgunnahs, or other established divisions of the country, in which the estates, in the several zillahs may be situated, and after submitting the forms for the approbation of the Governor General in Council, they are to circulate copies to the collectors. The approved forms are not to be altered without the sanction of the Governor General in Council; but the Board of Revenue are to suggest any improvements in the forms that may occasionally occur to them, and in the event of their being adopted, they shall take place from the period fixed for forming the next quinquennial register, or at such other period as may be deemed advisable. ## A. D. 1793. REGULATION XLIX.

A REGULATION for preventing affrays respecting disputed boundaries.—PASSED by the Governor General in Council on the 23th June 1793, corresponding with the 17th Assar 1200 Bengal era; the 4th Assar 1200 Fussily; the 17th Assar 1200 Wil-lauty; the 4th Assar 1850 Sumbut; and the 17th Zikand 1207 Higeree.

INSTANCES frequently occurring of proprietors and farmers of land, dependent talookdars, under farmers and ryots, seizing or ordering their agents and dependents to take possession by force, of disputed land or crops, under the pretext of their having a claim thereto; and frays often ensuing in consequence, which are generally attended with bloodshed, and not unfrequently with the loss of many lives on both sides; and the having recourse to these violent means either for enforcing or resisting such claims, being not only highly criminal, but unnecessary, from the parties having it at all times in their power to obtain redress by application to the courts of judicature; the following rules have been enacted. (a)

II. If a proprietor or a farmer of land, or a dependent talookdar, or an under farmer, or a ryot, or other person, shall have a claim to any disputed land, or crops, in the possession of another, the claimant is prohibited from possessing or attempting to possess himself of the land or crops by force, but is to prefer his claim to the dewanny adawlut of the zillah.

Persons having claims to disputed lands or crops not to take possession of them by force, but to sue for them in the courts of judicature.

III. If any such claimant shall forcibly take possession of the disputed land, or crops, the party dispossessed shall be at liberty to represent the circumstances to the judge of the dewanny adawlut, who is immediately to take cognizance of the complaint, and, upon the previous possession of the complainant being proved to his satisfaction, shall, without enquiring into the merits of the claim of the dispossessor, cause the disputed land or crops to be restored to the complainant, or the value of the crops to be paid to him, if they shall have been damaged, destroyed, or shall not be forthcoming, an award against the offender such costs and damages as may appear to him equitable, leaving him to prefer his claim to the property in dispute to the dewanny adawlut.

Persons forcibly dispossessed of land or crops to complain to the judge of the zillah. Judge to hear the complaint immediately, and upon proof of the dispossession to his satisfaction, to cause the land or crops to be restored to the complainant, or the value of the latter to be paid to him, without enquiring into the merits of the claim of the dispossessor.

IV. If any such claimant, or any persons accompanying him, in taking, or attempting to take, possession of the disputed land or crops by force, shall kill, or wound, or violently beat any person, the judge, upon the complainant proving previous possession to his satisfaction, shall not only proceed against the offender as directed in the case specified in section III, but his right to the disputed land or crops, shall be adjudged forfeited to the complainant; and, whether the dispossession be proved to the satisfaction of the judge or not, the offender and all persons aiding or assisting him in the act, shall be committed or held to bail (according to the circumstances of the case) to take their trial before the court of circuit.

Right of the claimant to the disputed property to be forfeited if any person shall be killed, wounded, or violently beaten.

Offender and all persons concerned with him liable to be committed and take their trial before the court of circuit.

V. If the agents, servants, or dependents, or any person in the employ of a claimant to the disputed land or crops shall take or attempt to take possession thereof by force, and the actual claimant shall not be present, the judge shall nevertheless restore the disputed land or crops, or the value of the latter, to the person who had possession, if he shall have been dispossessed, and proceed against the parties actually present in the manner directed in section IV, in the event of their being killed, wounded, or violently beaten any person; and if it shall be proved that the parties immedi-

Claimants not present but indirectly concerned in the acts above prohibited, liable to the consequences as were present.
